Message From the President

Dear Brothers:

There is again, fortunately in my mind, much interest in and conversation about values, ethics, and standards in higher education. Chances are that you are reading this message just as we are celebrating the 136th anniversary of our birth in Phi Kappa Psi. Given the passing of another Founders Day, I think it appropriate to reflect on the basic values and ethics of fraternity. Last year I asked our Mystagogue, Kent Christopher Owen, to develop a framework for discussions on values and ethics at the Woodrow Wilson Leadership Schools which have just taken place this past fall semester. Following are his thoughts:

"The premise . . . is that membership in Phi Kappa Psi should make a qualitative difference in how one lives, and that thoughtful conversation about the implications of the Fraternity's Ritual can help to do that. Despite the more obvious attractions and advantages, the purpose of being a Phi Psi is the attainment of personal integrity and wholeness. This is what sets the Fraternity apart from social organizations that exist mainly for our comfort, pleasure, and convenience."

"The difference that Phi Psi can make comes about through one's understanding of the 'eternal principles' of human nature, the moral standards, and the ethical obligations that the Ritual reveals and the Fraternity inculcates. If these lessons are taken to be only counsels of perfection to an unattainable virtue, long since bypassed by a hard-driving society with little use for moral principles, then the Fraternity itself is a rather silly charade deceived by its own pretensions. The fact that the Ritual is indeed an expression of ideas—that is, the highest standards of conduct—does not keep it from being put to use as a practical guide for dealing with real and immediate concerns."

"What is needed is a demonstration of how this works. So, what follows is a summary—of necessity, random and incomplete—of approaches that Phi Psis can take to choices, decisions, and courses of action, all to be made in keeping with the implications of the Ritual. The foremost consideration is brotherly love—not indifferent acceptance or simple, passive affection or even unquestioning admiration, but active, deliberate respect for the dignity and worth of other persons, and the willingness, often the moral courage to act in their interest."

"Such an affirmation obviously poses a direct challenge to the current (and recurrent) attitude that what really matters is one's own self-advancement, regardless of what happens to anyone else. For the man who would live a principled life, the crucial concern is selfrespect, which takes the form of honor, and this in turn requires the seeking of self-knowledge—what the ancient Greek wisdom conveyed in in 'Know thyself.' Thus, if one intends to respect the dignity of others and to attain integrity and self-respect, there are basic questions that are always in order:

"Am I acting reasonably and humanely in a way that tempers reason with compassion? Have I made myself aware of the various feelings that may affect my conduct and that of others? Am I taking into account concealed emotions, unexamined motives, hidden assumptions, prejudices, and the like? Do I rely on the dictates of my conscience? How is my judgement affected by such sources of spiritual knowledge as religious belief, aesthetic experiences, imagination, intuition, and other means of perception and insight that are other than rational? Are the governing of my own conduct and my relations with other persons regulated or affected to a marked extent by a conscious balancing of these elements of the self? On the whole, am I exercising my powers as competently and responsibly as I can to reach understanding of myself and others and to gain a sound basis for proper action? Have I provided for an effective means of checks and balances in self-governance?"

"That last question deserves particular attention. Evidently, there is a connection between the late 17th-century theories that posit 'the constitution of human nature' and 'the doctrine of counterpoise' and the tradition of learning that influenced Thomas Cochran Campbell (as well as James Madison). It is certainly a line of thinking worth exploring . . ."

"One hopes that . . . this program will engage as many Brothers as possible in broad but focused, serious (but not solemn) considerations of how Ritual-based ethics can be put into practice . . . The point at issue is that ethics must always be recognized as a personal responsibility and concern: an obligation of every Phi Psi as an individual and of every Chapter as a community."

Founders Day offers not only the opportunity for celebration, but also for reflection on and recommitment to the essential values and ethics which allow us to call ourselves, and more importantly to be, fraternity . . .

Happy Founders Day! Most fraternally yours,

Dr. David F. Hull, Jr.

Chapter Advisor

A Vital Element in a Chapter's Success

by John V. Ciccarelli, Coordinator of Chapter Advisors

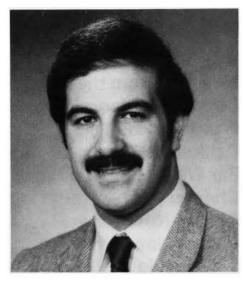

Biographical Note: Our new Coordinator of Chapter Advisors, John Vincent Ciccarelli, is the owner of the Kirby Vacuum Company Factory Distributorship in Los Angeles, California. He was initiated into California Theta, California State University at Northridge, in 1972, and earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in 1976. He has served on the Executive Council in both elected and appointed positions serving as District VI Archon, Chapter Advisor, and Director of Membership. He recently served two terms as president of the Granada Hills Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife Susan reside in Chatsworth, California.

There is usually a great deal of curiosity whenever an acquaintance learns that I serve as a volunteer alumni advisor for my Fraternity. Almost without exception, the conversation always leads to the question, "Why do you take the time to get involved?"

I am sure that my personal explanation to this question is not unlike that of other volunteers across the country who serve Phi Kappa Psi. In my rationale, I have always felt that the opportunity to serve my Fraternity has been a very worthwhile and rewarding experience. After accepting a position as a Chapter advisor to California Theta at California State University-Northridge in 1974, I began to derive personal rewards from helping undergraduates discover practical applications for their undergraduate Fraternity experience.

The role of Chapter advisor offered me the opportunity to return to the undergraduate Brothers the lessons I learned during my college years in Phi Kappa Psi. There is an important purpose and sense of accomplishment in helping to pass along the traditions and standards that have made our Fraternity a proud association.

In a basic description, a Chapter advisor should be an alumnus who fosters Fraternity ideals and positive attitudes. He should be able to offer adult perspectives on Chapter issues. The Chapter should be able to draw on his experience to understand the consequences of their decisions. If the Chapter is experiencing difficulties in its operation, the advisor offers suggestions to help facilitate a proper response.

In the Summer 1987 issue of The Lyre, Barbara Blowers, Chapter Advisor for Alpha Chi Omega, compared the chapter advisor to an air traffic controller: "When a problem is in sight, a chapter advisor should be prepared to help rather than hover. If the chapter is on a collision course, the chapter advisor should signal a warning that he/she hopes will head off the crash."

An effective advisor will combine the best Chapter experience of the past with the promise of the future. His job, after all, is not to run the Chapter, but rather to foster the proper environment so that talented undergraduates are allowed the privilege instead. In that way, all Chapter members and the advisor benefit accordingly.

In so doing, a Chapter advisor can help influence the lives of many Brothers in a very positive manner. He helps the Chapter members to examine the valuable lessons of the Fraternity experience in order to utilize its practical applications to everyday life.

Brian Brooks, the national second vice president of Delta Sigma Phi, wrote in the Summer 1987 issue of the Carnation: "It is exhilarating to work with young men, watch them develop and grow through these formative college years, and then see them start making contributions to society and the world of business. It's satisfying to feel that somehow you helped to make that possible."

The Importance of Alumni Advisorship

A fraternity chapter is a unique organization made up of individuals of different origins, backgrounds, and a variety of interests. The constant changes within the membership each year requires the presence of some form of continuity. This continuity is extremely important in view of continuing trends of increasing legal liability and rising costs associated with Chapter operation. There lies the challenge for today's Phi Psi advisor: he is an excellent source of support and continuity. By serving as a representative of the Fraternity, he can also provide helpful information on the important benefits of programs from Fraternity Headquarters and resources that are available to the local Chapters.

Dr. David F. Hull Jr., national president of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, underscored the importance of the Chapter advisor program in the 1987 summer issue of The Shield when he wrote: "If we trace the history of Chapters which have sustained success over a period of years, almost without exception we will see strong alumni advisorship somewhere in the picture."

Chapter Advisor Program

In the recent decade, Phi Kappa Psi has enjoyed tremendous growth and expansion. The membership roll of 97 Chapters and Colonies is the largest in our Fraternity history. In order to provide an important source of local volunteer support, Phi Kappa Psi is aggressively looking for alumni Brothers who are interested in serving as Chapter advisors. The basic criteria for serving as a Chapter advisor requires that the interested Brother be a college graduate, out of school at least five years, and live within 50 miles of the Chapter. His basic term of advisorship is two years from the date of appointment by the Executive Council and he is eligible for appointed officer coverage within the national insurance program. The primary responsibilities of a Chapter advisor is to provide assistance and serve as liaison between the Chapter and the house corporation.

In an effort to encourage alumni support and participation, many Chapters are now utilizing additional advisors who specialize in particular areas like finance or housing. By working together with the Chapter members and faculty advisors, this team of alumni volunteers can provide additional assistance in the various aspects of Chapter operation.

This approach helps to create a healthy base of alumni support. The role of advisors is outlined in the Operations Manual for Chapter Officers and the Handbook for Chapter Advisors.

Personal Satisfaction

The old adage that one person can make a difference best describes the personal satisfaction of serving as a Chapter advisor. It is a unique experience that allows any interested Brother the opportunity to contribute and make a difference in the lives of some fine undergraduates.

Below are listed the Chapters in need of advisors. Other positions may be available on house corporations and advisory committees. Throughout the years, Phi Kappa Psi has been indeed fortunate to enjoy the outstanding support of its strong membership. The proud tradition of helping others has always been on of the foundations of this great Fraternity. By doing so, both you and your Fraternity will benefit in a very special way.

Where Phi Kappa Psi Needs Help

Below is a list of Chapter advisor positions available nationwide. If you are interested in volunteering and would like more information, call Executive Director Gary B. Angstadt (317) 632-1852, or write to him at Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity Headquarters, 510 Lockerbie Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

FROM THE ROAD...

Terrence G. Harper Oklahoma State '85

Moonlighting

To say that an Educational Leadership Consultant is provided with the opportunity to travel is an understatement! My extensive fall visits had me gallivanting from San Marcos, Texas, all the way up to Madison, Wisconsin, and most Phi Psi points in between.

In meeting with the various pledge classes at the Chapters and Colonies, I found a common denominator running throughout. Until my arrival, most had never even been told about the Educational Leadership Consultant program.

The most frequently asked questions and comments were: "Where do you go to school?" "What do you do for a living?" "Have you graduated?" "Are you a Phi Psi?" "It must be great to travel around and party at all the 'houses'." And the all-time, number one, most frequently asked question is, "Is this a real job?" Yikes!!

I hope this column will dispel these common myths and encourage Chapters to educate the pledges on the Headquarters staff and specifically, the Consultants. And in turn, I hope the Chapters will gain a better understanding of the program from the perspective of the ELC.

The Consultant program is best utilized when the Chapter or Colony does a little homework in preparing for the visit. By this I mean, scheduling appointments with the appropriate officers, committee chairs, advisors, and university officials. That's the purpose behind sending out schedules for you to fill out prior to the ELC arrival. It's also helpful to tell the ELC on what problem areas you would like him to concentrate his efforts.

If the above basics are covered along with reading the previous report to check for progress, the time can be used most effectively by all those involved. And the Chapter will not come away thinking the Consultant has slighted them, and by the same token, the Consultant will not feel like his time and effort were wasted.

The program is designed to benefit the undergraduates and to make Phi Kappa Psi, in general, stronger each and every year. Try to view the Consultants not as "Phi Spys," but as a professional staff member from the Headquarters who is there to help our Fraternity be the absolute best it can possible be.

With these thoughts in mind, I wish all our Chapters and Colonies the very best of success as the Fraternity reaches her 136th anniversary. Until next time, take care. . .

A Rose By Any Other Name

During a general assembly of the 1986 GAC, delegates passed legislation to ban undergraduate women's auxiliaries called Little Sisters. One reason behind this move was to protect Phi Psi's all-male status since Little Sisters could be interpreted as subordinate members. Furthermore there was the need to reduce the Fraternity's liability. Whether labeled Little Sisters, Sweethearts of the Mystic Eye, Ladies of the Jacqueminot Rose, or some other name, all posed a great risk to Phi Kappa Psi.

Little Sisters groups have nationwide popularity, so there must be a reason for them. However, the reason may not be a good one. Fraternities are often accused of inhibiting normal social growth by providing unreal dating situations. Set-up, matched-up, or paired-up, a fraternity member can complete four years of college without asking a woman for a date. Little Sisters fit into this scheme by providing a pool of women who may feel they have no obligation to the fraternity not to say "no."

Perhaps, more disturbing are the number of incidences where Little Sisters became aware of Fraternity secrets. Confused by the affiliation with the Fraternity, men would share grips, passwords, and other secrets with these women. Pledging ceremonies were modified to create Little Sisters initiations. I hope this never occurred in Phi Kappa Psi.

join any of the established sororities. The noble alternative would be to establish their own campus sorority.

On campuses where Little Sisters signify some kind of prestige, it may be more difficult to resist being like everybody else. Still, it is important to remember that Little Sisters or similar women's groups are against Fraternity Headquarters policy and are defined as detrimental to the Fraternity. One Chapter can gamble and lose for all of us. Adhere to the policies and address campus women in an appropriate manner.

Joseph L. Siebert Indiana '83 Striving for Excellence

By the time this article reached you, this Consultant will have visited over 55 Chapters, been in 35 states, and traveled over 45,000 miles for Phi Kappa Psi. So, to say that I have been around is probably an understatement. I have seen a broad spectrum of Chapters and would like to comment on what I feel is necessary for a Chapter to be successful over the long haul.

I believe there are many important parts to a successful Chapter and I could probably write a book on all elements necessary for such success. I will not attempt to write a book, but would like to list some elements that I feel are necessary. The best analogy that I could give for a successful Chapter is that of a successful business. In both you need to be financially stable, able to market yourself effectively, know what it is you're selling, and be able to offer a better product or service, or in this case, a better experience than your competitors.

I recently visited a Chapter that couldn't tell me what it was that they had to offer rushees! You have probably heard that rush is the lifeblood of the Fraternity. It is very important to know what it is you have to offer all prospects. If you have to think about this one very long, you probably haven't given rush a very effective look in the past. In business you must set goals, and it should be no different in a Fraternity Chapter—especially when your new officers take the reins. Do they and the Chapter have realistic goals for the remainder of the term?

Are you financially stable? Are you able to market yourself effectively? Do you have the best experience available to members and prospects? The key to successful management is to not make the same mistakes twice. Doesn't it seem stupid to do things wrong over and over again? I hope you are getting the picture here.

Ask yourself another question. Are you having the best possible experience within Phi Kappa Psi? If you said yes, great, but if not, maybe it's time to get more involved so that may be true in the new year. The resources are out there if you are willing to look. Call on the Headquarters staff, university professionals, local alumni, advisors, etc. They can only help if you are willing to take the time to ask and then follow up on their recommendations. Good luck and have a great new year.

David T. Boersma Kansas '84 To Rush or Not To Rush

Ahh, Indianapolis. After three months of miles, McDLT's, myths, mysteries, and memories, it's good to be back at Headquarters.

Something that disturbed me during my travels was the concept of rush and the attitude that some undergraduates have on this subject. There are really only two types of rush: formal rush and what you do during the rest of the year.

I like to call this year-round activity informal rush. It takes place every day of the year, including the summer months. Rush, in its simplest form, is making a new friend. And the goal behind rush is bringing in prospective members that you would one day call Brother.

The key aspect of informal rush is the considerable stretch of time a Chapter has to become acquainted with a rushee. Because of this time period a Chapter can be more selective throughout the academic year. Remember the scholastic and financial responsibilities to which we all have pledged. Are we doing the Fraternity a service by pledging men who cannot live up to these responsibilities? After all, wasn't it William Henry Letterman who said "Men, not numbers, will be the principle upon which those who are now and will be, Phi Psis, ever will act, for it gives power, elevation, and respect in the end."

When final exams draw to a close in the spring and commencement exercises are over, Chapter operations do not come to an end. This is when a summer rush program should be getting under way. Bases should be selected in major cities around the institution or general areas that the Chapter uses as drawing pools. Universities often have lists of incoming freshmen, there for the asking. An informational telephone call could be your edge on the competition. Your hard work over the summer will pay off during formal rush when you can concentrate on closing the sale as opposed to an opening presentation.

All of the above undertakings do not rest solely on the rush chairman. The entire Chapter must play a role for there to be an outstanding pledge class. The rush chairman should act as coordinator of events, but everyone needs to take an active part in the rush process.

We all know what happens after a successful rush. Undergraduate morale is high. The house corporation is happy. The Chapter is looking at financial stability, etc., etc., etc. With high caliber people you expect high caliber things, and the attitude snowballs. Keep these thoughts in mind as the spring approaches and most Chapters kick back.

In closing, I would like to congratulate all the new Archons. I enjoyed meeting all of you.

California Theta 20 Years and Going Strong

California Theta

by Kurt A. Wedberg, Cal-Northridge '84

June 12, 1987, saw California Theta's 20th Anniversary as a chartered organization at California State University, Northridge. The event was celebrated at the Penthouse Ballroom of the Sheraton Universal Hotel on the grounds of the world-renowned Universal Studios. Chapter members from past and present were in attendance for the gala event. Special guests included Executive Director Gary B. Angstadt and National Vice President Bob Meserve, Cal-Northridge '34.

As the oldest fraternity on campus, our Chapter has been deeply ingrained in the history of California State University, Northridge since its establishment as an institution of higher learning in 1958. Upon becoming a fully-chartered Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi, California Theta launched various aspects of necessary college life. Included in our accomplishments are the establishment of the Interfraternity Council, Intramural sports, Sorority Presents, and Greek Week. In addition, the Phi Psi 500 has been a highlight on campus for the past 20 years.

Needless to say, the 20th anniversary of California Theta was celebrated with much enthusiasm from badge 2 through badge 308. Special presentations included the bestowing of charter member recognition pins and 10-year pins. Reminiscent speeches were given by Brothers Fred Berson '67, Richard Rabis '71, John Soukup '76, Octavio Villalpando '81, and Steve Hirsch' '85. The night ended with a kaleidoscopic slide presentation viewing landmark events in California Theta History.

Achieving our Chapter's many successes has not been without encountering its obstacles. As we look back on our rich history, we also look toward the future. We have established active alumni support and a solid house corporation. Together we have begun working towards achieving our most ambitious and necessary goal as to date: the purchase of a permanent location for the Brotherhood. Through a regularly-published newsletter, we keep alumni up-to-date and involved in Chapter activities. If you would like to be kept abreast of California Theta's progression, and be a part of its continued growth, please write to Phi Kappa Psi, 9420 Reseda #523, Northridge, CA 91324.

Far West to Middle East

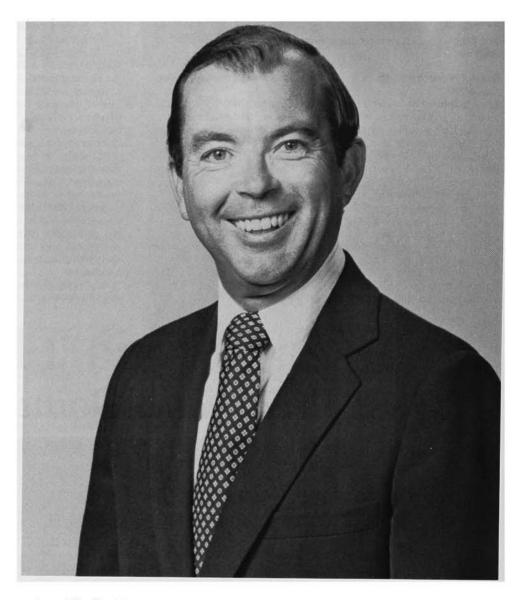

A Phi Psi's adventures in the Arab World

by Paul K. Wineman, Washington '55

Note: Paul Wineman is a unique individual who has lived and worked in the exotic and war-torn Middle East. After graduating from the University of Washington, he served in the United States Army and was stationed in Iran. Upon leaving the Army, he earned a master's degree in Arabic studies from the American University in Beirut (AUB), Lebanon. He received this degree as Israel and Palestine exchanged gunfire around the AUB campus on the second day of the June War, 1967. He has survived two plane crashes, a hijacking, a kidnapping and imprisonment by the PLO during his 23 years in that area. Enjoy this real-life adventure story about Phi Psi's man in the Middle East.

My interest in the Middle East began to develop during my first assignment in Tehran in 1960 with the Armed Forces radio and television station there. My interest continued over the next two and a half years which I spent as the U.S. Army Special Forces/Paratrooper Advisor to the Shah's Imperial Iranian Army Special Forces Units. After graduating from the American University of Beirut, I served as General Manager of Television of Iran. Then I spent one year as contract administrator for the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers in Saudi Arabia for the Saudi Television Network.

In 1965, I left the U.S. Army to obtain a master's degree in Middle Eastern Studies from the American University of Beirut. In 1967, I returned to Teheran to become Iran's General Manager of Television, and the next year I became involved in the U.S. Army's Operation and Maintenance of the Saudi Arabian Television Network.

I was hired in 1969 as the Middle Eastern resident representative for the AVCO International Services Division in Beirut. By 1973, I became the Middle Eastern regional director for United Aircraft International, later to become United Technologies Corporation.

I returned to Los Angeles in 1977 and formed my own company to specifically consult in American defense and aerospace corporations on how to successfully market and win sales in the Middle East. Since then, I have been under continuous contract to divisions of Litton Industries, and have designed long range marketing plans for System Development Corporation, Vinnell, E-Systems, Cubic, EG&G, and Todd Shipyards. In 1980, the Garrett Corporation was added to that list. That same year, I also began conducting both public and inhouse seminars on "How to Win Sales, Negotiate, and Work Effectively in the Middle East" under the sponsorship of The Institute for Negotiation Research, Inc., of Santa Monica, CA.

Escapes Two Plane Crashes

Ironically, both airplane crashes occurred in Iran, only three years and 250 miles apart. The first crash was in an Iranair commercial aircraft in Isfaham, Iran, in April, 1965. The crash occurred upon landing during a heavy windstorm. A number of people were killed in this crash, and only the quick actions of an Iranian stewardess enabled a few of us in the rear of the aircraft to get out safely.

The second crash occurred in the spring of 1968 in a U.S. Army Beechcraft. I was a civilian employee of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, stationed in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. Flying with me were the American pilot and one other employee of the Corps of Engineers. As we flew from Riyadh to Teheran at 10:30 one morning, we lost an engine at 9,500 feet. We were unable to maintain altitude and, as a result, we "landed" wheels-up in a remote desert area. We weren't hurt but the plane was damaged. Another aircraft just happened to see our plane go down and they radioed Teheran for help. We waited almost 10 hours for rescue helicopters from Teheran to pick us up.

Hijacking Victim

In the spring of 1972, I was on a commercial flight from Beirut to Athens. Palestinian hijackers took over the plane 45 minutes out of Beirut and forced the captain to divert our course to Cairo. We were not terrorized, but we were required to remain in our seats. Upon landing at Cairo, the hijackers left the aircraft under the control of Egyptian Army officials. After an inspection of the plane, we returned to Beirut that evening.

Held Hostage

I was held hostage by the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) in March, 1975, just months before the outbreak of the Lebanese Civil War that has wracked that nation. I was driving back to my residence in Beirut early one evening since a curfew was in effect. Suddenly, six armed Palestinian militiamen forced my car to the side of a deserted seaside road. They entered my car and took control of it, and drove us to a portion of Beirut that had literally been taken over by the Palestinians. I was interrogated by the Palestinians for hours about why I was on the street during a curfew and the extent of my "spying" activities on behalf of the U.S. Government. Seemingly satisfied with my answers (I denied I was a CIA agent), I thought they would release me. Instead, they put me in a military prison some 40 feet below ground. It was a small cell with a dirt floor, a pot in the corner, a dirty mattress on the floor, and a bulb hanging from the ceiling that never stopped burning.

For seven days and nights, I was taken to a room lined with torture instruments approximately every eight hours. I was interrogated repeatedly by the same Palestinian on the degree of my "spying" activities in Lebanon and the rest of the Arab World where I traveled. I repeatedly denied these charges and was told that until I admitted to them I was a spy, I would remain a prisoner of the PLO. On one occasion I reminded my interrogator that I had been a student at the American University in Beirut and had a number of Palestinian professors. I suggested that he contact them since they knew me and could verify who I was. Perhaps my interrogators did check with my professors, because shortly afterward, the tension was greatly reduced. Although they did not release me right away, they took me out of my cell and put me in various other cells with Palestinian militiamen who were being imprisoned for military violations.

They finally let me go in the middle of the seventh night. Of course, they knew where I lived and could arrest me again at any time. I continued living on and off in Beirut for the next several years. The last time I spent there was in March, 1983—one month before the terrorists destroyed the U.S. Embassy, and eight months before our 241 Marines were killed.

Wineman's Philosophy

I give numerous speeches on the presentday Persian Gulf situation and how Iran and the Arab World View our most recent political and military activities in that part of the world. In this regard, America's lack of understanding of the Middle East actually stems from our inability to understand the immense hold and influence Islam has over the more than 100 million inhabitants of that strategic part of the world. We fail to understand what really motivates the Iranians and the Arabs, and we try to solve Middle Eastern problems in Western ways. Some of these problems have been inherent to the Arab world since the Crusades, and America is very vulnerable when it allows Arab nations to put Arab problems on American shoulders. And, in turn, when America appears to be incapable of solving those problems (that were not our doing to begin with), America gets blamed and ends up paying for something it had no right to be involved with in the first place. Arab problems belong on Arab shoulders. Iranian problems belong on Iranian shoulders.

Nothing For Nothing

There is a cost of involvement in the Middle East, both from the standpoint of individual foreigners living there and also with nations actively engaged in political and economic activities. Nobody does anything for nothing in the Middle East. There is always a price to be either extracted or paid. When they do something for someone, people in the Middle East expect something in return. Only Americans, it appears, make a concession without asking for something in return. It is one of the reasons that we get caught up in the problems of the areaby not confining ourselves to areas that we do best.

America should involve itself in the Middle East in those areas where we function best—that is, in perpetuation of our economic strengths, our technology, and our systems and service support capabilities. We should stay out of trying to regulate the political policies of nations of that area, and only influence by example. We should demonstrate a firm economic base and a clearly-defined foreign policy that lets all nations know exactly where we stand and what we intend to do.

Arabs Like Americans

It may be surprising to many Americans not familiar with the area that, in general, inhabitants of the Middle East like Americans and what the American way of life produces. I once heard the Minister of Interior from Saudi Arabia publicly state, "America, we like you as a people and the technology that you can provide us—total systems that you will support us on over long extended periods of economic relationship. But your drugs, your heart attacks, your nervous breakdowns, your high divorce rates, your lack of family unity—please keep to yourselves in America."

The Religious Controversy

The basic problem that confronts America and the world today in the Middle East is the philosophic Islamic War between radical fundamental Islamism of the Shia Muslim and the conservative Islamic world of the Sunni Muslim. It is in this area that the confrontation lies: not in oil shipping or the influence of the Soviet Union in The Gulf. The rising nationalistic influence of Islam-as a reaction to the influence over the past 45 years of a highly developed technological West-is the basis for concern in the Middle East. All other offshoots from this are only manifestations of the basic problem of the area in its stance toward the rest of the world.

This being the case, America can only influence. Any direct confrontation will bring more havoc to an already disorganized and highly emotional, sensitive, and volatile situation.

America Is Home

I now enjoy being a Californian again, having been born in Hollywood. But I look back with great affection on my 23 years of life spent living in the Middle East and I feel very, very much at home in that area of the world. I would not trade those years for anything, even though I have learned by experience that the Middle East is basically for the people of the Middle East. As much as I enjoy that area and am able to function comfortably and successfully in it, I am still basically an American. America is my home and where I belong.

I now reside in Marina Del Rey, California, and spend the majority of my time consulting with U.S. Aerospace and Defense Corporations, consulting with and negotiating on behalf of American corporations, and giving seminars throughout the United States, Canada, and Europe on how to more effectively negotiate in both the business and private sectors.

The year is looking like another fine one for the Brothers of Penn Beta. The spirit of Brotherhood has been rekindled as a result of the first term passing with our newly-initiated Brothers living in the house. The house as well as the Chapter has never looked better!

Penn Beta has maintained its status as a respected, responsible Chapter in 1987 and we're sure to hold that position in 1988. Brother Rodney Chism has been elected to the Interfraternity Judicial Board. We are also involved in a new program on campus called Greek Life 101. The program is an open forum that meets once a week for interested freshman pledges from their respective fraternities to discuss and become aware of greek life as a whole. Brother Doug Pzcyzkowski is our delegate and he'll be helping to promote the advantages of an integrated greek system.

Our Phi Psi intramural football team climbed to the top of the pile in the interfraternity league. Quarterback Mark Dodd led the team for his second year and the team is eagerly awaiting his direction for next year's season. We now have our hands full with a competitive basketball schedule which we hope to conquer with equal force.

Our second annual Founders Day was a tremendous success. Alumni and undergraduate attendance exceeded last year's mark. It was pleasant to see new faces alongside the familiar faces at the house for the reception afterward. For those who could not make it, keep the date in mind for our third annual dinner in 1989, which is already being planned. We have noticed a welcomed increase in Alumniundergraduate interaction in the past few years and we encourage it to grow stronger in the years to come.

Akron Not Resting

As the fall semester draws to a close, we could be sitting back, resting on the laurels of an extremely successful semester. But we're not. We can't. We're possessed to achieve!

The semester got off to a great start with Brothers John Dirrig, Tim Lynskey, Robert Tipton, and Dave Hamrick attending the District Council/Woodrow Wilson Leadership School. We had a great time, gained a great deal of knowledge, and got to experience the Fraternity on a national level.

Special congratulations to Brother Lynskey for being elected Archon of our district. In scholarship, our grades are back on the top with our Solon E. Summerfield Scholar Steve Shanley leading the way.

Phi Psi participation in other campus activities was also high. Brothers Tipton, Lynskey, and Dirrig were all nominated for IFC offices. Brother Tipton was also elected vice-president of ALPHA, one of the largest student organizations on campus. The Phi Psi soccer team made it to the playoffs led by team captain Jim Fife.

Demonstrating the great joy of serving others, we donated $3110 to the Burn Unit of the Children's Medical Center of Akron. The money was raised during our Eighth Annual Best Legs Contest. Brothers Mark Von-Gunten and Steven Shanley are to be commended for all the hard work they put into this philanthropy. Phi Psi won the Red Cross Blood Drive Percentage Trophy with 89% of our members donating blood. Even our pledges got in on the community service act by organizing their own event. The pledges, along with their Big Brothers donated their time to the Phone-a-thon.

Just to show that we are not all work and no play, we had a very active social calendar topped by our Crystal Ice Cotillion Formal and our annual Halloween Bash with the Phi Psi's and ADPi's of Ashland College.

We welcome our new initiates to the mysteries of our beloved Fraternity. Our new Brothers are Christopher Paskey and Doug Courtney, Richmond Hts; Matt Cozzoli, Canton; Dan Isaac and Scott Baker, Aurora; Roy Freeman IV and Tony Kelley, Akron; David Lacy, Cuyahoga Falls; Bill DeNova, Twinsburg; Tracy Miller, Monroeville; Tony Ramoso, Barberton; Scott Staskey, Tiltonsville; Mike Feudo, Warrensville; and Gary Shuler, Amherst.

Thanks to our Brothers at West Virginia Alpha, Ohio Epsilon, and Ohio Theta for their hospitality and fellowship. Your gentlemanly conduct was in the true spirit of Phi Kappa Psi.

Robert D. Tipton Correspondent

Alabama Moving Up At Bama

Alabama Alpha is enjoying a busy schedule with several great social as well as service projects. A number of us visited Bryce Hospital in October and entertained some of the patients. Another project was a Christmas party with the Boy's Club.

Our most recent Brothers function was a Brothers vs. pledges football game. In the end, the Brothers were victorious, but winning was not the important part. We still had a great time.

We have now concentrated our efforts on rushing for another fine pledge class. Through the efforts of Rush Chairman Todd Nugent and the entire Chapter, we are well on our way.

We are very pleased with the progress of our Chapter so far this year and with hard work, we expect it to continue.

Taking Arizona by Storm

The Brothers of Arizona Alpha began fall semester with one thought in mind: to have a great rush and to make this semester one of the best in our Chapter's history. We worked hard during rush and this semester proudly initiated Jason Eric Switzer, Louis De Bonis Jr., Brent Lee McDaniel, Geoffrey Michael Samuels, Grant Eugene Deakin, and Numa Ismael Lo-Cascio, Tucson; Damian Manuel Alvarez, Oracle; Andrew Roland Hansen, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA; Steven Arrow Thompson, Pendleton, OR; Gianmarc Joseph Pace, Wilmington, DE; and David Christopher McClanahan, Scottsdale.

Congratulations to Tom Rhode who was elected GP for the second year in a row. The following officers were also elected: Joseph Markus Kristofl, VGP; Brent Lee McDaniel, P; Jason Eric Switzer, AG; Scott Vernom Anders, BG; Steven Arrow Thompson, SG; Damian Manuel Alvarez, Hod; Louis De Bonis Jr., Phu; Michael Anthony Corrales, Hi.

Our Chapters also congratulates Brother Grey Hubler for being nominated this year's Summerfield Scholar.

Salutations go to Brothers Joel A. Davis and Peter J. Davidson who are studying in London, England this semester.

This semester's social calendar was a smashing success. With tailgate parties every football weekend and parties almost every other weekend we're now ready to get some serious studying done in time for finals. Our most memorable party was the "Gimme Samoa" party which we had with the Sigma Kappa Sorority. The house was decorated with Polynesian paraphernalia and palm fronds.

When our football team was not playing at home we were following them on the road. We send our appreciation to Cal Delta at USC, Cal Epsilon at UCLA, and Arizona Beta at ASU for their hospitality this semester.

This year's Founders Day celebration is planned for the evening of February 18th at the Hotel Park Tucson. Make reservations with Bryan Foulk at (602)-888-2754.

All the Brothers wish Ralph D. Daniel happiness at his new home in Prescott, AZ. Dud has been an inspiration to us all and we will miss him. We also extend our most sincere thanks to Bryan Foulk for being our alumni advisor.

Arizona State

History Starts Here

Arizona Beta enjoyed a great first semester and great Christmas spirit. Many Brothers donated money so the Chapter could buy a spa for both recreation and relaxation. Arizona Beta also contributed to Phoenix's Parade of Lights by spending our second consecutive year decorating downtown Phoenix with Christmas lights.

Construction has finally begun on our house and after returning from Christmas break Brothers at Arizona Beta enjoyed the luxuries of a new ceiling, a new Chapter room, which will give an added touch of mystique to our Chapter, carpeting, replacing our worn out brown "stuff," and even a kitchen complete with essential equipment. With the addition of a new kitchen Arizona Beta will also be adding catering to our list of improvements and dinner will be held every night for Brothers and rushees. We hope this will improve communication and spirit within the Chapter.

Ed "Fats" Ramsauer spent his semester sharpening his pool cue and winning intramural pool. Pool wasn't the only sport which Phi Psi's dominated last fall however. Intramural wrestling was bombarded with a group of grapplers including the likes of "Hit Man" Kerr, "Iron tooth" Jensen, and the overall intramural champion in the 157-lb. weight class, "The Snake" Eckhardt.

Officers for the spring semester are: Rob Armstrong, GP; Mike Rettus, VGP; Randy Vos, AG; Jim Vivier, BG; Keith Lehockey, Hod; Scott Hazdra, SG; Dale Lee, Hi; and Ed Ramsauer, Phu. These dedicated Brothers will lead us through another semester filled with both excitement and commitment and will be the author's of one more Chapter in the history of Arizona Beta.

Enthusiasm

All went well as winter rolled in. Rush efforts continued with great enthusiasm. Outlooks for the new pledge class are promising, and excitement is building with the upcoming initiation.

The social scene was highlighted with numerous functions and charity events.

The true meaning of Brotherhood and thanks was shared by all at a Thanksgiving feast prepared by our fall pledge class for the members and the pledges. This may be the beginning of a new tradition for future Thanksgivings.

The intramural basketball team struggled through a rough season but finished with a feeling of accomplishment.

With the close of the semester, tension ran high and the stress factor climaxed as finals drew nearer. Confidence and enthusiasm remained high, though.

We hope to have many of you visit us February 20 at Founders Day.

Ashland

Winter Wonderland

As the snow falls and the temperature drops, the Phi Psis of Ohio Theta are warm and glowing. It may be cold outside, but the warmth of Brotherhood keeps our Chapter nice and cozy. The Brothers of Ohio Theta have been very busy with numerous house improvements. The projects include new furniture for the TV room, a VCR, a new house stereo, and a microwave oven. The fall pledge class also contributed by putting a new linoleum floor down, and re-doing the ping-pong table. Scholarship showed a marked improvement over last semester. Brother Bangert was named one of the most Outstanding College Students of America.

Ashland Phi Psis have participated in various philanthropies to support our community. At Halloween, we invited the children from the nursery school to a party which included trick-or-treating and cookies and punch. For Thanksgiving, we collected canned food which was donated to the Salvation Army for the needy. Lately several Brothers have participated in helping the elderly by shoveling snow from their drives and walks. Campus activity has been growing with Brother Hoffman's position in IFC.

Ohio Theta is a major reason for Ashland's success on the mat. Wrestling seems to come naturally to the men of our Chapter. Our strengths include returning All-Americans DiCola and Molchak. The bulk of AC's strength is attributed to Brothers Dagley, Beaney, Mason, and Kennedy. Brother Matteo is back as assistant coach. Our talent in intramurals has continued with basketball, mostly due to the strong play of Brothers Crum, Halasi, and McKiernan. Brother Walczak was named second team all-conference for his prowess on the football field.

We held our winter semi-formal, the Mistletoe Mystery. We also were entertained with a live band, "Legend," with Brother Staats as the lead singer.

We are proud to announce the initiation of two fine Brothers: Alan Beaney, Rochester, NY; and Rod Staats, Mount Vernon. Our mascot, Psimon, is as healthy and fun as ever. He will be nine years old in early spring. Mike Bangert Correspondent

Growth and Maturity

Getting closer to the end of 1987, Wisconsin Gamma will look back and see all that we have accomplished this semester. As individuals, the members of the Chapter have grown and matured. As a Chapter, we have gained strength through leadership and cooperation.

Our semester began with a shock. Warner Mills, the most respected and beloved Brother of our Chapter, passed away October 1st. We tried our best to comfort Mrs. Mills and ourselves over the tragic loss. The entire Chapter, with many alumni and pledges, sang "Amici" at the memorial service. Not only was Warner Mills a respected Brother in Phi Kappa Psi, he was an important and well-revered professor and nationally-recognized scholar. The campus mourned his loss for weeks.

With this in mind, we began to concentrate our efforts into the community service events. On Friday night just before Halloween, the Chapter helped the anthropology museum staff provide a scare house for some elementary school children. We showed them how to have a fun but safe Halloween.

We also helped the Beloit YMCA with a few events. We helped to organize a 5-10k run and helped out with a children's basketball camp. Wisconsin Gamma was also involved with IFPC's Heart Association fund drive.

With appreciation to Brother Pete Clausen's band, we were able to celebrate on November 13th at an exciting nameless party. The Sunday after the party, the pledges took over our social lives during the annual "kidnapping." Fraternity Educator Stafford Whitehurst can be credited for creating a surprising diversion from normal kidnapping routine. In any case, we all had fun.

Our Chapter is looking forward to another semester of growth and experience. Our GP will be Brother Jerome Waller, and Brother Keith Krugh will be the new VGP.

As a final note, I would like to say thanks to the alumni for dropping in during Homecoming. The conversation and concern of older Brothers is always appreciated.

Progress Continues

The fall semester is coming to an end, and the men of Ohio Zeta have a lot of enthusiasm that is sure to carry over into the next semester. A successful Chapter retreat under the leadership of GP Scott Burner has brought the Brothers to their highest point of the year.

Taking a brief look back, we had a very well-organized Parents Day. Approximately 30 parents attended and many claimed that it was a great job on the part of the Fraternity. We also concluded a semester of athletics in which we stayed close to the top in football, golf and tennis. The softball team made the playoffs, but suffered a disappointing loss in the first round. The fall pledge class is eager and awaiting their chance to join the Brotherhood, also.

In the spring, we are looking forward to another big rush and a continued success in scholarship and athletics. Our Founders Day activities are already planned and we are expecting a large turnout.

We would like to congratulate our new officers: Scott Burner, GP; Tim Maugherman, VGP; Mike Lapham, BG; Dave Steiner, Phu; Jim Medenis, Hi; and Joe Skutt, Hod.

Bucknell

Ever Stronger

Penn Gamma is effectively dealing with adversity and change to remain the strongest house on campus. We are presently and successfully going through a redevelopment program that will make us even stronger. We are working closely with Fraternity Headquarters and our house corporation, and their help is making the change a little easier. We are confident we will be successful and Penn Gamma will be better than ever.

The house is undergoing a real change. The Brothers have worked long hours on it, and the alumni who were here for Homecoming agreed that the house has not looked so good in years.

The Bucknell IFC is undergoing a change and has redesigned the rush program. Even with this change, we are confident that we will pledge the best men on campus. Thanks to philanthropy chairmen Todd McKiernan and Kurt Kuehner, Phi Psi is very involved with community service activities. We had the highest level of participation in the Bucknell blood drive with every Brother donating. The recent UNICEF drive was a huge success raising money for the poor. We are now preparing for our annual donation of a Thanksgiving dinner to local poor, and our seniors are getting excited about the annual senior Christmas gift drive. There's a Phi Psi in any community service.

Recently we held a Jefferson Duo party down at Phi Gamm and it was smashing success. Athletically, many Brothers are participating in a number of varsity sports including lacrosse, soccer, swimming and water polo, track, golf, wrestling, and rugby. Brother Tom Walther '88 was recently elected captain of the lacrosse team. In intramurals, we are in strong contention for the Pangburn and we plan on winning. Brother Dave Shand is the chairman of our program and is doing a great job.

We recently elected new officers: John Lewis, president; Gary Fritz, vice president; Lee Hansen, treasurer; and Matt Gilfillan, corresponding secretary. David Miller was elected our Summerfield Scholar due to his grades, leadership, and warm personality.

Penn Gamma would like to see its image on the Bucknell campus to remain the best, and with the support of the university and alumni, we are confident this will happen. Penn Gamma would like to introduce its new Brothers, the Class of 1990: Sean Brune, Baltimore, MD; Rod D'Alessandro, Essex Fells, NJ; Ben Del Vento, Watchung, NJ; Drew Delaney, Devon; Sean Deveau, Branford, CT; Jim Donahue, Reston, VA; Jeff Dorst, Chappaqua, NY; Brent Farmer, Dover, MA; Andy Gale, Wilton, CT; John Garofolo, Philadelphia; Matt Gilfillan, Morristown, NJ; Jim Grady, Coatesville; George Holiat, Ridgewood, NJ; Jon Ingham, Puget, Bermuda; Peter Keblish and John Lawton, Blue Bell; Chris Littman, Pepper Pike, OH; Bill Macy, Franklin Lakes, NJ; Jim Miller, Wayne, NJ; Jon Romm, Waban, MA; Chip Scully, Villanova; Greg Sommer, Bethlehem; Kevin Sullivan, Pleasantville, NY; Andy Tait, Monroe, CT; Adam Volanth, Rochester, NY; and Norm Wilde, Gwynedd Valley.

Happily Ever After

As the semester draws to a close and Christmas nears, the men of Indiana Zeta look back on their achievements with satisfaction. It has been a semester of fun, games, and more fun. Three highlights of the semester were the Turkey Trot Fall Formal, our Great American Smokeout project, and our pairing with the women of Kappa Alpha Theta for Geneva Stunts. For the third consecutive year, we won Stunts, the annual musical/skit competition between housing units. Our theme was a fairy tale gone bad called "Happily Ever After(?)". All three awards, which included spirit, originality, and overall, were swept from the competition. Craig Davenport deserves commendation for his work as director.

Studies continue, with the freshman experiencing their tough first exams. At the same time, an active social schedule kept them busy meeting new women. As for Butler, the Bulldogs beat the University of Indianapolis in the annual Top Dog Game and won the Heartland Conference title.

Turkey Trot was a huge success thanks to Paul Brady. Special thanks should also be given to Jeff Gibbs for his "the bird" performance. The freshman made some lasting (?) female friends in the process. For a philanthropy project, we highly publicized the Great American Smokeout and had a banner competition between the sororities. Matt Lewis, the philanthropy chairman, should be commended for his efforts.

California, Berkeley Mushrooming Success

Hello and good day from sunny Cal Gamma. Despite the cold weather descending onto Berkeley, we are still enjoying bright, clear days this winter. We are excited to announce the initiation of three excellent Brothers in November: Brian Liu, Bellevue, WA; Ken Martin, San Mateo; and Jonathan Yeager, Encino. We note that Brian is the sixth Brother initiated into Cal Gamma in recent history from Bellevue. Should we expect more?

Always strong alumni support at Cal Gamma has led to strong relations with the alumni this semester. First of all, meeting the team of alumni for softball before the Cal football games has strengthened our Brotherhood despite the alumni going 5-0 for the season. Just wait till next year guys, and we won't be so easy on you. Second, the Big Game Luncheon in San Francisco was a great success. Cal Gamma and Cal Beta Brothers from every decade dating back to the 1920's were excited to make new friendships and renew old ones.

Travel has been a theme for us as we have made trips to UCLA, Oregon, UCSB for the District Council, and Stanford. Finally, our Bounce-A-Thon was successful in two ways: in making the trip to Stanford with at least one basketball intact and in raising funds for the future purchase of our house.

As the semester comes to a close we thank our old officers for a job well done and congratulate our new ones. The newly-elected officers rae Walt Mayoss, GP; William Lewis, VGP; Roger Mayoss, BG; David Nakamura, Phu; and Jeffery Abrams, Hi. The new officers are ready to lead the Chapter onto bigger and better things. However, a new wardrobe is in order for the Mayoss kids. Mom's matching outfits just aren't going to cut it anymore, boys.

We also congratulate Brothers Derek Alvis and Richard Blanco. Derek is our Chapter's Summerfield Scholar. Rich, after playing alongside the Edge at the Oakland Coliseum, has been invited by Bono to tour with U2 this summer.

California, Davis Shaping Up

As usual, fall rush occupied most of the first two weeks of classes. Once things settled down, we were able to concentrate on pledging six fine young men: Dean Ballback, Phil Osterli, Mark Wong, Steve Stechschulte, Rex Adams, and Bob Dowling. Pledge live-in week at the house Nov. 16-20, was full of fun and excitement. The activities culminated with a highly successful pledge fundraiser, the ever-popular Casino Night. After that, it was off to Lake Tahoe for a weekend retreat in the mountains Dec. 4-6. It was here that plans for initiation, winter rush, and Founders Day were formulated and finalized for the upcoming quarter. The hardest part of the entire weekend was deciding whether to go skiing, gambling, or just hanging out in the iacuzzi.

Over the weekend of November 13, Brothers Kohnen and Hoffman journeyed south to U.C. Santa Barbara where they took part in the District VI Woodrow Wilson Leadership Conference. They returned home with many new and exciting ideas concerning rush and other Fraternal activities. We would like to thank Cal Zeta for the fine job they did in hosting the conference, even though Cal Iota was mysteriously left off the conference T-shirts. Must have been a mistake on the part of the silk-screener!

Alumni relations is reaching new heights. The new-and-improved version of the alumni newsletter will soon be published on a monthly basis. Brother Tony Winckowski has assumed an active role as our new Chapter Advisor and plans for a house corporation are being formulated. All alumni interested in assisting in this project are urged to contact the Chapter house.

California, Santa Barbara Update: Cal Zeta

Here we are under the sun.

District Council was a huge success on the Santa Barbara coast, thanks to Brother Ariola. I guess the Hari Krishna seminars did help after all. We hope all who came had a great time!

We now have 14 new Brothers recently initiated and embellished with all the attributes that make one proud to yell Hi, Hi, Hi!

Our fall was just great, socially. And as for school, well, we done good there, too. Our winter calendar is again packed to its Green and Red brim, showing T.G.'s with Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Alpha Delta Pi. Boy, this education stuff sure is tough work. Also included as the main event is our winter formal as Cal Zeta hits the slopes of Mammouth Mountain (CA) for three days of sun and snow. Our theme: Ski to Die.

In the sports department, Cal Zeta still never relinquishes its strive for the competitive edge as coach Wincek had fielded an all star hoop team and all pro football team, which placed a strong third. As this is coach Wincek's last football season, we will always remember his greatness.

And just remember: if the weather for you Brothers back east gets to be too much, the sun is always shining at Cal Zeta!

California, Northridge On the Road

A big Northridge "Hi, hi, hi" to Phi Psis everywhere. As the title indicates, California Theta has been having a great year. The good times, of course, are the result of a lot of effort and good, hard work.

A lot has been going on here at California State University at Northridge. The death of Campus Activities Director, Richard Williams, came as a great shock to the student body. Williams, a native of Southern California, had held the directorship of campus activities and residential life since the fall of 1980.

On a lighter note, California Theta has been booming under the leadership of our newly elected officers. Congratulations to Garth Saunders, GP; Kurt Wedberg, VGP; Karl Burk, BG; Steve Weinberg, SG; Rich McClelland, Phu; Rich Bush, Hod; and (ex GP) Stephen Hirsch, Hi. Continuing their terms are: James Taylor, AG; and Brad Polak, P.

On the Northridge campus, Phi Psis are excelling. Special congratulations go to Kurt Wedberg for taking third place overall in intramural billiards. Phi Psi also finished third in our Fraternity volleyball league. High, High, High!

California Thetans have taken a number of road trips this semester. The best by far was the District Council in Santa Barbara. We only hope the Brothers from California Zeta will still talk to us! Then we went to Mammouth Mountain in January for some

In late November, California Theta initiated six new Brothers: Jeffrey Bobrosky, Canoga Park; Paul Graham, Northridge; Cary Green, North Hollywood; Robert Sostman, Canoga Park; Doug Wah, Northridge; and Justin Wall, Burbank. These members of the Beta Xi pledge class passed with flying colors. We were especially impressed with Brother Green's knowledge of Phi Kappa Psi history.

Colorado

We're Back

On September 27, 1987, 24 men became the new Founding Fathers of the Colorado Alpha Chapter. After two weeks of interviews and other rush activities, Joe Siebert and Tane Abbott had selected the core group to reestablish the Chapter.

The new pledges of Colorado Alpha.

Since then, we have been busy striving to gain recognition on campus. To begin with, we petitioned for membership in the Interfraternity Council, which is a two year process. This year we are able to participate in all Interfraternity Council activities except formal rush. We are encouraged to attend all of the meetings, but we are not able to vote. We will be able to participate in formal rush during fall semester 1988, and we will be full voting members in fall 1989.

Interfraternity Council news from fall semester includes the passing of a new constitution in November, and an IFC-sponsored blood drive. Phi Psis were involved in the drive by donating blood and by volunteering to help serve refreshments. We have already held our first community service fundraising event. On December 2, Phi Psi sponsored Round The Corner Restaurant's Greek Charity Night. Half the profits from the evening went to the American Heart Association.

In order to gain further recognition, we put together two intramural broomball teams. Our "B" league team missed the championship by one game, while our "A" league team struggled for a victory. We also participated in the Zeta Beta Tau Pledge "Footbrawl" Tournament. Although we were defeated, we discovered we have quite a bit of talent and are looking forward to playing the Alpha Tau Omega pledges. ATO by the way, is presently leasing our house until August 1988.

Spring semester is already beginning to look busy for us, beginning with our initiation in early January. A ski trip with the area alumni to Vail was planned for mid-January as well as our first informal rush activities. In February, we are having a Founders Day Banquet with the Rocky Mountain Alumni Association. Our philanthropy committee will be busy planning the first Phi Psi 500 at the University of Colorado.

Before listing the new pledges, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize two of the area alumni. We would like to thank Dave Castro, Creighton '66, the Rocky Mountain Alumni Association president, and John Jordan, Iowa State '76, our alumni advisor, for their guidance and support, and especially for the time they have dedicated to helping us out.

The new pledges of Colorado Alpha are: Andy Bauer, Farmington, CT; Ted Bryant and Mark Stevens, Lakewood; Phil Civins and Jamie Hudson, Boulder; David Cunningham, Fargo, ND; Mike DeRespinis, Massapequa, NY; Karl Dunkel, Lamar; Bill George, Wheatridge; Marc Graff, Alex Montoya, Mike Proctor and Monte Wise, Aurora; Chris Hamilton and Kurt Hansmeier, Anchorage, Ak: Tom Jenkins, Tulsa, OK; Rich Korn, Los Altos, CA; Todd Landow and Chaz Vaughn, Denver; Kent Lansville and Rick Martinez, Arvada; Craig MacKinnon, Winter Park, FL; Don McCarthy, Littleton; Nam Nguyen, Ft. Collins.

Cornell

Taking Charge

It's been another typical fall at NY Alpha; rush has remained the focal point of our energy. Rush Chairman David Wern put us in excellent position to realize our goal of 25 to 30 pledges.

After a few early setbacks, the all-sports campaign has been revitalized by our opportunistic hockey team led by David Powar, and our undefeated basketball team captained by Athletic Chairman Steve Labows. This winter, the Phi Psi broomstick polo team has been justifying its reputation as one of the more formidable dynasties in Cornell allsports history with impressive early routs.

Homecoming, under the direction of Chet Osadchey, was an eventful weekend. Things kicked off Friday night with an informal cheese party and then picked up again Saturday morning with a six hour tailgate. Cornell handed eventual League Champion Harvard its only Ivy League loss. The afternoon's festivities flowed directly into our Homecoming formal which lasted well into Sunday morning. Thank you to all who attended the events.

NY Alpha would also like to thank all those who attended the District Council, held here November 6-8, and especially Scott Idleman for his selfless dedication to the council's organization and eventual success. The experience helped bring to our attention all that which our Brothers throughout the District have to offer and we encourage other Chapters to take an active part by hosting future District Councils.

Columbia

A Paragon

Well, as we round the final bend before the semester finish line, we once again find ourselves stocking up on liquid paper, Jolt Cola, and plenty of midnight munchies for those notorious all-nighters. But despite our hectic schedules, the Brothers have continued planning various fun-filled, action-packed, rock 'em sock 'em bashes. A recent Fraternitysubsidized excursion to world-famous Beefsteak Charlie's was a smashing success. And still ahead is a potentially sumptuous feast (depending on who cooks) planned for all the Brothers as well as this semester's pledges who are: David J. Lidsky, Atlanta, GA; Andrew J. Sobelman, Pound Ridge; and Mauro Caputi, Mineola. We congratulate them and Rush Chairman Art Burns for a humdinger of a job.

Several Brothers recently attended the District Council held at Cornell. Representing New York Gamma were Brothers Jack Lifford, Andrew Marlowe, Pete Linde, Art Burns, and Barry Critides. They were joined by two members of the pledge class, Andrew Sobelman and Dave Lidsky. Brother Lifford reports that everyone had a fantastic time rekindling old memories. The Brothers and pledges would like to thank the Brothers at Cornell as well as the Brothers at Rutgers, Lehigh, and Temple. We look forward to a reunion sometime in the near future.

The pledge class of fall '85 would like to thank those responsible for sending us our Fraternity badges. It was a long wait but we always knew that there was a light at the end of the tunnel. We have even started a tradition of nicknaming Brothers when they receive their badges. So, a heart-felt "thank you" from Lucky, Amish, Vidal, Brotherhood, and Gappy.

In the last newsletter, I failed to report that Brother Jack Lifford spent the summer in Washington, D.C., where he worked for Congressman John J. Mokley (D) of Massachusetts. The highlight of the summer was the passage of the Congressman's bill halting deportation of El Salvadoran refugees. The Brothers join me in congratulating Jack.,

I would like to close by inviting alumni to visit the Chapter house, which is still being renovated. Also, we are about to begin compiling an alumni directory and alumni can expect to hear from us in the near future. We're hoping to contact all "lost" alumni as well as those who have maintained contact. The compilation of the directory, which will take several months, should be worth the effort.

Delaware House Hunting

As Delaware Alpha completes its first semester without the leadership of the original founding fathers, we can all be assured that Phi Kappa Psi is here to stay at the University of Delaware. At the beginning of the semester, the Brothers set goals of keeping close ties with alumni, maintaining our numbers through a quality rush, planning an extensive social calendar, and finding a permanent Chapter house.

In October, we accepted nine quality pledges that eagerly await Brotherhood. They are Dave Bell, Ridley Park, PA; Bill Loue, Parkensburg, PA; Brian Haggerty, Neptune, NJ; Tony Fulco, Westwood, NJ; Rich Vetter, Camden, NJ; Andy Zimmerman and Chip Wilt, Dover; Steve Netta and Tom Cormican, Newark.

Our social calendar ranged from semiformal affairs to our now-famous graffiti party. A strong turnout was the norm at these functions and the Brothers would like to thank our alumni for their numerous visits. In addition, a handful of tailgates at the home football games gave us a chance to stay in close contact with recent graduates.

Our main hope for the future is acquiring a permanent Chapter house, and we can finally say that the possibility is encouraging. After working around local zoning ordinances that restrict Fraternity houses, we have finally located a house that can enable us to enjoy all the benefits associated with a central meeting point. As the potential for buying the house increased, a housing corporation was established. Those named in the corporation are Mike Iacovelli, Scott Baylis, Eugene J. Maniscalco, Jerry Aldrich, Alex Martin, Mike Marchesani, John Widgekowski, along with our Chapter president and treasurer. We are now anxiously waiting as the corporation makes their final decisions and works through the finances.

In closing, the Brothers at Delaware Alpha would like to thank the alumni for their numerous contributions. All funds have been set aside for the eventual purchase of a house. We also thank the members of the house corporation, and we appreciate the valuable time you have invested.

DePauw

Continued Success

With the close of a hectic first semester Indiana Alpha look back upon a successful five months. The highlight of the semester was the return of the Monon Bell to DePauw from an inferior college nearby named Wabash. Phi Psi had six members of the victorious team, Brother Zack Gottesman and Pledges Craig Evans, T. Ray Phillips, Rocky Aker, Doug Lowery, and Matt Warren. DePauw's varsity soccer team made it to the NCAA Division III tournament. We were well-represented with 12 players, five of whom were starters. Brother Jim Hand was the captain of the team and Brother Brian Jaworski was the leading scorer for the Tigers.

Brothers Scott Ullem and Mark Burgess organized a successful Symposium Weekend which saw many alumni return to the Rockpile. Symposiarch Brother Tom Hession provided the gathered Brothers with a humorous, eloquent, and memorable evening.

We were again on top of fraternity intramurals with first place finishes in raquetball, tennis, volleyball, soccer and ping pong. With continued victories in the spring competition, we should end up with the overall intramural title.

Mom Strings will close out her 26 years at Indiana Alpha in May. We thank her and wish her good luck.

Achievement Through Cooperation

With winter upon us, our Chapter looks toward the end of the fall semester and the onset of the holiday season. In keeping with the spirit of the fall, we celebrate the seasonal change by having our annual Tennessee Farm Night party. Hours of preparation involving each Brother resulted in one of the best T-Farm Nights on record. The preparations consisted mainly of the construction of a small barn in front of the house and a cage to house the live animals which we obtained from a local farmer. The organizational process that took place is the basis for the title of our newsletter. If not for the cooperation of the entire Brotherhood, this event would never have gotten off the ground.

Another event which has affected our Chapter as well as the entire Dickinson community was the dedication of the Benjamin D. James Center. Brother James is a Dickinson graduate and a Pennsylvania Zeta alumnus who has contributed his time and effort to better life on campus. He was head of the psychology department during his tenure as a professor at Dickinson. The October 17 dedication ceremony was led by Dickinson's newly-inaugurated President, Dr. Fritschler.

The winter sports season is here and there are many Chapter members involved in intercollegiate activities. We have two members on the varsity hockey team as well as six members on the swim team including team captain Robert Hoppin Jr.

We are pleased with the success of our new rush program that was under the direction of Mark Keck and Robert Jakacki. We congratulate the following new Brothers: Walter Gilligan, Glen Rock, NJ; Steven Hussey, State College; Kevin Hart, Pound Ridge, NY; Richard Petruske, Fort Washington; and George Richards, Harrisburg. All were happily initiated on November 15 at Miller Hall at Gettysburg College.

Duke Service

The Brothers of NC Alpha continue to pursue their lofty academic, social, and fraternal goals. Despite full schedules and unruly administrators, several Brothers have excelled and the Fraternity as a whole has grown.

Brothers Drozd and Lavitt have brought about several changes on campus while serving on the Student Affairs Committee. Brothers Grimes and Davis were honored by the Durham community for their volunteer work with local children's athletic teams. Also on the service front, Brother Fowler has raised several hundred dollars for a medical mission in Brazil where he spent a summer. On the lighter side, Brothers Patterson and Levinsohn attempted to begin a Big-time Wrestling Club on campus, but they failed to meet the charter deadline and were subsequently smelt.

Homecoming Weekend was a huge success with the largest number of returning alumni in 10 years. The weekend, organized by Brothers Herbert and Price, featured a pregame reception and a post-game barbecue. Duke even won the game. Brothers Sanchez, Habib, and B. Feldman (not to be confused with J. Feldman) ventured south for the Woodrow Wilson Leadership Council and returned with many good ideas for the future. Commenting on the cultural aspect of New Orleans, a wide-eyed Habib sputtered, "It was neato."

The Phi Psi intramural flag football team finished a strong third in the 32-team tournament. Led by Brother Kirby Hunter, the team lost to top-seeded Law School by a single TD. Meanwhile, Brother Drozd made it through the varsity rugby season without losing any body parts, and Brother Buzby paced the Phi Psi Midnight keglers with an astonishing 227.

Recently, elections for spring officers were held and the winners are—envelope, please—Derek Price, GP; Chris Dryden, VGP; Tim Buzby, P; Greg Sgrosso, AP; Jim Tobin, AG; Bill Herbert, BG; Josh Habib, Hod; Scott Adler, Phu; and Jim Williams, Hi. In addition Marc Sanchez will serve as Fraternity Educator.

Eastern New Mexico Rebuilding

Good day to everyone! It's been a long period since our last get together in this great periodical.

New Mexico Alpha has taken a ride on the membership rollercoaster dropping down to only six Brothers, but now we have taken a turn for the better. Spring rush went really well. We all came back from Christmas break focused on our objective and how to get there. A special thanks go to Brothers David Catanzaro, Tim Dodson and Mat Banda. What we have learned from this rush and during the semester will hopefully springboard us into finishing our rebuilding and becoming Eastern's best-rounded Fraternity.

With only a few members in our fine Chapter and many of them not too athletically inclined, we've dedicated ourselves to teaching the children of our town different sports while taking part in the smaller team sports. We've coached a boy's baseball team to a second place finish, while all but three of its members went on to all-stars. Next it was a couple of football teams that tied for third place in their division. Finally, again this year we coached a girl's basketball team and they won the city championship again in their division. Coaches Matt Banda, David Catanzaro, Tim Dodson and Jeff Gardiner should be congratulated for their work with all those teams, while playing in the intramural games for Phi Kappa Psi. Good work gentlemen!!

Finally, Tim Dodson should be given a hardy hi,hi,hi for a great job with the planning and implementing of one of the most successful Founders Day in recent memory of New Mexico Alpha. We had a great time. Many thanks to all those alumni who attended.

Greetings! It has been a while since anyone has heard from Penn Xi, but don't despair—we have been hard at work. Recently, we hosted a Halloween party. This may sound typical, but it was the first time to our knowledge that any greek organization rented space for an occasion such as this, particularly in a parish hall. All in all, the event was fairly successful. We plan on holding a similar festivity just before Christmas break, except this time a live band will be featured.

During the past several months, the university has been repairing all the roads and parking lots. Now the suspension on our cars will be spared. Also, a gazebo-pumping station was erected adjacent to Mallory Lake. This will be the hub of the University's new fire protection system.

Looking toward the horizon, we have two goals we would like to achieve. The motion has been passed that the Chapter Brothers should be allowed to purchase corduroy winter jackets. The style will basically be the same as our spring and fall jackets, just a different material with our crest and Chapter designation on the sleeve. Also, we are seriously considering buying some real estate of our own. We know that it will take a group effort, but it sure would be nice to have a house of our very own.

Florida Growing

Greetings to all Phi Psis and Florida Beta alumni everywhere. The men of Florida Beta hope everyone enjoyed a successful fall semester.

We are stronger than ever after our fantastic mid-semester rush. We were proud to pledge four gentlemen: Glen Speckman, Paul Fleck, Jason Winoker, and Thom Newberg. Many thanks to our rush chairman, Paul Ghougasian, for his outstanding effort.

Florida Betans also enjoyed a successful semester of service. With the guidance of Service Chairman Charles Thomas, we were able to raise a significant amount of money for several local charities.

Florida Betans are looking forward to our second annual Phi Psi 500-Hogtown Classic Bicycle Race. Brother William Crook will direct the event his year and we are expecting a large turnout. The event features professional as well as amateur races. Anyone interested in participating should call William Crook at (904) 373-5371 for more details.

With spring semester underway, the Fightin' Phi Psi Sharks will try to take control 'of intramurals. Last year, our softball and raquetball teams placed well, and this year we're going all the way!

Franklin and Marshall Growth and Understanding

As the fall semester comes to a close the men of Penn Eta hold their heads high with a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment. Our Chapter has had an interesting autumn, the net result of which has been continued growth in numbers and in mutual understanding.

This concern for our fellow man has been extended outside the boundaries of the Chapter house in numerous ways. Under Community Service Chairman Chris Allen, we have had ample opportunity to serve. The F&M Alumni Phonathon was our first endeavor, followed by a Halloween party for local children, and finally our Thanksgiving food drive. Each event proved to be not only a service for the community but also for the Brother's as they constantly strive to live up to the ideals of Phi Psi.

In terms of the larger greek community here at F&M, several interesting developments have taken place. The system continues to be under review by the College Trustees and a decision as to our future status is expected in June. Recently the practice of carding has been debated and it appears that some version of this plan will be implemented during the winter. Finally, F&M is beginning a major construction project which will include the building of a new dorm, science library, and possibly athletic facilities.

With the first snowfall of the season there is no doubt as to the presence of winter. While many things will quiet down over the next few months Penn Eta will be alive with action. Founders Day plans are still a mystery to us all, but under the guidance of Summerfield Scholar Scott Spellman, quality is ensured. The Chapter begins formal rush in January. This will be an important event for us as we continue to grow and progress.

In the tradition of saving the best for last, Penn Eta initiated eight men into the Chapter on Friday, December 5. The ceremony was a fitting conclusion to a semester of growth and understanding. Our new Brothers are Tom Brooks, Rosemont; John Cotter, Montvale, NJ; Mark Grace, Long Island, NY; Matt Imhoff, Baltimore, MD; Dave Janeway, Seattle, WA; Jim Morgan, Reading; Todd Reichert, Hanover; and Mike Siegal, Baltimore, MD. Congratulations to each, and welcome to Phi Kappa Psi.

Georgia

Hail to the Archon

The Brothers of Georgia Alpha are proud to announce the election of Brother David J. Shafer as the new Worthy Archon of District IV. We are confident that Dave will provide the District with the high standard of leadership that he has demonstrated on the University of Georgia campus.

One of his first official duties was to present greetings from Fraternity Headquarters to our 11th annual Chartering Banquet presided over by outgoing GP, Tim Mitchell, and our Anniversary Chairman, Paul Willis. The celebration was a great success with over 150 undergraduates, alumni, and guests attending the dinner and party.

A new group of officers have taken over the leadership: Mike Waters, GP; Mike Augustine, VGP; Kevin New, P; Drew Dekle, AG; Robert Middlemas, BG; Stacy Patterson, SG; Phillip Klinkenberg, Hod; Ed Pinson, Phu; and Richard Sheffield, Hi. Brother Waters has already begun making plans for his term in office. We are certain that he will continue the fine record of service compiled by his predecessor.

One accomplishment of the outgoing officers should be noted. We pledged another fine group of young men this fall. Congratulations to Curtis Collier, Phillip Martin, and Danny Draper, Athens; Tommy Washburn, Kevin Lewis, Ben George, Mark Mescher and Scott Sedlock, Atlanta; Keith Harrell, Coberth; and Bill Frazier, Buford. We expect to soon have these gentlemen assimilated into the Chapter.

The Chapter is also proud to have two other pledges, Tim Mitchell and Drew Dekle, who are going through their Order of Omega neophyte period. The Order of Omega honors the top 1% of greeks at the University of Georgia.

We do not want to create the impression that our only thoughts are on elections, banquets, and campus activities. We have enjoyed a very active social calendar including mixers with Delta Gamma, Alpha Chi Omega, and Delta Phi Epsilon, and a large band party with the group "Mystery Date".

Under the leadership of Phi Psi 500 coordinator, Stacy Patterson, we again biked the game ball from Sanford Stadium in Athens to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville for the annual Georgia vs. Florida encounter. Proceeds from this year's trek will benefit the National Diabetes Foundation.

Phi Psi also co-sponsored a haunted house at Halloween with Kappa Kappa Gamma for underprivileged children. Our huge old house really gave these children a good spook!

Gettysburg

Pride

The first semester has gone well for Phi Psi at Gettysburg College and we have many things to be proud of. Our greatest achievement has been our tremendous rush success. Through a united Brotherhood effort and a vigorous rush program, we attracted 50 young men to pledge our Chapter. This pledge class, which consists of 44 freshmen and 6 sophomores, is the largest on campus and the largest in our recent history. The men in this year's pledge class come from MD, NJ, NY, PA, CT, and MA and can be found participating in almost every campus activity. Under a recently instated IFC rule, these pledges are "unofficial" or "academic" pledges. This means that they must achieve a 2.0 GPA for the first semester in order to continue pledging and become initiated in the spring. Our goal is to ensure that each of these men achieves the required GPA. In order to do this, we have instituted an intense scholarship program which includes study partners, grade monitoring, and tutoring where needed. The pledges for this semester are: Tom Weber, Dave Savitz, Ken Banner, Shawn McGrath, Joe Werner, John Turkel, Jason Dury, Mark Davis, David Hawley, Greg O'Connor, Brad Hendsey, Brian Groff, John Colladay, Chris Wingert, Jeff Benjamin, George Walker, Tom Butler, Pete Smith, Joe Bedwick, Rich Van Heerton, Joe Varraday, Bill Caruso, Vince Anderson, Brian Celliberti, Paul Bleakly (legacy), Graeme Bradley, Mike Stiles, Brian Boyle, Dave Fippinger, Dennis Ryan, Eric DeJong, Phil Magliochetti, Steve Bellis, Kyle Thompson (legacy), Scott Crammer, Chris Hamilton, Thomas Walter, Don Crecca, Bill Newlon, Craig Amazeen, Ed Flaherty, Stuart Petrouitis, Ted Heiser, Brian Towns, Pete Wahlers (legacy), Gregg Pinchbeck, Steve Gaeta, Sean Saltzburg, John Dunn, Paul Wehmayer. This pledge class has quality as well as quantity.

Another achievement that we take pride in is our fall philanthropy project. Under the direction of Philanthropy Chairman Kuske, we delivered breakfast in bed to hundreds of students. This project required much teamwork, but raised over $1200 for the prevention of child abuse. Brother Kuske must be congratulated for coordinating such a successful project.

This year's Homecoming was also a success. Many alumni returned to renew old friendships and start new ones. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the alumni Brothers who came and made the weekend a great success. I would also like to encourage those who couldn't make it to stop by any time. Alumni are always welcome at Penn Epsilon.

Illinois

Following Through

With the opening of the fall semester, the University of Illinois entered a new era marked by steadily rising standards of admission and greater levels of social responsibility. As mentioned in the last issue of The Shield, we had a unique opportunity to lead the way in a very positive direction. We are very proud and happy to announce that we did not let that opportunity pass us by. The semester was marked by many successful social events and high Chapter morale, with Homecoming marking the high point. Not only did the Fighting Illini beat Minnesota, but Phi Psis won as well. Brother Ron Provenzano won a seat on the Homecoming Court and our float-building effort walked away with the award for the most creative entry.

Internally, the semester ran smoothly as well. We would like to thank our fall officers for a job well done. They are: Ron Provenzano, GP; Marc Caifano, VGP; Joe Dalesandro, external vice-president; Casey Green, P; Anthony Troyke, AG; Mark Keller, BG; Dominic Tunzi, SG; Tom Phelan, fraternity educator; Jeff Wheatley, commissar; Mark Brenner and Thad Murphy, social chairmen; Mark Filip, formal rush chairman; Todd Borchardt, informal rush chairman; Doug Meyer, Phu; Thad Murphy, Hod; John Zubak, Hi; and Mike Gawne, house manager. We must also recognize Brother Thad Murphy who was elected Archon for our District.

The Bucket Returns

Greetings from the men of Indiana Beta. We completed an extremely successful fall semester and are looking forward to continuing this productive trend in the spring.

First, the approximately $450,000 Chapter house renovation was completed at the end of the fall semester after some unexpected delays. With the first phase of the construction process completed and the second phase expected to begin in the near future, Indiana Beta is now one of the most beautiful houses on campus. Because of this, we would like to send our sincere thanks and appreciation to all the friends and alumni who helped make this renovation project possible.

In addition to the completion of the renovation, the fall semester had some other notable highlights. First of all, our Homecoming pair with Gamma Phi Beta was extremely successful. Also, under the direction of Charlie Roberts, approximately $500 was raised at the Third Annual Greek Soccer Showdown for the American Red Cross. Finally, under the direction of Patrick Garnett, Indiana Beta was the host of the District III Council October 9-11.

By far, the highlight of the fall semester at IU was the football team. The team finished with an 8-3 record and earned a trip to the Peach Bowl where they will play Tennessee. Furthermore, after a four-year drought, Indiana was able to win back the Old Oaken Bucket from Purdue. We celebrated the victory with the Fifth Annual Button Blowout in which the Brothers of Indiana Delta came to

Brothers Chris Gomolack and Ed Sagebiel are busy preparing for the annual campuswide IU Sing with Chi Omega. The Little 500 bike team will be an experienced one with the return of veteran bike riders Tim Davis, Paul Maasdorf, and Kent Compton. Brother Dave Schutt, through the School of Public and Environmental Affairs, will be studying overseas this spring in Rotterdam, Holland. Indiana, Pennsylvania An Eventful Semester

Greetings from IUP. Our semester is running smoothly with many high points. In October, our annual Homecoming was held. Many alumni returned and noticed the house improvements thanks to the efforts of Mark Boring and Bob Patrick. That evening was our Homecoming Formal where our Fall '87 Sweetheart, Amy Spencer, was crowned.

Our next big event was Delta Gamma's Anchor Clanker. Our own Paul Bender won the King Neptune pageant and our Chapter won first place in both the spirit competition and the most money raised. Because of this, Phi Psi won first place overall.

On Friday, December 11, we held our annual Christmas date party. This year we added a Meet the Faculty Night. We had professors come to visit us and see our newly-renovated house.

In closing we would like to thank the Brothers of West Virginia Alpha for inviting us down for their Halloween festivities.

Indiana State Boxing for Bucks

Winter greetings from Terre Haute and ISU. Brotherhood is strong here at Indiana Eta since we just accomplished the most successful event in the young history of our Chapter! This event really brought us together as Brothers and as a Chapter, and for this we are both proud and happy.

On November 20, we held our first major fund-raising event, the Phi Psi Main Event I, at the local National Guard Armory. The Main Event was an intercollegiate amateur boxing tournament, sponsored mainly by Budweiser and the Terre Haute Boxing Club, and refereed by a local professional boxer, Jeff Hanna. Several local celebrities were our fight judges. Overall, we had 25 boxers participate in the Main Event, including members of five ISU fraternities and one fraternity from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. The boxers were divided up into five weight divisions, the winner of each division receiving a trophy. There was also a Ring Girl competition, the winner of which was determined by a penny vote system. She received a trophy and was dubbed "Phi Psi Knockout Girl." All in all, we raised just over $1000 from the Main Event, which was attended by 300 plus people. All proceeds went to benefit the U.S. Olympic Teams.

Our fall rush, though not the best, brought in to our group seven fine men. They are Eric Bouchard, Lafayette; Steve Corbin, Mooresville; Jeff Funkhouser, Lawrenceville, IL; Phil Leuken, Jasper; Ron Ragsdale, Plymouth; Mike Rains, Indianapolis; and David Tishey, Lowell. We are at the moment gearing up for spring rush which looks bright for us.

Our officers for spring 1988, will be Jim Dimitri, GP; Mike Wallace, VGP; Brad Hancock, AG; Scott Foster, BG; Glen Welling, SG; Matt Niper, Hod; Mike Soellner, Hi; and Johnny Parsons, Phu. At the moment, we are still in the process of electing a new treasurer.

Tradition

As winter approached in Iowa City, things were really heating up at Iowa Alpha as another outstanding academic and social semester came to a close. The 1987-88 pledge class recently completed their pledge project by adding a retaining wall to our back yard volleyball facility.

Alumni in the San Diego area watched one of the nation's football powerhouses along with a few Iowa Alpha Brothers as the Hawkeyes took on Wyoming in the Holiday Bowl on December 30.

The Hawkeyes are not alone in post-season play as we advanced to the intramural playoffs behind the outstanding defensive play of Lee Sellers and Bill Davison. Before bowing in the semi-finals, team captain John Nangle remarked, "Our defense held tough all season, but it took a few games for our offense to sprout." On a more dramatic note, the pledges dominated the outmanned Beta plebes in the annual Pledge Bowl with a 19-12 victory.

Pledges and Brothers celebrated the Beta trouncing later that evening at our Homecoming formal dance. The party, which featured a live band at the Amana Colonies, was a tremendous success. The following weekend featured our annual Parents Dinner at the Highlander Inn. Russell Kivett was honored as the Solon E. Summerfield Scholar. Also receiving honors were John McClain for the Brotherhood Award; Bill Davison for the Most Improved pledge GPA; and Greg Sturtz and Kevin Bradley for highest pledge father/son grade point.

As the semester drew to a close, our cook, Joyce Schlindwein, continued her final week tradition of serving up hot box lunches to her on-the-go Phi Psis. The pledge class and Brothers were fired up for January's traditional initiation week. The pledges have really improved in performing their traditional pledge duties, prompting Joyce to exclaim, "These boys are really coming together as a pledge class."

Iowa State Bright Future

The Brothers of Iowa Beta are hard at work preparing for the all too near finals week and planning a busy spring semester.

Along with the new semester comes VEISHEA, Iowa State's most famous tradition and the nation's largest student-run celebration. This year, Iowa Beta is teaming up with women of Alpha Xi Delta to build a float to enter in the annual parade competition. We are hoping to top last year's success which may prove to be quite difficult, considering the two prestigious awards we won.

Also in the planning at Iowa Beta is the 75th Anniversary celebration. We are working closely with our very capable alumni to make certain everything goes off without a hitch. The event will be held the weekend of September 10, 1988, beginning Friday night with an informal cocktail gathering and registration. On Saturday's agenda is a catered tailgate in the morning, football game, and a formal banquet Saturday night which will include a slide show and entertainment. We would like to encourage all of our alumni and anyone else to make plans to attend this very special event.

As the Cyclones defeated the University of Northern Iowa in their homecoming football game, the Brothers of Iowa Beta enjoyed a football game of their own. Several alumni joined us for the annual Fayette Clifton Barney Bowl, a game of fun played in honor of the first Phi Psi at Iowa State. It was a day which reminded many of us that we aren't the athletes we used to be.

We have recently welcomed two new pledges: Jamie Frye, West Des Moines, and Tom Juhl, Garner. We are looking for bright things out of these two in the future.

For this year's philanthropy, we have chosen to team up with the women of Chi Omega and sing Christmas carols at retirement homes and around the Iowa State greek system.

Johns Hopkins Example of Excellence

Maryland Alpha continues to set the example for excellence among fraternities at Johns Hopkins. Our annual Phi Psi 500 on October 24 was called "the best fraternity event in years" by one administrator. Organized and run by Brothers John Kim and Joseph Roco, the event was held on Parents Weekend and included several different field games and challenging races. Some 200 students participated in the charity event and had the time of their lives. The Chapter raised an impressive $1,400 for Santa Claus Anonymous, a new record in recent years.

The Chapter's shining image stirred an incredible interest in the Fraternity among freshman. Although we do not have rush until spring semester, we are already seeing quite a number of good men around our house. This year our Rush Chairmen David Sifry, Todd Stefan, and Vaughn Littlejohn hope to pledge to Phi Psi the cream of the crop at JHU, and it seems it is going to happen.

The Fraternity has continued to grow stronger and stronger. The idea of full Brotherhood becomes more and more a reality as days go by. The Chapter house was recently in danger from the local housing authority, but led by the wholehearted efforts of House Chairmen Eric Lawrence and Scott Costello, the Brothers have improved the house 100 percent. Almost the entire exterior was repainted, all broken doors and windows replaced, and the general surroundings were spruced up.

We are continuing to improve relations with our community by lending a hand whenever we can. Phi Psi runs a community watch program in the general environs to help the neighbors feel more secure. We have received nothing but thanks and compliments on the project.

Kansas Still Going Strong

Kansas Alpha, caught in the whirlwind of numerous activities, is on the upswing of a very productive year. To begin with, the election of the following officers has renewed Chapter morale and spurred excitement throughout the Brotherhood: Mark Flannagan, GP; Scott Mathews, VGP; Larry Boresow, AG; Keith Yehle, BG; Eric Crimmins, Phu; John Lyne, SG; Chad Gillam, Hod; and John Montgomery, Hi.

With regard to athletic competition "on the hill," we have proven a major threat to becoming number one on the hill. We placed third in football, soccer, and softball. Prospects for a successful intramural basketball program are fantastic. Congratulations to Brad Wahl, member of the Kansas junior varsity basketball squad, after earning his way on board through walk-on tryouts.

The first annual Alumni Golf Tournament held last semester at the Alvamar Country Club was organized by Joe Aveluto and set the precedent for more successful annual tournaments. About 20 to 25 alumni were able to share a memorable afternoon with the undergraduates. Championship golf titles were won by the team of pledge Greg Woodward and alumnus Cliff Foster, Kansas '68.

For the third year in a row, we have earned the opportunity to display our theatrical talents through participation in the all-campus philanthropy, Rock Chalk Revue '88. The production this year is an assured success under the direction of Brothers Dave Osborne and Bob Hinrichs, recipient of last year's Best Male Lead Actor. The show is co-produced in cooperation with Pi Beta Phi.

Plans are in the making for the Phi Psi 500 to be held in April. A new twist to the fundraising campaign will include the implementation of a campus bike race.

Just as our goals and expectations are being met this year, we are hoping the same is true for all other Chapters across the nation.

The Brothers of Penn Theta have much to be excited about this new year. With the outstanding efforts of Rush Chairmen Mike McLaen, John Linnehan and Eric Eidel, we now have the largest pledge class in recent Penn Theta history. This class consists of 25 men: John Zenick, Farmington, CT; Dan Fox, Abqaiq, WA; Chris Saunders, Wellesley, MA; John Skowronski, Hawthorne, NJ; Keith O'Brien, Metuchen, NJ; Pat Tully, Summit, NJ; John Coykendall, Unionville, CT; Matt Wargo, Hauppauge, NY; Marc Levitt, Lawrence, NY; Bill Dowling, N. Merrick, NY; Ken Angall, Bayshore, NY; Tom Episcopio, Bethlehem; Phil Caswell, Chester, NJ; Tim Murphy, Torrington, CT; Mike Eddo, Schenectady, NY; Dave Dauenheimer, Glen Ridge, NJ; Ken Stemmler, West Islip, NY; Matt Rooks, Danvers, MA; Jason Hoffe, New Hope, MN; and Tom Heard, Roseto.

Our latest house improvement was the arrival of a new refrigerator for our kitchen.

Although we were not extremely active in intramurals this past semester, Chris Derivaux, Steve Bell, Paul Vanderbeek, and Scott Parnell placed Phi Psi second in swimming.

Socially, the fall semester started off well. Once again the annual ice skating party was a grand success. Brothers, pledges, and friends invaded a local rink and skated into the early hours of the morning. Our "Halloween Around the World" will not soon be forgotten, either.

Philanthropy Chairman Tom Watson organized our traditional haunted house at a local youth center. This event was very rewarding for all who participated. Many of us spent Halloween morning and afternoon entertaining several hundred young children.

Alumni and friends are always welcome at the "Old Grey Barn." Hope to see many of you at Cherry Alley.

Thank You, Tom

Hello, from the Brothers of Pennsylvania Omicron. Another semester has ended and we hope it has been a successful one for everybody.

We would like to congratulate Richard Scherek on winning this year's Solon E. Summerfield Award. Rich's 3.4 GPA and his substantial contributions to the Chapter made him the overwhelming choice.

Our second annual American Lung Association Bowl-a-thon was a big success this year. We made over $2200, almost $1000 more than last year.

On November 20, we presented Thomas Hofacker with a recognition pin. Tom has spent considerable time and effort helping the Chapter and his work was integral to the formation of our house corporation. Tom has our deepest gratitude.

Alumni attendance was great for this year's Lehigh-Lafayette Weekend. Everyone involved had a great time and we were all treated to a 17-10 Lehigh victory.

Thanks Missou!

We at Minnesota Gamma would like to express our gratitude to the Brothers of Missouri Alpha for the incredible hospitality they showed us during WWLS last October. Not only were we enriched by the knowledge and enthusiasm we obtained through WWLS, we were entertained by a group of men who shared with us tradition and Brotherhood. Thanks again!

Phi Psi took on the enormous responsibility of chairing this year's MSU greeksponsored Red Cross bloodmobile. Because of hard work and dedication, this philanthropy project turned out to be more than just a community service project. We were responsible for Mankato's most successful blood drive ever. United, we formed one of the most outstanding life-saving teams around, and we're proud!

Fall quarter ended with the electing of new officers who are sure to lead us successfully through a new year. They are: Sam Broberg, GP; Mike Busch, VGP; Tom Clemens, AG; Brad Thompson, BG; Gary Thompson, Phu; Mike Thompson, Hi; Terry Aman, SG; Paul Adams, Hod; Bob Schultz, P; Jim Ganje, 2nd VGP; Matt Patterson, social chairman.

Lots of hard work and dedication have been put into the coordinating of this year's Phi Psi 500 which took place in January. We obtained some of Mankato's finest businesses to sponsor the event and make it the continued success that it's been in the past. This year's event took place on campus, ensuring us an even larger turnout than in the past.

Congratulations go to Brother David Hofstad, our winner of the Solon E. Summerfield Award. Dave's devotion to the Chapter over the years as well as his commitment to scholarship makes him our choice for this esteemed award. Also, Brother Jeno LaPlace left us winter quarter for what we hope to be a short amount of time. Phi Psi would like to thank Jeno for his devotion to this Chapter as well, and hopes that his absence is only temporary. Good Luck, Jeno!

With initiation taking place around the same time as formal rush, our membership committee has been overwhelmed with preparations. We are very excited about initiation in January and can feel the enthusiasm that has been expressed throughout pledgeship. These are the new men fire-up for Phi Psi: Will Elmquist, Edina, MN; Terry Feeley, Spencer, IA; John Freemark, Bloomington, MN; Paul Langer, Roseville, MN; Matt Leegwater, Burnsville, MN; Mark Montang, Mason City, IA; Jim Pithan, Spencer, IA; Scott Rooke and Steve Schafer, Wayzata, MN; Jason Trippell, Anoka, MN; Kurt Zins, Nicollet, MN.

Fall in Oxford

The months of October and November unfolded dramatically at 122 S. Campus with the Brothers of Ohio Lambda pulling together for both Homecoming and Parents Weekend in only a three week time span.

Under the guidance of chairman Brian Hall, Homecoming Weekend went off without a hitch, with a definite emphasis on alumni Brothers getting to know the undergraduates. The university theme of "The Best of Times" provided us with the inspiration to construct the second place float in the float-building competition.

Just two weeks later Mike Kenosh took charge of Parents Weekend and orchestrated a definite good time for all of the Brothers and their parents. Beginning with a welcoming porch party on Friday, the parents enjoyed a beautiful fall night to get caught up with their son's lives. On Saturday, a lunch buffet seemed to be a hit, both before and after the football game. Overall, these weekends showed both alumni and parents how much Ohio Lambda appreciates them.

In the sporting arena, our football team competed in fraternity all-sports competition led by captain Dave Rijali and quarterback Dan Clark. They lost only two games on the road to the playoffs. The team then proceeded to earn a spot in the finals, only losing in the final seconds of the game. Coming up, the Phi Psis look to a successful basketball, volleyball, and hockey season.

Finally, we would like to sincerely thank Brother Kevin Parker, Miami '81, who has recently become our Chapter advisor. Kevin, an attorney in Oxford, has generously given of his many talents, and become a definite asset to all of us.

It's Unity Time!

As we find ourselves in the midst of another long Michigan winter, the Alphans look back with warm memories on an eventful fall term.

Fall '87 marked the beginning of our second year in our new (and considerably larger) house. Rush brought in a class of 12 fine pledges consisting of Andrew Adler, Holliswood, NY; Chris Chen, Potomac, MD; Jeff Cohen, East Brunswick, NJ; Pat Golier, Briarcliff, NY; Sam Gustman, Hanover, NH; Tyler Heaven, Chelsea; Gary Heller, Matawan, NJ; Norris Hsu, Bayside, NY; Spencer Rhee and Dave Owen, W. Bloomfield; Jeff Pfister, Menomonee Fall, WI; and Justin Walcott, Grand Rapids. We worked harder than ever to teach the pledges what Brotherhood is all about. Unity was the key theme instilled in the pledges, and many new pledge/Brother activities were successfully carried out. Among these were a pledges vs. Big Brothers football game, and a challenging game of wits known as "P.B.D." Such events inspired great enthusiasm in our pledges and strengthened the Brotherhood as well. When Initiation finally arrived on December 5, our pledges were well prepared to make their lifelong commitment to the Fraternity.

On the social scene, Michigan continued to shine. Everyone had an interesting evening while stepping out of character at the "Deviant Individuals Party" with the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. The weekend of the Michigan-Ohio State game saw the arrival of over 25 Brothers and pledges from Ohio Delta. School rivalry took a back seat to Brotherhood as both Chapters had a great time partying together that Friday night, and watching the football game the following afternoon.

Our intramural sports program retained its competitive edge fall term, placing tenth overall. As usual, track and water polo were our strongest events. Ray Brennan took first place in the 800 meter race, while our 1600 meter relay team finished fourth. Our unstoppable co-rec water polo team, the "Bubbaloos," brought home the championship in that sport, outscoring all opponents 158-11. In football, the Alphans did not fare as well, but still had an enjoyable season.

Congratulations are in order for David Gilbert who was elected as the Michigan Alpha Summerfield Scholar. Our fall term IFC representatives were Greg Feldman and Gary Cohen, and Darin Levine was elected to the office of IFC treasurer. We are proud to have these Brothers serving our Chapter and the greek system at large.

Looking ahead, our Founders Day celebration will be held at the Bayview Yacht Club in Detroit on February 11. This always proves to be a great evening for Brothers and alumni alike.

In order to ensure the future growth and security of Michigan Alpha, our house corporation is establishing a permanent trust fund. The proceeds from this fund will aid us in reestablishing our Chapter as one of the finest on campus. We sincerely thank all of our alumni whose contributions have made this fund possible.

Michigan State Stronger Than Ever

Fall term 1987 at Michigan Beta was trying, yet rewarding. Winter is here and the Brothers of the rock have dug in. The new year promises to be one of this Chapter's greatest. Recently our house corporation hired an architect to see what kind of work can be done on our beautiful stone house. This would allow us to keep the same house and enlarge it to include more Brothers. This is all a part of a new expansion project at Michigan Beta to increase membership and our prestige at Michigan State. We are excited about the project and strong positive growth is not too far in the future.

Michigan Beta has been busy promoting goodwill. We had a strong showing at the United Way's Campus Clowns sending many Brothers to sell balloons. Right now we are in the process of setting up a new philanthropy that promises to break records. We still maintain an exemplary standing in our neighborhood providing a model to the community.

Intramural sports were strong in the fall seeing Michigan Beta making the playoffs in football. There was much teamwork and several good showings on the part of individual team players. Bowling provided enjoyment and we finished third in our division. Winter is another great time to show the greek system that Phi Psi is back in contention for the All-Greek Sports Trophy.

Homecoming was a great success, and we thank our alumni for showing support! Alumni Brothers got a chance to see the work we had done on the house, and this is only the beginning. Winter term brings Founders Day and we look forward to seeing the alumni with us as we as Michigan Alpha challenges us for our song plaque.

As we began a new year with a new outlook at Michigan Beta we strongly encourage our alumni to take part in the growth at 522 Abbott. We hope to see you at Founders Day!

Back on Track

Greetings once again from the Brothers of Minnesota Beta. Hopefully this report finds all our Brothers across the country well into a successful winter season. Here in Minneapolis, we find winter to be an especially enjoyable time of the year because of all the great activities it brings with it. Hockey, broomball, and downhill skiing are popular with many of the Brothers during the long, cold winter.

Late last fall, several house officers and future leaders got together with our Alumni Ad-

These Brothers were in attendance at the 1987 District V Council meeting in Columbia, Missouri, October 16–18, 1987. The photograph was taken on the University of Missouri Francis Quadrangle. The columns, a trademark of the university, are all that remains of old Academic Hall where our five founding members were initiated and Missouri Alpha's first Chapter meetings were subsequently held. visor Jim Derry, Illinois '80, and began to chart a new course for the Chapter. We discussed our strengths and weaknesses, and set short and long term goals to improve ourselves. Brother Derry has been a great help, and we thank him for his advice, leadership, and time. Hopefully with his helpful guidance, we are back on track in our effort to be one of the top houses on campus.

As usual, Phi Psi is very involved in the intramural sports scene. We fielded teams in basketball, volleyball, bowling, hockey and broomball this winter. The most popular sport by far is broomball, which for some our Brothers in the southern states, is like hockey but without skates, and with a special broom and mini soccer ball instead of a stick and a puck. We will be defending our All-Campus Championship this year with only one non-returning starter from last year's team.

We're very excited about Founders Day this year, not only because it is a memorable event but because this will be our 100th Anniversary celebration of Minnesota Beta. We are proud to be active in the Chapter during a period of so much history and tradition, and hope that all our Brothers who have built the house to what it is now will join us in celebrating our pride. It will be a rocking evening.

Missouri Smooth Sailing

As the semester drew to a close, Missouri Alpha prepared for the end-of-the-semester push during finals week. The Winter Formal is nearly here and other campus activities are keeping us busy, too.

The renovations to our 19th-century Chapter house are almost complete. With the completion of the renovations, we have a completely new kitchen, a a new coat of exterior paint, a new porch, and a new roof over the kitchen.

We proudly report that Brothers Mark Lodato and Lester Martin were elected to Greek Week Steering Committee. Mark is on the publicity committee and Lester is on the banquet committee. We will be participating in Greek Week, a week of competition in athletics, stage performance, and Greek Spirit, with the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorprity.

For the second semester of the school year, we have again elected Lester Martin as Chapter president. After a very productive term last semester, Lester was elected to complete the year as president, and we are sure he will do so with as much enthusiasm as he put into his first term. The new vice president is Pat Newsham. Other officers are Thomas Dean, AG; Mike Hall, BG; John Beirmann, Hod; Dennis Mahoney, Hi; and Reed Castle, Phu.

Achievement

Nebraska Alpha is well on the way to another exciting semester. Last semester the Phi Psi 500 was an overwhelming success, with proceeds going to Cedars Home for Children. Brother Steve Orsi put forth the leadership and the hard work to make the 500 one of the biggest philanthropy projects on campus.

The Chapter is proud to announce the recipients of our scholarship awards. The Earl Cline Scholarship Award is given to the outstanding senior of Nebraska Alpha who has contributed a great deal to the Chapter. Daniel "P.T." Casey was the deserving recipient of this $800 award.

The John T. McGreer Jr. and John T. McGreer III Scholarship Award is given to the freshman pledge who achieves the highest GPA for both semesters. With a 4.0, Michael Harshman is this year's recipient of the $800 McGreer Award. Mike is now a member in good standing and continues to achieve scholastically.

The third award, the Morton Steinhart Scholarship Award, is given to that outstanding new initiate who has shown leadership and scholastic quality. Adam Sipple received this very generous award of $1000. Adam is known for always putting forth his best effort.

While we continue to achieve scholastically, our social program has been very successful and has brought the Chapter together in new and exciting ways. Along with our traditional parties, we have added non-alcoholic dinner exchanges, study breaks, and bowling nights. This includes one special night where the Brothers treat the pledges to a few games of bowling. This always leads to a very competitive game and gives the Brothers and pledges a chance to take a break from studying and have some fun together.

In closing we would like to thank the alumni and parents for all the support they have given, and encourage its continuance.

Fall Forward

Fall quarter for the Illinois Alpha Chapter was marked by growth in a variety of areas. Homecoming brought many alumni from far and near to spend the day reminiscing about the old days. Many faces had not been around the house for years. Several alums expressed interest in becoming more involved with the Chapter and we are planning more events throughout the year.

The pledge class has been coming along just fine. The Fall Pledge Formal was held at the Hyatt Regency in downtown Chicago. Gene Diaz did a fine job planning as his last contribution to the house as social chairman.

In the area of philanthropy, we have been quite involved under the direction of Pat Kirk. We began the quarter with an all out blitz to get Kirby, our new house dog, elected B.M.O.C. in order to support Alpha Chi Omega's philanthropy project. We were defeated with two minutes left by another fraternity's $300 check. But Kirby is only a puppy and second isn't bad. We have also been volunteering in a local soup kitchen and are working with Kappa Kappa Gamma to raise money for Cerebral Palsy.

The Chapter voted to get a house computer and printer this quarter. The officers eagerly await its arrival as almost all records and files are already stored on disk. Carpeting was installed in the hallways, bedrooms, and lounge bettering the living environment. Also in the area of house improvements, we purchased a VCR and added a Tuesday night "Movie Night" to our social calendar.

Ohio State Deck the Halls

As the holiday season rolled through Ohio State University and the Brothers prepared to head home, we were reminded of our wonderful fall quarter. Once again we excelled academically, athletically, and socially.

Academically, there were very few nights when one wouldn't find many of the Brothers in the library with their noses buried in the books, and just about everybody was smiling after completing their finals. Athletically, we were again near the top of 36 participating fraternities as we placed in football, soccer, and volleyball. Socially, we had two incredible date parties. The first was our Inspector Clouseau party where the Brothers highstepped it around Columbus in limousines looking for clues leading to the party. The second was our renowned Christmas Formal held at the Chapter house. The house was decked out with Christmas trees, holly, lights, and lots of mistletoe as we welcomed the Christmas season

Although our Buckeyes had a disappointing season, we would like to thank our Brothers at Michigan Alpha (whom we beat in our own flag football game 42-14) for their hospitality. We had a great time with them. We are looking forward to next season, and our Michigan Brothers are more than welcome to come see us.

This fall brought a very successful rush during which we pledged 16 fine men: Christopher Axene, Jon Lundquist, John Miller, Francois Ratinand, and Geoff Young, Columbus; Bart Boston, Kenton; Jeff Haskett, Stow; Todd Henderson, Worthington; Pete Knudsen, Bay Village; Nick Lipari, Akron; Christopher Niles, Oneida, NY; John Ofer, Louisville, KY; Brian Peck, Strongsville; Jeff Schirm, Perrysburg; Aaron Schrein, Rivervale, NJ; and Christian Smith, Lima.

Ohio Wesleyan Still Strong

It has been an exciting and busy year for Ohio Alpha! Jim Costenbader was elected vice president of the Ohio Wesleyan Intrafraternity Council. John Gardner, social service chairman, is running our annual poinsettia sale which benefits the charity People In Need.

The OWU soccer team had a fine season finishing with a 19-4 record and was ranked second in the nation at the close of the season. Six of those players were Phi Psis. The football team, with the help of 10 Phi Psis, finished with their best record in 16 years.

Chris Truskowski, former GP, is a returning letterman to the basketball team. Sports Illustrated has ranked Ohio Wesleyan 2nd in the nation for division III schools.

The new officers for spring term are Jim Costenbader, GP; Jim Foley, VGP; John McGraw, P; Tom Selquist, AG; Tim Lacasse, BG; David Rucci and Chris Whelan, SG: Mike Reese, Hod; Frank Matula, Phu; Andy Thompson, Hi. Other officers include Eric Warn, business manager; Eric Edwards, house manager; Andy Harris, assistant house manager, David Rucci, social chairman; and John Gardner, social service chairman.

Championship Semester

As the University of Oklahoma Sooners raced toward national gridiron prominence, the men of Oklahoma Alpha have been following suit with another championship semester.

Leading the Chapter scholastically, Marc Goode and Shane Merz were named to the Dean's Honor Roll. Also Bryan Twibell, John Robinson, Charles Whitfill, Marlin Brown and Roger Roy were named Academic All-American along with Goode and Merz.

Phi Psi is as active as ever on campus this semester with Brothers in positions everywhere you look. Sooner Scandals will feature Tom Ebrey as continuity chairman; and Greg Ward, Jon Ebrey, Mark deFreese, and John Terry on the stage crew. Brother Ward was also appointed to the Greek Week executive committee, and will be supported by Jon Ebrey and Steve Vogel on the Greek Week staff. Brother Vogel was also selected to join Pillars, a group of the greek elite leaders on campus. The Chapter is proud of all the hard work these men are doing for OU.

In the hunt for the Intramural Trophy, Phi Psi teamed up with Delta Delta Delta to capture second place in the all-greek mixed team volleyball tournament. Also Jon Robinson won first place in the badminton tournament. These impressive performances have helped keep Phi Psi near the top of the point standings.

New officers were elected in November for the spring semester: Stewart Corbin, GP; Mark Brown, VGP; Shane Merz, P; James Suess, AG; Todd Cunningham, BG; Stacey Smith, Hod; David Raisey, Phu; Jim Lynch, Hi. Also special thanks to Alan Wright, who accepted the responsibility of Chapter Advisor.

As you can see the men of Oklahoma Alpha are striving manfully for excellence in all areas of life. Look for great things to come as the Brotherhood lives and flourishes.

Oklahoma State Gearing Up For 1988

The Brothers of Oklahoma Beta had a very busy fall semester and are looking forward to the spring.

Again, we were competitive in intramural sports and made the playoffs in football, soccer, and volleyball.

After fall break, we were excited about the schedule of events that were set for our Phi Psi 500. Our goal was to have as much participation as possible from both sororities and fraternities. This year our 500 week consisted of a fraternity keg roll, a reggae party, a spirit competition, and ended with the tricycle race on Old Central Lawn.

On November 1, we moved in our new house mom. We were glad to see her arrival since we did not have a house mom for over a semester.

Also, we were glad to see strong alumni support throughout the semester. The support was most evident when over 10 alumni came to one of our Chapter meetings.

With spirits high, we ended the fall semester with a Brotherhood retreat at the house of Neil Hackett, Oklahoma Beta '71.

Oregon Vanguard!

We have at Oregon Alpha are again setting the pace on campus. Our fall term proved to be outstanding with great success in academics, intramurals and community service. We currently have two Brothers overseas involved in internships. Chris Kahn is currently working in Parliament in London and Marc Arendt is involved in a foreign study in China. We would also like to welcome back Aaron Felton on his return from his internship in Senator Bob Packwood's Washington D.C. office.

Other standouts include our spring '87 pledge class. They sold U of O and OSU Civil War T-shirts as a fundraiser campus-wide and raised approximately $3000 which they contributed a new ice machine and laid new carpet in the living room.

Our new Brothers initiated November 20 include Keith Eayrs, Bill Henry, Mike Ostrom, Justin Parker, David Selle, Steve Maples and Ken Sutton. Welcome aboard, shiny badges.

Our individual achievements are outstanding and our Chapter accomplishments are monumental. With the Fraternity Headquarters policy of academics, we are geared up to lead the campus again in academic excellence. Our intramural team had a successful fall term fielding teams in all sports and placing third in volleyball. Also, our community service, which placed second last year, is leading the pack with major philanthropy projects. They include our annual Phi Psi Smoker 500 which is the most successful philanthropy on campus. We are also working with the Eugene Symphonic Orchestra.

Our Homecoming proved to be a great time in which many of our alumni came for the game and party. It was also a time when the class of fall '62 was reunited at the Chapter house.

Oregon State New System

At this time, Oregon Beta is in a most precarious position. We now have 28 men under Phi Psi letters, the most in two years. While we can now assume the luxury of breathing, we're also faced with the responsibility of breaking our 12 new pledges into a mainstream that we're just working ourselves into.

Last year, when only 12 members lived in the house, we had just a governing committee. Now we have committees for almost every facet of a Chapter's operations. We're now laying the framework for what can be a very successful Phi Psi Chapter in the future.

All of our pledges have been well-integrated into the new system, holding important positions on committees and as Chapter officers. Above all, though, they're all great guys, definitely worthy of being Phi Psis.

Aside from incorporating these fine young men into the system at Oregon Beta, it's business as usual in Corvallis. Business, of course, being tearing ourselves away from our summers of good weather to perennially bad fall weather at OSU, where we have to study and watching a losing football team. (OSU's Beavers went 2-9 this year.)

Our football team went 1-4, with our only victory coming at the hands of neighbors Phi Sigma Kappa. Standout performers included QB Eric Wicoxen and WR-DB's Jeff Wood and Paul Chamness.

Socially, we had our usual Halloween function with Alpha Xi Delta, our sister sorority. We're also looking ahead to our escape to Mt. Bachelor near Bend to hit the ski slopes in the early part of January.

Another new development brewing is the revival of the Phi Psi Dribble, the Chapter's successful philanthropy project in the early 1980's. The basketball dribble to Portland is still in its planning stages and promises to be most profitable to all involved.

We hope to see many of you at Founders Day on February 13 at the Red Lion Inn in Portland.

Pennsylvania

Tradition Continues

As the holiday season approached, the Brothers of Pennsylvania Iota looked back upon another successful semester.

Due to the efforts of House Manager Mike Zwerling and our house corporation, we saw substantial house improvements. Old curtains in the Chapter room were replaced with Venetian blinds and 40 new burgundy chairs were purchased for the Chapter room as well as the bedrooms.

Rush Chairman John Budd was able to implement this Chapter's first dry rush. The 10 members of this year's pledge class already appear to be strong in character. In addition, their enthusiasm toward Fraternity activities has led many to conclude that the Penn Iota Chapter will continue to remain strong in the future.

Elections were held in November and our new officers are Adam Zele, GP; Rob Lytle, VGP; Austin Cohen, BG; Jeff Magaziner, Hod; Dave Noriega, Phu; and Josh Goldman, Hi.

Under the direction of Joel DiGiacomo and Brent Parker, we made significant headway planning a formal that will be held February 20. The 10th Anniversary of Rechartering/Founders Day Formal will be held at the Penn Tower Hotel, Civic Center Blvd. at 34th St., Philadelphia. Black tie is optional, but reservations should be made by calling Brent Parker (215) 222-2669. The cost is $25 per person.

Socially, several parties helped continue the Phi Psi tradition on campus. For an upcoming party this December, Adam Zele managed to obtain local rock legend Cletus McBride. We are eagerly awaiting the appearance of Cletus at Phi Psi and several Brothers are already counting down the days until his arrival.

On a lighter note, Jeff Magaziner drew accolades from the Chapter and the university for a near perfect score on his MCAT examination. Jeff's score of 80 was 12 points higher than the average MCAT score of those individuals now attending Harvard's Medical School.

"Doctor" Magaziner had an opportunity to practice his intended profession shortly after receiving his board scores. In the period of only one week, two Brothers and one pledge broke bones and spent time at the hospital. Fortunately, this string of injuries has not spread beyond these three individuals. It would seem that our experience proves the old saying that bad luck only comes in threes.

Penn State Going Strong

As the snow starts to blanket Happy Valley and the semester comes to a close, we at Penn State can only look back at our fall term with great pride. With such activities as Homecoming, intramurals, and our 75th Anniversary celebration, one can clearly see how successful the first half of our year has been.

On the weekend of October 2-4, alumni from all over the country—and even as far as Ireland—came back to the Lodge to celebrate our Chapter's 75th Anniversary. The weekend began with a wine and cheese social on Friday night, where old friends reminisced about college days. On Saturday evening, everyone enjoyed a formal dinner at the Sheraton.

The week following our celebration, we were busy with Homecoming. With the help of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority, we worked long hours to finish our float. Our theme was "Catch The Wave" and proved to be successful as we captured a second place trophy on our crazy band entry in the Homecoming parade.

This semester, our athletic ability has definitely been proven on campus. We ended our intramural softball season with a 4-1 record, losing only to the eventual champions. Tom Kauffman became the intramural tennis champion, and Tim Maierhofer captured the intramural racquetball crown. With our point total doubled at this point compared to last year, we look forward to a strong top ten finish this year.

With all of these accomplishments, Penn Lambda is going as strong as ever. We are also proud to announce our newest pledge class: Brad LaTour, Radnor; Paul Sessions, Annapolis, MD; Tim Tasker, Yardley; and Ben Winderman, Doylestown.

Once again, we thank all alumni for returning to the Lodge for the 75th Anniversary, and hope to see everyone on April 16th for the 1988 Phi Psi 500.

Rider

Ahead of the Game

When looking back at 1987, we see nothing but success. Still more work remains to be done in 1988. Phi Psi at Rider unquestionably is still on top. At the IFC Awards Banquet, we were again honored for maintaining the highest Brother and pledge cumulative average. Brother Greg Carr was recognized for having the highest pledge and sophomore GPA. Also, our own Fred Olessi was given the Outstanding Advisor Award. Thanks to Brothers Neil Gerard and Bill Reilly, FUBAR went smoothly, proving to be a big Chapter morale booster.

For the sixth consecutive term, a Phi Psi is the president of the IFC. Replacing Dallas Stokes, this year the greeks will be led by Tom Bulzacchelli. Also proving that we are leaders at Rider, Brother Bill Gevov is vice president of the Order of Omega and Brother Chris Poreda holds the finance board at-large position.

As usual, we are still doing our part to help our community. We've just done a project benefitting the March of Dimes organized by project chairman Brian Egbert.

As well as being involved in organizations at Rider, we are also respected on the intramural field. We made an excellent showing this semester making it as far as the finals in "A" league football.

A very special thanks is extended to our alumni. Alumni Day, organized by John Szwed, was a great success. Alumni support has honestly been better than ever.

The officers for the spring semester will be Jerry Bryson, GP; Neil Gerard, VGP; Bob Rankin, P; Jonathan Strauss, AG; Gary Emenecker, BG; Stephen Wolford, SG; Tom Bulzacchelli, Phu; Bill Gevov, Hi. Our steward will be Bill Percario; Brian Egbert our kitchen treasurer, and Bill Reilly, house manager.

Thanks to the hard work of former rush chairman Stan Dilullo we acquired eight good men: Ian Hasselberger and Steven Nichols, Mt. Laurel; Joseph Martinez, Princeton Jct.; Tony Dellaquila, Levittown, PA; Matthew D'Ambrosio, Parlin; Andrew Chaves, Colonia; Charles Campbell, Burlington; Richard Haynes, Waldwick.

Winter Salutations!

Greetings from the Rhode Island Beta Chapter where we are all getting ready for another Rhode Island winter of slush and mud. On a happier note, Brother David George has our best wishes for a successful semester at Ealing College in England where he will be studying business. Among other things, our Chapter President Peter R. Bodycoat was recently inducted into the Engineering Honor Society, Pi Tau Sigma, only after hard work and grueling perseverance.

Continuing the tradition of our Octoberfest, we were able to raise over $400 to benefit the Big Brother/Big Sister Organization on campus. Also in a traditional manner, our Homecoming was a tremendous success with a great alumni attendance and a new twist, the "Ram Van." Although we did not place in the float contest, it served us well.

Our Spring Formal is coming up as well as our annual Bounce-A-Thon fundraiser for cancer research.

Good Luck David!

Rutgers

Accepting the Challenge

The first semester as an official Chapter has given New Jersey Gamma new challenges and experiences. The biggest challenge we faced was obtaining a temporary house.

Rutgers is undergoing a period of expansion and renovation as it strives toward excellence. Plans to build fraternity houses on the Busch campus where our Chapter is located will benefit the greek system. The House Corporation is currently involved in negotiations to acquire one of these houses, but the $800,000 price tag may be prohibitive to our young Chapter. Therefore, to assist in rush and social events, we have obtained a house off campus for five or six Brothers.

We have really entered the greek system by mixing with Delta Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega and visiting Pennsylvania Iota at U of Penn and Pennsylvania Pi at Temple. We sent eight delegates to the District Council and with the knowledge obtained, the Brotherhood looks forward to an explosion in size this spring. With the annual Chapter blood drive upcoming, New Jersey Gamma will match the 50 pints it donated last year.

We look forward to our Founders Day Banquet and hope all local alumni will attend. We would especially like to thank Rob Carillo, Arizona State '84, and Jerry Brown, Arizona State '85. Their outstanding guidance and leadership during our journey from Colony to Chapter has served to strengthen us.

Due to the extraordinary amount of work a new Chapter faces, we took on only three pledges this fall. These outstanding young men are Charles Biondi, Vineland; Philip Chen, Clark; and Timothy Reeves, West Deptford.

Hola from rosy USC. Things at Cal Delta have relaxed a bit with spring right around the corner. The new semester has just begun, but our Brothers are always active.

Scholastically, three of our members proved themselves to be worthy by winning our California Delta Scholarship Award for academic excellence. They are Chris Hite, senior; Rich Carosso, junior; and Jon Cleveland, sophomore. We would also like to congratulate Brother Pat Walker for being accepted to the semester abroad program. He will be spending this semester in France, where he will be studying communications.

As for the Chapter, last semester Brother John Hulina and our Mothers Club pulled off a successful Casino Night that raised $1,000 for new chairs in our dining room.

We have not only been active within the Chapter but outside as well. Brother Bruce Seidel was named the 1988 Songfest Chairman for the second year. Phi Psi is again represented on the IFC with Brother Hugh Ashlock being selected vice president of public relations.

We made it to the finals in volleyball, football, table tennis, and fielded the most finalists in swimming. As for this semester, we are looking just as strong with basketball and softball just around the corner, not to mention other sports like pool and badminton.

Stanford

Down to "Busyness"

The two-week period of November 8-21 was a very spirited time for both Cal Beta and Stanford University as a whole, as inspiration week activities were followed by Big Game week and the traditional gridiron battle against U.C. Berkeley. As the result of a successful initiation, Cal Beta is extremely proud to announce the addition of 29 new members who entered the Chapter roll book on November 14. The group just initiated is extremely diverse geographically as only seven men are from California; the others represent 14 states, a U.S. possession and a foreign country. Two additional pledges, Greg Stout and Jim White, were initiated during spring quarter of last year and will return from their overseas studies as full Brothers. Ready to return from Oxford for winter quarter is Mike Sommer, who will compose in this space next issue as incoming AG.

Inspo week concluded with the fall formal at the Hyatt Towers in San Francisco. A week later, it was back to San Francisco for the annual Cal Beta-Cal Gamma Big Game Luncheon at the Mark Hopkins Hotel. A dozen undergraduate Brothers enjoyed dining with an equal number of Cal Beta alumni and well over 100 Berkeley undergrads and alums. Outnumbered but not out-shouted, the Stanford contingent included Bill Quackenbush '41, who had traveled from Texas.

After the luncheon, Phi Psis ushered at the theatrical presentation of Gaeities '87, then hurried across campus to guard the traditional bonfire organized by Tom Smegal, chairman of the Stanford Axe Committee. Brother Smegal's efforts were rewarded the next day as Stanford beat Cal soundly, 31-7, and recovered the Axe.

Three Brothers are participating in varsity athletics this year. Derek Bruton, a 6'9" center, should see a good deal of basketball action for the Cardinal, which is ranked among the top three teams in the PAC-10 this year. Among new initiates, Josh Lisle is wrestling in the 134-lb. weight class, while Scott Schaffer is hoping for an all-American season in gymnastics as Stanford looks to capture the NCAA title.

Once again, Cal Beta's volleyball team is vying for an intramural championship. The quartet led by veterans Tony Espiritu and Sean McGraw is undefeated as it heads into quarterfinal playoff action.

Congratulations are due to our new Chapter officers, who include Dave Cima, GP, Rick Weisberg, VGP; Alan Wolf, P; Mike Sommer, AG; Dean Sussman, BG; Enrique Alvarez, SG; Brian Spain, Phu; and Rush Chairmen Kevin Stein and Jeff Loomans.

The 29 new members of Cal Beta are: Brad Albaugh, Overland Park, KS; Pledge President Louis Alonso, San Diego; Enrique Alvarez, Bell Gardens; Jim Anderson, St. Louis Park, MN; Nish Bhutani, New Delhi, India; Edwin Cooka, Isleta, NM; Scott Coors, Golden, CO; Jeff Davis, Randallstown, MD; Steven Etsitty, Glendale, AZ; Drew Guevara, El Paso, TX; Mike Ivanitsky, San Jose; Chris Jackson, Sherman Oaks; Steven Levitt, Staten Island, NY; Josh Lisle, Clarinda, IA; Tommy Lo, Tullahoma, TN; Sammy Oh, Houston, TX; Dave Park, Unbandale, IA; Tom Rampy, Aurora, CO: Scott Schaffer, Bartlesville, OK; Greg Stout, St. Paul, MN; Dean Sussman, Studio City; Nick Sutton, Anchorage, AK: Masashi Ueno, Evanston. In the last few months, our Chapter has been trying to increase the participation of the alumni. In our quest to increase the alumnus support, we have started an alumni committee which will look us over and give us suggestions. Our first meeting was held last week. A special thanks should be given to Ron Dollman, Joe Grent, Dan Griffith, Tom Hill, Bob Pownall and Bob Morrow for attending our first meeting. Our next meeting was held on February 3.

Despite the loss to Canisius on Homecoming, our pig roast was an immense success. Many alumni attended and enjoyed reminiscing about their college days.

In our attempt to find a house, Brother Gothgen has looked into plans to build a house that would be able to hold 20 brothers. He has been investigating building a house near the Amherst campus.

Syracuse Having Fun

After reading our last Shield article, it occurred to me that the average reader who is not familiar with our Chapter might find us conservative or boring. Nothing could be further from the truth. Although we pride ourselves on being a constructive and responsible Chapter, we also enjoy having fun.

The weather was terrible for our annual porch party, but we had fun.

For Homecoming, we built a float and painted a Mercedes orange. We didn't win any prizes, but we had huge amounts of fun.

We toasted our football team as they went 11-0 throughout the regular season and had a great deal of fun.

When we toasted our football team and then decided to wrestle with them, Brother Degan broke his leg. And as crazy as it may sound, we had fun.

We would like to congratulate our 15 newest Brothers: Judd Bausman, Devin Cohan, Greg Haledjian, Stephen Hindley, Lee Margolis, John McDonald, Russ Mitchell, Rich Mitterando, Dan O'Connell, Bob Reggionnini, Edgard Seikaly, Don Smith, Steve Spear, Andre von Hoyer, and Robert Whitney.

This article is not meant to be sarcastic or cynical. When you have achieved what we have achieved, and when your Brotherhood is as tight as ours, you deserve to have a little fun.

What would you call a chapter that could lav claim to a District Archon, an IFC president, and a charter only a few months old. You could call them proud. You could call them Pennsylvania PI. You could call them both and you would be right. Greetings from Philadelphia, birthplace of liberty, home of two Phi Psi Chapters and Robert Scott Bill, the new District I Archon. With all the success of the baby Chapter this semester, it was hard to catch our breath. We did, but only long enough to pack our social calendar with fun and festivities. It all started in the fall with La Bamba Night. As the music played, the sounds of Nachos crunching filled the air. On to Homecoming, where our Bloom County float earned us The Most Original Award and Third Place overall. Not bad for our first try. As the holidays approached, we held our second Trim-a-Tree social with Alpha Epsilon Phi. Where we sipped egg nog and went caroling.

On the sports pages, our mighty football team built a brick wall defense and allowed only seven points per game. The only down note was our offense which averaged six points per game. Close, but no lumps. We look forward to spring when the warm weather and our six new initiates will start things rolling again. May you have only the best. Hi, hi. hi.

Live, In Color

As we continue to grow at Tennessee Epsilon, we find that some things come easier.

Part of this growth is getting new pledges, and we have eight good men from fall rush. They are Max Bertram and Gregg Duncan, Clinton; John Burkhart and Jay Campbell, Murfreesboro; John Macon, Morristown; Rod Martin, Powell; Mike Cook, Idaho Falls, ID; and Kevin Neel, Newtown, CT. We are very proud of these men and of their contribution to our Chapter.

Homecoming Week was festive this yearnot just because of the Volunteer victory over Ole Miss. We entered several events and brought home a first place trophy in the Anything Goes competition.

Many people came to look forward to Friday last quarter as more than the herald of the weekend. The Phi Psi at Five and Friday afternoon socials provided a great release from hectic weeks of classes and tests.

In keeping with tradition, we held a Halloween Party for children from the Tennessee School for the Deaf. We also manned the phones and took pledges for the third year during Alcohol Awareness Week's Jail-A-Thon.

Brothers and pledges have also been busy around the house. This quarter, the pledges stripped and repainted the kitchen cabinets and made improvements to the basement. Several Brothers worked together to build the Chapter a new trophy case.

Brothers McGuire and Brooks went to District Council with tales of what we have done and returned with visions of what was still to be done. Yes, the bigger we get, the easier it is to do what we've always done. We find there is still more to do in the bargain, however. We just forge ahead in the Phi Psi tradition.

Texas Continuing the Tradition

December in Austin brought to a close a semester full of activities. As in past years, the men of Texas Alpha distinguished themselves on the football field. All three A, B, and C teams went all the way to the playoffs, and the A squad went on to place highly in the annual IFC Tournament. Under the supreme leadership of captain Jeff Mecom, the Texas Alpha soccer team "Magic Ball" had an undefeated season. We also look forward to basketball season after the first of the year as this is another area in which the Chapter has consistently excelled.

In late November, the new State Rush Captains for the following year were elected. Brothers Paul Grant and Scott Watkins are gearing up for the always busy spring rush. Philanthropy was also on the minds of the Brothers this fall. On November 22, Brother Charles Peckham and a host of others participated in a "Hold Up" with Delta Gamma for the benefit of the Texas Peace Officers Association. In December we also held a Christmas party for several children from the Texas Baptist Children's Home.

Texas Tech

Back on Track

The fall semester at Texas Beta has been a positive one. With the help of all the Brothers and many alumni, we have taken great strides to improve our beloved Chapter.

A successful rush brought 12 new hardworking pledges who are all anxious to become Phi Psis. Texas Beta has done two community service projects this semester. First, we painted an elderly man's house to help improve Lubbock. Then we participated in a Thanksgiving food drive that brought many canned foods to the Lubbock Food Bank. John Dolan and Bobby Bye took the long trip to Missouri Alpha for the District V Council. The things they learned there have greatly helped our Chapter.

Thanks to Mike Auer, Homecoming and Family Day weekends were a big success. We would also like to thank everyone that came by. The Chapter also took a road trip to Texas Alpha for the football game on Halloween. Our intramural teams have also been successful this semester. Our football and soccer teams both advanced into the playoffs. While our football team came into great difficulties in the playoffs our soccer team only lost one game.

We are also happy to gain two transfers to Texas Beta. Paul Rusnak comes to us from Louisiana Alpha, and Freddy Cortez transferred from New Mexico Alpha. We have also elected Jim Stewart as our new alumni advisor and are very thankful for his support. The Chapter would also like to say thanks to John Badami who has stepped down from the GP spot after a year of dedication and hard work. Ed Isola is our new GP and we are all confident that he will do well. Other new officers include Bobby Bye as VGP, and John Dolan as AG, and Mark Butler as P.

We would also like to say thanks to our House Corporation President Jay Kinnision for everything he has done for us over the years. Texas Beta is grateful for all the alumni support and advice that we have received over the past year because we realize how important you are to the future of our Chapter.

Toledo Outstanding

After working hard on fall rush, we pledged seven outstanding young men. They are Raymond Doherty, Sylvania; Brian Geer, Metamora; Kurt Paul and Michael Schuetter, Toledo; Richard Todd, Wakeman; Erick Weis, Ashland; and Scott Wynn, Berkey.

Trent Paul, our Fraternity educator, has done an outstanding job organizing the pledge program. The pledges have been busy attending pledge education meetings, attending study sessions, planning philanthropy projects, and serenading the sororities.

Fall quarter we enjoyed attending parties with other fraternities and sororities on campus, raising money for Easter Seals, and becoming involved with Homecoming Week which was fun and successful! Our Homecoming Queen candidate, Kathy Lewis, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, placed second in the voting for the queen. We enjoyed the week supporting her at fashion shows, fundraisers, square dances, and the Homecoming Dance. Brother Mark Doore had the privilege and pleasure to be our candidate's escort.

Another successful event was our annual Fall Date Night titled "Hayride 87". We decided to go to a local restaurant for pizza, attend a hayride, and then conclude the evening with a bonfire. The Hayride was the event to get revenge against various people in the form of hay fights. It was also when the tractor pulling the wagon ran out of gas halfway through the ride. The bonfire at Brother Steve DeYarman's house was a blast since each couple told a joke while sitting around the fire. This gave us a chance to really get to know everybody's true sense of humor.

We scheduled our annual Christmas Party with Alpha Chi Omega and planned a few ski trips over Christmas Break. We are planning a ski trip with Kappa Delta and Delta Delta Delta sorority. Every year we look forward to this weekend as we ski, mingle, and enjoy the companionship of over 50 sorority girls!

We are presently working on a structured winter rush as well as our upcoming Founders Day Celebration.

Valparaiso

New Experiences

This fall the Brothers at Indiana Epsilon have continued their tradition of excellence in all aspects of college life. We won the Valparaiso University Greek Week games for the fourth year in a row. We won the Homecoming float building contest with the Chi Sigma Xi sorority and Brother David Boyle was crowned Homecoming King.

We sponsored a charity dance for freshmen with the Alpha Xi Epsilon Sorority with the $800 proceeds going to the American Cancer Society.

In spite of all this hard work, we still do find some time for more leisurely pursuits. Our social life has been enjoyable this fall as the result of several highly successful date parties and formals. Most recently was the Travel Date Party sponsored by both the social and rush committees. Almost 100 rushees and their dates attended this event.

As the year progresses, many of the seniors are beginning to prepare for life after graduation. Brother Morris Gist will be attending medical school. Brother Doug Trolley will attend dental school. Brother Jeff Mescal will begin work on his MBA. Brother Eric Bittner is well on his way to a career in Chemical Physics by having two papers based upon his research published in two leading scholarly journals. Many other Brothers are actively searching for employment in their respective fields of study.

Vanderbilt

On Track

Despite the onset of winter in Nashville, the Brothers of Tennessee Delta kept on track. Vanderbilt Phi Psis discovered the library.

The onslaught of school work did not hinder the Chapter, however. Rush functions became nightly affairs under the leadership of Rush Chairmen Trent Jones and Carter Perez. Monday Night Football, weekly rushee dinners, and other events intensified rush. The Brotherhood showed tremendous support, as even the study-bound Phi Psis dropped by for a little while on study breaks. Through this type of consistent effort, January rush is sure to be a great success.

The end of the football season did not bring the downfall of Tennessee Delta's social activities. Social Chairmen John Stallings and Jim Rieniets kept Brothers occupied when they were not studying. The Christmas Semi-Formal was planned and executed without a hitch. The semester-end date party afforded Brothers the opportunity to vent their prefinal frustrations and gave Brother Pfeifer one more chance to find a girl that is both up to his standards and not engaged.

When the social committee does not provide an activity, the Brotherhood finds some-place to entertain themselves. Phi Psis have come to frequent an elegant establishment in downtown Nashville known as Wanda & Louie's. In addition, two out-of-town festivals were held. The biannual pledge trip was to New Orleans and a black tie party was thrown by President Rich Gross in Manhattan over Thanksgiving Break. Tennessee Delta's social functions keep rolling.

A note of congratulations and thanks must be paid to the first semester's house officers. President Rich Gross's enthusiasm and management tightened the Chapter. Treasurer T. C. Herman did an outstanding job with Brotherhood funds, while Kithchen Manager Mike Small continued to provide the best food on campus. House Manager Doug Gillespie did a great job maintaining and improving the house. Fraternity Educator Eric Pfeifer expertly educated our three newest Brothers: Dave Shearer, Lawton Stokes, and Todd Weaver. All of the other officers and committee members should also be applauded for their fine efforts.

Congratulations to the new house officers: President Jay Barineau, Treasurer Jim Phillip, Fraternity Educator Court Horncastle, Kitchen Manager Ed Benford, and House Manager Chad Eustis. They have a tough act to follow.

Virginia Tech Looking Forward

After a very busy fall and winter quarter, VA Zeta is looking forward to an even more active spring quarter. Phi Psi at VA Tech is involved in many activities aimed at providing a more memorable holiday season for many of the area's less fortunate. While collecting canned foods and clothing, we also intend to promote a good name for Phi Psi with town and university officials and residents.

Winter quarter at Tech finds us involved in intramural basketball and water polo. Being able to do little else in the cold mountain climate, we should be able to put forth a strong effort in both of these activities.

Some important dates we wish to make note of include our semi-formal which will take place on Jan. 30, and our formal which will be held on May 7. All alumni are highly encouraged to contact the Chapter to find out more information. We would like to have many of our alumni return to make this year's events the best ever.

On a final note we would like to recognize our newly-elected officers who took office at the end of last quarter: Steve Adams, GP; John Markham, VGP; Kurt Stricker, P; Ken Chauvin, AG; Francis Norman, BG; Jay Ramos, Hod; John Young, Phu; Paul Livelli, Hi; Bill Rodenfels, SG; and Brian Johnson, rush chairman.

Phi Psis Excel

Well, the Phi Psis had another great semester at Wabash. On November 18th, we hosted our annual faculty dinner attended by over 90 guests and was a tremendous success. We would like to thank Brother Gut who organized and cooked the wonderful dinner.

We congratulate Brother Roush who was named the Solon Sommerfield Scholar for our Chapter. Brothers Dow and Guffey are studying in England for the year, and Brother Brown is currently studying at the Oak Ridge (TN) Nuclear Research Laboratory.

Several of the members of the Chapter have excelled on campus. For example, the Phi Psis had five men on the intramural all-star football team: Brothers Roush, Waddell, Mc-Kinney, Reininger, and Chapman. Brothers McKinney and Selvio are also on the varsity wrestling team, which went undefeated last year. Brothers Barkley and Wachendorf are on the swimming team, and pledge Davis started on the soccer team last fall. In addition, pledges Screpferman, Valaika, and Wickens are playing basketball for the Little Giants this season. On the intramural level, the Phi Psis are still ranked number one on campus.

In other areas of competition, Brothers Hamilton and Sondgerath victoriously debated against a team from DePauw University on November 9th before an estimated audience of 300 people. Brother Sondgerath was also named the national champion for the National Peace Association in November.

This year's pledge class of 24 freshmen showed a lot of promise. They were named the campus champions during Homecoming's spirit contest between the various pledge classes at Wabash, and were judged on chapel sing, their float, their banner, and cheer.

The Phi Psis are diversified and successful at Wabash.

Washington

Never Stronger

Well, there are a lot of things that have happened here at Washington Alpha since we last reported to The Shield. Coming off a highly successful rush, we have had an outstanding fall quarter at the University of Washington.

We are proud to have three Phi Psi teams into the intramural playoffs. Our football dynasty continues as we put two out of two football teams into the playoffs this year. Also, our volleyball team with Delta Zeta made it into the playoffs as well. We are also proud to have pledged Dale Ottopal, who was the number one recruit for the U of W varsity soccer team.

Greetings to our recent alumnus Bill Fine, who is currently on an internship teaching English in mainland China. Fine will return in a year and further his education at Cornell Law School.

The new officers for this term are Lonie Hockhalter, GP; Engel Lee, AG; Dave Weakland, Hi; Kurt Helgerson, BG; Tom Barnes, Hod; and Sean Fossum, Phu.

Our outstanding pledge class this year consists of Craig Nishizaki, Jim Boyle, Dave Livingston, and Lee Blanchette, of Seattle; Mike Moberly and Earl Krigier of Juneau, AK; Steve Gunderson, Roger Hiddleston, Kyle Hagberg, and Mike Meier of Bellevue; Steve Nielson, Chuck Bleth, Ty Thorsen, and Lance Erz of Vancouver; Niles Gooding of Sunnyside; Pat Dunn of Spokane; Jeff Christ of Edmonds; Matt Bruno of Kent; Dale Ottopal of Fall City; and Joe Marshall of Bothell; and Roger Taylor of Redmond.

Washington and Jefferson Championship Form

The Brothers of Pennsylvania Alpha are proud to have completed a very successful semester, one in which Brother Matthew D'Onofrio received the Solon E. Summerfield Scholarship for 1987-88.

The W&J varsity football team captured its third consecutive PAC Championship in 1987. The Presidents finished the regular season with a 9-0-0 record, ranked No. 2 NCAA Division III team, behind Augustana. W&J advanced to the NCAA Division III playoffs, defeating Allegheny College (Penn Beta) 23-17 in overtime, in round one. The following Brothers are important parts of the W&J football team: Rick France, Dan Donovan, Ray Ciferno, Paul Livingston (All PAC), Kirk Lago (All PAC, team captain).

W&J announced the appointment of Dr. Richard S. Cowan Jr., Washington and Jefferson '64, to the position of executive assistant to the president of the college. The Brothers extend congratulations and a warm welcome to our distinguished alumnus.

On November 7, we held our annual Parents Weekend which brought hundreds of friends, alumni, and family to celebrate with the Brothers. The fine response and excellent turnout was very encouraging to us all. The very important rush week is in February. All of the Brothers look forward with pride to this opportunity.

West Virginia Only the Finest

Things are great up on the hill. Morale is high and the house looks the best it has in years!

West Virginia Alpha celebrated its 135th birthday on February 19, 1988. We also celebrated the initiation into Brotherhood of 28 fine men: George Avery, Laurel, MD; Rich Hardison, Trip Shumate, Charleston; John Rahal, Huntington; Mike Clifton, Pt. Pleasant; Tim Lynch, Toms River, NJ; Oggie Oguntoyo, Harrow, England; Eddie Dean, Dan Moscar, Clarksburg; Bill Johnson, King of Prussia. PA: Justin Walters, Columbia, MD; Bill Eifert, New City, NY; Dave Tirdel, New Kensington, PA: Dave Woolley, Cherry Hill, NJ; Bill Scibetta, Buffalo, NY; Joe Pagano, Clairton, PA; Dale Dominick, Dave Hesse, Rand Templeton, Pittsburgh, PA; Jeff Yoakum, Wheeling; Todd Warner, Bristol. Legacies include Tom Dotson, Lewisburg; Eric Hall, Fairmont; Joe Blankenship, Paul McClure, Beckley; Griff Rogers, Morgantown: Chark Sinsel, Clarksburg; and Mitch Tracy, Charleston.

Thanks to us, the Morgantown area is looking spotless. "Project Clean-up" involves the cooperation of Phi Psis and the City of Morgantown. Every Sunday, the Brothers get together with some garbage bags and go downtown picking up litter. We are also planning our annual philanthropy, the Run for Leukemia. As always, the race will be held in the spring with all proceeds going to the Leukemia Society.

As in previous years, we are one of the top fraternities on campus academically. It looks like another close race for the Blue Cup since our intramural teams are doing very well. This may be our year!

We also welcome letters or even phone calls: 780 Spruce St., Morgantown, WV 26505, (304) 292-9060. We'd be glad to hear from you.

Kentucky On Our Way!

To say that Kentucky Beta had a good fall semester would be an understatement. The best news of all came when Educational Leadership Consultant David Boersma spent a few days here in October and announced that we will charter April 23! Needless to say, the already high attitude soared.

The news came as no surprise to the rest of UK's greek community, as we have proven ourselves worthy Phi Psis. In October, we received a first place award in the campus greek blood drive. In September, we captured second place in the Pi Beta Phi-Beta Theta Pi Downhill Derby and in November we also took second at the Alpha Delta Pi-Alpha Gamma Rho "Greek Nite at the Oscars." In October, we sponsored our annual Phi Psi 500, the Chariot Races, with Alpha Omicron Pi. Considering this was our first year with chariots, the event was successful and we raised over $400 for the National Arthritis Association. All of these accomplishments have earned us second place in greek points out of 23 fraternities

Our house, which we secured in August, is shaping up day by day. The hard work of all the brothers is making a comfortable environment as we eagerly await the spring semester. In November, we held a dinner for our house corporation to show off the improvements and make other definite plans for renovations and acquisitions.

With our charter date closing in fast, we decided to hold rush every four weeks in order to increase our number of quality members. The result has been the addition of 11 new men who are willing to establish the Phi Psi tradition at Kentucky: John Brookbank, John Sandford and Greg Sither, Lexington; Sean Lyons, Russ Hoskins and Rodger Reed, Louisville; Ted Supulski, Fort Knox; Robert Ray Jamestown, NC; and Scott Bradley, Georgetown.

We would like to especially thank Brother Boersma for his assistance and inspiration. His ideas, combined with the motivation of the pledges, have given Kentucky Beta a much-needed boost.

We would like to wish everyone a successful and exciting spring semester as we prepare for our initiation.

Maryland, Baltimore County Closer to Our Goals

At Maryland Beta, the spirit and enthusiasm has never been better. The fall semester proved to be productive and enjoyable for all members. Much of our spirit was enhanced following the District Council/Woodrow Wilson Leadership School this fall at Cornell. We gained many important skills and new insights pertaining to all aspects of Chapter operations.

We at UMBC have been working very hard to accomplish our goals. We continue to improve our relations with the faculty and administration. We are currently in the process of establishing a house corporation and adopting a national organization for philanthropy. In December, we hosted our very first formal which was lots of fun.

Fall rush was very successful and resulted in the addition of seven bright men: Mark Angelos, Cockeysville; Robert Lee and Bill Parks, Baltimore; Steve McCormack and Charles Tini, Bowie; Michael Weaver, Havre de Grace; and Carl Weisbecker, Hagerstown. Lastly, we are pleased to announce our new alumni advisor: Scott Bialousz, Penn. Epsilon '81. The interest he has expressed in the success of our Colony is greatly appreciated.

Oliver Wirth Correspondent

Southern Methodist Progress

The Texas Delta Colony is pleased to announce the addition of another future Brother: Scott Fredrick Wendorf of Raton, New Mexico.

This semester has been a busy one for us. We have already participated in three service projects, each involving Brothers and pledges helping elderly Dallas residents in various ways.

Socially, we participated in the annual Delta Gamma Anchor Splash and captured third place in the fraternity division. This semester has also seen the advent of a new Texas Delta tradition—the "Halloween Howl. Next semester should prove to be as exciting, since several events have already been planned.

As the intramural fall season comes to a close, we can now boast the best semester finish in our short but illustrious history. The highlights of our semester would have to be our decisive football conquests of Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

After the recent Colony elections, we are proud to announce the officers for the spring semester: Kevin McSpadden, GP; Chip Green, VGP; Steven Coker, P; Ray Lousteau, AG; Chris Lain, BG.

Trenton State Growth in the Garden State

On December 12, 1987, the New Jersey Delta Colony was created at Trenton State College located in wooded Ewing township. Trenton State College can be described as an up and coming public college with a focus on academic excellence. Trenton State accepts only 39 percent of undergraduate applicants. More than one half of the applicants come from the top 20 percent of their class. Undergraduate enrollment totals over 5,000 students. We feel strongly that New Jersey Delta will uphold the excellence for which Phi Kappa Psi stands.

Wisconsin It's Alive

Greetings from Madison, Wisconsin. It is with great pride and pleasure that the new Brothers of Wisconsin Alpha Colony have launched an ambitious effort to breathe new life into one of the University of Wisconsin's first fraternities. We hold great expectations and are extremely excited about our venture.

The creation of the Wisconsin Alpha Colony took place on November ninth at the Memorial Union with Education Leadership Consultant Terry Harper and Brother Kevin Stevens, Wisconsin '84, officiating. On that evening six ambitious young men enlisted in the honorable ranks of Phi Kappa Psi. These gentlemen hold the following offices: Michael Hartzel, GP; Kurt Bauman, VGP; Kwang Tang Ang, AG; Scott Gerstenkorn, P; Frank del Mar, BG; and Sean Kinney, Hod.

Wisconsin Alpha, originally chartered at U.W. Madison in 1875, is attempting a comeback after a 48-year hiatus. The new Colony Brothers are extremely proud and thankful of their acceptance by Phi Kappa Psi. We now look anxiously down the road for retrieval of the Wisconsin Alpha Chapter.

If there are any Brothers interested in what we are doing at Wisconsin Alpha and would like to be placed on our mailing list, please drop us a line at: Phi Kappa Psi, Memorial Union, Box 601, Madison, Wisconsin, 53706.

While Founders Day revelry is usually confined to within the hallowed halls of the rather staid and proper Union League Club, 65 W. Jackson Blvd., we decided this year we will change the first letter and host all festivities at the Onion League Club (same address, but much more decadent). Things get underway at 6:00 on the evening of February 19 in the fifth floor dining room. The dinner will feature breast of chicken and possibly a speaker from Fraternity Headquarters. In any case, there is certain to be a bar. Wives/dates are also invited.

We still hold our monthly luncheons on the third Thursday of every month at the Union

League Club, third floor dining room. Please note: while we welcome and urge your attendance, seating is somewhat limited so if you haven't called Pat Kirby at 247-5500 prior to your arrival, don't be upset to find yourself perched on a window sill.

Other news: our Chapter at the University of Chicago is quickly progressing towards occupation of a house in Hyde Park. If any Illinois Beteans happen to possess composite photographs from any era or other interesting memorabilia, that they might be willing to donate, please contact John Fulton at 346-8600.

In any case, we look forward to Founders Day at the Union League Club. Approach with the knock or a good Sidney Greenstreet imitation.

Columbus

Wow! Another great Homecoming party! Again spearheaded by Ohio Delta Company President Rocky Frost, and masterfully emceed by Columbus Alumni Association President Dick Bull, Friday, October 23 certainly was an evening to remember. One hundred and seven Phi Psis, wives and guests attended the dinner, but adding to the total were several others who stopped by during the happy hour but couldn't stay for the evening, so total attendance must have been close to 125.

To liven things up-and there's really not much need for any extra stimulus for this crowd-Rocky arranged for a surprise visit by the OSU Alumni Pep Band, complete with drum major, during the cocktail hour. And following an excellent buffet dinner during which there was ample time to renew old friendships, the crowd was regaled with some fascinating revelations and recollections (some planned and some impromptu) from alumni ranging from Dr. Steve Williams '75 through Harry Vallery '37 and Norm Spain '33. The food, fun and fellowship were just great, and we were especially pleased to have several alumni present from Chapters other than Ohio State.

Saturday noon found many of these same folks together again, this time at the Ohio Delta chapter House for a fine brunch and an opportunity to check out the house and the undergraduates, both of which passed inspection with flying colors. There was a couple of minor (?) problems: It rained for almost the entire game, and the bus back to the motel following the game inadvertently departed without Purdue Phi Psi Rufus Jones and wife Patti. But despite the rain, the home team won. And Rufus and Patti managed to find another bus. So everything turned out all right after all.

Founders Day in central Ohio will be observed on Saturday, February 20, with a luncheon at the OSU Faculty club where a new chef promises no more peppered potatoes. And our regular luncheons continue every Friday at Scioto Country Club, where Phi Psis are always welcome to join us for lunch and a lively review of current issues such as politics, sports or whatever happens to come up for discussion.

Leslie Hyatt "Pat" Eby, Swarthmore '12, was honored on his 95th birthday at the monthly Detroit area alumni luncheon in Troy, MI. Perhaps Phi Psi's oldest alumni, Eby is a resident of Birmingham, MI.

Founders Day will be celebrated at the Bay View Yacht Club on February 11 with a cash bar at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m. For more information call John Rexford (313) 649-1700 or Jeff Farland (313) 354-9154. We are expecting the usual jovial mix of guests from Michigan Alpha, Michigan Beta, and other area alumni.

Our regular alumni luncheons are held the second Tuesday of the month at Foxy's in Troy, MI. All area Phi Psis are invited to attend our group.

Northern California

We had a great turnout at our annual Big Game lunch. We had our lunch this year at the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Nob Hill in San Francisco. We have this lunch each year on the Friday before the University of California and Stanford football game. Each Chapter is represented by undergraduate members and alumni. However, we invite all Phi Psis to join us for this great tradition.

We are currently making plans for Founders Day. Please contact me for details 415-798-2970. My address is 620 Contra Costa Blvd. Suite 210, Pleasant Hill, CA 94523.

We are planning a golf tournament for the spring of 1988. If you are interested in playing in the tournament, please contact me.

We would like to extend a special welcome to Craig Lefferts of the San Francisco Giants. Also, we would like to thank Brother Chubb Feeney of the San Diego Padres for making this blockbuster trade, which catapulted the Giants to the Western Division title of the National League!

Omaha Alumni Association

Emphasis in Omaha is now away from football and is full steam forward for basketball now. Big Red mania is over for the year; Phi Psi mania will be manifest as interest in Founders Day grows. Rev. Neil Cahill S. J. is planning an entertaining program on February 19 at the Venice Inn and he expects all his many Brothers and friends to attend this event. He wants to be the leader when the attendance mark is broken. Plan to be there!

The Phi Psi lunch group has been having productive meetings, but we do miss undergraduate participation. Is every third Tuesday of the month a school holiday?

Adrian Fiala, Lincoln (NE) lawyer, was great as color-man for the state high school football championship TV presentation. At Creighton, Frank Schepers is the president of the Alumni Council and is on the Athletic Board. With his leadership, our athletic programs have progressed and have become nationally competitive again. We're sorry that Greg Jahn withdrew from the House race at this time. Paul LaPuzza attended the Executive Council meetings and the District VI Leadership school in California, Ralph Peppard is working hard and well for the Alzheimer's Council in town. I noticed that at a recent Creighton Alumni Leadership meeting, a very high percent of the invited alums were Phi Psis.

Come to our Founders Day Celebration—you're invited!

The Rocky Mountain Alumni Association has seen another year of growth and good times. In addition to the usual festive events, 1987 has been even better for many alumni as we saw the pledging and subsequent initiation of 25 undergraduates to the Colorado Alpha Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi. A sincere thanks to Dave Casto and John Jordan for their many hours spent providing guidance and support to the Chapter. Because of their help, the future of Colorado Alpha does indeed look promising.

The alumni association held its annual planning and business luncheon on December 4, 1987. Plans were made for the Founders Day celebration to be held at the Cherry Creek Inn on February 20, 1988. This event promises to be better than ever as spouses and guests are also invited along with members. For information on this or any other event please call Dave Castro at 488-2781 or Robert Lefond at 692-4750.

Washington Alpha is sad to announce the loss of Brother Lt. Douglas Alton Hora, WA Alpha '81, Nov. 20, 1987, when his Navy A-6 went down over the South China Sea. Doug touched the lives of many Washington Alphans during his undergraduate stay at the Chapter. He served as Chapter president, Fraternity educator, and also won the Scholarship Award for his class. A memorial fund has been set up in his name by the alumni association to honor Doug with a plaque and to set up a Scholarship Fund. Donations can be sent to: Seattle Area Alumni Association, Attn: Doug Hora Memorial Fund, 3516 N. 30th St., Tacoma, WA 98407.

On a lighter note, Founders Day has been set for Thursday, February 18 at the College Club, 505 Madison St., Seattle. If you have any questions, call me at (206) 756-2154 hm. or (206) 237-6044 wk.

Thanks to all of those Brothers who made our postgame Homecoming party such a success. We had an excellent turnout from the alumni Brothers and their wives and the undergraduates.

Don't forget—alumni association meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month at 6:00 p.m. at the Washington Alpha Chapter House and all Phi Psis are welcome. See you there!

Hire a Phi Psi!

Only a few months remain until this year's graduating seniors will be making career decisions. As a Phi Psi alumnus, maybe you can help. Please look over this list of graduating seniors. Perhaps you or your company is looking for some of these capable young men.

All Chapters and Colonies were asked to participate in "Hire a Phi Psi," so if a particular school is not listed, please contact them directly. Those Phi Psis whose names follow have voluntarily sent their names with the hope of finding their first career position. Show them that Phi Psi Brotherhood does not stop with college by contacting them about your job opportunity.

And if you will, please take a moment to fill out the form at the end of the list to help us evaluate how we might improve this program.

Deferred Giving is Preferred Giving for Many Phi Psis

Do you own highly appreciated stock or property that does not generate adequate income? Do you own a closely-held family business and wish to gain increased benefits from your work upon retirement? Do you wish you could share more of your life earnings with your family?

If you answered "yes" to any of the above questions and you have an interest in seeing Phi Kappa Psi remain strong in the future, you may be interested in learning more about The Endowment Fund of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Using one of a number of deferred giving techniques, a gift to the Endowment Fund could result in life income from a previously unprofitable property or investment you own. Or, you could increase the amount of your estate that will be shared with your family which otherwise would be lost to taxes.

To learn how deferred giving might help you and The Endowment Fund (the Phi Psi Foundation), you or your financial advisor can contact:

Robert F. Marchesani Jr. Endowment Fund Administrator Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity 510 Lockerbie Street Indianapolis, Indiana 46202 317/632-1852

* The Endowment Fund is a 501(c)(3) foundation, to which gifts are deductible when calculating federal income and estate taxes.

Keeping Up With the Phi Psis

We're making progress—and it's all because many of vou are taking a moment to send us information on a missing or deceased Brother. Perhaps you have information about someone on the following list. Remember—we make the most progress when you help us. Please take time to read these new names. We've made it easy for you to supply information on the attached form. Then clip the form and mail it to the Fraternity Headquarters . . . and thanks so much for your help!

seems the tradition has been re-established.

Likewise, our monthly happy hour is catching on. Every third Friday of each month, a gang of Phi Psis meet at Houlihan's in the Union Station at 5:30 p.m. If you can join us, please do. Wives are welcome and encouraged to come.

In August, a new Phi Psi event was added to our yearly agenda. The Clydesdale Room at Busch Stadium was rented, and 40 Phi Psis wives, and girlfriends cheered on the National Champion Cardinals. This event was such a tremendous success that it has been made an annual event. 1988's date will be set in time for Founders Day, so plan to attend to find out when the Phi Psis invade the ballpark. Note: Founders Day will be held February 19 at the Missouri Athletic Club.

If you have not been receiving the St. Louis Update, please let Steve O'Rourke know so you can be added to our list. For any other information, updates, or general gossip, contact Steve at 314-739-1758.

WEST VIRGINIA Thomas B. Hardman '42 Albert F. Everett Jr. '46, 6-3-87 Ronald S. Beatty '53, 7-30-86 Warner Everett Mills Jr., Beloit '78, succumbed after open heart surgery in Colorado on October 1st. Born on August 10, 1922, in Kirksville, Missouri, he completed his undergraduate work at Dartmouth College. Later he earned a master's degree from Yale and a Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University. His wife of 38 years, Dorothy, and four children survive him.

Brother Mills joined the Beloit College faculty in 1956 and taught in the Department of Government. He was a prelaw advisor for many years. In 1963, Wisconsin Gamma asked him to be the faculty advisor. He saw that Chapter through the anti-fraternity years of the late 1960s and did everything possible to preserve the Chapter before it became inactive in 1968. Beginning again in 1976, he worked tirelessly to develop a plan to resurrect the Wisconsin Gamma Chapter. When it was determined that he had not joined a fraternity at Dartmouth, he was asked to join the Brotherhood when it was reborn in 1978.

Brother Mills' tireless efforts and positive contributions to the men and the Chapter of Wisconsin Gamma will remain for years to come. He was truly a great man and a loyal Phi Psi. He showed a deep concern for each of his students and took his calling as a teacher very seriously. He was committed to intellectual inquiry and to encouraging the expression and respect of all viewpoints.

Our thanks to John Lind, Beloit '61, for providing memorial information.

Penn Lambda Observes 75th Anniversary

by Dana L. Daugherty, Penn State '85

On the weekend of October 2-4, we celebrated the 75th Anniversary of the Pennsylvania Lambda Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi at Penn State. The undergraduate members and the house corporation planned a grand celebration to commemorate the event.

On Friday night we welcomed alumni with a wine and cheese party. Then on Saturday morning we sponsored a tailgate party at the stadium for the Penn State-Temple game. On Saturday evening, we held a banquet at the Sheraton with over 225 people attending. The keynote speaker was Brother John Brutzman, Penn State '35, who spoke on the merging of the Phi Psi Chapter with Omega Epsilon in the early 1930's.

After the speeches, we presented awards to William Martin, Penn State '29, for being the oldest returning alumni, and to Michael Conley, Penn State '78, for traveling the farthest to attend the celebration—all the way from Ireland. The Chapter was presented with a picture of prominent alumnus Jo Hays, Penn State '35, by the Penn Lambda Educational Foundation.

Also in celebration of our anniversary, we commissioned an artist to draw The Lodge and to create prints which can be purchased. For a $50 donation these prints may be obtained by contacting Phi Kappa Psi, 403 Locust Lane, State College, PA 16802.

We thank all alumni and guests who came to celebrate this special event with us.

Endowment Fund Scholarship Recipients Positive On Phi Psi

The most valued benefits from membership in Phi Kappa Psi are developing character and lifelong friends, learning leadership and social skills, and engaging in extra-curricular activities.

These are the results of a survey conducted by The Endowment Fund of Phi Kappa Psi. The survey was distributed to 1,600 Phi Psis who as undergraduates had been awarded scholarships by The Endowment Fund since 1960.

Of the 380 respondents, 91 percent said that Phi Psi was most important in developing character and lifelong friends and in providing training for leadership. Almost 90 percent also indicated the Fraternity was helpful in their college education.

Nearly as many, 80 percent, underscored the Fraternity's contributions to social and extracurricular activities. Like their undergraduate counterparts today, these alumni joined Phi Psi to be part of a close-knit group of men of similar interests.

Regarding scholastic achievement, 59 percent said the Fraternity encouraged rather than discouraged their academic pursuits, 33 percent said Phi Psi had no impact and 8 percent reported a negative effect.

"What these men have to say about the value of their fraternity experience seems especially significant. As a group they are strongly supportive of the fraternity system."

"Those surveyed are a special group of men who were nominated by their peers in college to receive awards for scholarship and leadership," said Ruddick C. Lawrence, Washington '31, chairman of the Endowment Fund. "Most of them appear to be fulfilling their early promise by serving successfully in their business and professional careers, and as leaders in community activities."

"What these men have to say about the value of their fraternity experience seems especially significant. As a group they are strongly supportive of the fraternity system."

Seventy percent of the graduates stated that Phi Psi plays an important role in higher education, and almost all are optimistic about the Fraternity's future. Ninety-seven percent said that Phi Psi has a place on today's and tomorrow's campus.

Only 42 percent said Phi Psi had helped them develop an interest in community service, traditionally stressed by fraternities. However, most of the respondents reported that they are currently engaged in a wide range of community service.

With 43 percent of the respondents indicating that the Fraternity's Ritual has meaning in their lives today, the survey points to a need for better communication from Chapters to alumni, increased attention to smaller Chapters, and more involvement of alumni on the local Chapter level.

The Endowment Fund awards more than $40,000 each year in scholarships and grants. The educational foundation was created in 1914 and was the first such fund in the North American fraternity system.

Here are the percentage answers to a number of statements the Endowment Fund survey respondents were asked to react to using the following answers:

Phi Psi Buildings On Campus

On the campus of Ashland College is the Gill Center for Business and Economic Education created in 1968 with funds given largely by Harry Ross Gill Jr., Northwestern '39. Mr. Gill operates the National Latex Company. A loyal contributor to Ashland College, Mr. Gill serves on the Ashland College board of directors, the executive committee of the board, and on its development committee. Mr. Gill dedicated the building to his father, Harry Ross Gill Sr. The mission of the Gill Center is to promote increased knowledge of the private enterprise system throughout the educational and business communities. The Gill Center provides staff offices, classrooms, meeting rooms, and library facilities. The city of Ashland and the Brothers of Phi Kappa Psi are indeed fortunate to have loyal alumni like Harry Gill.

Crescent City GAC Approaches

Jazz up your summer with a trip to New Orleans for the 1988 Crescent City Grand Arch Council. August 10–14 will be the dates on which the Fraternity will meet to conduct business according to its unique form of government. Stay in the elegant Fairmont Hotel near the French Quarter and plan to mix Phi Psi business with pleasure. The program and preliminary registration will be included in the Spring issue of The Shield.

Meet the new Archons

Phi Psi's government is unique in the interfraternity world, entrusting six undergraduates on a 10-man board with the responsibility of serving in Fraternity leadership capacities at the highest level. Last fall, students from all six Districts gathered at various host campuses across the country to determine who among them would serve as District Archon. Meet our new Archonate, whose service to the Fraternity in this capacity will run through the fall of 1989.

Robert Scott Bill is a charter member of the Temple University Chapter and was initiated on July 12, 1987. District I, which Brother Bill represents, includes 15 Chapters and four Colonies in the northeast from Rhode Island south to Virginia. Brother Bill is a senior majoring in communications who has served Pennsylvania Pi as corresponding secretary, scholarship and social chairman, and chaplain.

Timothy Kevin Lynskey, Archon of District II, was initiated by Ohio Iota at the University of Akron on May 3, 1986. He has served Phi Psi as vice president, social chairman, and Fraternity education chairman and participated in Ohio Iota's finance, rush, and scholarship committees as well as executive council. His District surrounds Phi Psi's birthplace of western Pennsylvania and includes 15 Chapters. Brother Lynskey, a junior majoring in marketing, was IFC representative and was named to the Dean's List.

Thaddeus Michael Murphy is a senior majoring in finance from Oak Lawn, Illinois. He was initiated into the Illinois Delta Chapter at the University of Illinois on January 22, 1986. Named to the Dean's List four semesters, Brother Murphy was selected to be the C. F. 'Dab' Williams Scholar and Outstanding Pledge. External vice president, corresponding secretary, chaplain, and social chairman are a few of the offices he has held in his Chapter. District III includes 19 Chapters and one Colony in the Midwest.

David James Shafer, a senior majoring in political science, is Archon of District IV. He was initiated into the Georgia Alpha Chapter at the University of Georgia December 4, 1983. Earning the title "Pledge of the Year" in 1983-84, he subsequently was elected "Brother of the Year" the next three consecutive years. He has served two terms each as president, vice president, sergeant-at-arms, and chaplain. He was 1987 Greek Man of the Year, a National Merit Scholar, and was recipient of the IFC Distinguished Service Award. Brother Shafer, from Atlanta, Georgia, will represent the 14 Chapters and two Colonies in District IV from eastern Texas through North Carolina.

J. Darrin Widick, Archon of District V, is a junior from Independence, Missouri. He is majoring in communications at the University of Missouri. Initiated by Missouri Alpha on January 18, 1986, Brother Widick has served the Chapter as vice president, corresponding secretary, rush publications chairman, rush co-chairman, and initiation coordinator. Named Outstanding Pledge and the winner of the Higgins Trophy for Outstanding Rush, Brother Widick will represent the Great Plains states from Minnesota to New Mexico which includes 14 Chapters.

Wayne Phillip Ariola from Pacific Palisades, California, is Archon of District VI and was initiated into California Zeta on January 24, 1986, at the University of California, Santa Barbara. A junior majoring in biochemistry, Brother Ariola has held the Chapter offices of vice president, alumni Chairman, philanthropy chairman, social chairman, and District VI Leadership Conference director. District VI includes Phi Psi's 13 far west Chapters.

FOUR YEARS OF COLLEGE DOWN THE TUBES.

If you think the tests in college are tough, wait until your first job interview. Last year, America's businesses lost $60 billion to drugs.

So this year, most of the Fortune 500 will be administering drug tests. Failing the test means you won't be considered for employment.

After all, if you're into drugs, how smart can you be.

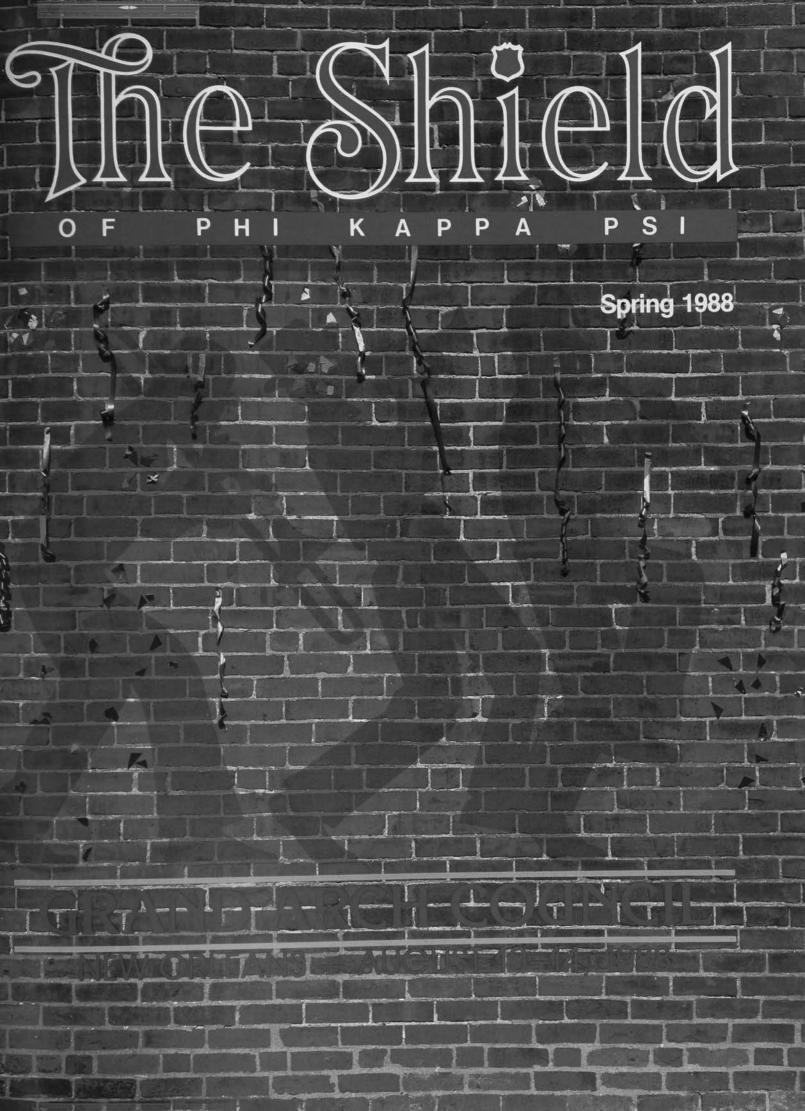

WE'RE PUTTING DRUGS OUT OF BUSINESS.

Dressler

ROBERT E. DRESSLER, Northwestern '43, recently completed a two-year study of the 15 moons of the planet Uranus in Lubumashi, Katanga, Africa. The purpose of the study was to establish a relationship between the changing axis of the perpendicular of the orbital plane and the periodicity of earthquakes in Peru and Chile. Dressler has conducted previous studies of Uranus on Easter Island and from the Wisconsin Dells. His findings were recently acknowledged by the Societe de Astronomie in Paris when he was awarded the Medaille de Honor. Dressler's latest book, Rings Around Uranus, will be published in 1988 by Sudhalter and Sons, Ltd., London.

THEODORE SWIFT, DePauw '47, has finished giving his 30th annual Christmas party for physically handicapped children with the Rotarians. An attorney in East Lansing, Michigan, Swift presents a skit to blind and deaf children in the community.

WILLIAM H. ASHLEY, Nebraska '56, president of Crest Petroleum Corporation, has been elected president of the Omaha-Suburban Rotary Club and will take office in June. As part of his involvement in Rotary, he led a group study exchange to Brazil in 1983. More recently he has overseen the cultural exchange between Omaha and Thailand. He is past president of the Omaha Oilmen's Club and member of the Omaha Symphony Council.

Kocher

DAVID A. KOCHER, CPCU, Penn State '62, was appointed president of Aetna Life and Casualty's Commercial Insurance Division. Kocher serves on the Board of Governors of the Insurance Crime Prevention Institute, and on the Advisory Board for the Center for Fire Safety Studies at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

DANIEL GRIFFITH, IUP '70, is the author of the book, "Spatial Autocorrelation," a textbook on latent interobservational dependencies and statistical analysis in geography.

REV. TIMOTHY R. LANNON, Creighton '70, will assume duties as president of Creighton Prep beginning July 1, 1988. He entered the Order of Jesuits in 1977 and studied at St. Louis University from 1978 to 1980. He was formerly academic assistant principal at Marquette University High School in Milwaukee from 1980 to 1983.

ANDREW J. KNIGHT II, Ole Miss '77, was made a partner in the Jacksonville, FL, law firm of Taylor, Moseley & Joyner. Jay is a trial lawyer with special emphasis on admiralty and railroad matters.

Knight

A. HARRISON GASQUE, South Carolina '78, has been included in "Who's Who of Emerging Leaders in America." He is also listed in "Who's Who of the South and Southwest" and the International Directory of Distinguished Leadership. Gasque is a disc jockey of station WNOK-AM and is known as Indiana Harrison.

JOHN M. CLYMER, Wabash '79, earned the title of registered financial planner for insurance and investment services.

CHRISTOPHER A. WILLIAMS, UCLA '80, was the recipient of the Outstanding Young Man of the Year Award given by the Jaycees. He is a policy analyst in the Office of Strategic Defense and Space Arms Control Policy, Office of the Secretary of Defense, Washington, D.C.

DAVID R. MARKS, California, Santa Barbara '82, was one of two students nationally to be awarded the Deafness Research Foundation Medical Student Research Fellowship in Otology for 1987-88. He was recently completed his third year of medical school at Yale University and will spend the next year at the University of California-San Francisco, investigating the use of prosthetic devices that will enable completely deaf children to hear for the first time. Following the fellowship he will return to Yale for his final year of medical training.

The Crescent City GAC

64th Grand Arch Council

The 64th Grand Arch Council of Phi Kappa Psi will be held at the magnificent Fairmont Hotel in New Orleans, Wednesday through Sunday, August 10–14, 1988. Registration will begin Wednesday, August 10, at 2:00 p.m., followed by an informal "Welcome to New Orleans" reception at 7:00 p.m. Between the opening gavel and the closing ceremony, there will be an enjoyable mixture of business and pleasure for all in attendance.

New Orleans

It's hard to know where to begin to see and experience New Orleans. Try the outstanding Creole, Cajun, and Caribbean cooking. Stroll the French Quarter or take a riverboat ride. Take an historical walking tour or enjoy sightseeing from a local tour bus. Visit the Riverwalk complex of upscale retail stores and entertainment. See the World Trade Center and Canal Place, with its trendy boutiques and fine specialty stores. The Jackson Brewery offers popular multi-level dining, entertainment, and shopping located on the Mississippi River. Jean Lafitte National Historical Park and the Chalmette National Historical Park (better known as the site of the Battle of New Orleans) are located within the city and inform visitors of its rich historical heritage.

The Fairmont Hotel

The richest meaning of "Southern hospitality" is demonstrated daily at the prestigious Fairmont Hotel. It has received the Travel/Holiday Award for fine cuisine, the Mobil 4-Star Hotel Award, and the AAA Four Diamond Award. Whether it's the GAC Formal Banquet or a small committee meeting, the Fairmont can be expected to accommodate all guests in comfort and elegance.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Delegates

Each Chapter should immediately elect three Grand Arch Council delegates—two undergraduates and an alumnus. Alumni Associations in good standing* are entitled to three GAC delegates.

*An Alumni Association must have paid $60 to the Fraternity Head-quarters for each of the two years immediately preceding the GAC to be eligible to vote. The payment, due May 1 of each year, includes $45 for the general expenses of the Fraternity and $15 for the Endowment Fund.

Chapter Advisors Faculty Advisors

Every Chapter should induce its Phi Psi Chapter Advisor and Faculty Advisor to attend the GAC and should contribute to their travel expense if possible. This investment will lead to valuable dividends in the way of counsel, advice, and guidance.

Credentials

Delegates should present the original credentials form at the convention registration desk at the Fairmont Hotel upon arrival.

Attendance at Council Sessions

At least one delegate from each Chapter and Alumni Association entitled to representation must attend each session of the GAC. The fine for missing a roll call is $10. Each delegation has one vote. According to the Fraternity's By-Laws, Chapters and Alumni Associations shall not instruct their delegates to vote in any specific way upon any matter. Every undergraduate, alumnus, pledge, or Colony member, whether an accredited delegate or not, is cordially invited and sincerely urged to attend the 1988 GAC. All members are welcome to come to each session and are given the privileges of the floor.

Delegate Expense

An allowance is provided each Chapter and Colony to help cover the travel expenses of delegates. The Fraternity does not reimburse expenses of Alumni Association delegates.

This allowance will be paid by crediting the Chapter/Colony account with the Fraternity at the conclusion of the 1988 Grand Arch Council. A GAC delegate will be asked to sign on behalf of the Chapter/Colony evidencing attendance.

Chapter and Colony Records

Delegates need only bring financial or other records to the 1988 GAC if specifically directed by the Executive Council. However, please be encouraged to bring any and all materials you wish to share with other Chapters and Colonies, such as well-done newsletters, Fraternity Education programs and the like, as an area will be provided for their display.

Hotel Reservations and Rates

Special room rates for the 1988 GAC will be $64 per day for single or double occupancy, and $73 per day for triple and quadruple occupancy. These prices do not include room tax. Suites may also be available. Hotel registration forms may be obtained from Phi Psi's Headquarters, and additional information is available by contacting the Fairmont Hotel directly:

The Fairmont Hotel University Place New Orleans, LA 70140 (504) 529-7111 toll free (800) 527-4727

Registration Fee

Alumni and guest fees are $205, and undergraduate fees are $180. The registration fee includes the cost of the informal welcoming reception, Opening Breakfast, Awards Luncheon, the GAC Banquet, and a special reception for alumni and guests. All fees increase $10 if not received by July 1, 1988, and by $20 if not received by August 1, 1988.

Fines

Any Chapter failing to register for and attend the 1988 GAC will be fined $500. A GAC fine is non-appealable to the Executive Council.

Colonies are aware that "attendance to a Grand Arch Council (or District Council) by a substantial number of Colony members" is one of the Fraternity's chartering requirements.

Given the Fraternity-supplied travel reimbursement (see Delegate Expense, above), and the substantial fine for not attending, it is assumed all Chapters and Colonies will be present at each Grand Arch Council. As the supreme legislative and judicial body of the Fraternity, there is no more important Phi Psi undergraduate responsibility than participation in the GAC once every two years. Chapters and Colonies should exercise great care in selecting GAC delegates and further insure representation by appointing alternate delegates who could attend at the last moment should travel or other problems prohibit attendance of originally selected delegates. Substitutions of this nature are easily made at the Grand Arch Council, and insures that your Chapter and Colony takes its rightful place as the GAC roll is called.

Honors and Awards

Outstanding scholarship, leader-ship, publications, and other awards will be recognized at the GAC Awards Luncheon. Please be certain your Chapter has submitted proper Awards proposals to the Fraternity Headquarters so they may be included in the competition. There are various GAC nominations and application forms deserving Chapter attention mailed throughout the spring.

Standing with the Fraternity

It will be embarrassing to both the officers of the Fraternity and individual Chapter delegates if the GAC is told of any debt owed the Fraternity. When the Fraternity's fiscal year ends May 31, the books are audited for submission to the Grand Arch Council.

Chapter officers are requested to determine the exact financial position of their Chapters with the Fraternity, and to make arrangements to pay any outstanding debts before August 10. Any Chapter whose account with the Fraternity is in arrears 90 days or more will not be entitled to vote upon any matter coming before the GAC. Each Chapter, however, must be represented at the GAC.

FUND NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the biennial meeting of the Endowment Fund of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity will be held on Friday, August 12, 1988, during the 64th Grand Arch Council at the Fairmont Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana, for the purpose of electing a Trustee and transacting business as required by the Articles of Incorporation of the Endowment Fund.—Ralph D. Daniel, Secretary-Treasurer.

A Salute to Chapter Advisors

by Carole Wiebke, Director of Publications

You're looking at a group of satisfied customers. Each one bought into the opportunity to be a Chapter Advisor. To them it was like buying stock in the Fraternity: they invested their time and talents. Over the years their stock in Phi Kappa Psi appreciated tremendously in the form of friendships made, leaders created, and positive directions for their Chapters. They all agree their investment offers a high rate of return in the form of personal gratification. Their investments paid them high dividends by giving positive direction to many young men. Phi Kappa Psi salutes these Chapter Advisors who have invested so much of themselves in the values of the Fraternity.

Kevin Stevens, Beloit '84 Account Executive Wisconsin Alpha Colony—6 months

"Watching a new Chapter begin to unfold its wings is truly an unmatchable experience. It is difficult to describe the feeling of satisfaction in seeing younger men gain a sense of accomplishment and growth."

Stephen Beard, Oregon '74 Director of Human Resources Florida—8 years

"Being involved with the Chapter has brought me friendships and satisfaction by continuing to use my Phi Psi beliefs . . . and it's well worth every effort."

Victor Manes, Indiana State '87 Internal Auditor Indiana State—7 months

"It allows me the opportunity to watch, advise, and help undergraduates turn into responsible adults. I would highly recommend becoming a Chapter Advisor—you definitely get more out of it than you put in."

Ben Kessler, Wabash '71 Farmer Wabash—5 years

"One must enjoy the exchange of ideas to promote the undergraduates' education in fraternity living and selfgovernment."

William Eifrig, Valparaiso '53 Professor of Music Valparaiso—10 years

"It has been my pleasure to watch a reorganized Chapter move steadily from a hope-filled beginning into mature stability and commendable self-governance. My confidence in undergraduate Brothers has not been misplaced."

James Hagler, Vanderbilt '58 Agricultural Management Tennessee, Knoxville—3 years

"The friendships I have formed with these men have been very uplifting. The rewards obtained will cause you to volunteer year after year for this position."

Dallas F. Horvath, Bowling Green '63 Supervisor, Speech Pathology Services Bowling Green—1 year

"I have gained a renewed spirit of brotherhood with the gentlemen of Ohio Zeta. I am very proud of their enthusiasm and achievements on campus. They are very willing to share their problems as well as their successes."

Stephen O'Rourke, Missouri '74 Sales Representative Missouri—2 years

"I've found that young men in school today are having the same problems I had when I was in school. The difference is that today they seem to listen more."

Bryan R. Foulk, Arizona '79 Dentist Arizona—4 years

"By giving a little time and energy to Phi Psi, you get much more back in satisfaction and friendship. The reward is there for the taking. It's a tremendous opportunity to help the men and the Fraternity as a whole."

Kevin O'Shaughnessy, Butler '81 Pharmacist Illinois State—4 years

"Starting from scratch to form an entirely new Chapter, I've seen these men shape their own lives as well as the lives of others. The opportunity to work with these fine young men has deepened my faith in what the Fraternity can do to influence everyone involved."

Daniel R. Schwitzgable, Akron '72 Sales Engineer Akron—5 years

"I have the satisfaction of helping my own Chapter grow from near extinction to become a strong, healthy influence on campus. I enjoy watching the maturing process of young men as they take on new responsibilities."

Carroll Bitting, Vanderbilt '47 Project Manager Lehigh—6 months

"I think the future will be in good hands with men of this caliber. It's worth the extra time required to gain a perspective on these future business leaders. Try it—you'll be surprised at the rewards you may gain."

John B. Dimmer, Oregon '81 Surety Bond Underwriter Oregon—1 year

"I am repaying the Fraternity for all the benefits I received as an undergraduate. It's also an excellent way to ensure that the Fraternity's traditions and ideals will be nurtured and continue to grow in those who come after you."

Dr. David F. Hull Jr., LSU '66 Chief Student Affairs Officer LSU—13 years

"Developing a more distinct and integral role for our advisors is important to the future of our Fraternity . . . Strong alumni involvement and advisorship could preclude most Chapter crises."

Steven E. Nieslawski, Illinois '79 Attorney University of Chicago—5 years

"I am inspired and challenged by the hard work expended by the members to meet their individual and collective goals. Don't underestimate your ability as a valuable and knowledgeable resource. Roll up your sleeves and get involved."

Blaine E. Davis, Washington '78 Civil Engineer Washington-4 years

"Seeing a young man's character mature and knowing I played a part in that development-no matter how small—provides deep personal satisfaction. I have become a better listener since becoming an advisor, and I've bitten my lip more than once."

David Evans, Kansas '42 Mortgage Banker Arkansas-10 years

"I've gained a great feeling of being needed, and it gives me a fresh perspective on the world in general. It's a fulfilling way of returning to Phi Psi what she has given me."

Rev. Neil Cahill, S.J., Creighton '68 Professor of Economics Creighton-22 years

"My life these past two decades has been much richer due to becoming an advisor. The alumni of the Chapter have asked me to perform their marriages, baptize their babies. etc. We all work together and give each other assistance, and that is the true meaning of the Fraternity."

Jon C. Chambers, California-Berkeley '82 Pension Consultant California-Berkeley-1 year

"Being a Chapter Advisor has really been a fabulous vehicle for keeping me in touch with the Chapter and many of the alumni."

Haldon C. Dick, Bowling Green '55 Publisher/Editor Oregon State-10 years

"Working with undergraduates is a joy, indeed. It keeps me young in spirit as I watch the men mature. The more you give, the more you gain. There are frustrations, but they are greatly overshadowed by the positive experiences I've had."

and viable Chapter. The advisor direction a Chapter is heading and significantly contribute to its good health."

James W. Derry, Illinois '80 Sr. Sales Representative Minnesota-1 year

"Phi Psi provided opportunities and experiences that helped me in the 'real world.' Being an advisor to a group of young men can be very rewarding and takes as much time as you want to give."

Robert Fatch, Washington '69 Insurance Sales California, Santa Barbara-14 years

"When I worked for the Fraternity as an ELC in 1971-72, Cal Zeta had become inactive. In 1974. I moved to Santa Barbara and became involved in the recolonization effort. It was rewarding to meet some nice fellows and get the Chapter going again in 1982."

John V. Ciccarelli, California-Northridge '72 Self-employed California-Northridge-14 years

"The opportunity to serve as a Chapter Advisor has been a very rewarding experience. There is a great deal of personal satisfaction in providing assistance to the undergraduates."

William A. Bowers, Rhode Island '66 Director of Alumni Affairs, Un. of R.I. Rhode Island-17 years

"I've met interesting people and developed lasting friendships with younger Brothers. Many Brothers have come back and have been very helpful to me. Being an advisor has helped me in my relationship with my children, ages 12 and 16."

FROM THE ROAD...

Joseph L. Siebert Indiana '83

Fraternity is GAC

This summer from August 10-14, a unique event is taking place that only comes once every two years. The event is the Grand Arch Council, a biennial convention of the Fraternity in which all Chapters and alumni associations have the opportunity to meet to set policy and elect new officers of the Fraternity. The reason that I am writing my article on the GAC is not to advertise the event, but to encourage members to attend it to find out and experience what our national Fraternity is really about. Most Phi Psis's experience in the Fraternity is with their own local Chapter as an undergraduate. The Grand Arch Council gives all Phi Psis the unique opportunity to experience the Fraternity first hand and in a much broader way.

To give you a feel for the diversity that will be in attendance, we will have members, both undergraduate and alumni, from at least 40 states, 110 different colleges, from 17 to 95 years in age, and from Chapters big and small. The key aspects of the convention are exchanging ideas about the Fraternity, making new friends, learning about other schools and Chapters, enjoying what will be a great social atmosphere, and learning about Phi Psi as you only can by attending the GAC.

This summer in New Orleans, we are expecting at least 450 Brothers. The highlight of the agenda will be the election of the new officers of the Fraternity. Educational sessions will help current undergraduates with new and innovative workshops and seminars that should have a great impact on their planning and programming for the upcoming year. Not only will the convention be informative, but should also prove to be a great social event. In visiting over 65 Chapters in the past year and a half, the number one question that I have been asked is, "What is the rest of the Fraternity like?" Well, this is the perfect opportunity to find out first hand what Phi Kappa Psi is all about. Have a great spring, and I hope to see you in New Orleans in August.

Ronald A. Richard Ladies First Minnesota '84

For centuries men, particularly gentleman, professed that women were the less capable of the sexes. But I am convinced that womenfolk have been laughing at us all along. Eve played Adam for the fool, as Harriet did Ozzie. This is most certainly the case in the fraternity world. Hands down, all blue ribbons must go to our fairer counterparts. They are the ones winning this game.

While visiting one Midwestern Phi Psi Chapter, I had the pleasure of being more or less babysat by the GP's girl friend. Our time was spent in the pastel pink living room of the young woman's sorority house. Having recently excelled as rush chair, she began to describe with considerable detail that labyrinth known as sorority rush. This annual spectacle of well-rehearsed raucousness is so complicated that it leaves most outsiders speechless. But my hostess attempted to unravel the rush puzzle to me: rush rotations, contact parties, themes, songs, jibber, jibber, jibber . . .

A bondfide expert in appearing interested in the dullest circumstances (a skill I mastered during nine arid months of social studies with Miss LaCraft in the fifth grade), I was able to create the illusion of outright curiosity. Periodic head nodding and expertly-timed eyebrow raising completed the picture and gave my mind the freedom to roam and ponder, "How ridiculous can this sorority stuff get?" I glanced at the surroundings. At my fingertips were the spoils of years of sound chapter management: comfortable furniture, the aroma of peanut butter cookies in the kitchen, the distant hum of a vacuum, probably a cleaning service to boot. How different it all seemed from the bombed-out shell known as the Phi Psi house just a block away. It seemed unfair, that the ladies would have so much and we so little.

I tuned into to my cheery conversationalist just to check on her general tone and, my gawd, she was still talking about rush! The cutest skit on the row, the preference chairman this . . . the bid chairman that . . . T-shirts!!! Rush isn't a chore for them, it's a bloody event! And then it hit me. The 40 shining pledges, the peanut butter cookies, the affordable house bills—all are rewards for paying obsessive attention to recruiting new members. Sororities seem to have a passion for rush. They love what they do—they care. The sisters are asked to invest time because rush is the number one priority. Many times, a Phi Psi will tell me that a successful rush is his Chapter's most important objective. But in Chapter meeting, the rush report lasts 30 seconds while the next social function is discussed for 15 minutes (900 seconds). If rush is a priority, a lion's share of our attention should be devoted to rush. It may be awkward at first, but we need to spend time yapping about rush to give its importance credibility. Phi Psi, too, must make rush an event rather than a chore. The best seller, "A Passion For Excellence," says winners are people who have fun and who produce results as a result of their zest. Fraternities need to capitalize on this enthusiasm factor.

Since this recent revelation, I rarely scoff at sorority management. At least for me, there doesn't seem to be much question as to who is winning this game: it's ladies first. I also wish I would have paid more attention to that sorority woman and her endless rush speech. I bet I could have learned something.

The National Fraternity

Throughout my travels, I have often been approached by mystified undergraduates asking questions like, "Dave, just what is the 'national' Fraternity?" "What does the 'national' do for me?" "Where does all the money we send to 'national' go?" "Who's Gary Angstadt?"

The national Fraternity is more than just a voice on the phone, the place to order badges, or a visit from an Educational Leadership Consultant. First of all, the national Fraternity is made up of all Phi Psi alumni and undergraduates. Your Chapter or Alumni Association/Club is a local franchise of the national organization. You as an individual are a member of the national Fraternity.

I also see the national Fraternity as the Executive Council and all the appointed officers that serve the Council. Some view the Executive Council as ceremonial, but that opinion is misinformed. This council is the governing body of the Fraternity along with the Grand Arch Council. We, the member of Phi Kappa Psi, have put these individuals in their positions of leadership. When this Council meets, decisions are made that affect all Phi Psis.

I also see the national Fraternity as the Headquarters and staff in Indianapolis. Theirs is the job of keeping undergraduates and alumni informed, supplied, and protected. How can so few do so much for so many? The Headquarters also houses the memorabilia and heritage of our Fraternity.

Finally, I see the national Fraternity as a representation of numerous individuals. Letterman and Moore, Thomas Cochran Campbell, Dab

Williams, Dud Daniel, Gary Angstadt—the list could fill this page. These men have made the Fraternity what it is today. If it had not been for their dedication, we would not be as prosperous as we are.

Terrence G. Harper Oklahoma State '85 The One Minute Phi Psi

As one can imagine, the Consultant position provides the opportunity for extensive travel all over the country. Although I wouldn't trade this experience for anything, I am not a big fan of all the long driving hours between many of our Chapters.

With all the driving, however, I do get in a lot of quality listening time on the car stereo. So, for my winter tour of duty on the West Coast (which, by the way, provides the greatest opportunity for quality listening time of all the regions) I picked up books on tape to make the listening a little more enlightening and educational than just singing along to Bon Jovi for hours at a time.

The most interesting tape so far has been The One Minute Manager, the best seller by Kennedy Blanchard, Ph.D., and Spencer Johnson, M.D. The principles and practices contained in it can greatly benefit the Fraternity at the Chapter level if properly implemented.

There are three easy steps to success and all must be followed in order for the formula to achieve the optimum results. The first step is "one minute goal setting." This is very simple to do and can be accomplished in the next Chapter meeting. Agree on Chapter goals for the upcoming term and commit them to writing. Make sure everyone gets a copy and also that the list is posted in a conspicuous place in the house where it will be seen every day. This will keep the goals in the front of everyone's mind.

The second and third steps are best carried out by the Chapter leadership or the Chapter Advisors. The second step is the "one minute praising." Recognizing achievements is often overlooked within the Chapter, and this little trick will help change this.

The one minute praising is as follows: Call the person in who has done a good job and tell him specifically what he did right. Next, tell him how you feel about it and then pause to let it sink in. Finally, tell him how glad you are he is a part of your Chapter and that you hope he will keep up the excellent work. There it is; quick, easy, and most importantly, effective. You've just made someone feel good and you will probably see more good things from him.

Finally, there is the "one minute reprimand." This is to be used only after the praising program has been instituted for awhile. When a Brother does not get his work done or does it with poor effort, first check the goals with him to see that he fully understands what is expected. If that is not the case then a reprimand is in order. It is done in the same manner as the praising: Call in the Brother and tell him specifically what he did wrong and tell him how you feel about it. And if you are angry, by all means, be angry! After letting that sink in for a moment, tell him you know he is a better person than that, and you expect great things from him. Finish by telling him that you are glad he is a part of the Chapter. Again, very effective and the Brother does not leave feeling like dirt.

Pick up a copy of The One Minute Manager and make it a permanent fixture in your Chapter's library. It might also make good required reading for all the members and pledges, especially the officers. Make the investment. The benefits reaped in a more cohesive group will be well worth it.

As Phi Kappa Psi enters her 137th year, we should be constantly searching for ways to improve ourselves and our Brothers. And if that doesn't work, just line 'em up and shoot 'em.

Alabama

Our Pride Is Showing

In preparation for ringing in the new year, Alabama Alpha rang out the old with a festive Christmas party. It was celebrated complete with a tree, and an exchange of gifts between each pledge and his Big Brother. Each bought a simple gift for the other which matched their personality and character. It was the perfect example of how successful the Big Brother program has been here at Alabama Alpha.

We made more improvements to our house. We installed new bookcases inside, and on the outside a new set of pillars were erected under the Phi Kappa Psi arch on our front porch.

Perhaps the most significant change was the election of officers. Many fresh, new leaders have emerged which include Roy Jones, GP; John Wilson, VGP; Jason Halcomb, P; Kyle Nash, AG; Steve Smith, BG; Richard Chastain, SG; Tim Connell, Hod; David White, Phu, and David Miller, Hi.

The main social occasion of the year, Founders Day, was celebrated at the historic University Club and proved to be a lively and nostalgic day to remember.

Alabama Alpha was represented January 2 at the Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa, Florida, by Chris Costigan, a Brother who played for the university's football team.

As you can see, we have a growing pride in our Chapter and we're excited to be a part of it.

Arizona Optimism

The spring semester has begun with optimism. Marco Saucedo organized a great spring rush, pledging the largest spring pledge class in two years. The entire Chapter is very proud of Grey Hubler for graduating, and we welcome the return of Joel Davis from his studies in London.

Enthusiasm at Arizona Alpha has created a busy spring schedule. We will be participating in Spring Fling, the largest student-organized carnival in the nation, and the Phi Psi Rootbeer Floats will be on sale again. After that, we are going to Mazatlan for the Phi Psi Spring Break Excursion. In the heat of it all, Joseph Kristofl, in an effort to unite all campus organizations, has put together an outstanding Phi Psi 500. The 500 consists of bed races with greek chapters, clubs, and residence halls, competing to raise money for children at the Ronald McDonald House.

At the university, construction is underway for a new Alumni Building which is located directly across the street from us. Other changes on campus are a new phone-in registration process and the abolishment of fee receipts.

We would like to thank Chapter Advisor Brian Foulk for his untiring efforts. We invite other alumni to attend our alumni association meetings. We would love to hear of our past and strengthen our Brotherhood.

The alumni association meets the first Thursday of every month at J.J. Nickles, 2033 E. Speedway, at 5:30 p.m. For further information contact Brian Foulk at 888-2754 or Tom Rhode, GP, at 792-1852.

Arizona State Glimpses of Greatness

Arizona Beta is springing forward to express its enthusiasm and anticipation for a bright future this semester.

The officers leading this spirit are relentless in their pursuit for an even better Chapter. They consist of Robert Armstrong, GP; Mike Rettus, VGP; Mat Irwin, P; Randy Vos, AG; James Vivier, BG; Scott Hazdra, SG; Keith Lehockey, Hod; Ed Ramsauer, Phu; Dale Lee, Hi.

Founders Day marked Arizona Beta's 25th Anniversary. In celebration of this milestone, we held a reunion and an open house. We unveiled our new Chapter room, the remodeling of the entire house, and we initiated our fall pledge class. These activities could not have taken place without the help from the members of the Arizona Alumni Association.

Those men initiated during Founders Day festivities are Thomas Anderson, Portland, OR; Brad Harris, Irvine, CA; Brad Hoover, Tacoma, WA; Shaun Jensen, Boise, ID; Ryan Keim and Jason Nelson, Scottsdale; Greg Zele and Thomas Kerr, Tucson; Steve Koskela, Phoenix; and James Perse, St. Louis, MO. Thanks to Brothers Robert Parke and Dave Swanson for educating a successful pledge class.

Another area in which Phi Psi at ASU is achieving success is in our rush program. Rush Chairmen Mike Rettus and Rob Armstrong have introduced an excellent informal rush program. This is illustrated by the presence of a dozen quality pledges before formal rush has even begun. A new addition to our Chapter is Ron Paulick, from Illinois Epsilon, who is also helping us immeasurably in the area of rush.

We are also pleased to note two Brothers are spreading the Phi Psi image through campus involvement. Victor Napolitano and Mike Rettus are members of the Greek Relations Board and Greek Activities Review Panel, respectively.

It is true that "success is not measured by what you achieve, but by the obstacles you overcome to achieve the success." This applies not only to people, but to organizations as well. Arizona Beta has overcome the obstacles pushed in front of us and we look forward to more.

Arkansas Ranking With the Best

As the Razorbacks are on their way to a championship season, so are we Phi Psis. A lot of new plans will soon be implemented which we believe will help our Chapter tremendously.

We are again proud of our scholastic standings. Our ranking was first among the fraternities our size and we placed third overall. Recognition goes to Brother Kevin Marks for making the Dean's List with a 4.00 GPA.

You can see from the photograph how well Arkansas Alpha's foundation is looking. We would like to thank our alumni again for their continued contributions. And also, we send a hearty Phi Psi greeting to Mike Day and his parents. The Chapter's thoughts and wishes are with you on your continued improvement.

The Phi Psis are again looking strong in the intramural program. The basketball team has gotten off to a great start, along with the corec team. The bowling squad, which tallied an awesome record last season, will soon be gearing up to brutalize its opponents. Just a note to our alumni—the tradition of the member-pledge football game lives on: Members 50 - Pledges 0.

The new look at Arkansas Alpha as drawn by Ken Voise, Arkansas '79.

The Chapter has had continued success with its social functions. The spring semester has a full schedule of events. The action-packed "Out Of Hibernation" weekend begins March 31, followed by another party April 1-2. This event is our largest fundraiser of the year. All interested alumni and other Chapters are welcome to attend.

The spring rush program has given us a fine pledge class. Brother Mac Pafford and the Fraternity Education committee are doing a great job of molding this class into outstanding young gentlemen.

The spring officers are Jerry Cooper, GP; Brian Magie, VGP; Larry Gaston, AG; Chris Brodin, BG; Kris Clark, P.

We would like to thank Executive Leadership Consultant Ron Richard for his visit with our Chapter. His ideas and suggestions has helped us in many aspects.

Looking Forward

After a long and restful holiday break, the Brothers are involved in another productive and eventful semester. Once again, we have proven our success both academically and athletically. Congratulations are in order for Brother Jeff Auman who is the recipient of the Solon E. Summerfield Award.

Brother Kevin Kennedy's diligent studying paid off when he received our Eric Eddy Scholarship for the underclassman who has improved his grade point average the most.

Campus involvement is one thing that is very important to our Chapter. We are very proud of Brother Chuck Hoffman who was elected IFC President. We would also like to recognize Brother Doug Blosser for being elected public relations representative of the IFC.

When you talk Ohio Theta, you talk participation in varsity athletics. Congratulations to Brother Ken Walczak for getting voted second team All-Heartland Conference offensive tackle. Al Beany, Rick Dicola, Ohio Theta's mascot, Psimon III.

Tony Molchak, Ben Dagley, and Mike Mason are tearing up opponents on the wrestling mat. The graplers are ranked sixth in the nation in division II wrestling. Down at the ballyard, varsity baseball is off to a terrific start. Brother Hochstetler, who is team captain, and Brothers Gast and Barnes, all have started with a bang.

The Brothers showed their dates a great time at our Formal at The Holidome in Bellefontaine, Ohio. Thanks to Brother McKiernan for an excellent job in planning it. Upcoming events include our Alumni Weekend, which is April 9-10, and our Kit Carson Run for Cancer in mid-April. All Phi Psis are encouraged to participate in these very special events.

We would like to welcome back Brother Carl Todhunter to Ohio Theta for his senior year.

New leadership within our Chapter includes Doug Blosser, GP; Jeff Auman, VGP; Dean DePiero, AG; Pete Kott, BG; Tony Molchak, P; Don Zimmerman, SG; Rod Staats, Hod; Chris Near, Phu; and Jeff Halasi, Hi.

Our beloved St. Bernard, Psimon III, is still lively as ever. He is still "The Big Stud on Campus" and is a welcome sight to all.

Beloit

Hard Work and Fun

Wisconsin Gamma begins the new year with many new faces in our Brotherhood. With 11 new initiates, the number of people living in our house has increased by 33%. Everyone is excited about the new members; the house manager is busy helping to redecorate the rooms for the new and returning Brothers. Everyone feels at home by participating in the second semester rush. We start by providing a fun pizza "snarf" and a Superbowl party.

There are many changes within the Beloit College community. North dormitory, which is directly in our back yard, is ready for a complete renovation. It is rumored that some of its new features may include fireplaces and/or hot tubs.

The administration of the college has also been changing. Frank Wong has resigned as vice president of academic affairs. Professor Parker G. Marden from St. Lawrence University in Canton, New York will be taking over the position as dean and vice president of academic affairs.

The leadership of our new officers should help to motivate our academic and social responsibilities as well. Jerome Waller has been re-elected to a second term as GP The other officers are Keith Krugh, VGP; John Dion, P; Joe Kraus, AG; and Charles Warden, BG.

As a note of farewell, we would like to thank the Rockford (IL) Alumni Association for inviting us to their Founders Day Dinner. The times that we share talking about the past and present Fraternity events are always regarded with respect and as a fun learning experience.

Successful

As the spring semester begins, our enthusiasm and hard work has already paid off. At this time, we have 12 quality pledges and rush is only half over.

After rush is completed, we will be having a formal dinner with the university President Paul Olscamp and the top members of Greek Life. They will be speaking to the new pledges on various topics. It will be a very memorable evening for all of us.

The Phi Psi basketball teams are strong contenders and the bowling team is trying to stretch its playoff streak to four years in a row. Fall '87 saw the Phi Psi football and softball teams in playoff positions, but they were unsuccessful in their attempt at winning the championship. However, they did prove that the talent was there and they will be back next fall. Our grades also stayed in the top five for the sixth time in a row.

Brown

Smaller But Strong

Greetings from lovely Providence! Rhode Island Alpha begins the semester sadly diminished by the loss of nine members to graduation and study abroad. Brothers John Good and Joe Salembier graduated in December, while Brothers Rex Chiu, Paul Good, Todd Hoffman, Robert Houser, Scottye Lindsey, Roger Miller and David Zuckerman span the globe in England, Spain, Italy and Denmark, and on the high seas of the Caribbean. In compensation, however, we unexpectedly welcome long-lost former GP Hadrian Alegarbes, returning to Brown from adventures in Florida and the Philippines. We also welcomed a visit of another sort as our neighboring Brothers from Rhode Island Beta vastly enlivened our last party.

House improvements continue, including the refurbishment of an elegant pool table scavenged from the university, and the acquisition of yet another new room for our Chapter house. Brown Phi Psis were also active in working to improve the Providence community, collecting food for local charity and clothing for the Salvation Army.

As team captain, Brother Andy Coon led the Brown water polo team to first place in the East, topping traditional rival Navy to earn Brown seventh place in the nation. Coon was not only chosen MVP but was selected as an All-American as well.

We are proud to have recently initiated 21 men into the Chapter: Steve Baldikoski, Thaddeus Barney, Richard Cohen, Jon Davis, Brian Dennis, Andrew Diggdon, Ranah Edelin, Charles Ellwein, Bill Kelly, Hany Khalil, Stephen Kim, Mark Marinello, Jon Nelson, Sven Newmann, Rob Nixon, John Rountree, Stefan Saxanoff, Tige Silliman, Jonathan Steinberg, Greg Stiller, and Justin Traxler were initiated into the mysteries of Phi Kappa Psi on November 22. Congratulations to them and to our new officers for this semester: Chris Masto, GP; John Meisell, VGP; Tige Silliman, P; Jeffrey Lefstin, AG; Ray Winnick, BG; Mark Marinello, SG; Greg Stiller, Phu; Jon Steinberg, Hod; and Dioni Romero, Hi.

Butler Onward

Greetings from Indy! A number of exciting events approach to keep us continuously on the move. The most imminent is the Student Assembly Ski Weekend in Devil's Head, Wisconsin. Fifteen Phi Psis will hit the slopes in one of the most popular events of the year. In addition, we hope to continue our success in Spring Sing with the women of Delta Gamma. We would love to make it two wins in a row as we did in Geneva Stunts last fall.

The notable exception is our annual Phi Psi 500. It will take place on Saturday, April 16, and will be as exciting as last year. Brother Eric Straten is already hard at work preparing the greatest race at Butler. Our academic achievement was notable last semester. We increased our GPA and remained above the all men average.

California, Berkeley Active Brothers

Greetings once again from Cal! This semester began a little cooler than usual—a few people were seen wearing shirts to class. However, we soon hope to be using our roofdeck when the sun really breaks out.

As last semester settled down, numerous Brothers became active in the community. In the political arena, Ken Martin is student body senator, and Michael Freeman has created the Students For Simon organization on campus which supports the presidential candidate, not the singer. Brian Liu and Jon Yager can be heard over the airwaves on KALX. Athletics are keeping the Chapter busy with Brothers on the varsity squash, ski, cross country, and Tae Kwan Do teams. Kevin Stefanek and Gary Petersen may have the opportunity to compete in Tae Kwan Do in the upcoming Olympics. Finally, Andy Velline and Evan Kitahara are busy teaching classes on our campus.

Social life at Cal Gamma is booming. We plan to go far with our program of invitationals this semester beginning with the Stock Exchange where there are many exclusive mergers to be made. Then we have our annual weekend ski trip planned for Tahoe. Finally, with a couple of guitars and a harmonica, our sorority raids will be very successful.

The results of last semester's grades are in, and we are excited that our pledge class earned the top IFC rank for grades with a combined GPA of 3.65.

This summer we will intensively pursue the purchasing of our Chapter house, a project initiated by our Bounce-A-Thon from Cal to Stanford last November. Anyone wishing to inquire about this project may write or visit us at 2430 Piedmont Avenue anytime of the year.

California, Davis Forging Ahead

We at Cal lota started the new year off right by traveling down to beautiful Watsonville-by-the-bay January 8-9 to initiate last fall's Poseidon pledge class. Our new Brothers are Rex Adams, Bob Dowling, Phil Osterli, Steve Stechschulte, and Mark Wong.

Our annual alumni/active winter/Founders Day formal took place the night of February 20 at His Lordship's on the Berkeley marina. It was a very memorable evening, and we were very pleased to see so many alumni in attendance. Our efforts to establish an alumni association and housing corporation are continuing with the help of alumni Brothers Winckowski and Cuyugan. A task force has been set up to investigate alternative housing options to our present location.

Upcoming events include exchanges with Kappa and Chi Omega sororities, and plans for a house ski trip are in the works. Our 5'10"-and-under intramural basketball team is doing well, and the floor hockey team remains undefeated. Picnic Day and Greek Week also loom on the horizon.

UCLA

Continuing Excellence

Spring quarter at UCLA was the perfect conclusion to another tremendous year at Phi Kappa Psi. After rush, we started with our annual trip to Baja, Mexico, to enjoy sun and surf before we really hit the books. Then in late April, we enjoyed a wonderful Spring Formal at Catalina Island while the weather in sunny Southern California remained incredible. Between studies we also managed to squeeze in a waterski trip to Lake Mead in Arizona.

Social activities are definitely not all that go on at California Epsilon. Besides operating a booth at the UCLA Mardi Gras to raise money for Unicamp, the "Rage" raised nearly $2000 for charity. Also in intramural sports, many Brothers participated in the defense of the IFC trophy which we won last year. Finally, a newsletter has been started to maintain better communication between the undergraduates and the alumni of California Epsilon.

In the midst of all the activity, we still find time to pursue scholastic endeavors. Brother Chip McLean was accepted to Stanford Law School, and Brother Brad Pinkerton is returning after a year of study in Ireland. Brother Steve Marble is still anticipating his acceptance into medical school to pursue a career in urology. Brother Mike Kibort continues his success as a member of the UCLA speech team.

As we wind down this great year at Phi Kappa Psi, it is sad to see the seniors leaving to accomplish their goals in life, but it is great to see so many young faces to continue the excellence at California Epsilon.

California Poly Like No Other

Winter quarter at Cal Eta looks like none other, and we are taking full advantage of every minute. The shorts and bare feet are traditional January garb, and the sun has been very generous. Utilizing this great weather is important, and the house now has an expanded patio, refurbished entertaining area, and a practice green on the front porch. Scholarship is always important and our efforts were recently rewarded with the third-highest GPA on campus. We didn't even try.

Effort is warranted in some activities, though. Phi Psi participates in the campus escort service, and this has made Brother Cook a very popular guy around the house. Another strong showing was made during the canned food drive.

Cal Eta's enthusiasm has been simply phenomenal. Part of it comes from our athletic vitality. Our football team made it to the playoffs, only to be dealt a losing card in the closing seconds of the game. The soccer team revelled in similar success. Always ready to try new things, we have several Brothers gearing up for a race in the relatively new sport of mountain biking. Brother Forenza, our social chairman, has planned a ski trip, a golf tourney, the Phi Psi 500, and tentatively, a Parents' Weekend. The sororities that beat down our doors should take up the interim periods with no problems at all.

The 43rd National Pledge Class is enjoying the glories of Brotherhood now. The new brothers include Shawn Allison, Elk Grove; Ron Altbaum, Studio City; Adam Francois, Pleasant Hill; Zac Innocenti and Larry McDonough, Walnut Creek; Chris Machorek, Yuba City; Mark Nakamura, Yuba City; and Rick Porterfield, Moraga.

We started the quarter trying to recover from the loss of Brother Andy Wacht. He lost a long, brave battle with cancer on the evening of December 16 at age 22. Andy was a Brother for three years, after transferring from Cal Zeta. His last wish was for someone to become the engineer that he would never become. A scholarship fund has been set up for this purpose. It will be an annual award to a needy Cal Eta engineering student. Donations are needed and greatly appreciated in our effort to fulfill Andy's last wish. Checks can be made payable to Cal Poly Foundation and mailed to his mother, Sandra Wacht, 6935 Langden Ave., Van Nuys, CA 91406.

Cal State-Northridge The Full Chill Out

Already the accomplishments of this semester at Cal Theta are numerous. Among them are new furniture, a new sink, and repainting of the interior of the house. We also put the finishing touches on the relandscaping project in the backyard—we bagged the leaves.

Preparations have already begun for the next Phi Psi 500. We have contacted various sponsors including Kodak and Zeltzer Seltzer. In campus activities, Brother Wedburg is now a member of the Intramurals Appeals Board, and Brother Burk has recently been appointed to the IFC Justice Council.

Cal Theta had continued success on the sport scene at CSUN with a strong showing on the soccer field which included a thrilling overtime victory against ZBT. We are looking forward to another dominating season of softball and basketball.

In preparing for spring rush, the Brothers traveled to Hollywood Beach in Oxnard. A swell time was had by all and rush preparations were completed.

Other fun Cal Theta winter break activities included a trip to Mammoth Mountain, where many members chilled out by skiing and relaxing after finals. All of us got ready to rush a strong spring pledge class to be led by Brothers Hirsh and Dunks. Also, the Spring Formal is highly anticipated by the whole Chapter. Special thanks go to alumni Brother Rick Palzer, who helped with the Oxnard trip. Beauty job, Unc!

Case Western Reserve Starting Anew

In the fall semester, the following Brothers achieved success in academics by earning a place on the Dean's List: Jeff Crist, Michael Nakagawa, Marc Schneider, Todd Spangler, and John Zoldak. Through the combined efforts of everyone in the Chapter, we earned the fifth highest GPA on campus: 2.962.

The campus underwent many changes this year. Last fall CWRU inaugurated a new President, Dr. Agnar Pytte. Also, the Weatherhead School of Management is scheduled for completion this spring. The IFC recently made a change in the rules regarding rushing. All formal rush parties will now be dry. In addition, the IFC now requires that the president of each chapter on campus must attend IFC meetings.

Last fall, we sponsored a balloon launch service project with profits going to Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital. The Chapter volleyball team also took second place in intramurals through the leadership of Brother Todd Spangler.

In February, we had a Founders Day celebration with area alumni. We also had a ski trip/rush event at Holiday Valley Ski Resort, New York.

We have many graduating seniors that have given much to our chapter. Because of their graduation, we will be left with a very small membership next fall. We are also reorganizing and would like to hear any input that you might have. Please contact Brother Rob Zakon at (216) 368-3146.

Chicago New House

Ever since our rechartering in 1985, we Betans have been searching for a suitable house we can call our very own. Now, after a tremendous amount of work by John Fulton, Steve Nieslawski, Chris Godziela and other Chicago area alumni, that house has been found and negotiations almost completed. The house itself is ideally located, and was the first Illinois Beta Chapter home back in the 1920's. Although we're greatly excited at the prospect of being on campus again, there is still some major work to be done regarding financing, and we are looking at every possible fund raising idea available. If any of you have suggestions, we'd be happy to hear from you.

For the third consecutive year, we have published our calendar The Women of the U. of C. Vastly improved over previous years, it sports full color photography and some of the best U of C women.

At least once a quarter, our Chapter hosts an area blues band, and this spring we are proud to present the renowned Chicago blues musician Lefty Diz. We are known for our blues parties, and the bands just love playing in our basement. Also this spring, we are planning the annual Phi Psi Charity Trike Race. All proceeds go to the Ronald McDonald House.

The Chapter would like to welcome back Brother Kaufman who spent the fall semester at the London School of Economics. We all greatly appreciated the London subway souvenirs.

Naturally, the prospect of acquiring a new house has created a high level of enthusiasm in our Chapter, and we hope to share that enthusiasm with our alumni.

Colorado Reorganized

The highpoint of this semester thus far for Colorado Alpha was our initiation. The Ritual took place on January 23 at the First Christian Church of Boulder, followed by a reception at the Clarion Hotel.

Most of our time has been spent planning for rush. It began January 30 with an open rush party followed by a Superbowl party on January 31. Preference was held on February 3. Our goal was to increase our membership by at least 20 men.

After rush we had several events planned for the spring. On February 20, we celebrated Founders Day with the Rocky Mountain Alumni Association. The evening began with dinner and then we all went dancing. All in attendance (nearly 100) had a great time. The following Saturday, the Chapter had a "Down Under" party at the Boulder Valley Ranch. Wearing our best outback clothing we danced and partied well into the night. We spent the weekend of March 4-6 on a "Spring Break Boot Camp Retreat," a great weekend of Brotherhood. The largest event of the semester is going to be the first Phi Psi 500 to take place at the University of Colorado.

We would like to thank the following alumni who attended our initiation: Dave Castro, John Jordan, Mark Scherer, Tom Braun, Jack Morrow, Ted Bryant, James Hudson Jr., and James Hudson III. Our thanks to John Jordan, who will continue to serve as Chapter advisor.

Officers of Colorado Alpha are Chaz Vaughn, GP; Karl Dunkel, VGP; Mark Stevens, AG; David Cunningham, BG; Tom Jenkins, SG; Bill George, Hod; Kent Lansville, Phu; and Andy Bauer, Hi.

Tales From Gotham

Greetings from New York Gamma! Our members have had both a productive and fun break. Brother Andrew Marlowe spent January interning for the American Planning Institute's Public Information Office in Washington, D.C., while Brother Karl H. Ottersberg received a fellowship with the Art Students League of New York City. Brother Jack Lifford began working for Michael Dukakis' campaign, and our newly elected president, Raymond Garcia, had the honor of having his paper, "The Labtop Macintosh in an Experimental Setting," published in The Journal of Experimental Psychology. The Chapter also welcomed the return of Brother Andrew Rotman from his semester abroad in India, where he studied Hindu and Buddhist Religion.

In the field of athletics, several Brothers did not let Columbia's dismal performance on the gridiron deter them from enjoying some good honest college football. Brother Murabito joined Brother Hall Morrison in New Orleans to root for Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl, and Brother Steve Silverstein travelled to Miami to watch the Hurricanes triumph in the Orange Bowl.

The Brothers and pledges returned early from vacation to conduct a rush retreat. The workshops on meeting prospective pledges, making a rush calendar, and the general goal setting discussion were motivational and succeeded in drawing us all closer together. Special thanks goes to Brother Marlowe for the time and effort he put into coordinating the retreat.

Our volleyball team, led by Brother Arthur "Spike" Burns, compiled a winning record and our indoor soccer team is quite competitive in the fraternity division. We will be led by our stalwart defense consisting of Hall "Mercury" Morrison, Bob "I'll take 'em as I get 'em" Cleary, and Venerando "If you can't stop 'em, hurt 'em" Seguritan.

Finally, the Chapter offers its hearty congratulations to Brother Matthew Murabito for his early acceptance to Harvard Law School.

Continued Growth

The Brothers of New York Alpha, currently enthusiastic about the series of successes which have been coming our way, send greetings to all. Special greetings to our alumni. We welcome you to come and visit our growing and improving abode. House improvements currently underway include painting walls, renovating the social room, completing our television room, and adding a beautiful new stereo TV which arrived just in time for Superbowl Sunday. With these improvements, our house is a place where we can grow in uninhibited enthusiasm.

As the school year continues, New York Alpha's defense of our intramural All Sports Championship hangs on a tenuous edge. Despite a slow start, under the leadership of Athletic Chairman Steve LaBows and early successes in winter sports, we now stand in a position to make a run at the title. To do this we will need to earn repeat performances of last year in the spring sports, which tend to be some of our strongest, if we hope to retain the title.

Additional successes came our way through rush in which Tim Wern, GP and former rush chairman. We rushed many outstanding young men and ended in giving out 32 bids. We anticipate a strong class to emerge from these rushees under the direction of Fraternity Educator John Crosby. This will only help to bolster the growth and enthusiasm occurring at New York Alpha.

New Spirit

For Nebraska Beta, the semester is beginning under a new light. For the first time, a completely dry rush was instituted by the IFC last year for this spring's rush period. Rather than quibble about the alcohol-free rush, Phi Psi adapted. With the ever-resourceful Paul Dedinsky as rush chairman, an attractive and creative program was produced to expose the best of Phi Psi to freshmen and ultimately to produce an outstanding pledge class.

Phi Psi continues to be strong in the area of community service. Last year, with Brother Bill Maloney presiding as chairman, Phi Psi took part in one of Omaha's largest clean-up projects to date. Also, a visit to Omaha area nursing homes proved to be an enriching experience for residents and Brothers alike. This semester holds many more projects for the Omaha community, including a chili cook-off for orphaned children.

1987 brought Phi Psi into the realm of athletic greatness. For starters, the Phi Psi I's softball team were the all-university champions. In football, the Phi Psi I's and III's both were in the top five, while the Phi Psi alumni team won the all-university championship. Our basketball team looks good, too.

In February, Brother Matt Merz organized another Parents' Weekend. Under Social Chairman Mitch Sellett, an exciting semester is to be expected. Phi Psi's biggest party of the year, Formal, is scheduled for April at the Red Lion Inn.

1987 was a good year for Nebraska Beta. Brother Bruce Houghton was recognized by the Chapter as Brother of the Year for his dedication to Phi Psi and exemplification of Brotherhood.

Our officers are Chris Marcuzzo, GP; Bill Jacobson, VGP; Paul Shotoski, P; Jon Brunkhorst, BG; Bob Keearns, Phu; Pete Stuneck, BG; Paul Petersen, Hod; Chris Hodes, Hi.

Delaware

Anticipation

The Delaware Alphas face this busy spring with a great deal of enthusiasm. If Brothers Adam Golden and Doug Frampton succeed in keeping our tradition of a strong spring pledge class, our numbers will be everincreasing.

The realization that we may be very close to obtaining a permanent Chapter house has motivated the Brothers and has given us a new sense of optimism. The housing corporation is working out many details, and we hope to have the house by summer.

Our involvement on campus has been steadily increasing as we try to make another strong showing during Greek Game. In addition, A.J. Garito is serving his second semester as IFC Secretary and Jack Jaeger remains the vice-president of Delaware's Student Congress.

Other activities include a Founders Day celebration, Spring Formal, Brotherhood Retreat, theme parties, and our second annual Phi Psi 500.

Aura of Optimism

An aura of optimism permeated the campus as the Brothers of the Penn Zeta Chapter reappeared for a new semester. Rejoining the ranks after undertaking international studies in Switzerland is Andrei Torriani. Embarking on his own journey, Robert Jackacki has departed for England to study politics and economics. Adding to the Chapter's solid academic standing, James Gerard received a 3.8 GPA while also being inducted into the History Honor Society. We also climbed another notch in academic position among the other fraternities at Dickinson.

The Brothers are maintaining their fervent interest in campus activities this semester. In the East Asian Club, Chuck Silverman holds the office of president, while Steve Bopp carries out the duties of secretary. Scott Mackey has been elected vice president of Student Alumni Society and Karl Kapp has been named co-chairman of Alumni Weekend. Contributing to the athletic clubs, Jim Haigh has assumed the office of president of the cycling club while Patrick Kane is engaged as president of the boxing club. Further enhancing Phi Kappa Psi's presence on the Dickinson campus is the new Geo/Psych building which was dedicated to Chapter alumnus, Benjamin James.

Penn Zeta's varsity athletic participation encompasses swimming, baseball, track, and golf. In swimming, our electrifying Bo Hoppin is aspiring to qualify for nationals a second time. On the golf scene, Todd Kramer, after just missing nationals as a freshman is looking forward to a triumphant season. The Chapter also continues to maintain its prowess in intramural basketball, swimming, indoor soccer, and coed twister.

With anxious anticipation of affiliation day, elaborate plans have already been instituted. For instance, through relinquishing dining privileges on affiliation day, the Chapter receives funds which will be donated to a national charity in the Carlisle community.

Our newly-elected officers are Paul Bobeczko, GP; David Barlyn, VGP; Thomas Lavoie, P; Scott J. Bankert and Stephen Hussey, AG's; Jim Haigh, BG; Gavin Corn, SG; Darren Hawley, Hi. Sixteen seeds have been planted with confidence for a bountiful harvest. The pledge class for this semester includes Dave Hughes, Doug Zeillier, Brad Mower, Gris Batchelder, Dave Lange, Tim McGlian, John Scandola, Ted Pavalick, Tony Stanton, Ron Friss, Tom Binckley, Todd Nemora, Todd Fishburne, John Ficca, Bill Rush, and Sandy Sommer.

Enjoying Gothic Disneyland

As spring begins to warm the North Carolina air and activities move outside, NC Alpha has been very busy. Brothers Schoeben, Monks, Berkman and Brown have returned from studying country club management in England and we are looking forward to Brothers Kahn and Chesney's impending return to active status. Brother Drozd's head continued to swell with knowledge as he became president of Tau Beta Pi honor society.

We have hit the community volunteer trail with a vengeance. Brother Habib is a director of Durham Volunteers for Youth, while Van Fowler shows slide shows of his trip to Brazil to solicit much-needed medical aid. Judd Feldman is organizing groups to winterize houses for the Durham needy.

Despite Brother Wilty's leaving the team, the Duke Varsity basketball squad is having an excellent season. Ron "Meat" Koztrebski, Chris Hoyt and pledge Keith Girvan are varsity wrestlers, while Brother Levinsohn continues leading the baseball team. Our intramural basketball team is undefeated and headed into the play-offs as number one.

Our alumni affairs have improved greatly under a concerted effort of our new officers. Our first newsletter, mailed to over 900 NC Alpha alumni, has already received much response. It is good to get this vital channel of communication open. With these improved relations and in light of the RSVPs pouring in, our Founders Day celebration promises to be the best-attended in years.

Our new officers have been sworn in. They are Derek Price, GP; Chris Dryden, VGP; Tim Buzby, P; Jim Tobin, AG; Bill Herbert, BG; Steve Holliday, SG; Josh Habib, Hod; Scott Adler, Phu; Jim Williams, Hi.

Our pledge class is learning the Phi Psi ways well under the guidance of Fraternity Educator Mark Sanchez. The pledges are Craig Bicknell, Albuquerque, NM; Doug Calahan, Ft. Lauderdale, FL; legacy Ted Flinter, Manhasset, NY; Alan Friedman, New City, NY; Jim Garstka, Mountain Lakes, NJ; Miles Gibbons, Mechanicsburg, PA; Keith Girvan, Shippenville, PA; Chuck Goorah, Orchard Park, NY; Jorge Kotelanski, Bethesda, MD; Tim Mank and Dave McAtee, Dallas, TX; Boyd Martin, Franklin; Ted Mulvaney, Charlotte; Rob Patton, Salem, OR; Nat Pieper, Tampa, FL; Dan Shore, Hopkinton, MA; Pete Troob, Scarsdale, NY; legacy Dave Williams, Birmingham, MI; and Kip Zahn, Phoenix, AZ.

Eastern New Mexico We're Back!

As spring has sprung, our thoughts turn to the grades we'll be working for during the semester. "A" for algebra, algae in the fountain, and academics in general. Biology, business, and bikini's are the "B" that will keep us busy. "C" prompts both concentration and consequence if not corrected.

Spring brings Phandango, our annual fundraiser, which is held in April. We also planned a Phi Psi Phizz in March. Proceeds from both events will go to charity.

We're one week into basketball intramurals and bowling started Saturday. We are looking forward to spring intramurals and Greek Week in late March.

Another upcoming event includes the leadership-academic retreat.

Edinboro

Alive And Well

Greetings from the silent but ever-living, ever-striving Edinboro. Fall semester was very busy for Pen Xi, but proved rewarding and satisfying for the entire Brotherhood. We have undertaken a series of projects combining fundraising with campus unity. We've sponsored Halloween and Valentines Live Band/D.J. dances, ran refrigerator distributions on campus, participated in Edinboro Alumni Phone-A-Thon, and we held numerous mixers.

We would like to thank our alumni for their support during the past year, and we encourage all alumni to return to visit the Chapter, meet the new Brothers, and reminisce with the old. Lost to graduation this past year are Brian Boyce and Jim Morris, whose friendship, guidance, and experience will be greatly missed.

The annual Super Bowl rush event took place at the Holiday Inn-Edinboro where we have a room, sauna, pool, and balcony at our disposal. Greek Week takes place in April.

In December, we welcomed three new Brothers into the Fraternity: Jeff Moon, Volant; Casey Gray, Warren; Tom Nagey, Perryopolis. These men learned about Brotherhood under the guidance of Fraternity Educators Joe Walsh and Steve Shepstone. We also have nine pledges: Derek Miller, Erie; Mark Barzon, Bridgeville; Tim Boyd, Seneca; Mark Waugaman, Pittsburgh; Jim Berdis, Erie; Denny Vasil, Pittsburgh; Todd Hogan, Westerville, OH; Jim Perry, Greenville; and Pete Calogero, Gallaten, TN.

Penn Xi is also proud to announce its Chapter officers: Dan Piskor, GP; Dan Stephan, VGP; Brian Burger, P; Kurt Johnson, AG; Mark Barzan, BG; Steve Shepstone, SG; Jeff Phenicie, Hod; Tom Nagey, Phu; and Joe Walsh, Hi.

Florida

Coming on Strong

Spring has come again to Florida Beta, bringing with it an active semester. Our Interfraternity Council planned Greek Week for March 14-18. Brother Alfred Bermudez has prepared a car for the soap box derby which should assure us a victory.

Florida Betans are active on campus and in the community. We are participating in the Guardian Ad Litem program in which Brothers are appointed a child by the court and are asked to make recommendations to the court after getting to know the child's case and background. In addition, Brother Mark Segel is again president of the Board of College Councils on our campus.

Here at UF, Phi Psis are taking the athletic scene by storm, participating in basketball with Brother Will Crook as captain. We won our first game against Sigma Pi, 43-22. Also, we are participating in racquetball under the direction of Brother Dana Bloch.

Our Founders Day celebration was held at the Holiday Inn February 19-21. On Friday night we held a party for Brothers and alumni to reminisce. Saturday, we held our traditional alumni/undergrad football game. Later that evening was the dance and banquet. Sunday we held a brunch at the house to bid our guests farewell. The cost was $60 per couple and all who attended had a great time.

The Chapter wishes to extend special thanks to Brother Christopher McQuigg and the Southwest Plantation Alumni Association for their continued support and help in paying off our outstanding loan.

Lastly, we have excellent guidance for the current semester with our new officers: Mark Segel, GP; Darren Grove, VGP; Virgil Morar, P; Charles Thomas, AG; Paul Ghougasian, BG; John Tracey, SG; Sean Thoennes, Hi; Robert Kinports, Hod; and Coleman Patterson, Phu. We had a very productive spring rush by pledging three fine men: Nicholas Baric, Largo; Mark Dillman, Pensacola; and Kevin Hagen, North Miamia Beach.

Spring rush was generous to us with 28 new pledges. The Chapter is currently in the last semester of its rental agreement, and is anticipating acquiring a permanent location from which we can grow and prosper. Any help or support is welcome. For information, call GP Jeff Edmunds at (904) 599-0991 or contact Peter Kellogg, house corporation president, at (904) 353-8333. Finding a permanent location is a large task, but it is one that the Brothers of Florida Alpha are ready to take on to see the continued success of our Chapter.

Looking back on the fall of 1987, our participation in university activities helped to enhance our reputation. Our first-ever soccer team was one of four out of 25 fraternities to make it to the playoffs, and we placed third overall. In the Delta Gamma Anchor Splash, we placed first in the banner competition thanks to resident artist Jim "Spool" Sager, third place in swimming, and third place overall. This spring, two of our Brothers, Kevin Bolena and James Forgan, are exchange students in London. We congratulate the fall pledge class on their initiation into the Brotherhood. The new initiates are James Anstead, Damon Bolena, Matt Carrier, Scott Cielo, Rick Copenhaver, Jon Epstein, Glen Evelyn, Brian Forrester, John Gautier, Glen Goodman, Bruce Greenstein, Matt Hemphill, Graham Howerton, Mark Jarrells, Daryl Lyon, William Pearce, Rick Phillips, Phil Rasmussen, Jay Rust, Eric Sternberg, Jeff Stockhausen, David Teske, Nick Tomc, Anthony Viciana, Dutch Williams, Tate Williams, and Ken Wood.

In the interest of space, we would like to express our appreciation to the following Chapters and alumni: Florida Beta, Louisiana Alpha, Nebraska Alpha; Sam Ashdown, Bob Foss, Peter Kellogg, and Jere Moore.

Franklin and Marshall Extraordinary Success

"Blizzard" might be the most accurate description of Penn Eta's impact on campus lately. In one year the size of our Chapter increased by 167%. But most importantly, the quality of our Brotherhood has increased as well.

Our campus activities are many and varied. James Iatridis has decided to row crew again. Also, Todd Reichart is a member of the crew team, George Meiler is on the swim team, and Tom Brooks is a member of the basketball team. In academic competition, this year's Phi Psi College Bowl team consisted of Al Blutstein, Jon Blyth, Ted Brandi, and Pete Landau. Musically, Chris Roemmele is president of the choir, and Scott Spellman plays the drums for a very popular local band. In addition, Mike Siegel is a resident assistant, and Rich Hagendorf is the purchasing agent for Hillel.

As many of you know, three years ago, the Board of Trustees at Franklin and Marshall had asked the greek system to undergo a series of reforms. This year, the trustees will review the progress that has been made by the fraternities and sororities, and in June they will decide whether or not the greek system will continue to be recognized at Franklin and Marshall.

Last fall, Pen Eta was very fortunate to initiate eight new Brothers: Thomas E. Brooks, Berwyn; John T. Cotter Jr., Montvale, NJ; Mark R. Grace, Selden, NY; Matthew C. Imhoff, Baltimore, MD; David W. Janeway, Seattle, WA; James T. Morgan III, Fleetwood; Todd M. Reichart, Hanover; and Michael A. Siegel, Baltimore, MD.

We also wish to congratulate our new officers for this semester: Jonathan Blyth, GP; Patrick Burke, VGP; Peter Landau, P; Paul Mantell, AG; David Briss, BG; John Quakenbush, SG; Christopher Roemmele, Hod; Peter vanTwuyver, Phu; James Iatridis, Hi; William Hughes, senior IFC representative; and John Porges, junior IFC representative.

Finally, we express our deepest thanks to John Ganovsky and Robert Barrish for the tremendous job they did with rush this year. They undertook a task that no one wanted and succeeded at it like no one could.

Gettysburg

Spirits Are Shining

We started the new semester with great pride and sense of strength. Our Chapter was again one of the leaders in academics among Gettysburg's 12 fraternities. We have Brothers in five academic honor societies. Three Brothers qualified to study abroad: Kevin McGuire and Dan Kuhlthau have been studying in London, and Marc Buckley in France.

Our Brothers continue to be involved on campus. Brothers and pledges can be found in 10 varsity sports. J.P. Hendricks is captain of the track team, and Dave Galassi is captain of the swim team. We have also enjoyed success in intramurals and in "in-house" events under athletic chairman Donald Reeser. There are Phi Psis in 12 different campus organizations, including Student Senate President Jeffrey Blavatt and IFC officers: Mike Courts, Jason Blavatt, Jon Bloom.

Under our philanthropy chairmen Matt

Yeingst and Jason Blavatt, we are confident that our eagerly-awaited annual Spaghetti Dinner for charity later this semester will be successful again.

The support and enthusiasm of our alumni continues to be one of our most valued assets. Our strong alumni relations have made our Founders Day and Alumni Weekend events great successes. We always encourage our alumni to visit!

Our leaders this semester were: Michael Pitt, GP; Christopher Broking, VGP; Christopher Gaudio, AG; Timothy Mikuta, BG; Paul Allen, P.

We also have a fine pledge class under Fraternity Educator Arthur Kelly which offers Penn Epsilon a bright future. Illinois Expanding Frontiers

As we look back on our fall semester, we can take satisfaction in a job well done. Among our many achievements, we are particularly proud of a combined grade point average of 3.99 which places us in the top 10 on campus. Brother Tim Kenny is among those who are perpetuating our academic prowess as he studies in London.

In the IFC, Brad Schaeffer continues his progress as he chairs both the junior IFC and Informal Rush Committee. As always, Mark Filip is fulfilling his obligations to the Chapter as the president of the National Student Government Association and was an excellent representative of Phi Kappa Psi during his recent meeting in Washington with Soviet Premier Gorbachev. James Cole Jr. is also leading the way in both SGA and as president of the 20,000-member Phi Beta Lambda national business fraternity. Topping off our semester of involvement was our first-ever Homecoming float which won first place for creativity.

Socially, our annual Give Me Samoa party was its usual success due to both the perseverance of the Chapter and the responsibility of its members. Philanthropically, our fall events included Pork Day and the Christmas party for underprivileged children. In the spring we've scheduled the bike race and blood drive. We have added to our agenda a Cardiac Kidnap with Mike Gilmartin as chairman, and an alumni telethon which we believe will raise much money for the Chapter.

At present Illinois Delta can boast of a group of talented and farsighted officers. They are Ted Axotis, GP; Todd Borchardt, VGP; Anthony Troyke, EVGP; Casey Green, P; Brad Schaeffer, AG; Jose Gonzalez, BG; Dominic Tunzi, SG; Kevin Dorken, Hod; Steve Brown, Phu; Joe Dalesandro, Hi; Mike DeGiulio, House Manager; Dan Madigan, Informal Rush; Ian Drury, Formal Rush; Pedro Otero, Female Liaison; Anthony LaMantia, Pledge Educator.

Illinois State Moving Forward

As the cold winds blow across the campus of Illinois State a flame burns in the heart of the Illinois Epsilon Chapter. With Brotherhood as our goal and the Phi Psi ideals to guide us, we put our best foot forward to greet the new semester.

Last semester provided us with many fond memories. Receiving the highest GPA on campus made the hours of studying worthwhile. The highlight of fall semester was a Brotherhood event organized by Rob Ledin, Hi. We spent a weekend camping at nearby Lake Evergreen. Activities included playing football, cooking hot dogs, roasting marshmallows, and chatting by the fire. It was truly a great experience and we plan on making it an annual event. Congratulations to Brother Rich Flies who was elected to the IFC executive board as public relations director.

Our spring semester is also filled with many important events for our Brotherhood. We begin with our Formal, which was held in Springfield, on February 27. Then we celebrated our Chapter's third birthday on March 2. We would like to wish all of our founding fathers a happy birthday. Our fourth annual Phi Psi 500 fell on April 9. With the cooperation and sweat of our members, we expect to continue our trend of increasing our donations each year to the Arthritis Foundation.

We would like to send out special greetings to Brother Ron Paulick who has transferred to sunny Arizona Beta.

Officers for spring semester were Troy Simpson, GP; Tom Wurtz, VGP; Kent Erickson, P; Dean Allen Hunt, AG; Tim Nuding, BG; S. Craig Leischner, SG; Phil Westland, Hod; Steve Bahlmann, Phu; and Clifford Duncan Clark, Hi.

We would also like to welcome our new Brothers Jay Geiger, Orland Park; Dave Howard and Wayne Dixon, McHenry; Mark Klein, Savanah; Scott Ronnebeck, East Moline; Scott Bowman, Crystal Lake; Tim Schurman, Greenview; Jerry O'Connor, Burr Ridge; Bill Seddon, Rokford; Tim Curtain, Peoria; Tony Duddleston, Darien; Scott Andrew, Wheaton; and Frank Russo, Glen Ellyn.

Indiana Spring Fever

After a four-week Christmas vacation, the Brothers of Indiana Beta were ready to begin another successful spring semester. One of the highlights was the annual Parents' Weekend held February 19-20. Through the hard work of Brother Erik Mark, the event was quite a success. On February 19, the Brothers and their parents attended the annual I.U. Sing where we were paired with the women of Chi Omega. The next day everyone converged on the Chapter house for a beautiful dinner, a little conversation, and a lot of dancing.

To start a new tradition, the first annual Spring Formal was held February 12 in the Chapter house. It was a great chance for the Brothers to interact with various campus administrators and student leaders.

To help keep up the recent trend of Indiana Betans being strongly represented on the IFC Executive Board, Craig Takaoka was elected vice president of rush. Starting this summer, Dan O'Rourke will become one of the Educational Leadership Consultants for Phi Psi.

To start another tradition, 1987 fall pledge class was the first pledge class to be initiated in the new second story chapel. The day after the February 26 initiation, the Brothers and their dates celebrated in the Cincinnati Clarion Hotel with the annual Spring Initiation Dance.

In conclusion, we would like to welcome the new Brothers of Indiana Beta: Brad Schechtman, Dan Johnson, Tony Montesano, Tom Bennett, Chris Laychak, Peter Landgraff, Mick Mitchell, John Charters, Steve Baker, Steve Lobaugh, legacy Scott Button, Brad Serf, Jim Kaese, legacy Tim Canady, Scott Cresto, Rob Fick, Eric Boelter, Dave Lowe, Rob Russell, Mark Heiman, and Darin Mylet.

Indiana, Pennsylvania Super Semester

Hello from IUP. Our spring semester is off to a great start. Under the direction of rush Chairman Jerry Reznick and Social Chairman Hank Readshaw, we are having a very successful spring rush. They are holding activities ranging from a cookout to "A Night at the Races." Along with several mixers, everyone is having a great time.

On February 2 we held our annual Super Dance marathon under the direction of Sam Mariskanish. The dance will last six hours and all money raised will benefit the Leukemia Society.

One of our biggest events of the semester will be our Spring Formal in Latrobe. Organizing the event are Bruce Dibert and Robert Patrick who promise to make this bigger and better than past formals. They are planning a dinner and entertainment including a D.J. and a band.

A Malaysian Farewell

Not many Chapters have the golden opportunity to initiate a Malaysian citizen. Ibrahim Asry is a charter member of the Indiana Eta Chapter. At Brother Asry's last Chapter meeting, he departed by saying, "I may not be able to colonize a Malaysian Alpha Chapter, but Phi Psi will always remain in my heart." Brother Asry boarded his plane on January 20 to return home. Due to his leadership and kindheartedness, we have created an award in his name, and future recipients must exemplify leadership, scholarship, and a kindhearted nature.

January was full of other surprises. We moved up four places in overall fraternity GPA to third place. The Salvation Army presented us with the Outstanding Bell Ringers Award for helping the needy at a nearby grocery store. We also wrapped up an entire semester of helping an elementary school chess club. We taught them how to play chess so they could try their skills at the tournaments.

A new dry rush policy is in effect. The new policy prohibits alcohol at a rush function during the first two weeks of rush. To enforce these rules, two members of each fraternity on campus were chosen to patrol each rush site. The new policy worked very well and ought to help immensely in membership selection.

We are looking forward to the spring Tandemonia activities. We are paired with the Sigma Chis, Chi Omegas, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. It ought to be a great time participating in all the wild and crazy activities that the university has planned, not to forget the tandem bike race to wrap up the entire week of fun.

We congratulate our newly-initiated members: Phil Lueken, Steve Corbin, Jeff Funkhouser, and Dave Tishey. They are an excellent addition to our Chapter.

We would also like to thank our awesome alumni for their continued support of the whole group. Keep coming around guys!

Making Progress

Although the weather certainly doesn't feel like it yet, spring semester has begun for the Brothers of Iowa Alpha. The '87 pledge class gave a tearful farewell to Brother John Spesia who will be spending this semester studying in his native Italy.

Thanks to the efforts of generous alumni and the Mothers' Club, the house enjoyed a number of small renovations. Hopefully, continued generosity from our alumni and the Mothers' Club will allow us to undertake larger renovations in the future. Bowen Campbell III has been spending time at the Gamma Phi Beta house making preparations for our annual spring volleyball philanthropy.

Our intramural athletes are continuing to rack up victories. The hoopsters fell in the first round of a holiday tournament, despite a 35-point effort from Jim Puett. Under coach Kevin Bradley, the team came up strong with a big win in the season opener. Elsewhere, hopes of winning the racketball competition sprouted when John Nangle decided to complete, while defending wrestling champ Troy Johnson has been constantly boning up on some new moves.

Besides these philanthropic and intramural events, the Brothers are fired up for what Social Chairmen Morgan Sackett and John Huber are calling "an outrageous social schedule" including the Formal in Des Moines. The alumni relations committee is busy putting together an Alumni Golf Tournament. Greg Sturtz says he will use a trip to Vegas to work on his long game.

On January 22, 10 Brothers were initiated into Iowa Alpha: Steve Hubbard, Gowrie; Pat Conyers, West Des Moines; Matt Garrett and Bob DeLaria, Des Moines; Todd Griffith, Cedar Rapids; Barry Sackett, Okoboji; Darren Lemkau, Muscatine; Geoff Lowe, Irvine, CA; Dan Davis, Fairfield; and Andy Enright, Davenport. The ritual was conducted by our new officers: Kevin Bradley, GP; Dan Roadwig, VGP; Jay Casini, AG; John Nangle, BG; Bill Davison, P; and Scholarship Chairman Mike Smellers. Finally, we'd like to congratulate our cook, Joyce Schlindwein, who recently gave up smoking.

Iowa State 75th Anniversary

The men of Iowa Beta were welcomed back to the spring semester by the 1987 pledge class. They returned a few days early to remodel the bathrooms on both second and third floors. All the Brothers were impressed by the hard work and dedication of the pledges.

As 1988 progresses, we are looking forward to the 75th Anniversary of Phi Kappa Psi at Iowa State. During the last weekend in September, the celebration will take place and we invite everyone to come join in the fun. We are also looking forward to the events which include Greek Week and VEISHEA.

On January 30, we initiated 14 new Brothers: John Bielfeldt, Perry; Chris Conners, Boone; Stuart Cotner, Naperville, IL; Mike Eder, Roselle, IL; Harish Harpalani, Iowa City; Gregg Hesterman, Glen Ellyn, IL; Brad Meier, Rockford, IL; James Noyes of Morton, IL; Philip Oberbroeckling, Luxembourg; Rob Patterson, Naperville, IL; Jim Smith, Mason City; Robert Tomczak, Chicago, IL; Paul Wallin, Granger; and Jeff Haynes, Clive.

The new officers who will be leading us this semester include Keith Costo, GP; Mark Geronime, VGP; Michael Guy, P; Steven King, Hod; Mark Boeck, AG; Donald Koontz, BG; Mark Wageman, SG; Jay Braden, Phu; and Allan Koffron, Hi. Also elected to the position of Formal Rush Chairmen were Tim Engelby and Mark Boeck.

Iowa Beta anticipates a successful semester and we look forward to seeing you at our 75th Anniversary celebration. We would also like to remind alumni that as summer approaches, important rush functions will be taking place, and we would like to encourage you to notify us of any prospective members.

Lafayette Growth

The atmosphere at Penn Theta has been bustling. Pledge Educators Alston Walker and Andy Long have had their hands full with the education of 21 fine young pledges. Brother Dave Rubin has returned from an exciting fall semester in Spain, where he studied in Madrid and traveled extensively throughout Europe. Brother Steve Bell ventured away from Easton this spring to study in Germany.

Social Chairmen Ben Fox, Chris Derivaux, and Mike Rose have been busy adding to the fun and excitement of the Fraternity. With their work, the Brothers are now enjoying a VCR, a foosball table, and a Super-Chex hockey table. These complement the classic turn-of-the-century pocket billiards table nicely, making the Blue Room a comfortable escape from the rigors of academia.

As usual, Phi Psi has been very busy athletically. Brothers Eric Barto and Mark Torstenson have been quite successful in varsity track and field, while pledge Tim Murphy has been making waves for the swim team. Brother Bob Colman has started a new boxing club. Joining Brother Colman in the club are Brothers Chris "I want Tyson!" Derivaux, and Andy "Kid" Lefkowitz. Bob "Iron Fists" Colman is undefeated in his bouts this year.

Philanthrophy Chairman Tom Watson is busy planning many events, including the annual softball marathon, with proceeds going to a local charity.

Brother Ted Rosenberger, who has served as Chapter president and vice-president, was chosen to be the Summerfield Award winner.

New officers for this semester include, John Wilkins, GP; Bob Colman, VGP; Steve Graham, P; Andrew Lefkowitz, AG; Eric Sapperstein, BG; Jim Cantwell, SG; Steve Attanasio, Hod; and Eric Barto, Hi.

Stop in at the "Old Grey Barn" and say hello.

Lehigh Winter Blahs

The Brothers of Pennsylvania Omicron hope that all have found a way to cope with the winter weather and that your spring semester is as successful as the fall was.

In an effort to make the winter more bearable, this year's Caribbean Cruiser has been moved up from April to February. Always a successful event, we hope that it will help to lift everyone's spirits.

Louisiana State Fraternizing

Greetings from Tiger Country! The Saints made the playoffs, LSU won the Gator Bowl (tough luck S.C. Alpha), and Louisiana Alpha made it to the intramural football playoffs . . . luck, well-orchestrated skill, or the harmonic convergence . . . you decide.

But enough about the pigskins. Louisiana Alpha has been energetically fraternizing with Brothers everywhere. We've recently attended two Louisiana Beta parties in Lafayette, and we were proud to be represented at Beta's recent initiation.

Furthermore, now that the dust has settled, many are calling the 1987 District IV DC/WWLS at Louisiana State "a great time and a wonderful learning experience." Over 50 Brothers from the South attended the conference which included panel discussions and workshops. Louisiana Alpha was very proud to host this event and we thank all those who attended and helped make the event an absolute success, including our own Brett Crawford, conference director.

And if all this wasn't enough, everyone here in Red Stick enthusiastically awaits the upcoming GAC to be held this summer in our own little back yard at the Fairmont Hotel in La Nouvelle Orleans! We are anxious to meet more Brothers from all over the country.

Events coming up very soon include our spring rush party, participation (and victory!) in LSU's annual Songfest (this year on stage with the lovely Delta Gammas), our annual Founders Day celebrations, LSU's Jambalaya-Jamboree, a few assorted road trips, and our annual Jacqueminot Rose Ball.

Finally, congratulations to Matt McGlothlin, Louisiana State '87, for his recent induction into the Omicron Delta Kappa honor fraternity. The newly elected officers of our Chapter are David Normand, GP; Scott Leonard, VGP; Thom Richard, AG; John Harper, BG; Matt McGlothlin, P; and Ron Bauder, SG.

Mankato State Gammamania!

Minnesota Gamma pride brought us through the cold, bitter, winter months and thrust us into a promising spring. At the onset of a new quarter, the Phi Psis at MSU were fortified with the essential ingredients of a strong Chapter.

Winter, traditionally being an "event-full" quarter, overwhelmed our social committee with the enormous responsibility of maintaining our reputation as the most socially active Chapter on campus. Back by popular demand was our annual Belushi Bash in early March. Students dressed as their favorite John Belushi character and were on a "mission" from God" to turn the Phi Psi house into Belushi madness. This year's Phi Psi "Fly-Away" party sent two lucky individuals to sunny Florida for the weekend and raised money for minor house repairs. And finally, our most successful Phi Psi 500 took place in late January. The annual trike race raised hundreds of dollars for our campus child development center. Campuswide, Phi Psi is continually recognized for its dedication to community service. Special thanks go to Brothers Patterson and G. Thompson for a job well done.

With the initiation of 11 quality men in January and with a new pledge class of 14 men for spring, our membership committee had their hands full. Minnesota Gamma currently boasts 45 active members and is the largest and strongest Chapter on campus. Our campus involvement, our diversity of members, and our Brotherhood are just a few reasons why we consistently dominate rush from year to year.

We will be experiencing a great loss at the end of the quarter with the graduation of eight Brothers. The undergraduate members would like to wish the following Brothers the best luck in their endeavors: Sam Broberg, Dan Burris, Dan Dunham, Greg Gerhartz, Dave Hofstad, Jim Pithan, Bob Schultz, and Doug Zacharias.

January ended with an electrical fire that caused $2,000.00 worth of damage to our third floor annex and left a few of us out in the cold for awhile. Soon after that, we had a plumbing explosion that flooded one room and left three Brothers all washed up. With a century-old house, we do expect problems. Unfortunately, we are not financially equipped to renovate in this capacity. If our alumni or other Chapters are aware of alternatives, please write. We'd appreciate your input.

In closing, Minnesota Gamma would like to thank alumnus Dale Philips for his contribution to the Chapter.

Miami Brotherhood Perpetuated

As the midwestern winter hit full stride, the Brothers of Ohio Lambda returned to 122 S. Campus for the spring semester. Many exciting events have transpired since our return to Oxford, including the election of three new officers and our participation in rush week.

Initially, we would like to recognize those Brothers leaving office: John Lemay, GP; Dave Rigali, VGP; and Andy Hofner, P. Their commitment to Ohio Lambda has allowed us to progress as a Chapter to a new level of accomplishment. During their tenure, the Chapter house has received a muchneeded facelift, and scholastically, Phi Kappa Psi has become number one in cumulative GPA among fraternities on campus. We congratulate and welcome the new officers: Wayne Huerth, GP; Nate Fata, VGP; and Jack Lucas. P.

Secondly, the week of January 19-27 was fraternity rush week, and Phi Kappa Psi managed to pull together and pledge 33 outstanding men. Rush Chairmen John Lemay and Andy Brogan diligently orchestrated eight nights of activities designed to alleviate some of the pressures and monotony associated with rush week. The new pledges are Bill Barkley, Greensburg, PA; Mark Barnhart, Oxford, OH; Matt Buss, St. Louis, MO; Milan Campbell, Hubbard, OH; Matt Crane, Louisville, KY; David Degroff, Elkhart, IN; Gregg DiGiacomo, Hartville, OH; Wayne Dornbirer, Columbia, MD; Rick Emanuel, Mt. Prospect, IL; Rick Evans, Newark, OH; Steve King, Strongsville, OH; Joe Laurencelle, Royal Oak, MI; Dave Lee, Akron, OH; Eric Lutz, Scottsdale, AZ; Tim Lynch, Hartville, OH; Jon Mackey, Portland, ME; Greg Merchant, Barrington, RI; Umar Muhammed, Sandusky, OH; Pat O'Conner, Oshkosh, WI; Tom Parker, Newark, OH; Joe Pegues, Springfield, OH; Mike Ryan, Columbus, OH; Mike Sarris, North Royalton, OH; Joe Stiles, Cincinnati, OH; Ken Sweder, Wheaton, IL; Paul Taylor, Cincinnati, OH; Rich Ullman, Peoria, IL; Ted Wagner, Middletown, OH; Chris Waltz, Hudson, OH; Mark Yasinsky, Pittsburgh, PA; and Adriaan ZerMuhlen, New Concord, OH.

We are anxious to incorporate these new pledges into the hard work and good times that accompany being a member of Phi Kappa Psi. Fraternity Educators Tony Ashley and Steve Shields have already begun preparing a rewarding three months of pledging.

Socially, this semester our schedule is loaded with different types of events. We have sorority parties with the Thetas, Tri-Delts, AOPis, and the DZs, and also, the Spring Formal.

Michigan Growth and Optimism

The Brothers of Michigan Alpha are poised and prepared to renew their ambitious quest for unparalleled fraternal excellence.

Congratulations to Darin Levine and Tim McDonnell who have been accepted into the Order of Omega society. Men like these are the cornerstones of a dynamic fraternal institution. Also, we welcome New York Beta transfer Bryan Libbin into our fold, a dedicated young man who has already aspired to the rank of Fraternity Educator. We thank both him and Gary Cohen for attending the District Council meeting last fall.

In the realm of intramural sports, we are currently enjoying great success in both "B" basketball and "A" and "B" water polo. The basketball team, coached by wily Larry Gadd, is trouncing its opponents at a ferocious rate. The water polo teams, always a dominant force on the Ann Arbor campus, are a cinch to make the finals.

Founders Day was held at the Bayview Yacht Club in Detroit on February 11 and was the usual splendid occasion. Thanks to all alumni for their attendance and participation.

As is traditional with Michigan Alpha, the annual Winter Pledge Formal was held December 5 at Earhart Country Club. In January, we hosted a "Hats Off to New Inits" party for the ladies of Gamma Phi Beta, and a "Super Bowl Sunday" get-together with the women of Alpha Delta Pi. We are very excited about our social calendar due to the diligent efforts of Social Chairman Jim Williams.

At the onset of winter '88, nine quality young men were pledged into our rapidly growing Chapter. The new pledge class consists of Kurt Flosky, Roseville; Brian Gilbert, Bloomfield Hills; Peter Han, Romeo; Corey Husted, Cadillac; Phillip Kain, Dearborn: Michól Sherman, Hamilton, OH; Donald Shin and Apoorva Vashi, Troy; and Christopher Yin, North Point, Hong Kong. The pledge class should benefit from an improved pledge program which stresses unity, brotherhood, and respect for the house as its three basic precepts. We would also like to thank Marton Markovits and Craig Correll for performing their rush duties with organization and determination.

Finally, we congratulate the officers for the winter term: Darin Levine, GP; Greg Scott, VGP; Keith Markman, AG; Josh Newman, P; Marton Markovits, BG; Mark Steffanina,

Michigan State

Rose Bowl Champs!

Back again for another term of studies, social events, and intramural sports, the Brothers of Michigan Beta are working hard to better themselves and the Chapter. Coming back to cold Michigan this term was made sweet by Michigan State's Rose Bowl victory.

As we look back on another year at Michigan Beta we are thankful for the great moments. We won the TKE Blood Drive Trophy for the third time. Also, in 1987 we earned second place in all-Greek GPAs. We also had four great pledge classes.

Last year was a time of growth and renovation. An architect was hired to survey the house to increase its size. With added cooperation with our corporation board, '88 sees Michigan Beta with a great potential for growth.

This will be a truly pivotal year for us. Grades came in from last term and the house average is above a 3.0, better than the allmen's average 2.5. Intramural sports look promising under the leadership of Brothers Rob Reed and John Birmingham.

Recently we had visits from alumni Patrick Murphy, Craig Zollars, and Ted Shafer. We thank you for your support and helpful hints. At this time I would like to introduce our new initiates: Timothy John Sarafolean, West Bloomfield; Marc Alan Feeley, Pontiac; Mark Edward Ellis, Clifton Park, NY; and Keith Patrick Alexander, Tecumseh.

Best wishes to Brother David Farmer who recently graduated. Now I would like to end this article with some of our outstanding accomplishments in 1987. Ron Ambrose and Paul Garland became members of Golden Key National Honor Society; Pete Hedemark was waterfront director at Pretty Lake Vacation Camp; and Don Edgerly was assistant director at Pretty Lake Vacation Camp.

One Hundred and Beyond

Minnesota Beta is starting its second century on the University of Minnesota campus on a high note. Our house has undergone an extensive remodeling project under the guidance of our alumni and house corporation to go along with our centennial. Our Chapter is keeping pace with the rest of the university by updating our scholarship program to include pledges and initiates as well. In the future we hope to set the standard for the entire campus.

Our house is now under new leadership with our new officers: Neil Anderson, GP; Dave Hetland, VGP; Lee Allen, AG; Dane Hartzell, P; Chris Cranbrook, BG; Robert Astromsky, Hi; Joe O'Kane, Hod; Jeff Stuhr, Phu.

Along with the new year, Minnesota Beta will also start a new tradition: a Phi Psi 500.

Last winter we participated in basketball, volleyball, hockey, and we are trying to repeat as all-university broomball champions. In the spring we will participate in track and softball.

Our Chapter would like to recognize K.C. Poehler and Steve Wahl as our Alumni of the Year. Their leadership will not soon be forgotten. We would also like to congratulate Jon Butkovich, Jay Owens, Scott Stockhouse, Dave Kettner, Mick Miller, and Jeff Livermore, our newest initiates.

Ole Miss

From the Land of Cotton

Hello, again, from your Ole Miss Brothers! It is going to be a busy spring in Dixie. We have much to look forward to and hope that you will join us for the festivities.

Our Spring Formal is in New Orleans on February 6, and we have "The Five Who Killed Elvis" for the entertainment. We look forward to showing you around at GAC in August.

Our Founders Day Banquet is set for Saturday, February 20, at the Chapter house. We want to invite all friends of Mississippi Alpha to this joyful occasion. It is a day not only to honor our founders but also to welcome our newest initiates: Alex Thesmar and Trip Dyer, Memphis, TN; Barry Grantham, Andy Trott, Eddie Willis and Bill Stewart, Oxford; Jeff Browndyke, Memphis; Mike Strayer, Ridgeland; John Harvey Gleason, Metairie, LA; Scott Self, North Little Rock, AR; Drew Baird, Memphis; Max Hopson, Corinth; Bryan Hallum, Germantown, TN; Mike O'Brien, Southaven; and Chris Norwood, Columbus. We also want to welcome Vaughn Bolton, a transfer student from Delaware Alpha, It's great to have y'all here.

Brothers and pledges alike are anticipating a festive spring break. If you are in Freeport, Grand Bahamas, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, or even Delaware Alpha of Phi Kappa Psi, we hope we have the pleasure of meeting you!

Our spring party is set for April 23. This is also Red-Blue weekend and many rushees will be here. Hope to see you here, too!

Mississippi Alpha mourns the death of Brother Taylor McElroy who was a signer of the re-Charter here in 1930. We loved and respected him and our sympathy to his family and friends is sincere.

We would like to thank Brothers Mike Greer, Eddie Aune, and especially Daniel Phillips for all their help and patience with us this year.

Missouri On the Rise

As we here at Missouri Alpha entered the winter semester of 1988, our membership passed a total of 1300 Brothers initiated. One of our larger initiation classes was brought into the bond in early January. After initiation ceremonies, alumni and Brothers gathered for a celebration dinner. The 17 newly-initiated Brothers are Jeff Shryock, Steve Klossen, Charles Hoskins, Doug Conway, Craig Cole, Tom Jenson, Dan Dyroff, Kevin Hill, Andy Foland, Matt Dudenhoeffer, Rob Reis, Jeff Martin, Don Smith, Robert Smouse, Pat Hickey, Dave Doerhoff, and Eric Rogers.

At the end of last semester the Phi Psi intramural squad was just below the magic top 10 on campus in the twelfth position. So far, our basketball team is undefeated, so we expect to break into the top 10 by the end of the semester. Bill Lampe continues as our highly-organized and enthusiastic intramurals chairman.

Social Chairmen Dennis Mahoney and Tom Jenson have organized an outstanding schedule of exchanges and social events for the coming semester. Also, Scholarship Chairmen Doug Conway and Kevin Hill have implemented a new program of individual help between Brothers and pledges, and have incorporated a mandatory study hall for Brothers who need it.

Mizzou will hold its second dry formal rush this year. The first year it was held, Phi Phis did very well by being ranked in the top five of over 30 fraternities. Our alumni have made it possible for our 19th century Chapter house to be one of the most beautiful on campus, and thus we have the best rush tool for formal rush available to any fraternity at Mizzou.

Monmouth

Still Going Strong

Greetings from the Brotherhood of New Jersey Beta! To recount the semester, we reflected on another successful fall semester. In the community, we helped raise money for Muscular Dystrophy by parking cars. We also gave pumpkins to unfortunate children at Monmouth Medical Hospital on Halloween.

On campus, we made our fellow students aware of the AIDS virus by setting up a booth in the College Center while we distributed information and condoms on AIDS Awareness Day.

Phi Phis had an active social calendar with the two best mixers at Monmouth. The Halloween party was its usual success and the Hawaiian bash lived up to its expectations.

Athletically, we continued our dominance over fellow greeks as we swept the Interfraternity program once again. As Greek Week champions, we will not be denied as champions in the spring.

We congratulate our new officers: Scott Lee, second-time GP; James Tilton, VGP; Paul Casale, P; Edward Eugene Chanod, BG; Franco Strippoli, AG; Mark Cammarota, Phu; Eric Aloi, Hod; and Paul Newell, Hi.

Rush was fantastic and we thank our rush chairmen for a fine job. We are excited about the group that has joined us.

Recently, many more of our recentlygraduated alumni have made return visits to the Chapter and have delighted the Brothers with stories of past years. As always, we invite all alumni to stop by any time.

Looking Forward

It was a typically cold Midwestern winter, but the men of Nebraska Alpha kept the Phi Psi house one of the hottest on campus. We got back into the swing of heavy studies and had fun, too.

Rush chairman Dan Keiny has been busy at his job and has already signed three new pledges for second semester: Steve Ackerman, Gothenburg; Chris Werner, Fremont; and Fracisco Herrara, Faucet, MO.

Second semester's social calendar includes some of our most popular parties. The third annual Phi Psi Get-A-Way, the "Phi Psi Open," spring formal, and a big Founders Day celebration are all part of our busy social schedule.

We would also like to thank our Chapter Advisor John Hedges, Nebraska '76, for the tremendous help and guidance that he has given us over the years. John is going to have to step down but we are looking forward to the leadership of our next advisor as this position is extremely important in the functioning of an effective Chapter.

Looking Ahead

Besides individual Brothers enjoying their breaktimes, not a lot has happened since our last correspondence.

In the area of our alumni events, February 14 was our pancake breakfast, and on March 12, we joined alumni to attend an NU basketball game. We will be holding events on the first weekend in May for those alumni coming back to their class reunions, and we hope to see many in attendance.

Spring rush was April 4-10 under the direction of Bill Garrison and Adam Kreysar. Alumni recommendations for worthy candidates are always welcome.

Congratulations to our outstanding new initiates who were initiated in January. They are Chad Buttel, St. Charles; Sean Carlin, Manchester, MO; Kenneth Crites, Potomac, MD; David Drake, New Canaan, CT; Bryan Elliot, Zionsville, IN; Jay Kapp, Mission Hills, KS; Scott Meyerson, Omaha, NE; Jeffery Osterkamp, Evergreen, CO; and Lee Schwartz and Paul Stumbo, Topeka, KS.

Growing Strong

Greetings from the campus of Ohio Wesleyan. We are having a good year both academically and socially. Doak Pfaff, our academic chairman, has set up a committee to help the Chapter maintain a satisfactory GPA via periodic check-ups on grades and a tutoring program. In January, Pledge Educators Ed Powell and Jim Foley and our pledges, planned and executed our annual Pledge Formal. This year, the theme was an Australian "Down Under" and the event was a great success.

John Gardner, our social service chairman, was quite pleased with the results of our annual poinsettia sale. Two-thirds of the money raised will be donated to an alumnus of Ohio Wesleyan who was severely injured in an auto accident. The remainder will be given to those people in need of our community. John is working hard, planning our light bulb sale, annual car wash, and the Easter food drive.

The OWU basketball team is experiencing one of their best seasons in history. Currently ranked 14th in the nation for division III schools, they are striving for a bid to the NCAA Tournament. Phi Psi senior Chris Truskowski is leading the team to an unforgettable season.

Ohio Alpha was especially excited about Founders Day. We traveled to Ohio Delta to experience their celebration and learn to hold our own celebration within the next few years.

Andy Thompson, our alumni chairman, is hard at work improving our Chapter alumni relations. He has planned a spectacular Monett Weekend which is April 8-10, and all alumni are invited.

We are proud to announce our new initiates: James Burton, Bellefontaine; Frank Bianco, New Caanan, CT; Jason Clayton, Columbus; Jay Ellsasser, Orleans, MA; Matthew Falcone, Merion, PA; John Gillanders, Peachtree City, GA; Lon Kemeness, Atlanta, GA; Donald Knezovic, Marblehead, MA; John Mayer, Pound Ridge, NY; Paul Mc-Bride II, Huntsville, AL; Harry Ostrander, Brookline, MA; Geoffrey Pancoast, Basking Ridge, NJ; Wesley Reinhardt, Thornwood, NY; Randy Ross, Pittsburg, PA; Matthew Schrader, Huntington, NY; Charles Shoop, Cincinnati; Todd Showalter, Park Ridge, IL; Stuart Walker, New Caanan, CT; and Michael Weeman, Peachtree City, GA.

Ohio Alpha would like to give a special thanks to Educational Leadership Consultant Dave Boersma. He was extremely helpful and his efforts are greatly appreciated.

Chilly Return Home

The men of Oklahoma Alpha plowed their way back to Norman through the worst snow and ice storm the state has ever seen to greet a housing disaster. It began with a ruptured water pipe filling the basement with two inches of water. More water entered the house in the foyer as snow and ice melted through from the sundeck. But to top off our misery, various heaters around the house were not working because of downed power lines during the ice storm. Many members woke up to 50 degree room temperatures and cold showers to kick off the first day of classes.

Into the picture stepped our heroic housing chairman, Earl Porter, who had water and heat restored in two days. The spirit which Brother Porter showed restoring the house to near-normalcy set the tone of the beginning semester and more importantly—spring rush.

As spring rush neared, the Chapter was inspired by the arrival of the IFC grade report, which had Phi Psi ranked third on campus with a 2.9 GPA. Leading the way were Shane Merz and Dan Ebrey who made the Dean's List. Brother Merz also was elected treasurer of Mortar Board and president of Pi Tau Sigma, in addition to already serving as Chapter treasurer.

Special recognition goes to Kenny Kinzer, who passed the Oklahoma Teacher Certification Test and will graduate in May. Brother Kinzer is presently teaching classes at nearby Norman High School. Also, we are all proud of pledge Edie Campbell, who made the varsity tennis team.

Spring rush was led by Rush Chairman Steve Fuoco who signed 11 new pledges: Justin Elledge, El Reno; Steve Estes, Norman; Billy Heath, Sapulpa; Gary Ingram, Dark City, UT; Jerry James, Midwest City; Rick Lake, Rochester, MI; Steve Lovelace, Claremore; James Rogers, Tuttle; Andy Wilson, Harleton, TX; John Burnett, Hartshorne; and Mike Massaro, McAlester.

Building Beta

Spring is known as the season of growth and fertility; this holds true for Oklahoma Beta. We graduated five Brothers: Robert Carrico, Sterling Crim, Christopher Murray, Steve Parks, Efem Yildirim. But we attracted some new leaders with our spring pledge class.

The Chapter is working diligently to strengthen and grow as continuing alumni support guides us. Dr. Neil Hackett '71, faculty advisor, continues to be an invaluable asset. Also helping us in our rush program is Brother Shawn Patrick, past president. He has helped with minor repairs around the house and helped us financially.

We also have many other alumni who have helped us in countless ways. We appreciate their donations of time, money, and advice. On January 24, we had several alumni attend a retreat to inform our alumni of our status. Thanks to the following Brothers for their participation: Mark Blohm '74, Danny Chavez '75, Neil Hackett '71, Howard Hamilton '73, Roger Johnson '71, Bubba Kierig '74, David Lanham '75, Wyatt Morgan '75, Shawn Patrick '85, and Gregg Powell '86. We hope from now on that we might gradually increase our alumni support.

The men of Oklahoma Beta suffered a spiritual loss when recent graduate Randy Wayman '85 died in an auto accident at age 24 on December 20, 1987.

Our new Rush Chairman Drue Gawel has been working constantly on a new system. With each member bringing names of new prospects each week, we have made numerous new contacts. Our follow ups have been very successful. With several rush activities we have kept interest of our Fraternity growing.

In our recent elections, we chose officers that we feel will dedicate the time and effort needed for their office. They are Barry Moore, GP; John Wilkins, VGP; Cem Yildirim, P; Jon Shook, AG; Dan Sailer, BG; Randy Entz, SG; Danny Taldo, Hod; Brian Adams, Phu; and Drue Gawel, Hi.

Winning Season

We began the term by electing the following new officers: John Cox, GP; David Sassaman, VGP; Todd Gorham, P; Aaron Felton, AG; Jeff Leopold, BG; Craig Stockbridge, SG; Kevin Niles, Phu; Keith Eayrs, Hod; and Geoff Fishman, Hi. After jumping into the leadership fold, each has led with distinction

Founders Day, held in Portland on January 20, was an unqualified success. The theme was "Phi Psi Through the Years" and featured Brothers sharing memories from each decade since Oregon Alpha was chartered. Over 150 undergraduates and alumni enjoyed the annual celebration of Brotherhood.

The Chapter's quest for academic excellence received a boost from Brother Maurice J. Warnock, Oregon '23. Brother Warnock has created an annual $1,000 scholarship to be awarded in his name to an undergraduate member of Oregon Alpha who demonstrates financial need, academic excellence, leadership skills, and high character. We would all like to express our deepest gratitude to Brother Warnock.

A high point of the season was our Parents' Weekend held January 16-17. Parents came from as far as Southern California to be with their sons and enjoy house tours, a Ducks basketball game, banquet, and many other activities.

In the midst of our activities, we were all able to get away to the Oregon coast for our winter house dance. The coast is especially dramatic this time of year and we had a terrific time.

Oregon State Attitude Adjustment

While the attitude around the Chapter house at Oregon Beta a year ago wasn't so positive, just the reverse is true this time around. As we now gear up for the Chapter's 40th observance of the establishment of the Fraternity, we've upgraded our pledge education system and we're planning a philanthropy project for the near future.

We even picked up three new pledges last fall: Larry D. Johnson, Florence; Matt Cannon, Corvallis; and Dave Van Arsdall, Grants Pass. The new pledge education program consists of an additional booklet to be used with The Manual containing important elements of Chapter history as well as university facts and history. The week by week format, which also includes guest speakers, was developed by Erik Bennett.

The philanthropy project is nothing new-fangled; in fact, we're reviving the Phi-Psi Dribble, the Chapter's project in the early 1980's. It's a basketball dribble from Corvallis to Portland, and we're hoping we can achieve as much success this time as we did then.

The Chapter would like to recognize and thank Brothers Ken Schwarz, Leo Mottau, John Seale, and John Scanlon for their contributions of over $100 each.

Pennsylvania Strong as Ever

The winter months at Pennsylvania Iota have been characterized by a very strong interest in Presidential primaries and anticipation of the Spring Formal. Four Brothers are attempting to run as delegates for both the Republican and Democratic conventions. Several dinner conversations have been known for intense arguments which resemble the Presidential debates.

In addition, a great deal of work has been done on the Chapter's first Formal in recent memory. We hope that the Phi Psi formal will become a regular tradition that will contribute significantly to an enjoyable spring semester.

John Budd was reelected president of the Interfraternity Council. Brother Budd was first elected in September when the previous president resigned, and he will remain the IFC President for the upcoming year. The IFC agenda for next year includes the implementation of dry rush and the adoption of a new party policy.

Shortly before the Superbowl on January 31, we conducted a neighborhood clean-up in which Brothers and pledges removed excess garbage from the university area. In less than an hour, most of the neighborhood around the Chapter house had been cleaned.

The pledge class was able to present the Delta Kappa Epsilon Award to the Brotherhood. The award, which resembles a cow, is available to the pledge class which exhibits enthusiasm, creativity and above all else, ingenuity. We were especially pleased with this year's pledge class accomplishment since previous classes were unsuccessful in capturing this award.

Penn State Continuing Excellence

Penn Lambda has prepared itself for another eventful semester. As usual, along with the onset of spring semester comes the annual Phi Psi 500, now an exciting 20-year tradition each spring for all Penn Staters. This year marks a pivotal one for the race—one that will see many changes as the State College Borough Council tries to de-emphasize the role of alcohol in this and future races. However, with Mark Emery as overall chairman, we are confident we will pull off yet another successful race, raising a considerable sum of money to benefit our charities.

Presently, we have four promising young men pledging our Chapter: Bradford LaTour, Radnor; Paul Sessions, Annapolis, MD; Timothy Tasker, Yardley; and Benjamin Winderman, Doylestown. Under the supervision of Robert Hillard, we began a new pledge class in February.

As always, displaying our continued involvement in community and campus organizations, Eric Graves remains in office as IFC president, while an increasingly larger number of Brothers hold important positions on various committees. Currently, Scott Perry is studying abroad in Germany and Brian and Larry Lavorini are holding internships in Virginia and Florida, respectively.

Also continuing in the tradition of Phi Psi excellence, our house has surged to an impressive 13th place in academics and fifth in intramural sports among a competitive 52 fraternities. With an increase in study hours combined with the start of new basketball and wrestling seasons, we are strong contenders in the pursuit of the Omega Epsilon Award, given annually to the fraternity displaying the best overall achievement and involvement. It's not all work at Penn Lambda, however, as Social Chairman Bill Miltenberger has put together an active social calendar for the upcoming semester.

We encourage any visiting alumni to stop by the Lodge on April 16 for the 20th annual Phi Psi 500.

Purdue Outstanding

Aloha from the men of Indiana Delta. Spring has sprung and things are quite busy around here. We have just completed an outstanding rush with the help of Brothers Croxall and Young. The lovely women of Kappa Alpha Theta have asked us to join them in the University Sing contest—oohh la la! But who can forget Grand Prix? We are asking Alpha Phi for this festive event. Our skate-away/ roller derby with Alpha Phi should help them make the right choice—it was a rockin' time. Of course the second-ranked Boilermakers are well on their way to dominate the NCAA. Speaking of basketball, our annual philanthropy, "Dribble," is just about to tip off with Phi Mu. Brothers Rath and Marinko are doing their best to raise money for Purdue Cancer Research.

We ask that all Phi Psis remember Brother Dale Hagberg in their prayers. Dale has finally returned home after months in the hospital. He has kept a positive attitude and we are looking forward to seeing him at Chapter soon. Good Luck "Dale-Bob!"

Our house is still looking sharp these days. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Goetz for donating a color television. It has been installed in our special room, "Charlie's." We have also been graced with a new phone system. It is wonderful hearing people yelling on the page system in the middle of the night. Our eager pledges just renovated the dryer room, too. Speaking of pledges, our entire Psi class made grades and are looking forward to getting initiated soon. As far as campus goes, the Purdue Union has been renovated and is quite a luxury pad. Also the EE/Geoscience Annex and the Civil Engineering Annex are nearing completion.

Purdue Phi Psis would also like to welcome two new sororities: Delta Zeta and Delta Delta Delta. Thoughts for the future are: 1) Get your homework done now because Grand Prix is coming. 2) Think Arab and mirth.

Rider One Step Ahead

We're still managing to hold our position lengths ahead of the rest. We are now in the midst of our ISP courses, and although it is fairly quiet here, there is still progress being made. We were recently informed that we again have earned the highest GPA among all male living units. Besides achieving as a group, we excel individually. Brothers John Szwed and Bob Tanner have received the honors of being listed in Who's Who and Outstanding Young Men of America. We don't have a cook during ISP time so the eating isn't great; however, our steward Bill Parcario has been cooking up great meals weekly for the Brothers. A special congratulations also goes to Bill for passing his Series 7 exam.

A few things have been done around the house to improve its appearance. Our walls have been painted and Brothers Jeff Attardi and Jerry Bryson have been working hard painting our Fraternity letters on them. We are also very excited about the new carpet.

Involvement of our Chapter around the campus has been excellent in the past and is continually getting better. Recently, Brothers Walt Yukniewicz and Jonathan Strauss have been appointed chairmen of the IFC. They will be working under Brother Tom Bulzacchelli, IFC president.

Rhode Island Still Going Strong

Greeting once again from the Brothers of the Rhode Island Beta. We welcome back David George who was studying in England for a semester at Ealing College. Not only did David bring back a foreign perspective of his business studies but also a few good stories. Congratulations to Peter Bodycoat and John Daley for their Solon E. Summerfield Award presented to them on our Founders Day celebration.

Outside the Chapter, our Phi Psi Brothers are as active as ever. Two Phi Psis hold positions on the IFC executive board: Charles B. Mylod, president, and Sean Kenny, director of personnel. The entire Chapter has again participated in our annual Bounce-a-thon for the benefit of the American Cancer Society, which was organized by Michael Mullaney. Our upcoming events include our annual spring block party.

And finally we would like to congratulate our new officers: Peter Bodycoat, president; Ed Sees, vice president; Steven Smith, treasurer; Thomas Moran, corresponding secretary; James Paolini, recording secretary; Timothy Almonte, house manager; Peter Donovan, steward; Michael Mullaney, AHC member-at-large; Patrick Morrisey and Benjamin Hobson, social chairmen; Richard Travisano and Brett Davey, Fraternity educators; and Ken Knox and Sean Cain, rush chairmen.

Southern California Swifter, Higher, Stronger

Earthquakes aren't the only thing shaking up USC these days. At California Delta, our Chapter strength is at an all time high. Recently, we extended our backyard to accommodate a regulation volleyball court and a basketball court. We have also started the initial stages to add four rooms to the second story of the house. Hopefully, this project will be finished by next fall, allowing 44 Brothers to live in the house.

In "Ironman" competition, Phi Psi has maintained its lock on first place. Strong finishes in racquetball and badminton boosted our ranking. We would also like to congratulate Brother Brian Didier who serves as EVGP, for leading our soccer team to the IFC championship.

The entire greek system at USC joins us in anticipation of the Phi Psi 500. Each year we host this good-natured tricycle competition among gorgeous sorority women, who battle through obstacles including a deep mud pit on the way to victory. All this heated competition generates funds which will be donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

California Delta emphasizes Brotherhood above all else. In keeping with this tradition, we have our annual weekender penciled in for late April. The atmosphere of Lake Havasu provides us with an ideal setting for solidifying our bonds of Brotherhood as well as relaxing from the pressure of college life.

Congratulations to our spring officers: Dave Urode, GP; Andrew Mitchell, VGP; Brian Didier, EVGP; Darryl Gan, AG; Travis Winsor, BG; Michael Druyanoff, P; Eric Anslinger, SG; Sean Gerber, Hod; Pete Bensen, Phu; Gabe Val, Hi; Jason Thompson, HM; Tim Dudek, KM. Rush Chairmen Kurt Vaughn and Ashley Lowengrub are to be commended for spring rush which yielded 18 outstanding young men: Legacy Kristian Beauchamp, Newport Beach; Brandon Severson, Honolulu, HI; Eric Simon, La Jolla; Gavin Ball, Whittier; Brian Underhill, San Diego; Robert Carter, Seattle, WA; Darin Beebower, Dana Point; John Jurgens, Palo Alto; John Scudi, Washington, DC; John Kashian, Fresno; Mike Miller, Torrance; Legacy Jeffrey Scott, Burbank; Edward Prichard III, Santa Barbara; Kevin Benham, Honolulu, HI; Kent Anderson, Los Altos; Kevin Moore, Midland, TX; Robert Heslar, Mission Viejo; and Edwin Reidel, Williams.

We would like to extend our deepest thanks to our Fraternity President, Dr. David Hull Jr., and national Vice President Bob Meserve, for joining us for dinner and sharing their valuable insights with us. Also, we thank our alumni for their continued support and encourage them to visit. We are looking forward to seeing you.

Winter Fun and More

How are things at California Beta, you ask? Just fine, thanks. We have jumped off to a good start since our return from the holidays. However, two Phi Psis did not return to campus because they are studying overseas for the rest of the school year. Jim Anderson is learning to drive on the left side of the road in Oxford, and Ken Zimmerman is experiencing West Berlin first hand.

On the long weekend of January 16, about

10 Phi Psis enjoyed a ski trip to the Lake Tahoe area. There was plenty of snow at Alpine Meadows, and a good time was had by all. The start of the term also marks the beginning of another fun and competitive (but mostly fun) intramural sports season. This winter we have formed teams for soccer and baskethall

The Chapter has remained active in community service. Several Brothers regularly volunteer their time to lead after-school sports programs at a local elementary school, and we also supply volunteers for the SURE (Stanford United for Rape Elimination) escort service. Our annual Jerry Wood Telethon, which was held on January 26-27, received a very positive response from alumni. The Jerry Wood Fund was established to defray some of the cost of the initiation fee for qualified initiates.

Our annual Founders Day Dinner extravaganza was held at Dinah's Shack (a better restaurant than the name suggests) in Palo Alto on February 19. As always, it was an extraordinary event shared by all who attended, both undergraduates and alumni. We wish to extend our thanks to all the alumni who were able to celebrate with us in person, and a special note of appreciation to our distinguished guest and Phi Psi vice president, J. Robert Meserve, Stanford '34.

As time rushes by so quickly, we are already planning our annual all-campus prespring vacation party. Matching last year's success will be quite a challenge. And in the very long term, a "Phi Psi 500" slated for next fall is currently in the early organizational stage. We would welcome any advice or suggestions from other Chapters which have held similar events in the past.

Mike Sommer Correspondent

SUNY, Buffalo Rushing Roulette

This semester we started with more enthusiasm for good rush than ever before. We started out the semester with our first off-campus retreat. This was a greater success than expected. We found that when we get away from all the grind of a school atmosphere, we can be more relaxed and work more efficiently. Thanks to Mike Makarainen and Marc Brenner for making this retreat a reality.

We have planned a full calendar of events. One such event was a party at the Aquaduct in Welland, Ontario. The Canadians had a great interest in our Fraternity and expressed an interest in starting a Chapter there. This event soon became a huge success, since it was a chance for the prospectives to get closer to their soon-to-be Brothers and to see how they tick.

With the falling of snow comes hockey. The Phi Psi hockey team has geared up with full power and is ready to start another successful season. Through the excellent goal tending of Eric Alexander and the unsurpassing defense of Ron Dinino, our team was off to an excellent start.

Another favorite of many Brothers is the Founders Day celebration. This year it was held at the Three Coins Restaurant. Many alumni made an appearance, and again showed us that they still have the spirit. Although many alumni came, we would still like to see a larger input and interest by the alumni.

All of us at New York Eta wish good luck to Brother Gothgen who has gone one step ahead of us and joined the Marines. Good luck Niels, Sir.

On Recognizing Greeks

Greetings from Pennsylvania Pi. The fall semester brought us three awards in Homecoming celebrations: Best Use of Theme, Most Original Float, and first place in the Banner Contest. The fall semester also saw the election of R. Scott Bill as District I Archon.

In local elections, three of our Brothers were elected to IFC positions for the spring term. They are Scot B. Mentzer, president; Jay N. Messenger, rush chairman, and Franco S. Pettinato, social chairman. Franco will direct and coordinate the Greek Week activities which take place in April. These Brothers will find their duties as IFC representatives much easier due to the passing of the Greek Proposal, an official statement of policy which gives recognition to all greek organizations on campus by the board of trustees at Temple University.

Our second annual Phi Psi 500 is being planned for late spring with proceeds benefitting the "For Kid's Sake" charity fund. Our social calendar line-up is quite diverse this semester and includes Brother parties, socials, Sci-fi at Phi Psi movie night, parties with live entertainment, and road trips.

The end of last semester brought new growth to Penn Pi with the addition of six new initiates: David Padrost and Dennis R. McMahon, Philadelphia; Joseph Rivera, Bensalem; Christian Fleishmann, Blue Bell; Douglas Palma, Mt. Holly, NJ; and Michael Morrow, Wrightstown, NJ.

The officers are Jay N. Messenger, GP; Brian J. Lawson, VGP; Scot B. Mentzer, P; Daniel C. Cornillot, AG; Scot D. Pannepacker, BG; Michael A. Blatz, SG; Steven E. Eberling, Hod; William P. McFarland, Phu; and Michael A. Kaitz, Hi.

Winter-Fest '88

Ah, winter in Tennessee—You've got to love it, because you can't kill it! The Brothers of Tennessee Epsilon are running in many different circles, but they all converge at the Chapter House.

Winter Rush was traditionally slow campus-wide, but we did manage to snag one excellent pledge from the clone-factory on New Row. Mike Tuell, Clinton, displays all the eagerness and determination that should make him a valuable asset.

New initiates this quarter are John Burkhart and Jay Campbell, Murfreesboro; Mike Cook, Idaho Falls, ID; Rod Martin, Powell; and John Macon, Morristown. These fine men, along with returning Brothers Jim Perkins and Jeff Smithers, are welcomed with a hearty Hi, Hi, Hi!

Brother Kyle Arnold, social chairman and self-appointed interior designer, brought some welcome changes to the house. With some help, he built a much-needed trophy case for our accumulating awards and did a bang-up job refurbishing the main floor bathroom. Other improvements like refinished kitchen cabinets and basement work come courtesy of the fall pledge class.

Our first formal since reorganization was held on the weekend following Founders Day. We thought this would be a suitable time for a night of good fun and fellowship.

Intramural basketball is going great. Posting a 2-1 record so far, the Phi Psi cagers are trying to earn a spot in tournament play.

We would like to extend an invitation to all Brothers heading for Florida for Spring Break. Tennessee makes a great stop-over and we can show you a great time. We would love to have you.

Continued Excellence

Spring opened at Texas Alpha with the initiation of our fall pledge class which included Scott Seward, Edward Biggins, Michael Ausere, Jason Gibson, Thomas Ramirez and Mark Wines, Dallas; Larry Blume, League City; Wallace Fisher, Bryan; Michael Foster, Longview; James Hull, Drew Kahn, James Kaufman III, Thomas Rigamonti, and Jeroen Schweitz, Houston; Richard Poe II, El Paso; Paul Wilson Smith, Baytown; Ryan Lee Smith, Plano; Fred Steele Stovall, Euless; and Robert Bruce Turner, Arlington.

The social life of Texas Alpha opened the semester at a blistering pace. Behind the capable leadership of chairman Jim Mecom, the calendar has been consistently full. In addition to the usual array of mixers and matches, we held our third annual crush party with great success. We also look forward to the end of the semester which brings Round-Up and the all-important Bermuda Formal.

The beginning of spring also signaled the semi-annual return of the Texas Alpha rush machine. Brothers Paul Grant and Scott Watkins handled the highly competitive University of Texas rush with ease and captured a bountiful pledge class. Special thanks goes to all the alumni who attended our annual Founders Day on February 20.

Finally, a host of Brothers attended our District Council last October in Baton Rouge. We wish to extend special thanks to SWGP Dr. David Hull and Byron Cain for their help and support. We would also like to congratulate David Shafer of Georgia Alpha who was elected Archon of District IV. Our appreciation also goes to Leadership Consultant Ron Richard for his valued advice.

Texas Tech

Vivimus Et Vigemus

The new year at Texas Tech has started with great enthusiasm and pride. The week before school was marked by intense activity, confusion, and excitement. We worked to turn our basement into a TV lounge, planned formal rush week, and planned our calendar for the semester. Initiation brought five new members into the inner circle. The new members from the fall 1987 pledge class include David Wright, Richard Pradervand, Steve Wilhelm, Chris Biekman, and Barry Wilson. All of the Brothers are glad to have you aboard!

With the hard work of all the Brothers, spring rush was one of our most successful in the past few years. We pledged eight new members which we feel will be a valued addition to our Chapter. We thank Jim Ratliff for his letter of recommendation telling us about Curtis Collins. Following in the footsteps of his grandfather, Curtis is a legacy of charter member Bill Collins. Our other quality pledges included: Gair Allie, Larry Bowden, Chris Lindsey, Freddy Moye, George Talbet, Brent Townsend, and Brian Shadix.

We have taken great strides to make sure that one goal is accomplished over the next few years: to make this Chapter excel. By putting time and hard work toward this thought, the Chapter has become better organized and our financial situation is looking better than ever. We would like to thank our Alumni Advisor, Jim Stewart, for all his hard work and we thank Headquarters as well. All of your help is making this goal seem more possible every day. We Live and Flourish.

A Continuing Tradition

This spring we hosted the first annual Phi Psi 500, a 5K race, to raise money for the United Way. We had a large turnout from the area running association and surrounding communities. The race was held at 7:00 a.m. on March 25.

In January, we invited a number of students and faculty to our house so that the students and the faculty could meet and converse outside the classroom. It also afforded us the opportunity to present ourselves to an often misinformed faculty. Many of them were quite surprised to find that fraternity houses and members are not the type associated with the movie "Animal House."

Indiana Epsilon has always maintained a unique tradition of excellence in both academic pursuits and athletic competition. Last semester, we placed second in fraternity grade point average, losing to Sigma Tau Epsilon by a mere .004 point. Although we slipped in standing, our average was higher than the previous semester. Intramural basketball and water basketball teams did well. In the bowling tourney, three Brothers placed in the final four. We are hoping for another All-University Intramural Trophy.

As the result of a highly successful rush program, we are pleased to announce that we have 38 new pledges. This is the largest pledge class since the recolonization of our Chapter in 1978. The following men have pledged: James Acton, Columbus; Timothy Allen Spear, New Carlisle; Kent Renno, Concordia, MO; Matthew Shaefer and Brian Jirak, Buffalo, NY; David Eichberger, Valparaiso; Chad Bohlman, Chesterton; Chris Warke, Bradley, IL; Mark Fulton, Streator; IL; Brian Rodenbeck, Beaver Falls; PA; Mark Howard and Lance Ibriaham, Downers Grove, IL: Eric Hanson, Harvard, IL; Jerry Reinking, Don Goeglein, and Bob Bortz, Fort Wayne; Steve Poppe, Fairview Park, OH; Jim Lindberg, Joel Schudde, and Brian LeFevre. Peoria, IL; Steve Isabell, Nappanee; Keven Vannuci, Beloit, WI: Dean Butzow, Elgin, IL: Douglas Meyer, North Manchester; Matt Lohrentz, Naperville, IL; Jeff Campbell. Plymouth; Keith Lewis, Zionsville; Chuck Garrett, Grovertown; Mark Yeager, St. Louis. MO; Darren Hines, Calgary, Canada; Thad Theil, Ledgewood, NJ; Mike Bell, Cederburg, WI; Jon Drews, Elmhurst. IL: Doug Sterchi, Milwaukee, WI: Rick Gove, Concordia, MO; Craig Mattes, Morton Groves, IL; Rob Baer, Whitefish Bay, WI; and Nathan Trowbridge, LaGrange. This year marks the 10th anniversary of the recolonization of Indiana Epsilon. We thank those Brothers whose leadership and willingness to respond to duty has inspired us to continue the tradition that they have established.

On Track

The new semester brought a fresh crew of Brothers into executive offices at Tennessee Delta. Three year football coach Jay "Newt" Barineau hung up his clipboard and took the presidential reins as Court "Sgt. Fury" Horncastle returned to the house for a second flamboyant term as Fraternity Educator. Following his apprenticeship under Brother Herman, Jim Phillip assumed office as treasurer while rookie sophomores Ed Benford and Chad Eustis became kitchen manager and house manager, respectively.

January ushered in more than new officers, however. Thanks to a truly outstanding job by Rush Chrairmen Trent Jones and Carter Perez, the Vanderbilt Phi Psi's have 26 fresh pledges of unquestionable character. The spring pledge class is as follows: G. Allen Andreas, Decatur, IL; Craig K. Apking, Denver, CO; Michael B. Blair, Atlanta, GA; Enrico A. Caso, Brussels, Belgium; Daniel C. Cummins, Houston, TX; David P. Drew, Southfield, MI; Richard L. Fehseke III, Fort Madison, IA; J. Pierce Gould Jr., Essex, CT; Michael P. Harris, Sarasota, FL; Matthew R. Heiden, Brentwood; John O. Hollon, Hazard, KY; John R. Kinder, Cape Girardeau, MO; Peter M. Kinsley, Longwood, FL; Patrick R. Knight, Cullman, AL; Laurence H. Krasnow, Wayland, MA; George F. Matouk Jr., New York, NY; Andrew J. McWhorter, Wyoming, OH; Henry F. Means III, Tyler, TX; Andrew G. Melling, Columbia, SC; Andrew F. Morey, Naples, FL; Duyane R. Norman III, Baton Rouge, LA; John L. Oliver III, St. Louis, MO; Christopher V. Riegle, Riverside, CT; Joseph F. Skowron III, Cocoa, FL; Repps D. Stanford, Kansas City, MO; and Jonathan W. Witter, St. Davids, PA.

Social Chairmen John Stallings and Jim Rieniets continue to provide band parties and sorority swaps while Brotherhood Chairman T.C. Herman works hard to keep the Brothers occupied.

Though social functions occupy a good deal of our time, academics are never sacrificed. Scholarship Chairman John Durrett has worked hard on Fraternity files and has focused the pledges in an academic direction. Indeed, the Vanderbilt Phi Psis manage to find an ideal mix of work and pleasure. Another set of top-notch executive officers coupled with unprecedented Fraternal enthusiasm keeps us right on track.

Virginia Tech

Spring Already?

Spring is here again but the school year is far from over for Virginia Zeta. Events for this spring include intramural softball, soccer, and volleyball, Delta Gamma's Anchor Splash, a skiing trip, and as always, our annual spring camping trip. Most important, however, is our Spring Banquet which will be held May 7. Banquet allows us, as a brotherhood, the chance to reflect on our accomplishments, and the good times we had over the past year, including recognizing our graduating seniors and thanking them for a job well done. All alumni are encouraged to attend this most festive event and to contact the Chapter for further details.

Things are always fast-paced at Tech and this past quarter was no different. We participated in intramural basketball and waterpolo. Our Semiformals proved to be a smashing success, and our pledges, the "Alpha Mu's" raised nearly $300 in the Zeta Tau Alpha "Bowl-a-thon." The biggest news comes in the form of a major victory for the greek system here at Tech. Recently the go-ahead vote was passed for work to start on the long awaited, all-greek housing project called Knollwood. Until now, greek housing was scarce and widely dispersed. This comes at an especially opportune time for us as we look for our own Chapter house.

The Brothers of Virginia Zeta would like to recognize our newest initiate, Brother William J. Mattes, Mt. Sinai, NY.

Fostering Unity

Indiana Gamma welcomes back three Brothers this semester: Tom Dow from Oxford; Chris Brown, from the University of Tennessee; and Bryon Sego from Indiana University. Also, while these Brothers returned, one remained overseas and another went for the second semester: William Guffey at Lancaster and Kenny Thomas at the Sorbonne. Another Brother in the spotlight is Joe Anderson, who managed to attain a 4.0 grade point average last semester.

We are currently pioneering a program to foster campus unity among the fraternities at Wabash. We have begun by inviting the other fraternities to dinner during the week. A speaker, usually a faculty member, addresses us on the subject of campus unity. We believe this will help foster a greater sense of unity on campus and allow us to meet people we never had a chance to meet before. Thus far, we have had two dinners, and plan to have the rest of the fraternities over before the end of the semester.

Also this semester, we have elected new officers: Terry Hamilton, GP; Bill Sondgerath, VGP; Chester Gut, AG; David Schul, BG; Dean Cantrell, P; Eric Granger, Hod; Patrick Noone, Phu; and Joe Anderson, Hi.

Washington Bigger and Better

For Washington Alpha, winter quarter brought new spirit and energy to our Brotherhood, along with an abundance of exciting activities.

The surge in our spirit and energy was fueled by our 20 new initiates: John Douthitt, Everett; Ty Thorsen, Steve Nielson, Chuck Bleth, and Lance Erz, Vancouver; Roger Taylor, Redmond; Pat Dunn, Spokane; Niles Gooding, Sunnyside; Roger Hiddleston, Steve Gunderson, Mike Meier, and Kyle Hagberg, Bellevue; Mike Moberly and Earl Krygier, Juneau, AK; and Jeff Christ, Dave Livingston, Craig Nishizaki, Lee Blanchette, Jim Boyle, and Joe Marshall, Seattle.

Social events this quarter consisted of the usual exchanges, Founders Day, and our annual formal, the Red Rose Ball, held at the Tyee Yacht Club.

We finally refinished our pool table, which was built in 1875, just in time for our first Father's Day weekend.

Our intramurals were as strong as ever, as we sported two basketball teams and one corec volleyball team with Delta Zeta.

Washington Alpha looks forward to many fun-filled activities, such as Greek Week and our annual Spring Cruise.

Washington and Jefferson High Achievements

The Brothers of Pennsylvania Alpha are proud to have completed a very successful fall semester. Brother Matthew D'Onofrio received the Solon E. Summerfield Scholarship for 1987-88. Brother Thomas W. Kenod Jr. was elected chairman of the senior class cabinet. Meanwhile, Brother Matthew Sweeney was elected president of the Phi Alpha Theta history honorary. In addition to these accomplishments, we have also completed a land-scaping project under the direction of Brother Paul Livingston.

For the second consecutive year, the W&J varsity football team has captured the PAC Championship and finished regular season play ranked second in NCAA Division III, with a 9-0 record. The Presidents advanced to the second round of national championship playoffs and finished the season 10-1. Brothers Ciferno, Donovan, France, Lago, and Livingston have all played key roles on the championship squad.

Homecoming 1987 took place on October 23-24, with over 100 alumni returning for the many events. On November 6-7, we held our annual Parents' Weekend festivities which brought hundreds of friends and family to celebrate with the Brothers.

The Chapter welcomed the return of several Brothers studying elsewhere during intersession this January: Brother Donovan in Boston, Brother Clayton in Greensburg, PA; Brother Baker in Pittsburgh, PA; and Brother Mazza in Clarksburg, WV.

The 1988 Founders Day celebration and Biennial Dinner began with a party at the Chapter house, then we proceeded to Ernie's Esquire Supper Club around 8:00 p.m. Many alumni joined us to make this a successful event.

Washington and Lee Good News

After a fantastic job during the fall term, GP Mike "Mac" McEvoy and VGP Jim Rallo relinquished their positions to new GP Mike Forrester and VGP Richard Redfoot. Thanks to all four of these officers, Virginia Beta continues to be one of the strongest chapters on campus.

Rush Chairmen John Nozemack and Mike Forrester and the rest of the Brotherhood did a fine job with this year's pledges.

As usual, Virginia Beta continues to be represented most adequately throughout campus as well as on the athletic fields. Numerous Brothers hold dorm counselor positions. Mark Chiappara is current secretary of the student-run executive committee. Steve Hancock is head of the intramural department. John Packett and Bob Drake received recognition for their outstanding performances on the football field this season. Lou Trosch and Steve Hancock are co-captains of the basketball team. Steve Castle captains the wrestling squad and several Brothers play on the lacrosse team.

Virginia Beta is to undergo some remodeling in the near future. We hope to increase the size of our basement in order to make better use of space. The success of this project is due to the hours of work given by former GP Mike McEyov.

Presently we are working out the details under the leadership of Mike Forrester for a Phi Psi 500 charity event scheduled for this April 27-30. All alumni are welcome. For additional information, please write to us at 301 East Washington St., Lexington, Va. 24450, c/o Richard Redfoot. Also, an alumni newsletter is in the works for an early spring distribution date.

West Virginia Big News

West Virginia Alpha is back on top. Following the initiation of 23 men in the fall, we pledged 26 men in the spring. Congratulations to Rush Chairman George Karos for finding such fine gentlemen. The James Cochran House will be overflowing.

The Brothers are all excited about our choice for Homecoming next year. The women of Alpha Phi graciously accepted our invitation to participate in Homecoming '88. We already foresee a first place ranking in the competition.

The sporting news is the same as always. We are doing great. We expect great things from our basketball teams. Brother Greg Stern had done a splendid job as intramural chairman. It looks like it's finally time for us to capture the Blue Cup once again.

Our spring officers have been doing a fine job. They include Ed Cadogan, GP; Mark Blankenship, VGP; John McLister, BG; Andrew McMunn, P; Dave Winterholler and Rich Sigman, SG; Steve Mondin, Hod; George Karos, Hi; and Bill Nusser, Phu. Congratulations are also in order for Steven Bulazo, as he was chosen our Summerfield Scholarship winner.

Our annual Run for Leukemia is slated for the month of April and we are expecting a large turnout.

The Founders Day award winners were announced, and the winners are as follows: The Harlan B. Selby Award, Steven Bulazo; The Most Active Phi Psi Award, Steven Williams; The Jeffrey C. Carmichael Award, Steven Freeman; and The Corson-Brashear Award, Thomas Dotson.

District of Columbia Alpha Expansion in Progress

This semester, the DC Alpha colony will have its third pledge class. The Gamma Class of '88 promises to be the largest class in the history of the Colony. We hope that this class will increase the membership by almost 50%.

Besides the great enthusiasm about our upcoming membership surge, we are pleased about our new officers recently chosen in the past election. Our new officers are Daren Bakst, president; Charlie Galligan, vice president; Paul Venuto, treasurer; Steve Russell, recording secretary; Ben Cohen, corresponding secretary, Cary Abend, Hod; Scott Behrens, Phu; and Andy Perelson, IFC Representative.

We are participating in the university's Winter Intramural Soccer and Triples Volley-ball Programs, and we hope to do well this semester. Our spring rush started very well and is proceeding along just as it has been planned.

We have also just formed our alumni corporation under the mainstay of Richard Troyer, Washington '56. It currently has 15 members and is expanding to help guide us in our quest for a charter. In conjunction with the alumni corporation, we have also formed a bimonthly alumni newsletter, the Phi Psi Colonial, which offers alumni a closer look at what the Colony is up to. Anyone interested in subscribing should write:

In the area of community service, we have been very active. We co-sponsored Safety Belt Awareness Week at George Washington University. The Brothers handed out literature about the usage and benefits of safety belts to the students.

We are looking forward to a charter in January of 1989.

Kentucky Charter Fever

The morale here in Lexington is higher than ever! Our spring rush was very successful and 10 new men have joined the ranks as Founding Fathers of Kentucky Beta. One of our greatest challenges, membership, was therefore met as we reached and surpassed our goal of 40 Brothers by February. We are still holding rush every four weeks, however, in order to increase our number of quality members and compete with the larger fraternities here at UK.

The list of academic honors we have earned is growing too long to list, since most of our pledges and initiates have earned some kind of academic scholarship or recognition on the Dean's List. Our grades for the fall semester reflected this, as we ranked fourth out of 23 fraternities and were above the all men's average.

Phi Kappa Psi is also earning recognition on campus for our extracurricular activities. Besides intramurals and varsity athletics, we have installed a "PSIdewalk Chaperon" program to increase safety on campus. Brothers are "on call" from 7:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. each night to escort sorority women to and from night classes, distant parking spaces, or anywhere on campus. Other fraternities and campus organizations have followed our lead and started their own programs to help keep UK safe.

Special thanks to Brothers John Wright and Randall Stevens for their hard work. We have planned an elaborate Founders Day celebration February 20 for area alumni who are also enthusiastic about the upcoming charter date.

Special thanks again go to Educational Leadership Consultant Joe Siebert for his inspiration and ideas. Brother Siebert's short but influential visit helped organize our progress concerning initiation. We would also like to thank the Brothers of Tennessee Epsilon for making us feel at home in our annual Big Brother/Little Brother walkout.

We would like to welcome the newest additions to Kentucky Beta: Mike Demma, Steve Mott and John Spalding, Lexington; Brian Johnson, Radcliff; Sean Lohman, Louisville; and David Overbey, Murray. Congratulations to the new spring officers: Louis Smith, GP; George Allard, VGP; Victor Wilson, P; Eric Gregory, AG; Chris Crowe, BG; Glenn Lanham, SG; Sean Lyons, Hod; and Russ Hoskins, Phu.

Maryland, Baltimore County Finishing Touches

The spring semester is upon us at Maryland Beta—a very important one since we hope to gain our Chapter status soon. If all goes well, we plan to submit the petition for our Charter at the conclusion of the spring semester. All of the Colony members here at UMBC have been working very hard in establishing a strong organization and we are proud of our accomplishments.

The fall semester proved to be a great success. Our membership was increased with the addition of six bright young men, and we held our first annual Formal which was a lot of fun. Academically, our Colony earned the second-highest grade point average among fraternities.

At present, we are working on the finishing touches that will make our organization sound and complete. We are again participating in formal rush in conjunction with the IFC, and have already gained many good prospects. Concerning philanthropy and community projects, we are working with the American Trauma Society as well as other local charitable organizations. Establishing a housing corporation remains to be our last major obstacle, however, we have received many favorable responses from area alumni expressing their interest.

Lastly, we offer special thanks to Maryland Alpha for their continued interest and support to our Colony.

The Texas Delta's final semester of Colony status is already off to a flying start with the addition of six new pledges: Robert W. Baker Jr., Richardson; John D. Clanton, Marshall; Albert J. Espinosa, Hialeah, FL; Christopher M. Goldberg, Yardley, PA; John P. Gulley III, Houston; and Douglas A. Rappaport, Bethesda, MD.

Socially, we enjoyed celebrating Founders Day with the North Texas Alumni Association on Feb. 23.

We are still trying to top last semester's Halloween Howl with the Zetas. We have plans for a Mardi Gras trip to New Orleans and several mixers with sororities. February was a particularly good month with a Kappa mixer, Mardi Gras, and another of our famous "Casino Nights." In addition, we participated in SMU's "Sing Song" competition with the Delta Gamma sorority.

Basketball season began in February, and the Phi Psi soccer and softball teams will certainly be a force in intramurals this spring.

In closing, we would like to thank Brother Karl Burk of California Theta for his ideas and suggestions for a possible Texas Delta Phi Psi 500.

We would like to thank all Chapters who attended the ceremony: Penn Iota, Penn Pi, New Jersey Alpha, New Jersey Gamma. A special thanks also goes to Thomas Meisner of Penn Theta for his attendance at the ceremony, and also for the gavel set given to the Colony. We would also like to thank David Boersma, Educational Leadership Consultant, for his attendance at the ceremony and for his help in getting us started.

The new Brothers are Thomas Meisner II, Ray Rodriguez, Darrin Feigin, and Norbert Star, Lakewood; Matthew Shaw, Point Pleasant Boro; Michael McDermott, Bayville; Thomas Amadio, Montville; and Michael Koller III, North Brunswick.

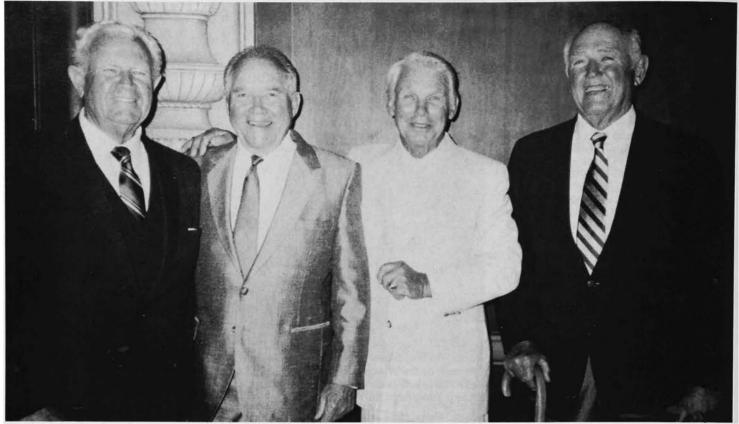

We are happy and proud to be a part of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity and are looking forward to a successful future with our new Brothers.

MILK CHOCOLATE

Hershey has been making chocolate since the turn of the century. But that's only part of its recipe for success.

Way inflight magazine of American

"People who know Mr. Zimmerman say he is extremely bright, a quick learner, a good leader, and, above all, someone who executes his plans."

hey are known as Z-grams, the handwritten notes of congratulations and thanks penned to employees by Richard Zimmerman, chairman of the board and CEO of the Hershey Foods Corporation and a Phi Psi initiate from Penn State. "Being an old navy man, I'll admit I borrowed the term from Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, Jr.," says Mr. Zimmerman. Regardless, it's the kind of peopleoriented touch that founder Milton S. Hershey would have approved of-and confirmation that Hershey, even though it has diversified well beyond the chocolate and pushed sales past the $2-billion mark, is being steered by a chairman who espouses the values of its first chief executive. Says John McMillin, a food industry analyst with Prudential-Bache Securities:

"It's a wonderful company with wonderful people. They do a lot of good for a lot of people. They're very shareholder-conscious, whereas some companies seem not to realize they work for their shareholders and employees."

In an age when many "merged again" corporations bear computer-generated names and have headquarters in sterile, urban skyscrapers, Hershey stands out by contrast. Granted, it has outgrown its original name; Hershey Chocolate Company no longer is appropriate after acquisitions such as the Friendly Ice Cream Corporation and American Beauty and San Giorgio pasta makers. But that's about all it has outgrown.

Home remains a small town about 15 miles east of Harrisburg, amid the lush Pennsylvania Dutch farmland in the south-central part of the state. In the heart of town, Chocolate Avenue meets Cocoa Avenue, and giant Hershey Kisses decorate street lights. The town, of course, is called Hershey. It's a name that pops up frequently in the area. There's the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center; Hershey-park, an amusement park; Hershey-park Arena, home to a minor-league hockey team and host to big-name acts such as the Ice Capades and the Harlem Globetrotters, and the Milton S. Hershey School, founded in 1909 for orphaned boys.

Like many turn-of-the-century communities built around a bustling factory, Hershey started as a company town. That it remains a company town-and still prosperous—is a tribute to Milton S. Hershey's vision and philanthropic bent. A Mennonite, he was less enamored of material wealth than most legendary industrialists. In fact, in 1918 he donated his multimillion-dollar chocolate company to the trust he'd established to run his school for orphans-a remarkable gesture and a landmark of sorts in American corporate history, for it umbilically linked an educational and social institution with a profit-minded business. Although the school's equity ownership has dwindled through the years from 100 percent to the present 44 percent stake in Hershey Foods, the school holds 77 percent of the voting stock, so its trustees retain control.

Hershey Foods not only thrives in Hershey's town but also in his home; corporate headquarters is the three-story Highpoint Mansion, which Hershey built on a hill across from the factory—facing a pair of 250-foot smokestacks. Following his lead, Mr. Zimmerman, like a handful of top corporate executives, lives right in town, within walking distance of the stone building.

"Hershey is a great place to raise a family," says the 55-year-old, silver-haired Mr. Zimmerman, who grew up in nearby Lebanon. He left a promising career in banking to join what was still the Hershey Chocolate Company as an administrative assistant in 1958, some 13 years after the death of its founder. At the time, the company was coasting on its good name. Hershey chocolate bars had landed with American soldiers in Europe during World War II, and, says Mr. Zimmerman, "the company still had its hands full trying to satiate the appetite retained by those who came out of the war." Annual sales totaled about $160 million, and double-digit profit levels marked the bottom line. But all was not well. "Those of us who joined the company then felt it was not reinvesting in its people, plant, and product promotion," says Mr. Zimmerman, who succeeded William Deardon as CEO in January, 1984—to the surprise of no one. When Mr. Deardon retired the following year, Mr. Zimmerman also assumed the title of chairman.

People who know Mr. Zimmerman say he is extremely bright, a quick learner, a good leader, and above all, someone who executes his plans. He has a way of taking charge of conversations without seeming overbearing. He is polished, personable, and quick to laugh. Mr. Deardon helps complete the portrait by emphasizing another attribute essential to Mr. Zimmerman's rise:

"In Hershey," he says, speaking of both the company and the town, "you're always on display. You can't be one kind of guy in the office and another person off the job. You can have all kinds of ability, but integrity is also important."

In the words of Mr. McMillin: "They [Messrs. Deardon and Zimmerman] took a sleepy giant and turned it into a marketing powerhouse." Mr. Zimmerman smiles at that assessment and invoking the words "poetic license," suggests the truth lies somewhere in between.

If you could unwrap Hershey Foods, as if peeling back the foil from one of its products, what would you find? A company that has enjoyed record sales and earnings for 8 consecutive years and tripled the size of its business in the past 10. An enterprise that has diversified into other food products and the restaurant business. An American institution that did not feel the need to advertise until 70 years after its founding and now spends about $100 million a year to promote itself. A competitor striving for increased productivity, still looking for appropriate acquisitions, and fighting for market share. In short, you'd find one of the most modern old-fashioned companies in America, pointing itself toward the end of the 20th century but also, in effect, looking over its shoulder and rededicating itself to what might be called the turn-of-the-century values of its founder.

"I was asked early on in this job what kind of an imprint I'd like to leave on the company," says Mr. Zimmerman, seating on a wing chair in his office, once a guest bedroom. "The most important legacy I can think of would be to leave a superb management and an excellent work force. I'd like the emphasis to be on people.

Richard Zimmerman, Penn State '51

Senior Hall, Milton Hershey School, Hershey, PA.

Hershey Chocolate Company, Hershey, PA.

"We're trying harder and harder to tap the most important resource we have in this company—the good minds of everybody who works for us. Too often we don't ask people for their best information and advice. Too often we go to supervisors and factory bosses to find solutions to problems—for example, too much rework, too much waste on our almond bar lines. Too often we forget the line workers. They can hear when a wrapping machine is out of tune."

Two years ago, Mr. Zimmerman called for a task force to interview employees throughout the company. The objective: Identify corporate values and principles. "Yes, I've got my card with me," says Mr. Zimmerman, laughing. Reaching for his wallet, he removes a plastic card, one of thousands distributed to all employees last year. Bearing the company logo, it lists four goals that Mr. Zimmerman concedes "sound trite, almost like motherhood." In a company less deeply anchored in its community and its traditions, they must sound banal or hollow, but at Hershey they seem to be taken to heart. They certainly are taken to heart by Mr. Zimmerman, who recites them, one by one, without so much as a glance at his card:

I. Protect and enhance the Corporation's high level of ethics and conduct. II. Maintain a strong "people" orientation and demonstrate care for every employee.

III. Attract and hold customers and consumers with products and services of consistently superior quality and value.

IV. Sustain a strong results orientation coupled with a prudent approach to business.

Elaborating on the first item, Mr. Zimmerman alludes to under-the-table arrangements industrywide that often help food products reach store shelves:

"There is not a salesman who works for Hershey Foods who must keep track of the special deals he's made with his customers. There are no special deals. We don't have hunting lodges. We don't have yachts. We don't do things of that nature. We don't think you have to cheat to win. Nor do we think that just because you're a good guy, you win. We think it's a matter of very hard work; hiring the very best people you can and saying to them: "We have certain expectations and high standards."

"The president of [he mentions a major supermarket chainly is coming here for a business review and to see the Milton Hershey School. Now, we don't use the Milton Hershey School to sell products. [He] probably doesn't even know what the school is about, but he's going to have lunch tomorrow with the little kids, 5- and 6-year olds. I've done that maybe 50 times. The 51st will be just as good as the 50th. It helps me realize we're in business for more than a report to shareholders and to put numbers up on a scoreboard. Our numbers are eventually translated into the care the Milton Hershey School can provide for children."

The school, now chartered to serve "social orphans"—boys or girls disadvantaged by the death or absence of a parent—provides more than 1,100 children with room and board, clothes, books, schooling, vocational training, and, in many cases, college scholarships. Prominent among its nearly 7,000 graduates are the current school president, William Fisher, class of '50, and Mr.

Deardon, class of '40, whose stint as Hershey's CEO allowed him, he says, "to pay back the subjective debt I felt I owned Mr. Hershey."

For a glimpse at the people orientation advocated by Mr. Zimmerman and his company, one need only look northward to Wilbraham, Massachusetts, home of the Friendly restaurant chain, which Hershey acquired in 1979. "What acquisition?" was the running joke at Friendly's home office as the weeks and months went by and Hershey still held to its pledge to keep existing management in charge. Says Friendly senior executive vice-president Joseph O'Shaughnessy:

"At first there was shock. It seemed everybody had an uncle or a brother-inlaw who'd been through an acquisition, and the results were terrible. So everyone was waiting for the shoe to fall, for Hershey to bring in its people. But they never did. In fact, several of our people have gone to Hershey. They really and truly sponsor upward mobility throughout the corporation. Yes, I'd call it a friendly acquisition."

As for goal number three, to attract customers with quality, Mr. Zimmerman notes that about a year ago Hershey raised the weights on many of its candy bars—the standard milk chocolate bar, for instance, went from 1.45 to 1.65 ounces—without increasing price. He explains:

"We felt it was important to give as much consumer value as possible. This came about six months after a price increase by M&M/Mars, our biggest competitor, which, frankly, we had to follow. In this industry, there's almost no choice because our wholesalers tend to raise the retail price regardless. Just last night, I was reviewing the results after nine months, and I'm pleased to say we made the right move in every respect—market share, gross profit, and sales."

"We're trying harder and harder to tap the most important resource we have in this company—the good minds of everybody who works for us."

Hershey's prudent approach to business is almost legendary; it's a rare Wall Street analyst who doesn't use the word conservative to describe it. This clearly is one enterprise not inclined to risky ventures or flashy, short-term gain. In the eyes of observers both inside and outside the company, Hershey is blessedly insulated against hostile takeovers and a quick-fix mentality by virture of its unique connection to the Milton Hershey School. Consequently, the company is known for strategic planning—one of Mr. Zimmerman's personal strengths. A telling example is what preceded Hershey's historic move to advertise. Recalls Mr. Zimmerman:

"The decision to advertise can be made easily. The decision to effectively advertise cannot. It's not a simple matter of going to an ad agency and plunking down a lot of money. Between 1966, when the decision was made on advertising, and 1969, when I was part of a four-person task force to find the agency, we were building the infrastructure—changing to a brand management system, adding market research people—preparing ourselves for advertising."

And if Bar None is any indication, Hershey is equally cautious in introducing a new candy bar. Bar None traces back to the late '70s, when the company began experimenting with a process to turn out thin wafers that will stay crisp throughout the product's six-month shelf life. What is now being positioned as "the chocolate lover's bar" spent a couple of years on the bench as 10 to 20 prototypes were handmade and presented to in-house tasters and marketing specialists. The emerging product—three thin cocoa wafers, two layers of cream, crushed peanuts on top, and a chocolate coating-still must endure at least a year of test marketing in the West. Whereas another company might well hurry new products into nationwide distribution to preempt the competition, Hershey's approach is more restrained.

"When you create a product that's as different as Bar None, you want to be absolutely certain," says Mr. Zimmerman, citing odds of at best one in four that a new candy bar will succeed in the marketplace. "We think we've got a winner here. We want to take our time; make sure everything is right before we put it in national distribution."

"We all have a menu. We walk up to a candy counter. There's maybe a dozen products, all of which we consider OK to buy. We mentally run through this list, and then we make our choice. When a manufacturer introduces a new product, he wants to get you to expand that list and get you to try something new."

Though optimistic about Bar None, Mr. Zimmerman is cautious enough not to predict overnight success. He is, however, bullish on the future of the candy industry—America's health kick notwithstanding. A decade ago, he says, the company was predicting 5 to 6 percent growth rates for its candy business. In fact, Hershey's confections, which account for two-thirds of its sales, have been growing at an annual rate of about 10 percent. Says Mr. Zimmerman:

"I'm not surprised, because after we eat healthier foods and exercise, we feel noble. And what do we do? We go out and reward ourselves with ice cream or a confection."

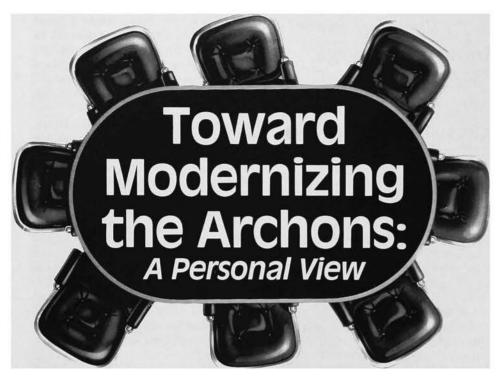

Bellying Up to the Bar

We've developed a yen for sushi, a craving for Cajun, and a fancy for flan, but we Americans are far less adventurous when we reach for a candy bar. Familiarity, apparently, breeds content.

Solar eclipses occur more frequently than shake-ups in the list of top-selling candies. "It's very hard to break into the top 10; they've been around for decades, says Linda Flanery, marketing coordinator of the DEBS report, which tracks candy sales at corner candy stores, mom and pop groceries, and some vending machines. "The only real newcomer to the top 25, a real accomplishment is SKOR, at number 23." (SKOR toffee candy bar is manufactured and marketed by Hershey under license from a Swedish company.)

Last year's DEBS survey of the top 10 also shows just how close the competition is between Hershey and M&M/Mars, a division of Mars Inc.

- 1. Snickers (M&M/Mars)
- 2. Reese's Peanut Butter Cups (Hershey)
- 3. M&M's Peanut (M&M/Mars)
- 4. M&M's Plain (M&M/Mars)
- 5. Kit Kat (Hershey)
- 6. Milky Way (M&M/Mars)
- Hershey's Milk Chocolate with Almonds (Hershey)
- 8. 3 Musketeers (M&M/Mars)
- 9. Butterfinger (RJR Nabisco)
- 10. Hershey's Milk Chocolate (Hershey)

Throughout the 30 years of my association with Phi Kappa Psi, no element of the Fraternity's government has been more significant to me than the Archons. The six students who preside over the districts and represent their Brothers, undergraduate and alumni alike, on the Executive Council hold positions of authority and responsibility unique in the American Fraternity movement. Phi Psi's form of government has long been a marvel to our friendly rivals who wonder how such an arrangement can allow so complex and widespread an organization to work effectively. They must believe that it is Phi Psi's profoundest secret. And in a sense, it is.

How can six young men of no special training or preparation come together with four alumni and a large set of appointive officers to govern the entire Fraternity? Don't the obvious differences in age, experience, achievements, responsibilities, attitudes, and even the ever-present "generation gap" inevitably get in the way? Isn't it just an elaborate charade intended to let the undergraduates believe they're important when, in fact, they're being manipulated? Isn't it hypocritical to pretend the Archons really possess the power to make decisions and help direct the Fraternity?

It's hardly any wonder that outsiders are skeptical. But the greater wonder is that since 1886—when the old Grand Chapters made up entirely of students, gave way to an Executive Council, made up of students and, for the first time, alumni—the Phi Psi balance has worked. Sometimes it worked superbly, sometimes passably, a few times awkwardly, but always it managed to muddle through, usually toward a better, stronger Fraternity. "Muddle through" puts the process in a poor light because the actions of the Executive Council have been taken in a purposeful, forceful way. The point is that deliberative decision-making involves checks and balances, initiatives and corrections, new programs and projects, careful modifications.

"Phi Psi's form of government has long been a marvel to our friendly rivals..."

From 1886-1898, the Fraternity was governed by four Archons and the four voting members of the Executive Council. But in 1898, District V was created, requiring the services of an additional Archon. Years later, in 1923, District VI was formed and Archons then outnumbered the Executive Council's voting members by two.

What have the Archons contributed to the process over the years? The Fraternity's Constitution is imprecise about their general duties, mentioning them only in Article IV as members of the Executive Council and in Articles IX and X about their functions within the districts and the District Councils. If one wants to find a job description that defines what an Archon is expected to do or be, neither the constitution nor the by-laws of the Executive Council are of much help. It takes a good deal of reading between the lines and of reconstructing the history of the Executive Council to gain a clear sense of what the office was meant to accomplish.

I say this with a certain personal authority because my service on the Executive Council (now stretching beyond 22 years) began in 1959 when I was elected Archon of the old District IV. That whopperjawed territory ran from Minnesota Beta to Mississippi Alpha, encompassing 14 Chapters and 10 or so alumni associations. In those days the Fraternity employed no field secretaries (later to be educational leadership consultants), and the routine work of checking on the well-being of the Chapters was entrusted to the Archons, who were required to visit each Chapter and association at least once during the two-year term, preferably twice.

"The Archons of 1988 are no less competent than their predecessors, but they have less to do."

Then there were special assignments consisting of calls on local fraternities interested in the Fraternity, possible locations for Colonies, charterings of new Chapters, Founders Days, Chapter anniversaries, and emergencies which included problems ranging from bureaucratic but demanding, to serious and somber.

For a late adolescent this was pretty heady stuff, and even less conscientious Archons had to invest a considerable amount of time, energy, and effort in meeting their obligations. It should be kept in mind that an Archon was involved strictly as a volunteer, that he was a full-time student engaged in extracurricular activities, Chapter Life, private pursuits, and often, academic studies. If anyone is puzzled why most former Archons remain rather passive participants in the life of the Fraternity, the answer may lie in the recognition that enough was quite enough. Or too much, too soon. Whatever the case, the Archons of the old style (that is, prior to about 1965 when the Fraternity became expansively professional and collegiate life in America changed radically) knew at first hand what Chapter and campus conditions were throughout their districts, understood the attitudes and concerns of the "constituents" they represented, and were in the main well informed on important matters that affected the entire Fraternity (which 25 years ago was only about 60-odd Chapters strong with few Colonies.

The Archons of 1988 are no less competent than their predecessors, but they have less to do. Educational leadership consultants do the trouble shooting, problem-solving, Colony-organizing, smoke-jumping, and a broad range of diplomatic errands which the old Archons never really had time to do anyway. While employed, ELCs don't attend college; they attend to college students and their needs, and they do so. it pains me to admit, far more effectively than did the best Archons in the past. ELCs travel more, know more, learn more, and do more, which makes for a more efficient, responsive, and capable

Where do these changes leave the Archons? While they are constitutionally the presiding officers of their districts and, by virtue of that, the districts' representatives to the Executive Council, they usually know less about specific conditions and problems, about attitudes and concerns than they should. Because the Archons have been superceded by the ELCs in operational matters, they have become, in effect, less involved, less actively engaged, and perhaps less informed than the alumni officers of the Executive Council. In sum, the office of Archon has suffered a steady attrition in capability and effectiveness, while retaining the same authority and responsibility. Put another way, the Fraternity has outgrown the Archons through no fault of their own, but because of the force of changing circumstances.

Do these changes mean the Archons should be eliminated altogether? While it is true the ELCs have taken over most of the chores Archons once carried out, they are, strictly speaking, employees of the Fraternity. This in no way faults their loyalty or candor, but it does mean

"My own proposal is fairly simple: the Worthy Archons shall represent their respective districts in the making of policies for the governance of the Fraternity, but shall serve without vote or executive duties."

"...the Fraternity is best served when a range of Phi Psis—young, middle-aged, and older—bring their common abilities to bear on matters that concern the general Fraternity."

they cannot be entirely disinterested because of their direct involvement in routine operations. In the past this mixture of functions confused the Archons to some extent, although they, like the other EC members, were volunteers who both made policy and tried to carry it out. The current arrangement makes possible a clear separation of duties that can work to the Fraternity's overall advantage.

In part, because they are young men without extensive experience of rigid preconceptions (although this isn't always true), the Archons bring to the Executive Council points of view that may provide useful, often challenging ways of looking at various situations and questions. It is not simply that they express the attitudes of their own undergraduate generation, but that they think, speak and judge for themselves in their own right, as elected representatives in any form of government must do.

In my experience on the E.C., the Fraternity is best served when a range of Phi Psis—young, middle-aged, and older—bring their common abilities to bear on matters that concern the general Fraternity. Such an interplay is certainly in keeping with our principles and reinforces what is most valuable, both practically and ideally, in how the Fraternity conducts its business.

All the same, a close observer must admit there has been a gradual weakening of the Archons to the point that the Fraternity is no longer realizing the full benefits the system was intended to provide. Again, this state of affairs does not reflect on the Archons as individuals, for they are among the ablest young Brothers the Fraternity can supply. However, their abilities tend to be misdirected and misused because their office has become outmoded and is in pressing need of reform.

More to the point, the Executive Council's business has changed decidedly in recent years from the kinds of matters that Archons are ordinarily prepared to handle—internal Chapter problems, extension possibilities, the progress of Colonies, the need for supervisory committees—to those that require special training or experience, like restructuring the Fraternity's financial base, creating a comprehensive insurance program, reorganizing the annual giving campaign in cooperation with the Endowment Fund, enlarging the executive office's capacity for providing services.

Not only has this taken a larger contribution of time and talent from the alumni officers, it has also raised the level of operation from $200,000 to more than $1,000,000 in just a few years. Besides that, there is no chance that the E.C.'s agenda in the future will be simpler, easier, or less demanding.

In many ways these developments resemble what happened to the Fraternity during the two decades before a revised form of government was adopted in 1886. Then as now, a growing number of Chapters and members, a wider geographical distribution, an increase in costs and hence in budgets, and a need for improved communication (especially through The Shield, established in 1879), placed burdens on the Grand Chapter that even the most dutiful and diligent students could not bear.

At the Indianapolis GAC of 1886 the Fraternity, students and alumni alike, had to face facts: that either Phi Kappa Psi adjusted its form of government to the complexity of changing times, or accept a receding position, the result of trying to keep the status quo in the fraternity movement. Indeed, several fine old fraternities that had prevailed in the colleges of the northeast elected to take the latter course, and then had to take the consequences.

Phi Kappa Psi is rightly described as "conservative" because throughout its 136-year history the Fraternity has understood what traditions, practices, and values best serve its integrity and vitality. Otherwise, we should still be stuck with the Grand Chapter system, pink and lavender, and a severely limited extension. A management consultant would probably take a quick look at the Archons and snort, "You can't operate an efficient organization with six students on your board of directors, not with questions of liability that stagger the imagination." Well, efficiency is not necessarily a primary value for Phi Kappa Psi. Nor can it be for any institution that wants to help young men learn practical lessons about moral responsibility, personal integrity, disciplined competence, and excellence. The profit we seek to realize is measured not in financial terms, but in the quality of lives strengthened and enriched beyond measure.

What can be done to correct the situation? My own proposal is fairly simple: restore the Archons as true representatives of their districts by defining their responsibility as policymaking and advocacy, and by giving up their obligations to make decisions. This would require an amendment to the Fraternity's constitution, as follows: Article IV The Executive Council: Section 1-Membership: Clause 2—(to be added) "The Worthy Archons shall represent their respective districts in the making of policies for the governance of the Fraternity, but shall serve without vote or executive duties." The addition of this clause would, in effect, free the Archons from broad but undefined obligations, which they are not able to fulfill competently. It would also commission the Archons to establish more effective and regular communication to and from the Chapters and alumni associations of their districts.

Perhaps it would be useful to designate the Archonate as a "think tank" to consider developments, trends, and conditions within each district and throughout the Fraternity as a whole. Indeed, the Archonate could be granted the responsibility of serving as a standing "state of the Fraternity" committee, charged with reporting regularly to the E.C. Moreover, giving up the votes would enable the Fraternity to move beyond the present six-four structure so that new districts could be created to remedy whatever imbalances exist. This would, in turn, make possible the election of Archons for the new districts, bringing more undergraduates into the process of government. One possibility for creating a better process might be to designate each GP as a deputy Archon, thus making a direct connection with every Chapter.

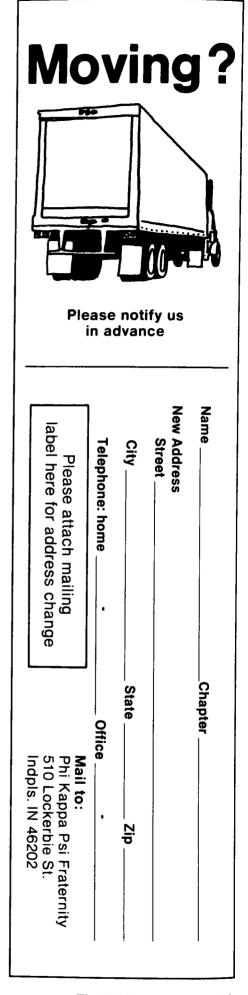

Obviously, the first and strongest objection that comes to mind is the "loss of undergraduate control" through having the Archons give up their votes and thus, a majority on the Executive Council. If Phi Kappa Psi were constantly embroiled in a power struggle between undergraduates and alumni, the six to four composition of the Executive Council (and, by extension, the overwhelming majority of undergraduates in the GACs and the DCs) would be a crucial consideration. Fortunately, the Fraternity has historically been free of internecine conflict, unlike the wounding experiences of other fraternities. That Phi Psis of whatever age or background accept one another unconditionally in a bond of mutual trust and respect, is the essential condition that enables us to govern ourselves. There is no reason to fear that this will change, that we will lose sight of our ideal of peace and harmony.

But there is another response that should be made to "loss of voting power" objection, and I shall make it on the basis of my own experience. Although I served for two years as Archon and exercised my right to vote on all matters that called for it, I have since that time served more than 20 years, off and on, as an appointive officer without a vote. Most of the members of the EC are voteless: the attorney general, the scholarship director, the director of Fraternity education, and so on. I have never found that the inability to vote on matters before the EC was a disability. It has never kept me from expressing opinions, arguing points, raising objections, or in any other way working to help my Brothers make policy and consequently make decisions about the Fraternity. Unless I have misinterpreted the attitudes of my colleagues, none of the appointive officers has felt diminished or restricted in the discharge of his duties because he can only speak, write, reason, and try to persuade.

In a sense, the vote is largely a symbolic expression of the consensus that the EC attempts to reach, what the Quakers call "the sense of the meeting." Accordingly, the Archons are likely to serve more effectively by being able to concentrate on their duties as representatives and makers of policy; the lack of votes should come as a relief because it will let them be responsible for accepting and performing only those duties that they are well-equipped to carry out. I doubt that any Archon of the future under the proposed amendment would consider himself a second class Brother or counselor. There is, after all, no such thing as a second class Phi Psi.

This, then, is my modest proposal at immodest length. My intention is not simply to conserve what is distinctive and characteristic about our form of government, but, better yet, to enable the Archons and the Fraternity in a paraphrase of Tom Campbell's words "to live and to flourish." I trust that readers will give it their thoughtful consideration, so that when it is presented to the 1988 GAC, every delegate will be well prepared to act wisely.

Annual Report

Message From the President

Dear Brothers:

When I boarded the plane in Baton Rouge the morning of February 18, 1988, on a journey that would take me to Tucson, Chicago, and Indianapolis for Founders Day presentations, I carried with me an issue of a local sports weekly which had just arrived at my home. Appearing in that issue of the Tiger Rag was the poem entitled "Food for Thought."

Throughout the journey I thought more and more about the poem and how it could have been written by a Phi Psi pledge. Generally, our pledges come to us uninitiated in the ways of the American college experience. Therefore, to a great extent their initial expectations, forged in the first weeks while a Phi Psi pledge, can set the stage for their entire college career. They may come to us not being very serious students, but we can teach them quickly by example that superior scholarship is an expectation. If we expect our pledges to be Phi Psi gentlemen and to excel in their various intercollegiate endeavors, we as Brothers must lead by example from the outset. I offer the poem below (reprinted by permission) as . . .

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

I'd rather see a lesson
Than to hear one any day,
I'd rather you'd walk with me
Than to merely show the way.

The eye's a better teacher And more willing than the ear, And counsel is confusing But example's always clear.

The best of all the teachers
Are the ones who live the creed.
To see good put in action
Is what everybody needs.

I soon can learn to do it
If you let me see it done.
I can see your hand in action
But your tongue too fast may run.

And the counsel you are giving May be very fine and true, But I'd rather get my lesson By observing what you do!

Most fraternally yours,

Dr. David F. Hull Jr.

Nile Kinnick: Portrait of a Hero

On the cover: Something old, something new . . . a description of today's Phi Kappa Psi. Like this magnificent stained glass window, there is much of the "old" Phi Psi definitely worth preserving. And yet like all organizations, our great Fraternity must incorporate that which is "new" in order to remain meaningful on the complex college campus of 1988. This window, originally in the Cal Beta Chapter house at Stanford University, now rests in Phi Psi's Headquarters, and symbolizes something old that is interesting, yet this outstanding Chapter today thrives with no housing at all at Stanford. Different? Yes, but still important to her student Brothers. Please read more about today's Phi Kappa Psi in this special Annual Report issue of THE SHIELD.

THE SHIELD of Phi Kappa Psi (ISSN 0199-01280) was established in 1879. It is published quarterly under the authority and direction of the Executive Council of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Introduction

A Story

Once upon a time, in a land far, far away, fraternity men were considered campus leaders; athletic teams, community service projects, academic and leadership honoraries, and even math and French clubs were populated almost entirely by men from the Greek system. The typical campus leader was assumed to be a Greek, whether he was student body president, or head cheerleader, and if he was not a fraternity man, he was certainly a good friend to many in the Greek system.

And as the story goes, those bright young men graduated summa cum laude, did very well in the business world (some even without Dad's help), became civic leaders, and contributed often and well to their Alma Mater. They also married college sweethearts (of course they were sorority women) had four kids, and sent them back to their own University to begin yet another student generation. This is how the story goes . . . isn't it?

Like all great stories, fact and fiction blur somewhat, especially as time ticks by. Certainly, fraternities in the 20's and 30's were different from those Chapters of the 40's and 50's. And the 60's most of us would like to forget! But the facts are, student Chapters are today both touched by our Fraternity's past, and independent enough to be untouched by it in some areas of operation.

Is this "good"? Is it "bad"? Can we even generalize in such a sweeping way? Frankly I'm not sure, but a statement I read just the other day still haunts; on one Eastern campus, at a small, regional, liberal arts college, the trustees have voted to "de-recognize" the entire Greek system. Since fraternities have been a part of student life at this school for over 130 years, this decision was not made in haste, but followed considerable study. A report presented to the trustees recommending the abolishment of the Greek system pointed out a number of problems, but the one that most stood out to me was that "the Chapters on this campus have no memory."

We could, and we actually would, argue that the indictment is not true of our Phi Psi Chapter on that campus. However, to a large extent, the "memory" of the Chapters there is limited. This gives little incentive to involve alumni in helping guide the Chapters, which in turn gives rise to all sorts of unacceptable behavior. Alcohol abuse, open parties, mediocre scholarship, lack of campus and community involvement, and other problems do exist, and still will even without a Greek system, because they are human problems that only become more easily labeled if exhibited identifiably at a "fraternity event." And those problems don't go away if the school still recruits students attracted to abusive behavior.

What is the answer? It's not fair to use just the example above as a college typical of all Phi Psi campuses, for indeed it is not; but, how ironic was the recommendation that, after abolishing the Greek system, the school should immediately establish "small, group living units"! Cannot every Greek system benefit by more direct, constructive criticism, and then gather together the cooperative manpower to affect positive change? I think so, and your fraternity leadership strives hard to help as needed.

Will we return to the storybook days of yore? Certainly not, and we realize that fraternities never have been the romantic vision described above, for this myth is just that. But do we return to exacting certain demands of our members . . . most definitely! And in many Chapters, the wandering away from standards was brief if noticed at all.

The fact of this story is . . . no one will want to abolish a Greek system that is attempting to live up to its member fraternities' founding principles. Why would faculty complain if their brightest students were Greek? Would not community leaders be grateful for service rendered by fraternities? And what university president would not welcome campus leaders to his counsel, and be doubly pleased that they also were leading their Phi Psi Chapter? The simple answer is that students and their many publics would all benefit from a healthy Greek experience, so our efforts are better spent improving and building upon what we have, rather than creating a surrogate whose "memory" is a recent history of unacceptable behavior.

Whether or not our story has an ending where everyone lives happily-ever-after is yet to be known, and your Fraternity moves aggressively in the real world, and not dreamily in a fairy tale one. For high standards are to be met in Phi Kappa Psi, and the trend is toward escalating those standards, not lowering them. Please read on to learn of the excellent record Phi Psi enjoyed this membership year. Information presented represents data for March 1, 1987 through February 29, 1988 as Phi Psi's 136th Annual Report year.

All-time Record Year

The Phi Psi Chapter roll stood at 92 as of February 29, and has never been larger in Phi Psi's history. Of these, 88 reported 1,750 initiates, also an all-time record. Two new Chapter installations since March 1 promise perhaps a repeat of this outstanding new member year when next the Annual Report is rendered.

Pledges joining Phi Kappa Psi numbered 1,987, as reported by 89 Chapters and 6 Colonies, an increase over the 1,847 reported last year, and 1,766 the year before. The gradual increase in men pledging Phi Psi is due primarily to the growing list of Chapters, rather than Chapter student numbers increasing significantly.

The Fraternity's financial health remained sound this Annual Report year. The $5 per student Chapter Services Fee was in effect for its first entire fiscal year, and helped fund additional consultation to the 98 Chapters and Colonies. Also, we thank the several hundred Brothers who took advantage of the Phi Psi VISA credit card, for this additional income also has helped fund our many programs. And, the Fraternity's generous alumni Brothers made voluntary dollar gifts in excess of last year, also helping keep Phi Psi finances in the black.

Even with the new $5/man/year Chapter Services Fee charged our student Brothers, it is interesting to note that Phi Psi's 4-year cost of membership is below the interfraternity average, compared to the 12 other men's fraternities that provide the same tangible benefits (member badge, certificate, wallet card, The Manual, and lifetime subscription to THE SHIELD). And, we still operate the Fraternity on student revenues of under 45%, with investment income, alumni gifts, and enthusiastic assistance from Phi Psi's educational foundation, the Endowment Fund, comprising a majority of operating funds. If it were not for these other sources of revenue, undergraduate pledge, initiation and conference fees would have to more than double if current programs were preserved. The Fraternity is especially grateful for the life-long dedication to our beloved brotherhood exhibited by her loyal alumni.

This issue of THE SHIELD is designed to give a photograph of all of Phi Kappa Psi, circa February 19, 1988. You will read following of outstanding scholarship, campus leadership, record-setting numbers of pledges and initiates, increased participation by alumni, a gradually increasing roll of Chapters and Colonies, and more. Today's Phi Kappa Psi is indeed thriving in today's real world, and leaving the myth-making to other groups. With continued hard work by our student and alumnus Brothers, the Phi Psi Story will be a proud legacy with which our sons and grandsons will want to be associated. So as our great Fraternity approaches her 14th decade, let's all proudly proclaim as did our Founders cry: "We live, and we shall flourish!"

The "Average" Chapter

The average Chapter in Phi Kappa Psi experienced a good report year, representing activity from March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988. The model Chapter has the following statistics: 71 undergraduates, 20 of whom are pledges, of which 19 became initiated members. The typical undergraduate Chapter lives in a building owned by a Phi Psi alumni house-holding corporation; the property is, on average, 40 years old, with building, land and contents valued at over $600,000.

The average Chapter had a net increase of 5 men compared to last year, including members and pledges, although the range varied greatly from an 89 man increase, to a 28 man decrease in membership. The typical undergraduate Chapter has initiated 837 men over the years, and has celebrated their 63rd anniversary of founding on their campus.

Membership

The year in review added 1,750 new initiates to Phi Psi's Grand Membership Roll, thus breaking a 20 year old record for new members, which was 1,511 set in the 1966-1967 academic year. The Chapters pledged an average of 20 men, initiating 19 of them. The 1,987 pledges reported this year compares with 1,847 last year.

Progress continues on decreasing our "lost" address list. And from time to time we are able to devote some space in THE SHIELD to this project, but the job is, of course, never ending; if you know of any Brother not currently receiving Fraternity mail, please forward his name and address to: Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, 510 Lockerbie Street, Indianapolis, Indiana 46202.

New Chapters

Phi Psi added four new Chapters during this report year under review, March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988. The first chartering occurred fresh in the year, on March 7, when Florida Alpha at Florida State University was installed; it is always especially rewarding for Phi Psi to regain an "inactive" Chapter, and we are constantly examining such campuses for opportunities to do so, thus this date was meaningful both to the 61 new charter members, and the alumni members of years previous. Florida Alpha was originally founded in 1962, and lost in 1971, during which time 88 men joined Phi Kappa Psi. The colonization process this time began October 7, 1985.

Next Phi Psi's installation team gathered in Terre Haute, Indiana, where on March 28, 1987, the Fraternity

FROM THE ROAD...

Ronald A. Richard Minnesota '84 Noblesse Oblige

The starting gun fires. The crowd squeals as brightly tee shirted Greeks scramble through a makeshift course of tractor tires, mud pits, and monkey bars to the finish line. There are banners and prizes. The music is loud. The dress code is shorts and Vuarnets. What is it? Our philanthropy! Who benefits? Some group; I think it's for a disease.

"The great joy of serving others" is an often quoted phrase among the Phi Psi Brethren. As we come to enjoy the privilege of Fraternity membership, we accept a greater obligation to our fellowman. Noble intentions, yes. However, I have witnessed philanthropic projects that resemble blanket bingo beach parties more than anything else. They are often costly, gargantuan, and fail to promote the most positive image. Still, I have been impressed by many Chapter community service chairmen in my travels and have found certain common denominators with the best programs.

One important element is an established, yearly calendar of 5 or 6 simple, well-planned projects that are cosponsored with various sororities. This gives members the opportunity to spend time working closely with a number of sorority women under very positive circumstances. Large-scale, all-Greek projects tend to restrict Phi Psi's role to being the host for a mob of people. Concentrating on one sorority at a time allows the women to know our members as individuals. Also, the emphasis should be on man-hours donated, rather than raising money. People do not enjoy raising dollars. Besides, as a group of 100 men and women, time is our greatest resource. Provided our events are fun and successful, most become annual events and stabilize the Chapter's social calendar as well.

Publicity is greater if service projects are scheduled around Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. Chairmen agree that newspapers and newscasts are more eager for human interest stories around the holidays. If a tertiary goal of a service project is to provide an arena for your members to get better acquainted with a sorority, it is recommended that the project take place at the sorority house; the women simply cannot run away if they are already home. If the Chapter wishes to improve its image to the college community, holding the event at the fraternity house or on the university grounds may be the most effective.

It is easiest to begin community service projects with children. Kids are easy to please. Haunted houses, egg hunts, pin-the-tail-on-the-turkey, the touch and feel exhibit at a natural history museum are definite winners. Local elementary schools and children's shelters have willing participants. Working with elderly and handicapped persons is extremely rewarding, but requires better planning and execution. Get your feet wet with the kids.

Finally, learn about the group you are benefitting. Invite a representative of that society or organization to speak to both you and your sorority cosponsor. Make certain members know what the project is all about. Perhaps, these tips are more from the head than from the heart. But Chapter Community service chairmen have the responsibility of making a project a success. The satisfaction derived from making kids smile and meeting new people cannot be described in THE SHIELD. Those feelings are the product of organization, participation and education. Evaluate your program and make it one of Phi Psi's best.

Terrence G. Harper Oklahoma State '85 Cool Hand Terry

One of the more memorable lines from the Paul Newman movie, "Cool Hand Luke," was heard when Strother Martin exclaimed, "What we have here, is a failure to communicate!" This phrase often came to mind on my journeys throughout Phi Psi's broad domain.

Too often, it seems, problems crop up in our Chapters due to a simple lack of communication or failure to communicate. I recall one stop in particular where I was forced to act as a referee between two factions within a Chapter that could not stand one another let alone conduct efficient business. I felt like Dr. Robert Hartley (a.k.a. Bob

Educational Leadership Consultants for the 1987-88 academic year are (I to r): Terry Harper, Joe Siebert, Ron Richard, and Dave Boresma.

Newhart) in one of his group encounter sessions just trying to get the two sides to express their thoughts and feelings to each other.

When it was all said and done, I did not feel like I had accomplished much in the way of improving Chapter operations because so much time had to be spent trying to get the guys to act in a mature manner and put the needs of the Chapter in front of any personal feelings that might hamper the effective execution of day-to-day business.

The Chapter described above is by no means an exception in the undergraduate realm of Phi Kappa Psi. No Chapter is immune; I have seen the scenario time and time again. In every situation there are going to be potential communication problems looking to rear their ugly heads, but to a large extent, they are avoidable. And the solutions are quite simple and direct.

Prior to the next Chapter meeting, jot down the things that need to be communicated to the entire membership so you will not forget to deliver your important message. Posting a copy of your announcement on the Chapter's bulletin board for all to see is also effective. Put together a calling committee to inform the live-out members who are not around as much as they should be. Notes in each mailbox will serve as a good reminder as well. Finally, instead of sprinting from the dining room after finishing your butterscotch pudding and whipped cream, allow some time for announcements. Sure, you have to get more organized, but aren't we always striving for improvement?

As for the case with Cool Hand Luke, I highly doubt if any member of the Chapter will shoot you in the neck for trying to get your message across. But be prepared to hit the dirt, just in case.

I want to thank the many Chapters I visited for the kind hospitality and remind any Phi Psi heading to Eugene, Oregon to bring a towel and bathing suit if you plan to visit Oregon Alpha. You'll find out why soon enough. Just keep your mouth closed and don't touch the bottom. Take care . . .

Joseph Lee Siebert Indiana '83 What Price Popularity

Spring has arrived as I sit down to write my last article during my second and final year of consulting for Phi Kappa Psi. Spring seems to bring many distractions to our college campuses every year. The biggest distractions for most are the increased outdoor activities such as Greek Week, Phi Psi 500's, and last, but not least is the typical spring party. Recently, some of the Consultants and I were embroiled in a rather interesting conversation about difficulties experienced while

Thanks For The Memories

So what's wrong with that you say? That depends on the plans. The question I think more appropriate is: why are we having this "party" and what are our motives? So many times we hear the story that the only way to be successful on "this" campus is to have big parties. If that's true on your campus, you had better take another look at your membership. Are you trying to buy your popularity or is it that the membership can't make friends on its own? You should not have to go to all the expense, hassle, grief, and wear and tear on the property. And then there's always the clean-up. And this is all for the sake of being popular? I hope you really don't believe this to be true!

In visiting over 80 Chapters there's one thing that doesn't change and that is the party guests and their motives for being there. Do you think for one minute most of the people that attend your parties really care about you or Phi Psi? I doubt it. Most are there for the freebies and could care less if it was Phi Kappa Psi or any other nameless fraternity, just as long as they were being hosted by somebody.

Another problem that I have with these big parties is the old stereotype about Greeks in general. We all saw "Animal House" and it seems many Chapters would be perfect examples of this by the functions they sponsor. Examples abound in $35,000 rush budgets, freeflowing beer taps, and open parties where the whole campus is invited. Then you hear all those stories stating that "we" have the biggest, best, most incredible, wildest, (fill in the blank) parties on the whole campus. The thing troubling me the most about this whole concept is that some of our members really believe this is how to measure success. For those people I truly feel sorry because they are really missing the point of "fraternity."

We have to start proving those anti-fraternity stories wrong and stop waiting until someone is injured or worse before we decide it's time to change. Our members need to understand and care more about what is happening. Can the colleges in the East be right in banning Greek systems from their campuses?

This article, which I'm sure will make some happy because it's my last, may do nothing more than heighten the reader's awareness to the issues of popularity and success, but that was my goal. To all the Phi Psis I met and, hopefully, helped: Take Care and Good Luck!

David Boersma Kansas '84

As my first year of travel for the National Fraternity concludes and I begin my second year on staff, a number of memories come flooding back to me. Some are good. Some are bad. Some didn't even have anything to do with the Fraternity, except that my position as an Educational Leadership Consultant put me in that time or place. I'd like to recount several of these events that hit me the hardest during my travels.

The event that sticks out in my mind the most is arriving on an Eastern campus that was under siege by the media after the tragic death of a pledge of another fraternity. It's hard to discuss the incident without talking about hearsay and what facts have been released. I will say that yellow journalism did rear its ugly head and it wasn't a pretty sight. Gossip and hearsay are bad enough in this profession, but when something of this magnitude hits the fan, Betty had better bar the barn door. Alcohol should never play a role in any fraternity education program let alone Ritual. End of discussion.

Don't get me wrong, I had some great experiences during my first tour of duty; far too numerous to try and fit into the confines of this article. I would like to mention a letter that I received from a fellow Kansas Alphan during a very long stretch of time on the road. When you accept a position as a Consultant, you literally put your life on hold for two years (in my case). But I figured graduate school would still be there when I finished, as well as the Fortune 500. All in all, it was a tough decision whether or not to devote my life to Phi Kappa Psi for two years and seemingly watch the world pass me by. But anyway, back to the letter in hand. Basically, I received a verification that perhaps I did make the best decision to get out and taste the real world for a period of time before going back to the secure world of university life. Thanks for the letter.

Well, I have traveled half way down the yellow brick road. The opportunity I have had is unreal. I'd like to thank everyone who made this year a great one. I guess it's intermission until the Grand Arch Council.

Fridlin

CHARLES "BUD" FRIDLIN, Purdue '24, was recently inducted into the Indiana Bowling Association Hall of Fame in Indianapolis. Prior to his induction in the IBA Hall of Fame, Brother Fridlin was inducted as a charter member of the Kokomo Bowling Association Hall of Fame. He was chosen by his peers for the two honors in consideration of his contribution to the furtherance of the sport of bowling both locally and across the Hoosier state.

RALPH MILLER, Kansas '38, was named to the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts, in February. Brother Miller, head coach of the Oregon State Beavers, is the winningest active coach in NCAA Division I basketball. He has a career record of 652-362 after 37 years of coaching. After playing for Kansas, Brother Miller coached 13 years at Wichita State and six at Iowa, before going to Oregon State 20 years ago. Miller's 1987-88 squad finished second in the PAC-10 Conference and qualified for the NCAA Tournament.

LARRY WINN JR., Kansas '38, has been recognized for his service to the Santa Fe Trail District of the Boy Scouts of America. The former U.S. representative was honored at the group's annual recognition dinner. Brother Winn is the outgoing chairman of the district who, during his two-year term, oversaw the unification of all Johnson County Scout troops into one district.

JAMES M. BIGGAR, Case Western Reserve '47, president and chief executive of Nestle Enterprises Inc., has been recognized in USA Today for the company's efforts to promote women within the corporation. Nestle formed a 12-woman committee eight years ago to hold monthly seminars and make sure top management heard their ideas about equalizing the chances of success for both men and women.

BILL STEARMAN, Indiana '47, was recently recognized for his outstanding 39-year career as a high school basketball coach in Indiana. For the past 36 seasons, Brother Stearman has coached at Columbus North and its predecessor, Columbus High, in Columbus, Indiana. He also serves as the school's baseball coach and athletic director. Through his career, Brother Stearman has won 622 basketball games, 20 sectional titles, 11 regionals, and reached the state finals in 1964 and 1975. He's the leader among active coaches in career victories and fifth all-time. In 1963 and 1964, his teams enjoyed back to back, undefeated seasons. This year's team finished 15-5, marking the 17th time a Stearman-coached team has won 15 or more games in a season.

JACK E. TUSHER, Kansas '47, has been named vice-president of marketing for James Gustafson and Association in Overland Park, Kansas. The company specializes in career transition management and corporate outplacement services.

F.H. "FRITZ" SIMPSON, Nebraska '47, publisher of the Atlantic News-Telegraph in Atlantic, Iowa was honored by the Iowa Newspaper Association when he received the association's Distinguished Service Award. Brother Simpson was cited for his editorial and financial support of many community activities in Atlantic. He has served as president of many organizations including the YMCA, Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest, and Industrial Development Foundation. Fritz's son, TED SIMPSON, Nebraska '77, serves as the advertising manager of the News-Telegraph.

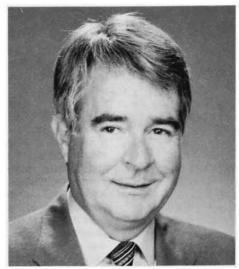

DAVID DRENAN, Ohio State '50, a graduate of the Ohio State College of Veterinary Medicine was the only Ohioan selected as a distinguished practitioner by the newly formed National Academies of Practice in Veterinary Medicine. Drenan earned his veterinary degree in 1955 and is the College of Veterinary Medicine's representative on the Alumni Advisory Council. He was one of 40 distinguished practitioner's chosen as the NAPVM's founders.

RICHARD W. KERR, Ohio Wesleyan '47, has had the National Screw Machine Products Association's highest award, the Merit Award, conferred upon him. Brother Kerr is president of Kerr Lakeside Inc. in Euclid, Ohio. A long-time member of NSMPA, he has been active at all levels of the Association and served on a number of committees. The Merit Award plaque recognizes the recipient's contributions and continued service for the benefit of the Association and the industry above and beyond the duties of any appointed or elected Association office.

MICHAEL MCDANIEL, Wittenberg '52, bishop of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America's North Carolina Synod, has been selected to be the banquet speaker at the constituting convention of the ELCA's Men's Organization in July. The ELCA, born January 1, 1988 has only 33 synod bishops in the United States.

MORRIS E. THOMAS JR., Indiana '55, is president of Thomas and Associates Inc. in Indianapolis. Brother Thomas has been a pioneer in the areas of developing general office space and medical office buildings. Since forming Thomas and Associates in 1970, he has done real estate consulting work for major corporations, including Rockwell International and Navistar. Brother Thomas also was in the cattle business for a time when he formed Wiese-Thomas Agriculture Inc. His revolutionary way to raise cattle has had a permanent impact on the cattle business.

Free

JOHN EDWARD FREE, Stanford '56, has completed a real estate management consulting assignment for the Republic of China. He spent 3 months training the staff of the Taipei World Trade Center in modern management techniques, including budgeting the 1.7 million square foot building and tenant relations for the 1,000 leased office/showroom spaces. He is the president of John Free & Associates, specializing in international real estate consulting services.

CHUCK FERGUSON, Colorado '61, has formed a consulting practice to assist companies with the remodeling or relocation of their offices. Office Relocation Coordinators, headquartered in Barrington, Illinois, coordinates all external professionals and service firms required to relocate an organization. A member of the Consultant's Roundtable, the Barrington Area Executive Club, and a past president of the Chicago Chapter of the Institute of Financial Education, Ferguson lives in Barrington with his wife and two children.

Derrough

LEE DERROUGH, Kansas '64, president of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., of Kansas City, Missouri, has been elected the 53rd president of the International Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions. As president and chief operating officer of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Derrough oversees the Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun themed amusement park entertainment complex in the Kansas City area, of which he was formerly president and general manager.

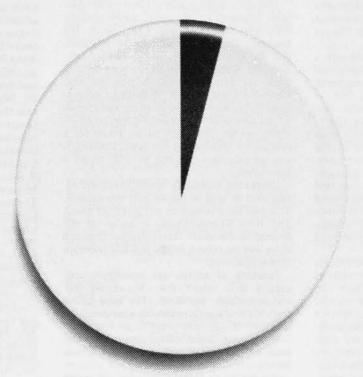

DAN OUELLETTE, Southwest Texas State '69, has been appointed to the Nueces River Authority Board of Directors by Texas Governor Bill Clements. Brother Oullette will complete the unexpired term of a past director who resigned. Some of the Board's duties include administering the control, employment, and conservation of the waters of the Nueces River Basin, forestation and reforestation, groundwater, stormwater, flood water, water quality control, solid waste, and parks and recreational facilities. A Sequin, Texas native, Brother Ouellette now resides in Beeville with his wife, Suzanne, and their two children. He is the vice president and co-owner of Brooke Insurance Agency, Inc.

HAROLD I. BARR, A.S.A., Johns Hopkins '75, has been named an Associate of William M. Mercer-Meidinger-Hansen, Inc., the world's largest benefits and compensation consulting firm. He became a member of the Society of Actuaries in 1981 and was enrolled to practice pension actuarial services before the Internal Revenue Service in 1984. He and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Cindy and Elise, and live in Plano, Texas.

DAVID W. KAY, UCLA '75, recently received a Doctorate in Environmental Science and Engineering (D. Env.) from UCLA. He earned his master's degree in biology from Cal State, Northridge and majored in biology as an undergraduate at UCLA. In 1984 he joined the Southern California Edison Company as an environmental specialist in water quality control and hazardous waste management. He was recently elected president of the California Epsilon Alumni Association.

JEFF JAMROG, Nebraska '83, was named to the National Interfraternity Conference's All-Fraternity, All-American Football Team. Brother Jamrog was named as a first team defensive end/outside linebacker on the squad. Receiving honorable mention as a receiver was TIM FINKLESTON, Virginia '86.

What you give is five. What you get back is immeasurable.

The business section of the average newspaper is filled with investment options. Stocks and bonds and mutual funds. Retirement accounts and pork-belly futures.

But you don't see much about the most important investment of all. Almost anybody can afford it. Just five hours a week. Just five percent of what you earn. If we all gave that much, to the causes we care about, it would be like mobilizing a force of more than 20 million full-time volunteers. With an operating budget of over $175 billion.

And what we could accomplish, with numbers like that, would pay dividends for generations to come.

So take a look at what you're doing now. For your community, your religious or political group, health research, whatever really matters to you. Then see if you can't find a way to do just a little more. It's an investment that could pay you back for the rest of your life.

A Change of Face

The men of Ohio Iota began 1988 with high hopes and enthusiasm for the year ahead. We began the year experiencing the great joy of serving others by assisting disabled skiers at Boston Mills ski resort. We had a great time helping these individuals onto the lifts and down the slopes. With the help of alumnus Timothy J. Hykes, we plan to make this an annual event.

Brother Mark Preto began the year with a 3.8 semester average which was the highest in the Chapter, as well as most outstanding among the varsity football players. Our restructured scholarship program, under control of scholarship chairman Craig Clark, hopes to place more Brothers at Mark's level; by the amount of studying going on around the house, it is working well above our expectations.

Our celebration of Founders Day was held at Tangiers restaurant and we appreciated overwhelming alumni attendance. Col. Robert E. Lazzell celebrated with us and throughout the evening the warmth of brotherhood filled our hearts.

Speaking of hearts, we won the Red Cross blood drive with the highest percentage of Greeks donating-92%. Also, Brothers Tim Lynskey and Robert Tipton were successful in their bids for IFC offices, being elected vice-president and chief justice, respectively. In other campus news, the University completed construction on the Ocasek Natatorium which houses an olympic-size pool, racquetball courts, and a new weight room. This modern facility is a great asset to the University.

We wish to congratulate our new officers for the 1988-89 school year: David M. Hamrick, GP; Daniel E. Colling, VGP; Timothy K. Lynskey, P; Christopher L. Paskey, AG; Craig A. Clark, BG; Douglas G. Courtney, Executive Director of Rush; Paul R. Pickett, SG; William J. DeNova, Hod; Anthony J. Kelley, Phu; and Robert D. Tipton, Hi. We all look forward to an excellent year.

One final note, our illustrious pooch, Murphy, is back home after deciding to take his doggie treats and skip town for a while. His recent surgery, though, will deter him from any more late night excursions to his girlfriend's doghouse.

Remember, Brothers, to keep those grades up and have an enjoyable summer.

OY!

We're enjoying a fine spring here at Alabama Alpha as some new leadership emerged in the election of two new officers. Ronnie Abernathy was elected the new V.G.P., and Thomas Hassell is the new B.G.

Thomas Hassell is also the new pledge educator in charge of our sharp, spring pledges. They are: Chris Barham, Craig Bush, Bill Descher, Chuck Herrold, James Newman, and Ralph Damsguard, whose father, Kenneth, is a charter member of Alabama Alpha.

On the first Sunday in March, we held Chapter Church, About 20 Brothers congregated at the house in the morning and attended the service at First Baptist Church. Afterwards, we all came back to the house for a nice dinner prepared by our cook, Delores. It was an enjoyable day and we plan to do it

On the last Sunday in March, Alabama Alpha held its second annual golf tournament. This year the tournament was given the name, The John Ramsey Open, in honor of our founder at Alabama Alpha. Brother Shannon Price was the winner of the building tradition here at Alabama.

Speaking of sports, our basketball team capped off its season with a big victory over our arch-rivals, the Betas. The table tennis team is off to a great start with wins over Pike and ZBT.

Our spring theme party, Australian Outback, was a blast, as well as a successful rush function

We headed to New Orleans for our spring formal. We stayed at the Palace Suite Hotel, but spent most of our time on Bourbon Street!

Alabama Alpha's new sweetheart for the upcoming year is Sherri Stritter of Delta Zeta sorority. She has been very supportive of our Chapter and is excited about being chosen.

We here at Alabama Alpha enjoyed our busy spring and look forward to a successful summer and fall rush. Roll Tide!

Allegheny Growing Steadily

The end of the year is just about upon us, here at Penn Beta. Along with the end of the school year comes future plans for graduating Brothers. This fall, Tom Garofalo and Mark DeMario will be attending medical school, Don Riedrer will begin his graduate studies in chemistry, and Scott Roy will be attending law school. This summer, Meade Smith will start his new job with Aetna Insurance Company. Also, Scott Hamrich is planning to embark on a three year walk across the country, He hopes to capture his journey on film and someday write a book about it.

Gordon Miller, '59, was appointed to the College's board of trustees. Phil Foxman has been elected as public relations chairperson to the Interfraternity Council. Phil hopes to turn the IFC's publication, the Greek Speak, around, so that it may be a quality and informative publication for the college community

To the alumni who attended our second annual Founders Day dinner, the event was a success, despite the previous announcement that it was successful even before it happened. Attending this event was Col. Robert E. Lazzell, West Virginia '42, National Secretary of Phi Kappa Psi. Col. Lazzell spoke on the role of the Fraternity and commented about our Chapter. The Brothers enjoyed meeting Col. Lazzell, as well as the other alumni who attended. On May 14, at Oakland Beach Golf Club in Conneaut, we have planned a golf scramble to raise money for a local charity.

The new officers of Penn Beta are as follows: Dale Elder, GP; Rob Manuel, VGP; Tony Powell, P; Paul Wojcik, AG; Joe Aracri, BG; Harrison Cladis, Hod; Phil Foxman and Meade Smith, Phu; and Mike Perozzi, Hi. We hope that our new officers can provide the leadership necessary for a prosperous Chapter. This year's rush proved to be very successful with the pledging of 21 initiates, including one senior, John Kent Hodges, Cambridge Springs. Our other pledges are Walter George Whimpenny, Colonia, NY; Michael James Hamilton, Murrysville; Thomas Clark Dolan, Sharpsville; David Lee Callahan, Brecksville, OH; Frederick John Chenot Jr. and Stephen Palmer Colby, Pittsburgh; Shawn James Crawford, Gibsonia; Erick Michael Elder, Massillon, OH; Brian William Hutton, Buffalo, NY; James Lee, Madrid, Spain; Anthony Michael Locicero III, Fairport, NY; Matthew Baldwin McDevitt, Pottstown; Daryl Keith McElvene, Helmuth, NY; Gregory Peter Miller, Coram, NY; Mark Andrew Onuscheck, McMurray; Michael Robert Palovich, Elizabeth; Stewart Jonas Reich, Ardsley, NY; John David Rittner, Alliance, OH; William Silverwood Taylor IV, Bellville; and Christopher Melck Thomas, Bethesda, MD. This is one of the largest pledge classes we have had in a long time. We hope all of our new pledges can be a positive influence on the college as well as the Fraternity.

Arizona Red Hot

It has been red hot here at Arizona Alpha. In the face of many questions, such as housing and alumni relations, the Brotherhood is revealing an inner strength of fire and fury. We are on a mission to restore the campus recognition that Arizona Alpha once had on the University of Arizona and any support is welcomed.

This summer there are Brothers on the move. Congratulations go out to Ron Segerstrom on his graduation. He is now with the Navy. Tom Rhode and Anthony Fisher are attending the GAC. There is also a hiking trip at the Grand Canyon scheduled for July.

We began working early last spring on this year's fall rush. The optimism is high and the fall semester looks to be a good one. There are eight home football games and we invite Brothers to come see the head football coach Brother Dick Tomey and his Wildcats "Bear Down."

Once the fall semester gets underway our Alumni Association will again meet the first Thursday of each month at J. J. Nickles, 2033 E. Speedway, at 5:30 pm. We would love to see you come out and see the growing strength of Arizona Alpha.

If there are any questions, Brian Foulk can be contacted at 888-2754 and we sincerely hope to see you this fall.

Tempe Times

Regrettably, Arizona Beta's scholarship has dropped dramatically. At the midway point of the 1987/88 academic year, Phi Psi at Arizona State ranks third among fraternities. This marks a drastic drop from our top ranking in 1986/87. Our only hopes to improve are for Brother Leif Cedarburg to match his 3.9 GPA of last year, and for Brother Scott Hazdra to get out of bed for his final exams. The scholarship chairman is in control of this current crisis.

The social calendar was full all spring, much to the chagrin of scholarship chairman. The Point at South Mountain was the site of the hugely successful Founders Day Formal. "Uneventful" was definitely not the word for the night, especially for pledge Eric Ramme, who cracked the FBI's Ten-Most-Wanted list. An exchange with the women of Kappa Kappa Gamma also went off with a lot of hitches. Nothing new here.

On a more serious note, the Make A Wish Foundation of Arizona was the recipient of the proceeds from this years Phi Psi 500. The festivities were held on April 23. Co-chairmen John Hale and William Crowder awarded the foundation with almost $2,000. We were extremely fortunate to help with the Foundation's cause of bettering the lives of terminally ill children. We hope that we can work with them in the future.

Arizona Beta appreciates the responses to our January newsletter. We hope our alumni, especially those living in the Phoenix/Metro area, will respond to our next newsletter which is due in May.

Twelve pledges "participated" in last spring's Fraternity Education program under Bob Parke. They are Brett Allison and Richard Wagner, Scottsdale, AZ; Shawn Lapham, Boston, MA; Mike Olexa, New York; Dennis Panfil and Eric Ramme, Chicago, IL; Douglas Hanson, Alaska; Mike Pitzel and David Vermillion, Omaha, NE; Curtis Rau, San Francisco, CA; David Jarrard, Phoenix; and Scott MacVicar, Payson, AZ. If they study like they play football (20-0), they'll all be holdovers. Actually, they are doing well and we look forward to seeing each and every one at initiation in August.

Brotherhood At Its Best

Hi! Hi! Hi! from the hills of Fayetteville. The men of Arkansas Alpha have made it through another great year and we wish Brother Paul Reishus the best of luck with his graduate studies at Harvard.

The pledge class did an outstanding job of constructing "The Cave," located in the basement of our house. It has made their living conditions much better. We hope our Chapter Advisor, David Evans, is taking advantage of the summer break away from our social functions and getting a much deserved rest.

Our March fund-raiser, Out-Of-Hibernation, was a big success and we hope to have reached our goal of $3,000 to contribute to the Children's Hospital.

The Phi Psi intramural teams fared well for the spring semester. The men's basketball team won their division again, but couldn't buy a shot in the playoffs. The co-rec team reached the championship game, but was beaten by a few points. The bowling club won only their last four games, but looked impressive at times. As of April, the softball team was playing well, leading their division and looking for a playoff berth.

We would like to thank all alumni that attended our 10th Anniversary Founders Day Event. It was our best yet and with record attendance. All of you unable to attend; we hope to see you next year. A special recognition to alumnus Richard Barrett '84 for becoming the recipient of our distinguished Alumnus Award for his continued contributions to our Chapter.

We congratulate Arkansas Alpha's new Brothers: Shane Newton, Fairfield Bay, AR, Robert McDonald, Crossett, AR, Kenneth Adams, Sherman, TX, Jason Young, Pine Bluff, AR, and all other newly initiated Brothers. We look forward to seeing all of you in New Orleans.

Ashland Alive at 642

Sun, Fun, and beautiful girls with dark tanning lines: That's what the Brothers of Ohio Theta encountered when they journeyed south for Spring Break. Phi Psi Brother, "Crazy Gregg," owner of the Merrymack Bar in Ft. Lauderdale, made sure the Brothers had a good time. After all the fun the Brothers could handle, they made their way back to Ole 642, anxiously awaiting the second part of a very busy second semester.

Hats off to Brothers Zimmerman, Bangert, and Auman who received the honor of "Who's Who Among America's College Students". Scholarship Chairman Jeff Halasi's efforts paid off when the Ashland Phi Psis received an award for having a very much improved G.P.A. from first semester.

When the chips are down and assistance is needed by local charities, Ohio Theta Phi Psis are the first ones there to lend a hand. On April 16, the Brothers set off on our annual Kit Carson Run for charity. Hundreds of dollars were raised for the education fund of two small children of an Ohio Theta Brother who died of leukemia. After the 70-mile jaunt to Canton, we hosted an all-Greek party at our house in which Brother Staats' band, "Legend" rocked the night away. The young children from the Montessori Nursery School enjoyed themselves when we hosted an Easter party for them at our house. Kevin Kennedy and Dean DePiero attended an Easter Seals charity function in which thousands of dollars were raised

When you talk Ashland wrestling, Phi Psi participation is always present. Four Brothers made the trip to Omaha for the Division II National Championships. Congratulations to Brothers Dagley and Dicola who are All-Americans!

Ohio Theta alumni are always very supportive of the undergraduate Brothers. Thanks to alumnus Mark Kurdzel for his generous contributions. He paid to have our pool table refelted and for new pool balls. Our Alumni Weekend was a great success in which our alumni made many generous donations. On April 23rd, we treated our fathers to a pig roast which was an occasion which will live long in the memories of all who attended.

It is our pleasure to announce that we pledged one fine man this spring. He is Joe Holtzheimer of Cleveland.

Our loveable Saint Bernard mascot Psimon turned nine-years-old on March 18. He is as healthy as ever and is enjoying the warm weather as much as anyone! He wishes all of the Phi Psi Brothers, near and far, a great summer.

Staying Strong

As we approach the spring season and the warm weather that invariably comes with it, Wisconsin Gamma at Beloit College will be looking forward to the return of summer. On February 26th, we had a "Spring Break or Bust" party that prepared everybody for break exactly one week later. Then, during our break, several of us were able to go up to Madison and witness the birth of the Wisconsin Alumni Association. At this ceremony, we had the pleasure of listening to the guest speaker, Kent Owen, the Mystagogue of Phi Kappa Psi. He inspired us all to be proud of our relationship with Phi Psi and to hold it's ideals with the utmost reverence.

In addition to witnessing the formation of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, our Chapter has been busy finishing this years local Alumni Newsletter, the Drocer. It will be the largest newsletter we have had in a long time.

We have also had an unusually large and diverse pledge class. They are: Bryan Barasik, West Allis; Andres Camargo, Bogota, Columbia; Hirotsugu Ikeda, Washington, D.C.; Rod Milstead, Washington, D.C.; Michael Parr, Westmont, Ill.; Mario Rivera, Arica, Chile; Jose Vasquez, Medellin, Columbia.

The men of Wisconsin Gamma have been very active since the winter break. Our members are involved in many different activities. Some of these include intramural volleyball, Noonball, skiing, biking, Lacrosse, trivia competitions, and chess.

As a final note to this article, I would like to pay tribute to Kevin Stevens, Beloit '84, and all of the others that have helped to make Wisconsin Alpha possible again! Our college days are an important part in our road towards social maturity, and I hope that their involvement in Phi Kappa Psi will help give them the encouragement and self confidence that all men need. Wisconsin Gamma earnestly wishes the best to it's new neighbors and friends in Madison.

Brown

Boo Koo Pledges

Despite a series of neo-anarchist anti-elitist vandalisms, anonymous bomb threats, and ongoing Rhode Island teacher's strikes, spring break came at last to Brown and most Brothers fled the freezing rains of Providence to the warmer climes of the Caribbean, Mexico, Florida, or California.

Snow-lovers stuck in the Chapter house could at least take comfort in the conclusion of Rhode Island Alpha's most successful rush in recent memory. One out of every six freshmen males at Brown expressed interest in pledging Phi Kappa Psi, more than any other fraternity on campus. With the able assistance of Rush Chairmen Bill Kelly and Hany Khalil, we selected a record-breaking class of 27 men to be pledged to the Fraternity: Jeffrey Albert, New York, NY; Matthew Black, New Haven, CT; Frank Chiu, Nesconset, NY; Christopher Cratsley, Concord, MA; Richard D'Amico, Warwick; Geoffrey Davis, Hong Kong; Glen Feinstein, Hollywood, FL; David Goldstein, Battle Creek, MI; James Heltzer, Bethesda, MD; Matthew Hoffman, Bethesda, MD: Seth Kalvert, New City, NY: Geoffrey Kirkman, Pittsburgh, PA; Oliver Koehler, Seattle, WA; Scott Meyer, Bryn Mawr, PA; James Mullen III, Bantam, CT; Appu Mundassery, Princeton Jct., NJ; Mark Penz, Richardson, TX; Hugh Perloff, West Hartford, CT; Luke Peterson, Pocatello, ID; Ryan Phillips; Craig Primis, East Meadow, NY; Christopher Regan, Lawrence, MA; Adam Roth, San Francisco, CA; Joshua Silverman, Ann Arbor, MI; Timothy Voita, Bronxville, NY; Michael Walton, Burke, VA; and Robert Weiman, Washington, DC. Under the guidance of Fraternity Educators Craig Furman and Bill Kelly, these men should be a valuable addition to the Brotherhood.

In other good news, house improvements continue with the renovation of our pool table and the acquisition of another room from the University for our house. Renovation of this room and of our library are upcoming projects. Past and planned improvements have been made possible by strong alumni support as we continue our efforts to strengthen ties with alumni that were weakened during our local period.

Finally, Ari Klionsky has been selected to be the Brown Bear, the official costumed mascot of the University. We're sure his madcap antics will enliven even the dullest Brown football game.

Dealers of Good

The Brothers of Penn Gamma hope that all is well out there in alumni land because there are many good things here in Lewisburg. The Brothers, although faced with many adverse conditions, are going to fight to the death and prove we shall never die and we shall remain the best.

The adversities include the loss of a pledge class for the spring of '88. We are fortunate enough, however, that 17 freshmen have such a sincere desire to be a part of our Chapter, they are waiting to rush in the fall. These men will continue to improve the Chapter, a tradition that will only prosper.

February 15 was Founders Day, and it was a complete success. Some alumni in attendance included President Steve Sweet '81. Scott McDonald '79, Jack Swanson '53, Chip Walsh '77, Duke Dueger and Bill Cusick '81. We would like to thank all others who attended for their help and deep concern. The alumni were very pleased with the interior condition of the house, however, they realized the outside needs desperate help, and the damage due to aging can only be repaired by professionals. The meeting with the officers was very productive and the Founders were pleased with what they heard. Lee Hansen '89, the treasurer, gave a very thorough presentation of our financial situation which looks very promising. The alumni were pleased with our proposed ideas for improvement and they were all given a list of goals that the Brothers are striving for. They were also pleased with the philanthropies that the Brothers are planning to do. The most popular was the idea of each Brother becoming a Big Brother to a child in the local area. This project is well underway and the Brothers could use the help of our alumni to make it the best program around. After a great meal. there was a long discussion where much came out in the open. We believe, and were told, the Founders present were excited with the change in the house and they would continue in helping us. We hope our alumni who did not attend Founders Day or have lost contact with the Chapter will get involved and see what the others have done. Please do, it is worth the effort.

The Brothers of Penn Gamma are in the hunt for the Pangburn and we are confident it will return to the anteroom for good. We would like to thank Brother Dave Shand '89 for all the work he has done towards our quest.

The Brothers are excited to keep improving the house, and are currently searching for a faculty advisor that can help us in our journey. However, we are looking for many more things for the Chapter to help us secure Phi Psi's future. If you have any ideas please write us and pass them on, we will be glad to listen and cooperate.

In closing, the house lithographs are in and available upon request; just write the Chapter and you shall be sent information. The Brothers of Penn Gamma would like to also extend our deepest appreciation to Brother Ben Jones and Brother Paul Pigman for their deep concern and sincere desire to make our Chapter stronger. Until next time, we stay in touch so why don't you?

Equaling Past Success

As spring arrives, so do more and more activities at Indiana Zeta. We look forward to a number of exciting events. We also remember past successes and hope to achieve much more. The seniors hope to achieve the ultimate success—graduation.

The most exciting event of the spring will be the annual Phi Psi 500. It will be held on April 16 and looks to remain the "hottest race at Butler." All money raised will support the Blind Athlete Fund. Eric Von Straten should be commended for his hard work in making the 500 successful.

Fast approaching is our Motown performance with the women of Delta Gamma in Spring Sing. We hope to match last year's sweeping victory. We also look forward to Alpha Chi Frisbee Golf, Delta Gamma Anchor Splash, and the Spring Weekend Bahama Bash.

A number of Brothers deserve special recognition for their achievements this semester. Brothers Karunas and Norris became members of Lambda Sigma. Brothers Lane, McKee, and Baldwin were named members of Admissions Resource Corps, an admissions and orientation group. The new Contemporary Entertainment Chairman for Program Board is Dave Creighton. Along with great campus participation, academic success continued.

We are really enjoying our new additions and improving the look of the house as much as we can. I can finally say without a doubt the showers on the second floor work. Only five weeks remain, but the busiest time of the year draws near. We would like to wish all of our Brothers luck in the final weeks of school.

California, Berkeley On the Slopes

Greetings from sunny Lake Tahoe! That's right, Cal Gamma is living it up for the weekend during our annual ski trip. Despite the warm weather, there is still some snow left for us to make the last runs of the season.

We have just had elections and are fortunate to have a group of experienced officers. The list includes: Stephen Fudenna, GP; Dixon Fiske, VGP; Oscar Guitierrez, P; Brian Liu, AG; Ken Martin, BG; Roger Mayoss, SG; Ken Dong, Phu; Charlie Haims, Hod; and Andy Velline, Hi. These leaders are planning to make some significant changes to run the Chapter's affairs more efficiently and successfully.

Our bold new social program has really taken off this semester. Before our ski trip, we didn't miss a beat as we danced to those immortal tunes of the seventies at our Disco Inferno. We are also very happy with the excellent job our pledges did in organizing their own party. It gave the Brothers a glimpse of what this pledge class would be like as members working together in the Chapter, and we are pleased with what we saw.

As usual, our football team was our strong point on the athletic field as we once again reached the semis of IFC. Soccer also fared very well while reaching the quarters of intramurals.

We are in the midst of a rapidly changing fraternity system as are many campuses across the nation and our alumni support can prove to be pivotal during these trying times. Our most important project in this respect is the purchasing of our Chapter house, which will give Cal Gamma great stability in the Greek system for years to come. Alumni who are interested should contact us at 2430 Piedmont Ave., Berkeley, CA 94704.

Finally, we thank our alumni for their participation in our Founders Day celebration, especially Shamus Brown, John Chambers, and Dave Sandusky for hosting the event.

Good luck to all of our graduating seniors!

California, Davis Never a Dull Moment

Spring quarter started off even more hectic than usual this year. Greek Week and spring rush occupied most of our time for the first two weeks of school, and many social and fraternal events kept us busy throughout the rest of the quarter. Highlights included our yearly Chapter excursion to Santa Cruz, and our first annual alumni weekend May 20-22.

We would like to congratulate our new officers for the 1988-89 school year. They are: Mark Kohnen, GP; Ken Bruce, VGP; Steve Stechschulte, P; Phil Osterli, AG; Bill Osgood, BG; Rex Adams, PHU; Mark Wong, HOD; Bob Dowling, HI; and Roger Asbill, Social Chair. Finally, we are honored to announce our new initiates: Pat Haskell, Elk Grove, CA; and Rob Shen, Orinda, CA. We are glad to have you gentlemen aboard!

The Brothers of Cal Iota wish all a pleasant and enjoyable summer, and we'll be seeing you at the G.A.C.!

UCLA Living in Paradise

Summer is upon us and life in Southern California couldn't be better. After finishing another great year of school, the house remains full as many of the Brothers stay through the summer. Many of the them work, some attend summer school, but they all enjoy the scenic sights at the sunny beaches in Los Angeles. In July, the Brothers enjoy sun and sand at the Beach Barbecue Fiesta.

Throughout the year we have kept up our new alumni newsletter which keeps the alumni updated on many of our events. Speaking of alumni, Chip McLean will be attending Harvard Law School. Also, the Brothers recently put together a basketball skills contest for the Santa Monica Boy's Club. The event was a huge success and was enjoyed by both the Brothers and the young kids.

After the summer winds down, the whole Brotherhood will again reunite in Palm Springs for our annual pre-rush meetings which puts everyone in the right frame of mind to start another awesome year here at California Epsilon.

Cal Poly Off For The Summer

Greetings from sunny San Luis Obispo. The temperature held at about eighty degrees all spring. The Brothers of Cal Eta are tan and ready for a relaxing summer. Summer means the splitting of our Chapter. The house remains open as many Brothers go to summer school. Others travel as far north as Yuba City or San Diego to the south, in pursuit of summer jobs. The three months of separation is made shorter by a water ski trip to Lake Nacimiento in early August.

The Brothers have done it again. Our Chapter had the highest GPA among IFC members. This could be attributed to a lot of hard work and partly to the addition of a new test file storage room built by Brothers Thaine Allison, Mark Irish, and Jeff Bowman, then organized to perfection by Brother Dewey Halden. Our Chapter continued its involvement in student government this past year thanks to the efforts of student senator Jay Hansen. It looks like IFC will be accepting another fraternity into its membership after this coming Fall Rush. That would make IFC membership fourteen while Panhellenic's is only at six.

This past spring our Chapter continued its strong involvement in the community. The Brotherhood organized and ran the ninth annual Royal Run, which consisted of five and ten kilometer runs with all proceeds going to benefit the Special Olympics. At Easter, the Brothers held an annual Easter egg hunt for the children of the community. It was an incredible success.

A strong Spring Rush brought us at Cal Eta our 44th National Pledge Class: Tom Bonigut of Alamo; Bruce Farrell of Redding; Jeff Growney of Atchinson, KS; Stan Merriken of Murray, UT; Scott Poling and Jeff Stephens of Walnut Creek; Tom Veje of Santa Ana; Val Videgain of Yuba City; Ian Walker of Glendora.

In the past year many outstanding Brothers graduated from our Chapter. Their leadership and companionship will be dearly missed. We wish them good luck.

California, Santa Barbara True Fraternal Spirit

Spring quarter is upon us once again here at Cal Zeta, and the Brotherhood is ready to pump up the volume! March 28th began our four-day rush and it looks as though the large number of quality young men coming through is destined to make one of the largest pledge classes we've ever had.

As usual, Spring quarter is packed with fun in the sun. Our annual Pirates party is scheduled for the beginning of May and promises to be the bash of the year at UCSB. Soon after, Cal Zeta travels to UCLA for a TG with the Brothers of Cal Epsilon and the Tri-Deltas of UCLA and UCSB. Luckily, we have a few weeks to recover before we invade Ensenada, Mexico in early June for the weekend road trip of the year.

Cal Zeta is also to be involved in several philanthropies this quarter to promote the fraternal spirit. We're hosting an all-Greek AIDS awareness function on April 8th. All proceeds will be donated to educational programs stressing AIDS awareness. The Phi Psi 500 Dribble-A-Thon with Cal Eta is another favorite and all proceeds are donated to the local chapter for Multiple Sclerosis.

Fall quarter saw the induction of new leadership at Cal Zeta. The current administration is in the capable hands of Eric Johnson and right beside him is Vice President Al Arizmendez. The Phi Psis made a strong appearance at the annual Kappa Delta soccer tourney. Both A and B teams gave fine performances. Our Winter formal at Mammoth Mountain was incredibly successful from all perspectives. Skiing for three days, socializing from sundown to sunup, and an exquisite formal dinner and dance was tempered only by the relaxing jacuzzi and sauna excursions.

And now, the time has come to embark upon spring, and with Phi Psi in the spirit and Brotherhood to guide us, the Brothers of Cal Zeta look forward to what will undoubtedly be an awesome spring quarter. We wish continued growth and prosperity to all our Brothers throughout the U.S.

Cal State, Northridge Ahora le pues!

This past spring was very successful for the Brothers of California Theta. We had two raging exchanges with the women of Sigma Kappa and also with the ladies of Zeta Tau Alpha. Good news also came from the scholastic front as the Brothers ended up in the Top 10 in fall grades, with only .01% separating us from the top score. New furniture was also added, making ours the most distinguished living room east of the Pecos. (Or was that west?).

The men of Cal Theta also continued their philanthropic ways by contributing to the C.S.U.N. blood drive, donating canned goods to a local charity, selling ice cream during Greek Week to raise funds for another charity, and helping promote the use of condoms on campus during Aids Awareness Week.

As predicted, the powerhouse Phi Psi spring sports teams pulled off many a resounding victory over local interfraternity foes. Softball victims include: Pi Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu and AEPi. The team was led by Karl Burk, and the MVP of the season was Jerry Masterson, who batted .600 over the season. Victories in basketball included wins over SAE, Sigma Nu, and Phi Beta Sigma. The team was captained by Rich Maclleland.

In the annual Alpha Phi sorority fundraiser, the knuckleheads of Cal Theta showed their usual creativity in producing the nowfamous act of "Johnny D. and the Sea Men." Were they good? You can bet you're bottom dollar! Special thanks for this unique treat go to Brothers John Dart, Rich Bush, Bill Dunks, Ted Middleton and Jerry Masterson, all with the alias "Bill Sellen". Special thanks to all Brothers who supported us, especially Kirk Felmar for the costumes.

Work on the Phi Psi 500 has already begun, with Steve Gilbert leading the way. We are ready to start preparing for fall rush, and speaking of rush let me tell you about the quality pledges that spring rush brought to us.

We are proud to welcome aboard Joe Kempton from Napa Valley, Dan Philbin of Van Nuys, and Tim Wall, Brother of Jumpin' Justin Flash, a current Cal Theta Brother, of Northridge.

Let me conclude by wishing all of our Brothers across the nation a great summer, and stop by if you are ever in the area; we would love to have you! We will see you at the GAC!

Summer Time for Reunions

Spring quarter at the University of Chicago is always the highlight of the entire year and spring 1988 is no exception. The Chapter's enthusiasm was given a great boost in April when our alumni corporation began the final steps necessary for acquiring a new house. The house we are purchasing is the original structure Phi Psi built in the early 1900's and served as the Chapter house until the 1920's. It is located on University Avenue, and will put Phi Psi back on Fraternity Row. We hope to be back in the house by August of 1988. If you are interested in helping out in this area, contact our house corporation president, John Fulton, at P.O. Box 148791, Chicago, IL, 60614-8791.

Another highlight of the quarter is the annual U of C Alumni Weekend and Interfraternity Sing held on June 3rd, 4th, and 5th. We are especially excited to meet the many Phi Psi alumni who are returning for the Illinois Beta Reunion. The reunion this year is coordinated by Brothers involved in Illinois Beta between the years 1945 and 1950. We will continue these Illinois Beta reunions in the future.

This spring's rush and social events have been some of the most successful Phi Psi has had since its rechartering. Our Phi Psi 500 which raises money for the local Ronald McDonald House at the hospital is held at the end of May and this year coincides with an all-fraternity Greek Week for the University of Chicago. Our blues parties, as well as our social dinners and study breaks continue to be popular on campus.

Spring quarter is also the time for graduation, and so we say good luck and good-bye to seven departing seniors: Jeff Kaufman, Richard Clyne, James Ducanto, Frank Raiser, Bill Chioros, Brad Gossard, and Brian Beach. The Chapter will miss these men. At the same time, however, we would like to welcome ten new pledges to our ranks: James Kenney, San Mateo, CA; Po-Yao (Jack) Yang, Irvine, CA; John Trocki, Washington D.C.; Gordon Walton, Chicago; Blase Polite and Russell Brackett, Munster, IN; Chris Jones, Lemoore, CA; Benjamin Huelsbergen, Lawrence, KS; Charles Baylor, Lincoln, NE (son of John Baylor, University of Nebraska): Travis Adams, Ketchikan AK.

Finally, a thanks to our officers who were elected in January and served most of spring 1988: Richard Clyne, GP; Dan Gibbard, VGP; Robert Stengel, P; Jon Schnorr, AG; Peter Lee, BG; Dave Meyers, Fraternity Educator.

Summer brings a welcome relief from academia, and we would like to wish all Chapters and Colonies the laziest of summer times. Sit back and enjoy. And let's not forget the GAC.

. hope to see you there.

Gaining Strength

With Spring Break in just a few days, we

After a week of formal rush activities during the first week of February, we celebrated Founders Day with the Rocky Mountain Alumni Association on February 20th. A week later, we rocked the house Australianstyle at our "Down Under" date party. Then we turned our energy toward preparing for Greek Week.

We did Songfest, a song and dance competition, with the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. Although we did not place very well, we had a great time discovering our singing and dancing talents, or lack thereof. We received several comments on our outstanding solo performances by Dave Cunningham and Bill George. Hearty congratulations are in order for Ted Bryant, Kent Lansville, and Todd Dick who won the Lip Sync contest of the week with their performance of "I'm So Excited" by the Pointer Sisters. Other competitions included a Greek Letter Day, a Philanthropy Carnival, and a day of various field events. When all was said and done, we placed a respectable fifth in our first time participating in Greek Week.

On April 9th we participated in an all school community service project. The project was called "Be a Little Boulder," and was designed to benefit the entire community. During the day, Phi Psi's contributed man hours to aid in many of Boulder's environmental and social needs. All proceeds from the evening's all-school party went to the Boulder homeless shelter.

We are proud to introduce our new pledge class. The new pledges are: Troy Bundy, Eric Dearborn, Todd Dick, David Goodwin, Todd Hecox, Jifi Jacob, Don Malburg, Simon Marsh, Stan Mavridis, Tom Moldenhauer, Mike Mowery, Mark Peterson, and Scott Zahl. They are planning a pledge retreat for mid-April. We would like to welcome our pledges to Phi Psi and wish them the best of luck

He Who Hesitates Is Lunch

As work nears completion on our brownstone Chapter house, the Brothers would like to thank both Alec McCurry and the Fraternity Headquarters for their tireless efforts and support. We encourage all undergraduates and alumni in the area to stop by and visit.

Meanwhile, the Brothers have had quite a few notable experiences this spring. Matt Murabito has been tutoring former drug addicts and homeless people to prepare them for the High School Equivilency Exam, and a new start in life. In addition, John Oswald has received a choice internship with the L.A. Times, after completing a successful tenure as Managing Editor of the Columbia Daily Spectator. Karl Ottersberg did a great job in putting together the Chapter's first Alumni Newsletter since its reorganization. He was ably assisted by Ray Garcia and Andy Marlowe. Brother Marlowe also had the thrill of actually sitting in the command console of the Enterprise (Captain Kirk's Chair), being used on the movie set where he was production assistant.

In intramurals, our volleyball team made a strong showing in the newly-added spring tournament, including a big win over Beta. The team was particularly pleased by the play of two first-time players, Jack C. Lee and Roger Woo.

Finally, the Chapter celebrated the February initiation of two new Brothers. They are David Lindsky of Atlanta, GA, and Mauro Caputi of Mineola, NY.

We look forward to seeing you at the GAC in New Orleans this summer.

Strong Finish

As New York Alpha spurs forth into the summer season, we anticipate finishing the school year with a flurry. All aspects of the Fraternity show prospects for improvement and we welcome any and all alumni involvement. We welcome all alumni to call the Chapter and ask about what's been happening on "the hill."

Excitement abounds at New York Alpha when the 13th Annual Phi Psi 500 is the topic of conversation. Under the leadership of Pete Rowan, 500 chairman, the 500 is definitely taking form. This year, the 500 will focus around the hosting of the Eastern Collegiate Cycling Championship. The race will field more than 350 riders of top caliber, including some Olympic hopefuls. Also included during the day will be an 8.3 kilometer fun run, a tricycle race open to all students, and a Diaper Derby, a crawling race between children from a local Day Care Center which was quite a crowd pleaser last year. The evening will hopefully climax with a concert by a top artist. The proceeds from the event will go to benefit many local charities. The Brotherhood is extremely excited about the event, as it looks to be a great philanthropic event.

Also regarding the topic of philanthropy is the creation of a new office here at New York Alpha. After discussion by the officers the new office of Philanthropy Chairman was created in addition to the main charity office, the 500 Chairman. Mike Pelequin was appointed to this office, and we hope this new office will increase our devotion towards new charity activities and events.

In intramurals the theme of 'strong finish' is also apparent. After a third place finish in basketball and a strong title defense in ice hockey, New York Alpha stands in second place with a shot at winning a second straight All-Sports Championship. Leading the hockey team in the exciting finale, Doug Pew scored the winning goal on a breakaway one-on-one with only 21 seconds left.

Creighton Alive and Well

For Nebraska Beta, the spring semester has been one of change, and a change for the better. With the onset of dry rush and new alcohol policies, the Brothers have adapted and overcome the situation. Instrumental to helping the Chapter, alumnus Mark Weber has earned the Dr. Ted Urban Alumnus of the Year Award.

The spring semester has brought to Nebraska Beta a fine, astute group of young men in the Phi Psi pledge class. Twenty-eight members strong, the class cannot go wrong under the insightful guidance of fraternity educator Bill Jacobson. The class promises to enhance and maintain Phi Psi on campus.

Spring Formal was a night to remember, held at the reputable Red Lion Inn in downtown Omaha. Meticulously engineered by senior Brother Paul Petersen, the event, as always, will be at the forefront of our memories. The semester has held many other social highs, thanks to social chair Mitch Sellett. The Brothers are still picking sand from their shoes and feeling sea breezes from the Sandblast Party. The house was transformed to a desert isle with a mere 15 tons of sand.

Nebraska Beta continues to excel for community service, and this semester is no different. The children of the area were treated to an Easter Egg Hunt in April. It was held on campus and was rewarding for Brothers and children alike.

This year bids farewell to the outstanding senior class of Phi Kappa Psi. Brother Patrick Shaughnessey retires from a long, productive career with the Student Board of Governors. Many of the seniors are continuing their education in professional school. At least eight, or more, will be attending medical, law, dental, or other professional schools next year. To have almost half of a class becoming professional is becoming a tradition at Nebraska Beta, attesting to a continued pursuit of academic excellence within the Fraternity.

Nebraska Beta wishes good will and prosperity to Phi Kappa Psi throughout the nation, and a hope that success will continue as it has at Creighton.

Delaware Chapter Status

After five years of hard work, Delaware Alpha is proud to announce that we have been recognized as a Chapter by the University of Delaware. The good news came during the second week of the spring semester, which allows us to take full advantage of the University's resources.

On February 4th we initiated fourteen capable men. They are Jason Bidle, Berkley Heights, NJ; Michael Byrne, Westfield, NJ; Paul Devery, Mt. Laurel, NJ; Edward Flynn, Thornwood, NY; Doug Kehler, Westfield, NJ; David Kohn, East Rockway, NY; William Lehman, Delran, NJ; Steven Ochs, Newfield, NJ; Dennis Powers, Farmington, NY; Robert Rosenberg, Morganville, NJ; James Satterfield, Wyoming, DE; Mathew Smith, Ossing, NY; Steven Somloi, Wyomming, PA; and Douglas Stokes, Metuchen, NJ.

This semester is proving to be one of our busiest in recent memory. Our second annual Phi Psi 500, under the direction of Chris Mauch and Joe Volk, promises to be our second annual success. With a better location, a better date, and more publicity, thousands of people will be playing musical chairs to benefit Special Olympics.

Our Housing Corporation has been in a seemingly endless struggle to put a Phi Psi Chapter house on campus. New developments occur daily and the outlook is still promising in terms of having a house by the fall semester. The Brothers are very optimistic as spirit runs high.

In other events, the Chapter retreat was productive in setting goals, increasing unity, and getting things in perspective. Socially, Al Stewart is on a personal crusade to ensure every Brother has the semester of his life. Events include an Insanity Picnic, numerous mixers, our spring formal, and, of course, the graffiti party. A special thanks goes out to the alumni who have consistently shown us what Brotherhood is all about; at Maxwell's, on Founders Day, at tailgates, and the many other events they are always welcome to attend.

Spring is upon us at Indiana Alpha and the remainder of second semester promises to be a good one. We have twenty-four new members of our Chapter who were initiated on February 13, 1988. They include: Rocky Aker, Sarasota, FL; Bill Anderson, Salem, WI; Steve Crump, Indianapolis; Dave Dillon, Hickory Hill, NC; Craig Evans, Indianapolis; Matt Fox, Columbus; Piere Fox, Columbus; Dave Free, Barrington, IL; Craig Hartman, Columbus; Doug Lowery, Planefield; Stewart Lumsden, Barrington, IL; Chris McGrann, Minneapolis, MN; Mike O'Brien, Rockford, IL; T. Ray Phillips, Oklahoma City, OK; Mark Reny, Weston, MA; Trent Ritzenthaler. Indianapolis; Rob Ross, Wabash; Greg Stearns, Indianapolis; Mike Sullivan, Weston, MA; Matt Supple, Indianapolis; Dave Trudgen, Indianapolis; Doug Walker, Decatur, IL; Dean Wallace, Pittsburgh, PA; and Matt Warren, East Lansing, MI. These new initiates will carry on the Phi Psi tradition in the years to come.

One tradition that will be leaving us at the "rockpile" after this semester is Mom Stringfellow. She has spent twenty-five dedicated years at Indiana Alpha. Her farewell dinner was celebrated on Saturday, April 16, in Indianapolis. We all thank her for her dedication and caring she has shown for our Chapter. We wish her the best.

We continue to excel in intramurals. We currently stand in fourth place out of thirteen living units on campus. These standings exclude softball in which we hope to place highly.

On a broader base, the Interfraternity Council is heading up a new social program entitled the Student Responsibility Code, or SRC. The SRC code reinforces many of the current University rules and also adds some of their own. SRC hopes they will be able to create better and safer parties for the students of DePauw.

Abounding Scintillation

Once again the campus of Dickinson College has been set ablaze by the electrifying Penn Zeta Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi. It is crucial to note that every radiating entity possesses an irreducible power core. Well, the energy source of the Penn Zeta Chapter certainly pulsed intensely during the 1988 spring semester! With the close of another dynamic term, the vibrant Brotherhood holds a myriad of reflections

The Brotherhood joined forces to celebrate the storied "Phi Psi Beach Party." Titanic preparations demanded completion prior to the ocean festival. Eight tons of sand were hauled and raked onto the social floor. An assembly of palm trees was also present. A large dock was constructed onto the social floor with an accompanying pier by the hearth of the fireplace. An elaborate fifty foot boardwalk system was built along the runway of the social floor. An attendant fire toasted both the sand and the exultant horde of people. A lavish feast comprised of the pride of the sea and land glutted all comers. The annual "Beach Party" was truly a rewarding and memorable experience shared by all of the Brothers and their guests. The "Beach Party" was also the high mark of a long week of Penn Zeta activities.

The Brotherhood participated in the annual Greek Week festivities. Scot Mackey was chairperson of the games committee and commentator for the pizza eating contest and the Greek God and Goddess contest. Karl Kapp was commentator for the Dating Game. Overall, the Brotherhood placed no lower than third in all of the Greek prowess events.

In the athletic realm, Brother Bo Hoppin made it to Nationals in intercollegiate swimming, setting his personal best times. The Brotherhood's other swimmers also gave a galvanic showing at the Middle Atlantic Championship meet. This semester, Chuck Silverman, Jeffrey Penner, and Steve Hussey are playing baseball. Out on the links, Todd Kramer has administered his invincible reign.

In the philanthropic arena, the Brotherhood's annual United Way raffle fundraiser garnered a contending charitable booty.

The second annual Brother/Pledge retreat proved once again to be a brilliant expedition. The entire Chapter embarked on a champion weekend excursion to a sunlit, rock-infested mountain peak. Atop the zenith point, Brothers and pledges were suffused by illuminating escapades (e.g. rock climbing, camp fire safety lectures, and an explosive log rolling contest).

Upon returning from the ebullient journey, the Brotherhood was graciously granted proprietorship of the first sweetheart pin from our Chapter which dates back to 1871. The radiant, priceless heirloom is one of the Chapter's most coveted gifts to date. The stunning ornament will be used during the fateful, sacred pinning ceremonies.

The Penn Zeta Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi supplicates smacks of universal good fortune aglow for eternity. So long . .

All's Cool Here

The weather is warmer at NC Alpha and our washload has gotten easier as we only have a need for shorts during the beautiful summer days. Our minds will soon be turning to finals, but not until the end of the NCAA Basketball Championships. The fever for our Blue Devils is at an all-time high. After finals, we all will head down to Myrtle Beach, SC, as is tradition. For a week in between finals and graduation, virtually all of Duke descends on this seaside town for a week that most will try to remember for a long time.

NC Alpha put together a solid showing in Greek Week 1988 that was impressive enough for us to win it all. The rout began when Matt Grimes slammed together one heck of a carnival booth that amused Durham youth for hours with fun and prizes. It continued when Mark Guttie spent hours painting our banner, and our performances in basketball and the Theta Fun Run helped us to our first place finish

In other news, we rededicated our renovated commons room over Founders Day weekend. The dedication, to Dr. Robert Rankin, was capped by a speech by Mrs. Rankin enlightening undergraduates and alumni about the important role Dr. Rankin played in the formation and early history of our Chapter. Dr. Rankin's picture now hangs proudly in the room that bears his name.

Response to our Gothic Gazette Chapter newsletter has been even greater than expected and new issues are being sent out on a regular basis, made possible by generous alumni support.

Everything is running smoothly at NC Alpha and we extend our best wishes to our Brothers around the nation.

Salutations from New Mexico Alpha. We have just returned from spring break, and we're looking forward to the remaining eight weeks. Our midterm non-official GPA is an impressive 2.9. We hope to improve this to over 3.0 for finals.

A campus-wide event which we participated in was career/talent day held for local high schools. Some upcoming events we're planning to help with are the State High School Speech and Debate tournament and the ENMU Math/Science Bowl.

Our intramural teams did well in basketball. Now, we are participating in softball. So far, we're one for one.

Phandango, our annual fundraiser is scheduled for April 29th. Proceeds are going to the shelter for Domestic Violence. This year, we're making some changes in hopes to make this event bigger than ever.

We would like to wish good fortune to Jack Secor, who is retiring from ENMU. Dr. Secor has taught for many prosperous years in Biology. Good luck, Doc!

Congratulations to Jeff Gardiner who is graduating this semester. New Mexico Alpha would like to wish everyone a good summer.

Keeping Busy

Greetings from the men of Florida Beta to Phi Psis everywhere. This spring semester has been an active one for us here at U.F.

We recently enjoyed a very successful Founders Day celebration, February 19-21, through Brother Darren Grove's diligent efforts. At our celebration, we presented special awards to some outstanding Brothers. The following awards were given at the banquet on Saturday, February 20: Brother of the Year, Mark Segel; Pledge of the Year, Paul Ghougasian; Alumnus of the Year, Christopher McQuigg; and the Bill Creswell award went to Virgil Morar. We also presented Brother McQuigg with his ten-year pin. Congratulations, Brothers!

In addition to Founders Day, Greek Week has been keeping us busy as well. Greek Week is a series of events benefitting the March of Dimes and supported by the entire Greek system. Included was a blood drive, in which we had a 97% turnout. There was also a soap box derby, in which our car, built by Brother Bermudez's father did very well. We received a $50 gift certificate from Civitan Regional Blood Center for breaking the 80% mark. On Field Day during Greek Week, we were paired with Alpha Omicron Pi and Delta Tau Delta. All who came out and supported us had a great time.

After Greek Week, we enjoyed a welldeserved rest in Brother Wes Dunn's cabin in the Ocala National Forest. We held several successful meetings, as well as relaxed with canoeing and water-skiing. The Chapter thanks Brother Virgil Morar for his great efforts as retreat chairman and Brother Dunn for his wonderful hospitality.

We also participated in Alpha Delta Pi's Donkey Days, benefitting the Ronald Mc-Donald House. Included events were mud volleyball, donkey basketball, tug-of-war, and a non-alcoholic beer chugging contest, as well as a banner contest, all in which we fared well.

All in all, the Phi Psis here at U.F. enjoyed a highly successful semester. We defeated Alpha Epsilon Pi in basketball, 29-27. Also, on Founders Day, we were very proud to welcome some new Brothers into the Phi Psi tradition. Congratulations to John Tyrone, Seminole; Thomas Newberg, Brandon; Paul Fleck, Naples; Jason Winoker, Cooper City; and Glen Speckmann, Orlando, We would also like to welcome our new pledge, Neil Rubin, North Miami Beach, to Florida Beta. We extend our best wishes to the graduating seniors both here and everywhere.

Successful Fundraiser

This semester we were proud to have our very first philanthropy: Our own Phi Psi 500 party and bicycle race. The party was held on the 11th of March. It boosted the morale among the Brothers and pledges and also lifted the proud name of Phi Kappa Psi on campus. The race was held the following Sunday with approximately 100 participants. During the day we also had a sorority relay race in which Alpha Gamma Delta won, Kappa Delta took second, and Alpha Chi Omega received third. All in all, our first philanthropy was a complete success.

We were also proud to have some Brothers come down from Indiana Beta to participate in our race and train for the Little 500. Kent, Peter, Barry, and Tim: The Brothers of Florida Alpha enjoyed your company and hope you will come down to train next Spring Break. We must also congratulate Peter Landgriff (Cat 1, 2, 3) and Tim "Skippy" Davis (Cat 4) for placing in their respective races.

On the intramural scene, we racked up pool and pinned bowling to become IM champions in both. We also placed second in basketball.

Florida Alpha participated in a very different Greek Week this year at Florida State. Instead of having our pairing for the entire week, each fraternity and sorority had a different pairing for each event, making the week four times more fun for everyone. We did well in all events giving us fifth place overall.

Florida Alpha is also still in search of a new home and we are making some progress. However, we would still appreciate any help or suggestions.

Finally, we would like to thank Peter Kellogg, Florida State '64, for all of his time and faith in us. To the Brothers at Florida Alpha, he is a prime example of Brotherhood.

Franklin and Marshall Continuing the Tradition

The Spring Semester has proven to be a time of continued strength and satisfaction for the Penn Eta Chapter. Our Chapter has involved itself with activities both on campus and off, and has continued in its spirit of involvement and commitment.

This March 26th, our Chapter sponsored a Superdance marathon to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association, with the help of Alpha Phi Sorority. Dancing went on for twelve hours straight, and over nine hundred dollars were raised for the MDA.

On campus, the Chapter has raised an intramural softball team of considerable caliber. Also, Penn Eta participated in F&M's Spring Arts Weekend by fielding a high quality mud volleyball team, in the tradition of our Chapter's great skill in intramural volleyball. This year's Spring Arts Weekend was certainly affected by the news of the resignation of the President, James Powell, as well as the faculty recommendation to the Board of Trustees to derecognize fraternities. Even though the faculty voted 84-11 in favor of derecognition, optimism here at our Chapter remains high. Our present Chapter president, Jonathan J. Blythe, was nominated to become the IFC's next Chief Justice, and our Vice-President Patrick J. Burke, was nominated to be Secretary.

Our Chapter's Semi-Formal Affair on April 22nd was a great success, with all attending Brothers and their guests having an enjoyable time. We also had our 2nd Annual Tropical Party, which was hailed by all who attended as an entertaining and fun-filled evening.

On April 8th, 1988, the Penn Eta Chapter initiated nine men, in the culmination of eights weeks of preparation and education. Our new Brothers are Joel I. Berg, Sterling, VA; Brent A. Bulkin, Somerville, NJ; Brett S. Director, Monsey, NY; Richard K. Faust, Gilbertsville, PA; Brett J. Harpster, Dedham, MA; Douglas A. Levine, Fayettesville, NY;

Marc E. Rothenberg, New York, NY; Ramon Rozas III, Butler, NJ; Gary B. Spinrad, Corvallis, OR. We congratulate and welcome our new Brothers into Phi Kappa Psi, and await the coming year with great hopes for the Penn Eta Chapter.

Keeping Busy

Due to a giant, freak, snow storm in Athens on the first day of classes, Brothers at Georgia Alpha wondered if we would ever start school. The storm proved to be one of the quarter's best social events. Finally, winter quarter did come to a close and now spring is upon us.

While winter quarter is usually pretty slow at UGA, Georgia Alpha proved otherwise. Our social calendar included many band parties including The Pulse, The Montanas, The Absolutes, and East Meets West. The Chapter also sponsored sorority mixers with Delta Gamma and Delta Zeta. Good times were had by all. In January, the Brothers packed their skis and their dates for the mountains of North Carolina for our annual ski weekend. The highlight of the quarter was the annual Founders Day football game between the alumni and the actives and the band party and cookout that evening. The actives played gallantly but the alumni managed their usual narrow victory. This makes the old folks feel good. The Brothers agree that no one was short on good times this quarter.

Phi Kappa Psi is proud to report that we are continuing our leadership tradition at the University of Georgia. Mike Augustine was recently named Editor in Chief of Georgia's yearbook, the Pandora; Keith Harrell was named to the all-campus homecoming committee and David Shafer received a prestigious internship with United States Senator Sam Nunn in Washington, D.C.

Several members of the Chapter have also been very influential in the rebirth of the Atlanta Alumni Association. Special thanks go to recent graduates Alan Guerry and Steve Domenico, Georgia Alpha '84 along with John Baird and Bill Decker, Georgia Alpha '83, our GP, Mike Waters, and our Alumni Relations Committee Chairman, Keith Harrell. A great many alumni were present at the recent reorganization banquet in Atlanta including past SWGP John Donnell and SC member Flynn Brantly. This association is a great source of pride for Georgia Alpha and proves to be an excellent resource for our Chapter.

Georgia Alpha also sponsored two very successful philanthropy projects this quarter for American Diabetes and the Georgia Special Olympics. We would like to thank Brothers Ed Pinson and Phillip Klinkenberg for their hard work on these projects.

The Chapter pledged several new outstanding men this quarter. They are Tim Varma, Augusta; Glen Anthony and John Lillard, Atlanta. Congratulations to all.

Finally, the Brothers of Georgia Alpha plan to descend upon the New Orleans GAC in force and look forward to seeing you all there.

Gettysburg Standing Tall

This year, our Greek system has seen changes. The entire system was the target of strong discontent from some of our faculty. This past March, they passed a motion to propose its elimination over a 10-year period to the Board of Trustees. We have been working hard, both with the administration and our alumni, to strengthen our position before the motion goes to the Board. The strength and unity of our Brotherhood helped us adapt to new policies and remain a strong leader on campus.

Such events like our annual Spaghetti Dinner prove this fact. This year, our philanthropy project, under Brothers Yeingst and Blavatt, raised over $1000 for charity. It was a great success again, and benefit for our community.

Founders Day and Alumni Weekend again provided a good time for everyone. Our alumni support and continued enthusiasm are greatly appreciated! This May, nine graduating Brothers were added to the ranks of alumni. They were all men of character and accomplishment, and we applaud them and wish them well. We hope to see them support the Chapter as alumni: Brian Golden, Steven Sickel (Solon E. Summerfield Award Winner), Michael Grenier, Steven Kuske, Jeffrey Blavatt, David Galassi, Arthur Kelly, Roberto Jiron, and Glenn Ellsworth.

On April 13, 1988, 30 new Brothers were initiated into Penn Epsilon. They are a fine group of young men, and will be great assets to the Chapter: David Savitz and Vincent Anderson, York; Mark Davis and Jon Turkel, Darien, CT; Thomas Weber, Rutherford, NJ; Christopher Hamilton, Belmont, MA; Paul Wehmeyer, Brick, NJ; John Dunn, Washington D.C.; Christopher Wingert, Hanover; David Fippinger, Manhasset, NY; Joseph Varady, Jr., Phoenixville,; Joseph Werner, Ridgewood, NJ; William Kenneth Banner, Pasadena, MD; Paul Bleakley (Legacy), Geneva, NY; Sean McGrath, Glenwood, NJ; Philip Magliochetti, Lebanon, NJ; William Caruso, Verona, NJ; Theodore Heiser, Ivoryton, CT; Brian Groff, Strasburg; Sean Saltsburg, Dillsburgh; Kyle Thompson (Legacy), Pitman, NJ; Peter Wahlers (Legacy), Cranbury, NJ; Brian Townes, New Brighton, MN; Steven Gaeta, Florham Park, NJ; David Hawley, Chantilly, VA; John Colladay, Jr., Riverside, CA; Thomas Butler, Scarsdale, NY; Michael Stiles, Cumberland Court, ME; Richard VanHeertum, Morristown, NJ; Craig Amazeen, Marlboro, MA.

We now have a unified Brotherhood of 57, whose spirits are high as all prepare for the challenges of next year. President Michael O. Pitt says that our Gettysburg Chapter is strong, standing tall, and ready to continue the Phi Psi tradition of a commitment to excellence.

Reflecting on Success

Now that the second half of the spring semester is winding down, we reflect back with fond memories on what is traditionally our busiest, and most productive, period of the school year. First, we would like to wish a safe journey to our soon-to-be former president, Theodore Axotis, who will by studying in France during the upcoming fall semester. On that same line, we would like to wish all our graduating Brothers the sincerest thanks of the Chapter for their long commitment to our Brotherhood and we hope that success and happiness await them in the "real world."

As usual, Illinois Delta continues to be a viable force on campus and even beyond. Brothers Mark Filip and James Cole, Jr. continue their tenures as national presidents of SGA and Phi Beta Lambda business fraternity, respectively. Congratulations are also in order for two new student ambassadors, John Diehl and Eric Wilson, who will join several others of our Chapter already a part of this fine group.

Athletically, Phi Psi is still a competitive contender in all I.M. fields, be it football, softball, floor hockey, or the like—all of which are tournaments in progress at the moment. Our own basketball tournament in April went well and special thanks go to chairman Dan Madigan.

Our largest spring philanthropy, the Phi Psi 500, held on May 7th, was its usual success thanks to the efforts of Brother Mike Moran. Socially, this spring was filled with activities from our formal dance on April 8-10 in St. Louis, which featured a riverboat trip along the Missouri River, to our campusrenown Penthouse cocktail party, which was attended by many top University officials, as well as other invited guests. At both events, a good time was had by all.

Through the efforts of chairman Ian Drury, formal rush was a true success, reaping a fine group of young men who will start their pledgeship next fall. In the meantime, Brother Anthony LaMantia is doing a first-rate job as educator in preparing our present pledges for eventual initiation. They are: Dana Alshabkouhn, Hinsdale; Frank Bauer, Effingham; Brian Blockovich, Hinsdale; Dave Carlson, Oakbrook; John Davis, East Moline; Kurt Iverson, Schaumburg; Chris Lynn, Glenview; Tim Mezel, Ottawa; Ron Miller, Lansing; Dave Morris, Crete; Dan Nevis, Glen Ellyn; Karl Remec, Westmont; Brandon Snider, Carbondale; Wil Soppe, Mundeline; Frank Stone, Oak Park; Dan Zurek, Burnham. Also, we heartily welcome our midsemester initiates: Will Auatin, Decatur and Tom Schloemer, Northbook.

Our up-coming elections will soon be upon us and it is right to extend a final thank you to all the officers who have presided over our Chapter this semester: Theodore A. Axotis, GP; Todd A. Borchardt, VGP; Anthony L. Troyke, EVGP; E. Casey Green, P; Bradley P. Schaeffer, AG; Jose B. Gonzalez, BG; Dominic M. Tunzi, SG; Kevin M. Dorken, Hod; Steven C. Brown, Phu; Joseph A. Dalesandro, Hi; Michael A. Degiulio, House Manager; Ian M. Drury, Formal Rush; Daniel M. Madigan, Informal Rush; Michael A. Dulla and Francis J. Sullivan, Social; Anthony J. LaMantia, Pledge Educator.

To all of our Brothers in Phi Kappa Psi we hope your semester has been a fruitful one, and we wish all the best for a fulfilling summer.

Illinois State Spring Into Action

While the sun begins to thaw the Illinois State campus, our spring semester is in full swing. This semester has already had quite a few highlights. We began our semester on as good note as we placed 1st runner up in the Alpha Phi "King of Hearts" competition. We have proven to be quite competitive in philanthropies this semester by also taking 1st place in Delta Zeta's "Win, Lose, or Draw" and 1st runner up in Pi Beta Phi's "Jammin' Man" competitions. Soon we will need to expand our trophy case. Troy Simpson also highlighted our semester by being elected to the Student Body Board of Directors.

Our Spring Formal once again proved to be great fun for our Brothers. It was a time for both reliving fond, old memories with our alumni and creating new memories within our Brotherhood. The night turned out to be very special for Clifford Clark. His hard work and dedication to our Phi Kappa Psi Brotherhood was rewarded as he not only received the "Brother of the Year" honors, but also was elected "Phi Psi of the Year." Hats off to Brother Clark who has shown the benefits of exemplifying the Phi Psi ideals. We are very proud of him.

With our Phi Psi 500 drawing very close, the Chapter is buzzing with excitement. Mark Spurny, the philanthropy chairman, has been working many extra hours to insure another successful 500. Indeed, the 500 has proven to be an event that is enjoyed by all members of our community. Phi Psi pride is in action.

Our Brotherhood is also anxiously awaiting the return of Greek Week. This is the week when the entire Greek system joins together for Greek unity. Phi Kappa Psi will be defending its 1st place finish in last year's competitions with a determination to stay on top.

The officers for this semester are: Troy Simpson, GP; Tom Wurtz, VGP; Kent Erickson, P; Dean Hunt, AG; Tim Nuding, BG; S. Craig Leischner, SG; Phil Westland, HOD; Steve "Red" Bahlmann, PHU; and Clifford Clark, HI.

We would also like to welcome our new pledges in the hopes that someday they may join us in our Brotherhood: Matt Fitman, Evergreen Park; Chris Garard, Gibson City; Tim George, Quincy; John Kirkus, Clinton; Craig Lesselyoung, Libertyville; Wilson Morales, Aurora; Greg Rodriguez, Homewood; Tom Saindon, Clifton; Steve Scheper, St. Charles; Rich Sullivan, Wonderlake; David Widhalm, McHenry; and Jeff Ziroli, Palos Hills.

Indiana Approaching Little 500

As the spring semester nears its end, the Brothers of Indiana Beta are anxiously awaiting for the annual Little 500 weekend, commonly known as the World's Greatest College Weekend. We expect to have an extremely exciting weekend since we have three teams practicing very hard for their respective events. They are the bike team (Brothers Kent Compton, Tim Davis, Jerry Blanton, Peter Landgraff, Scott Dizura, and Pledge Matt McKenzie), The Big Red Relay Team (Brothers Scott Kelly, Jim Risk, Chris Wyse, Rob Russell, and Rob Matthew), and the Mini 500 Trike Team (Brothers Jeff Gery, Eui Oh, Rob Palmer, Rich Amendola, and Darin "Stein" Underwood). The Bike Team qualified for the thirty-eighth straight year which enabled Indiana Beta to continue its record of being the only team to qualify for every race. Indiana Beta is also pleased to announce that we finished tenth out of 32 fraternities academically for the 1987 fall semester. Brother Tom MacDonald was initiated into Phi Beta Kappa this March, and Brother Scott Kelly, who has been active in Indiana's ROTC program, will be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army on May 6. Finally, through the hard work of Philanthropy Chairman Erik Mark, we had the Bloomington homeless children up to the house for the second time this year for an Easter Egg Hunt on April 2.

Actively involved in IFC this year are Craig Takaoka, V.P. of Rush, and Walt Bielfield, Director of Rush. Also involved on campus are Greg Davault, V.P. of Marketing Club, and Chris Burke, Director of Homecoming for Student Athletic Board.

The pledge basketball team is currently in the finals of their division and the "B" basketball team made it to the semifinals of their division before being eliminated. Rick Foley captured two all-campus championships in

The front of the newly renovated Indiana Beta Chapter house. The additions were dedicated during Homecoming festivities.

February when he won the 300 and 400 meter dashes at the intramural track meet.

Upcoming events for Indiana Beta are Little 500 (Paired with the women of Alpha Phi), April 23, and Indiana University Graduation, May 7, at which 31 seniors will graduate. We have two summer rush functions planned: June 18 & 19 at I.U. and July 30-31 in Chicago. We would also like to thank Joe Gehris, Indiana '82, for all his help with the bike team this year. He accompanied the team to Florida Beta to practice during Indiana's Spring Break and his knowledge and dedication were very helpful. Due to a clerical error, Rob Palmer, Finance Major, was left off this years list of graduating seniors. The following is a list of Spring 1988 Pledge Class: Matt Boyer, Bob Kort, Evan Boss, Rob Nevitt, Indianapolis; George Alavanja, Griffith; Steve Baumberger and Aaron Kramer, Evansville: legacy Alex Carpenter, Bloomington; Cyrus Daftary, Batesville; Doug Drenik, Cincinnati, OH: Jeff Eikelberner and John McCoy, South Bend; Eric Engelke, West Lafayette; Doug Harlan, Palm Spring, CA; Nick Heidenry, Chicago, IL; Jim Hoffman, Palatine: Fred Hubacker, Birmingham, MI: Alex Jankowsky, Greenville, SC; Kevin Seiler, Ft. Wayne; Jeff Sheffield, Angola; Matt Stetten, Louisville, KY; and Jonathon Weisgal, Tenafly, NJ.

We at Indiana Beta feel that 1987-88 has been a very successful year and we, therefore, invite all Brothers to stop by and talk about our accomplishments.

Indiana, Pennsylvania Successful Semester

Greetings from "sunny" I.U.P. Our spring semester here at Pennsylvania Nu is winding down. Our annual dance marathon was a smashing success. We had the support of every sorority, a few fraternities, and a couple of residence hall floors. At the end of the dance, we had raised over $2,000 for the Leukemia Society. Kappa Delta sorority came in first place with most money raised and second place went to Alpha Xi Delta sorority. The Leukemia Society even sent us a plaque commending us for a job well done. A special thanks goes to Sam Mariskanish for a superb job in organizing the whole event.

This semester, Greek Week started on Sunday, April 10 with the Greek Sing event. We did our show this year with the Phi Mu sorority. Our performance included music from the 20's, 40's, 60's, 80's, and the future.

Upcoming is the final payment on our Chapter house. This means we can do major home improvements like remodeling and even an extension. In a few years our house will be looking better than ever.

On Saturday, March 26 we held our spring formal out of Indiana in the town of Latrobe where we crowned our newest sweetheart, Nancy Mathews. We also announced our new Assistant Chapter Advisor, Greg "Mongo" Richards. Congratulations to both.

As always, we invite all alumni and any Phi Psis to come up and visit us. Our door always swings in.

Indiana State

Charter Anniversary

It has been a quick and prosperous year since Indiana Eta joined the Brotherhood last March 28. We celebrated the occasion at our recent spring formal held at Lost Creek. Parents were invited once again and all of our alumni attended but two. The formal activities included a buffet, awards ceremony, and dance. Awards were presented to Brothers with outstanding contribution to the Chapter, highest G.P.A., and most active in the Chapter. For a few laughs and some sincerity, the alumni gave various speeches to inform everyone of our past accomplishments. The afternoon before the dance, we sponsored a car wash to reduce the cost of the dance and also contributed some of the proceeds to charity.

Indiana State is building a new student union building. This is a place where students will be able to socialize and catch up on campus activities. The new building is a part of the master plan and will improve the University as a whole.

The spring intramural season has ended with a flurry! Our bowling team, which is always tough in competition, bowled down first place. Even though the bowling has been taken out of the program at Indiana State, Mark Cunningham contributed to our intramural team. As far as a volleyball is concerned, our "Fat Team" ran away with second place as they shouted, "Go fat!" while rubbing their bellies. Randy Price, who is a member of the track team, soared to a third place finish in the pole vault in the Missouri Valley Conference. Congrats to all!

The tandem race is April 23. We are paired with the Chi Omegas and two other fraternities, and out of five men placed on the riding team, Indiana Eta has three. They ought to provide a more than successful ride as they practice more than two hours a day on the track until dark. The activities don't end there, though. There are various activities throughout the week and we hope to be in the running for the sweepstakes prize in the end!

Before the close of this newsletter, we need to give our alumni a BIG thanks for their continued support and their participation in our anniversary banquet. Also, congratulations pledges: Todd Manus, Tom Rhoades, David Waggoner, Russel Bennett, Tom Schmoetzer, John Wade, and Supradh Manohar.

Iowa Fighting The Fever

Spring is upon us at The University of Iowa, but the Brothers of Iowa Alpha are fighting off cases of Spring Fever and hitting the books hard in an all-out effort to regain the top GPA for fraternities. Our energetic Mothers' Club has agreed to help get the house ready for rush with new furniture and french doors for the Chapter and living rooms, and plans are underway for more house improvements in the future.

The Brothers are gearing up for our annual sand pit volleyball philanthropy with Gamma Phi Beta. Co-Chairs Bowen Campbell and John Nangle have been spending long and frantic hours at the Gamma Phi house putting the finishing touches on the event. Steward

After leading the pack for most of the season, Coach Kevin Bradley's hoopsters braced themselves for a shot at the fraternity title. However, despite 36 points by Danny Randall, the basketball team bowed out early in the tourney.

Besides our upcoming philanthropy, plans are being finalized for a summer Alumni V.I.P. Golf Tournament and early bids are being sought for a big summer rush effort. Rush Chairmen Morgan Sackett and Craig Jackman vowed to get "at least twenty-five good ones" for next year's pledge class.

Finally, we'd like to welcome back our cook Joyce Schlindwein who recently returned from a much-needed vacation in Vegas. "I didn't win big, but it was worth it," Joyce told us. "I love playing those slots."

lowa StateLooking Great for 75 Years

Iowa Beta is looking great in more ways than one. At a ceremony during Greek Week, Iowa Beta President Keith Costo was named to the Order of the Omega. It honors the top two percent of the Iowa State Greek system and recognizes outstanding performance in the areas of Chapter service, community service, and academic excellence. The Chapter house itself is also looking quite good, due in part to the acquisition of a new large screen television for the living room. The room which, in the past, was the television room is now used as an art room.

In our never-ending desire to excel academically, Iowa Beta recently raised its academic requirements for both Brothers and pledges. Pledges will now be required to attain a 3.25 GPA to be initiated and all Brothers must maintain at least a 2.4 to remain in good standing.

Phi Psi is also being represented well in campus activities as Craig Wilson is serving on the Student Union Board, Kevin Leno is a member of Cy-Squad for Homecoming, and Mark Boeck is "Yell Like Hell" Skit Coordinator, also for Homecoming.

In addition, Iowa Beta is proving itself athletically. Mike Guy, Brad Meier, and Mark Geronime were all members of the team which won the intramural hockey championship. Tim Engelby was also the second-place finisher in his division in the intramural wrestling tournament, and our co-rec volleyball team is currently undefeated.

Our summer rush function list includes stops in Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha, Edina, MN, Waterloo, Okoboji, and of course, the Phi Psi pool in Ames. We hope to see you at one of these parties, as well as our 75th Anniversary celebration, to be held the weekend of September 10. Iowa Beta wishes to extend special thanks to the Brothers at Florida State who hosted Iowa Staters on Spring Break.

Johns Hopkins A Bright Tomorrow

A battery of blessings has been hitting home here at Maryland Alpha, beginning with this year's class of a stupefying 27 pledges and continuing throughout the semester with work crews that have benefited the Chapter at a near-professional level, and parties that have achieved new heights in aesthetic judgment. Among other things, we wish Brother Bart Savage the best of luck in his venture to Bologna, Italy for a year of study, and we congratulate the 14 Brothers who have been accepted to medical school.

A financial difficulty is being dealt with through fund-raising that will assist in the continued amelioration of the community. A full house for the next three years should help us significantly, and next year the house is guaranteed to be overflowing with devoted and responsible young men.

Intramurals have proved to be a boon as well; the involvement in sports has managed to bring us all a little closer together. Aside from the final scores, those of us participating in the contests have had a great time doing so. Several eyebrow-lifting victories have been posted over the semester in wrestling and lacrosse, and our basketball team has shown a recent resurgence as well.

This year we were endowed with two alumni as Chapter advisors: Brother Craig Huntley and Brother John Kontoleon. We are happy to have them to look after us and assist us in perils of the future.

The annual Phi Psi 500, our sweeping charity event, was yet another elephant in the jacuzzi of this past year. One of the more upand-coming fraternities at Hopkins, we expect more of the same in the year to come.

Kansas Final Four Fever

Kansas Alpha was greeted this semester by a completely renovated Chapter room. It now doubles as a study area for Brothers. Brothers Gilliam, Hinrichs, and Becicka are proof of our dedication to grades. They all received 4.0's. Lee Shaver was named an Amoco Scholar by the School of Engineering, which is well deserved. Along the same lines, our GP, Mark Flannagan was awarded the Solon E. Summerfield award. Founders Day at the Alameda Plaza was exceptional. The turnout exceeded expectations and we enjoyed seeing old friends and sharing stories with alumni.

What would we do without our mighty intramural squads? The Green Wave rolled to an undefeated regular season in basketball. In the lower intramural divisions, Brothers were playing other Brothers for bragging rights. Brad Wahl was called from Kansas JV by Coach Larry Brown to play with the Jayhawks. He saw time in several games and received more cheers from us than Danny Manning! I know Phog Allen would be happy for Brad. Tennis and soccer are several of the spring sports we are gearing up for, so we can make an impressive showing on the Hill.

April will be a hectic month for all of us. Phi Psi 500 has a new twist this year along with our usual obstacle course race. We are sponsoring an open campus bike race. Success is assured. Rush is moving along to select a new pledge class. A California beach party is planned for April 30th, complete with volleyball and waterskiing at Clinton Lake.

On February 6, 1988 the mysteries of Phi Kappa Psi were revealed to 15 new Brothers in our remodeled Chapter room. They are: Jim Biggs, St. Louis, MO; Mike Davis, Matt Meeds, Jerry Boresow (legacy), Prairie Village; Mike Rozell (legacy), Brett Sneed, Vince Scudiero, Ross Troug, Overland Park; John Tickwart, Westwood Hills; Matt Carolan (legacy), Fairway; Steve Hinshaw, Leawood; Jason Edmonds, Lawrence; Scott Ashton, Wheatridge, CO; Bob Schiemann, Chesterfield, MO; and Barry Rucker, Mission Hills. We also pledged five men hoping to become members of our Chapter, Mike Hoover, Frans Juola, Troy Trybom, Lawrence; Brian Matthus, Prairie Village; and Rob Cassida, Overland Park!

On behalf of the Chapter, I would like to invite any Brother to visit the new Chapter room.

Kentucky Still Going Strong!

With the Brothers of Kentucky Beta hard at work with installation preparations, we have not secluded ourselves from other activities here at UK.

Campus government elections are being held, and several Phi Psis are running for officer. Sean Lohman is competing for a Student Government Association Senator-At-Large position and Alan Slusher is unopposed in his bid for Fine Arts Senator. President Louis Smith is seeking a spot on the Greek Activities Steering Committee and Randall Stevens, Robert Ray and Eric Gregory are up for the Chapter Service Award. All Greek awards will be announced at UK's Greek Banquet in April.

The University Greek System made history in March when it formed a Greek Political Action Committee consisting of one delegate from each fraternity and sorority. The GPAC discussed each candidate's views and endorsed a president and vice-president. Hopefully, the formation of this committee will give Greeks a bigger voice in student government.

Our intramural teams have enjoyed participating in the campus sports, although we did not enjoy the taste of victory often. The main basketball team was 1-3, with its only victory being a hard-fought win over Phi Delta Theta. Tim Dearmond sank two clutch free throws in the waning seconds to seal the victory. The softball and tennis teams are practicing for upcoming competition. Campus Greek organizations are also holding events, but our success is about the same. We beat Delta Tau Delta in the Delta Gamma-Phi Sigma Kappa Ultimate Frisbee contest before losing to Sigma Pi. We also participated in the Alpha Tau Omega "Spike for Tykes" and Delt Bike-A-Thon.

Alan Stallins was named to the second All-Southeastern Conference rifle team in March. Congratulations, Alan!

The Phi Kappa Tau Mattress Marathon was also in March. We teamed with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and won third place in entry decoration out of 23 beds. We would like to thank the Kappas for their hospitality and the excellent dinner after the race.

Greek Week was held April 4-8 with Phi Psi participating in several events. Two community service projects, the High Hope Steeplechase and Rent-A-Greek, in which people hire Greeks to do various jobs, also had a strong showing of Phi Psis.

Kentucky Beta held its Founders Day reception February 20. Many Brothers who recently moved to the Lexington area dropped by and will hopefully continue to support us.

The Brothers of Kentucky Beta and the Sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma pause for a photo during the Phi Kappa Tau "Mattress Marathon."

We would like to thank House Corporation president Howard Shellhaas for his assistance in obtaining a new television and lawn mower for the house.

We would also like to express our gratitude to Educational Leadership Consultant Joe Siebert for all his help with our petition and installation activities. Without his help, and the help of Brothers Gregory and John Brookbank, we would not have survived. Thanks also go to UK Greek Affairs Advisor, Dean Michael Palm.

Finally (it's been a long spring!), we want to say it is a great honor to become the 93rd Phi Kappa Psi Chapter. High! High! High!

The Old Grey Barn

Spring, as usual, has been an active, funfilled semester at the "Old Grey Barn." The Brothers of Penn Theta have been busy in Chapter activity, as well as involved in school activities. The house itself is in good shape. We have installed a new fire protection system, with smoke alarms in all Brothers' rooms and main rooms. The Brothers are enjoying the warm weather, spending weekends on the famous "rail". with barbecued meals a favorite dinner request.

Brother Andrew Lefkowitz was one of the four chairmen for the Annual College Fund Alumni Phonathon. The phonathon set a new record this year for donations with a total of $112,388 donated from Lafayette alumni. Brother Tom Watson has been busy with Phi Psi Philanthropy activities. The Phi Kappa Psi-Sigma Kappa Annual Softball Marathon should be just as much a success as previous years. Phi Psi will sponsor the marathon again, with all fraternities, sororities, and other school organizations fielding teams. The proceeds will go to a local Easton charity.

Once again Phi Psi has been active in sports, both on the varsity and intramural level. Dave Rubin after a short absence is back on the varsity tennis team, where he is playing both singles and doubles. The Phi Psi intramural basketball team, after a tough start, got back on the wining track, and softball and soccer teams are ready to go for Phi Psi! Mark Torstenson and Eric Barto continue to be successful for varsity track and field.

The Phi Psi Spring Formal is in the planning stage. This year we hope to have it at a local restaurant. Several Phi Psi alumni have returned, and the Brothers thank them for their support. Penn Theta also has had visitors from the Phi Psi Chapters at Rutgers and Gettysburg; the Brothers enjoyed great weekends at Lafayette.

As usual, the door at the "Old Gray Barn" is always open to Phi Psi alumni, family and friends in the Easton area.

Congratulations to our graduating Brothers, the class of 1988.

Lehigh Place Your Bets, Please

Hello, from Lehigh. Another year has ended and we hope it was a successful one for all. Penn Omicron had its first Casino Night and it was a great success. Students played various games of chance in an effort to win the many food prizes that were donated by local restaurants. The event was organized by rush chairman Fred Cost and he deserves our congratulations.

We also inducted five pledges last semester. Robert Martin Johnson, Robert Michael Lentini, Paul Joseph Sholette, Michael John Gujda and Peter Michael Kuehl are all freshmen, and we hope they have a successful pledge period.

The pledges have already had their pledge party. They used a Mexican theme, serving both Mexican beverages and food. Everybody had a great time.

Penn Omicron also started putting out its own newspaper last semester. It is called The Inkblot, and contains articles about the University and the Chapter, poetry and personals.

Finally, we would like to thank the Brothers of Penn Iota for their hospitality during the two road trips we made there.

Excelling

Greetings from the land of purple and gold! In February, Louisiana Alpha participated for the third time in LSU's Songfest competition, and for the third time we walked away a winner! This year we captured third place with our teammates from Delta Gamma. Despite the extensive practice necessary for success in Songfest, Louisiana Alpha was persistent in our academic pursuits, achieving 2nd place in overall GPA out of 23 fraternities on campus. To celebrate all of this and life in general, we Alphans also hosted a South Seas Island party with the Pikes in March—complete with a waterfall and lots of crawdads!

Congratulations this time around go to coach Dave Normand and our whole softball team for going all the way this year and capturing 1st place as Intramural Softball Champs! Further congrats go to Thomas Richard who became Phi Psi's fifth initiate into the Omicron Delta Kappa Honor Fraternity in three years, and to Fred Vial and Mark Issel who are graduating from LSU in May.

Our final congratulations go to our new spring pledges: Don Harvey, Winter Park, FL; Kyle Hendrickson, Pavernier, FL; Tony Occhi, Long Beach, MS; Tim Caboni, New Orleans; Lindsey Smith, Jackson; Rhadd Hunt, Baker; Alan McMurry, Baton Rouge; and Wayne Thibodeaux, from Thibodeaux, LA, of course.

Finally, allow us to extend an invitation to all Brothers to join us in New Orleans for the 1988 GAC. Housed in New Orleans' premier hotel, the Fairmont, which is located in the world famous French Quarter, the convention is certain to experience lots of Southern hospitality and a fantastic time for all! This GAC will make Scottsdale, Arizona look like a . . . well, like a desert! See ya'll there!

Thanks Ron!

Minnesota Gamma would like to open by thanking Educational Leadership Consultant Ron Richard for the help and advice he shared with us during his stay here in February. With the enormous growth we have experienced over the last few years, his expertise surely will prove to be an asset to our Chapter in years to come.

With another incredible year behind us, we are looking forward to a year of even more growth and successs. On May 12, 1989, the Minnesota Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi will celebrate her 20th birthday! Our alumni committee will focus all it's efforts on successfully contacting all Chapter alumni near and far, so that they may take part in celebrating our proudest day yet as a Phi Psi Chapter. It is our hope that all Chapter alumni, parents, and Phi Psi Chapters across the nation will leave this day open on their calendars so that they may experience the 20 years of Brotherhood and tradition of which we are so fortunate to be a part.

We would like to express our appreciation to alumnus Mark Gruss for his contribution to the Chapter. This is sure to make a difference with the renovation of our 2nd floor bathroom. Minnesota Gamma is looking forward to another rush coming up in September. With our membership at an all time high, and with Phi Psi dominating 70% of fraternity recruitment on campus, we are sure to expand to even greater heights in 88-89. We invite all alumni to come meet the results of formal rush during homecoming week in late September. Homecoming invitations should be in your mailboxes by late August.

We're looking forward to meeting all our Phi Psi Brothers from across the country during this year's GAC in August. Minnesota Gamma expects to have a very large turnout and is looking forward to an awesome time in New Orleans!

Prospering in Oxford

The Ohio Lambda Chapter has been busy as usual, as activities within the Chapter, as well as on campus have kept Brothers consistently on the go. Renovations have recently been completed as our living room has undergone an almost complete overhaul. New initiates recently completed work on an attractive porch and barbecue area behind the Chapter house which will make the area much more useful. The Chapter had top grades among all fraternities during the first semester and currently stands sixth place in interfraternity sports competition, in a field of twenty-seven teams. Brothers Hock and Marple are completing studies in Luxembourg and we look forward to their presence in the Chapter once again next year.

An enjoyable Parent's Weekend was put together by Brothers Rigali and Kenosh, with many taking the weekend of April 8-10 to relax and visit with family and friends. The large turnout made for a festive banquet while parents of new initiates got their first look at the Chapter house and fraternity life at Miami. New Social Chairs Gimigliano and Thomas, planned our Spring Formal of March 25th with much success as well. Held in Cincinnati, it went off without a hitch as Brothers enjoyed an evening of dining and dancing. Little Sibs Weekend at Miami, April 22-24, was exciting as many Brothers entertained siblings and took part in the extensive campus activities. Brothers Rigali, Hofner, Brogan and Ronayne represented the Chapter exceptionally well, with a strong showing in the annual campus-wide 20/20 bicycle race. The Chapter would also like to thank the Brothers of Ohio Zeta for their hospitality during our Pledge Walkout on March 5th. A good time was had by all and the trip went extremely well. Educational Leadership Consultant David Boersma, Kansas Alpha '84, enjoyed a two day visit on March 30th and 31st. The Chapter would like to thank him for valuable input and his valuable time. Committee heads and officers all enjoyed talking with him about ways to improve Ohio Lambda.

The Chapter recently inducted nine new officers, all of which have stepped actively and successfully into their new posts. The new inductees are Wayne Huerth, GP; Natale Fata, VGP; Jack Lucas, P; Christopher McNally, AG; Matthew Copp, BG; Michael Blakslee, SG; Eric Dudenhofer, Hod; Dickie Clark, Phu; and Jon Kruse, Hi.

We also recently entered thirty-two new initiates into the Brotherhood of Phi Kappa Psi. They are as follows: Bill Barkley, Greensburg, PA; Mark Barnhart, Oxford; Matt Buss, St. Louis, MO; Milan Campbell, Hubbard; Matt Crane, Lexington, KY; David DeGroff, Elkhart, IN: Gregg DiGiacomo, Tim Lynch, Hartville; Steve King, Strongsville; Wayne Dornbirer, Columbia, MD (legacy); Rick Emanual, Mt. Prospect, IL (legacy); Rick Evans, Tom Parker, Newark; Joe Laurencelle, Detroit, MI; Dave Lee, Stow; Eric Lutz, Aurora; Jon Mackey, Portland, ME; Pat O'Conner, Oshkosh, WI; Umar Muhammed, Akron; Greg Merchant, Barrington, RI; Joe Pegues, Westport, CN; Mike Potts, Sydney; Mike Ryan, Columbus; Mike Sarris, N. Royalton; Paul Taylor, Joe Stiles, Cincinnati; Ken Sweder, Wheaton, IL; Bill Scroggie, Rochester Hills, MI; Rich Ullman, Peoria, IL; Ted Wagner, Middletown; Chris Waltz, Hudson (legacy); and Mark Yasinsky, Pittsburg, PA.

Brothers Shields, Ashley, Rhodes and Mc-Nally would like to thank the new initiates for cooperating and making their pledge program a prosperous one for the Chapter and a rewarding one for them.

Michigan

Friendship is the Key

With stagnation rearing its ugly head, the Brothers of Michigan Alpha have performed some lengthy soul-searching in an attempt to promote more internal unity and spirit, the inherent backbone of any prodigious fraternal institution. What the Brothers have learned is that friendship is the key; the impetus required to motivate a fraternal order with growing pains such as ours is simply the mutual respect of those with whom you work and live. The gateway to impatiently awaited external improvement is carefully guarded by a much needed restoration of friendship. Only by strengthening the internal Brotherhood can one achieve those lofty "other" goals.

This semester's pledge program is proceeding exceedingly well; the pledge class is both proud and ambitious, ready and willing to tackle their next challenge. House improvements have been made. Most assuredly, they will make fine Brothers, in the truest sense of the word.

Congratulations are in order for Greg Feldman, having obtained the lofty position of public relations chairman aboard the IFC executive council. The IFC representative for this term is Keith Markman.

Though not exactly dominating this semester in the realm of intramural sports, we have performed respectably in both volleyball and track. Thanks again to Gary Cohen for being super-organized as our I.M. chairman.

In this year's Greek Week, we had the honor of being paired with the ladies of Delta Phi Epsilon, as well as the men of Chi Phi. Though the official results are not quite ready, it appears that we have performed quite respectably, placing in such events as volleyball and keg-stacking. Our annual Phi Psi 500 tricycle race was run most efficiently, thanks to Dave "Fun Guide" Peterson and Rob Fish. Other highlights of Greek Week included our variety team dancing suggestively to the beat of "Wild Boys," a spirited version of "California Dreamin', and Chris Salesky's all-too-brief appearance as disparate members of the "Brady Bunch."

The Brothers of Michigan Alpha can't wait to return next fall with renewed vigor. Let the good times roll!

Michigan State High Expectations

Everyone was happy to see winter leave as we are still thawing out our toes. With spring here, the Brothers of the rock are back in shape and ready to attack a final term at M.S.U. Although morale was low at times at Michigan Beta, the Brothers banded together to get much accomplished. Under the able leadership of Ronald Ambrose, Phi Psi had a great time raising money for the Easter Seals (he even got on T.V.). The first newsletter in about three years went out to our alumni, and the response was incredible. For the Brothers who have not returned their feedback sheets, please hurry! We need the information for the summer issue of the Spartan Phi Psi. Once again, Phi Psi is in the top 5 academically in the Greek system.

Michigan Beta is fast becoming a force to be feared in the Greek world. During winter term, we fielded a small, but wily basketball team that came very close to beating many teams. Our water polo team ended the season scaring Tau Kappa Epsilon so bad they forfeited to give Phi Psi a 5-2 record. Spring term sees the Phi Psis of Michigan Beta beating up on the Greek system in softball.

Michigan Beta is proud to announce its new executive board. They are: GP, Matt Didaleusky; VGP, Paul Kadesch; AG, David Senkle; P, Tom Holwerda; SG, Ken Janssen; BG, Robert Reed; Phu, Keith Alexander; Hi, Ron Ambrose and Hod, Mark Ellis. Congratulations!

Finally, thank you once again for the response to the Spartan Phi Psi and we are currently working on the summer issue. Remember, you are always welcome at the house, so come by or call for info at 522 Abbott Rd., East Lansing, MI 48823. Take care...

is our big break.

Heart of Dixie

Hello again, Brothers! As you might imag-

We had an exciting spring semester at Ole Miss with the arrival of Ally Sheedy, Phoebe Cates, Virginia Madsen, and Treat Williams for the filming of the motion picture "Heart of Dixie." Many scenes were filmed on campus and in the Oxford area. A parade scene and sorority house scenes were filmed in nearby Holly Springs. Many Brothers were involved as extras for the picture. Perhaps this ine, it is very hot here in the heart of Dixie.

Our congratulations to our Brothers who are graduating or who were accepted to any of a number of graduate schools. Good luck to us in the work force. Remember: Hire a Psi Psi!

We at the Mississippi Alpha Chapter are excited about the formation of the Memphis Alumni Association. We look forward to working with you in the future.

To our Brothers who were not here for the spring semester, we can't wait to have you back this fall. We have missed you very much.

Better luck next time, Billys! Hotty Toddy, y'all!

Words on the Wind

As the winter semester of 1988 winds to a close at Ol' Mizzou, we here at Missouri Alpha are working hard to complete another great school year.

Looking back, we'd like to thank all of the alumni and undergraduates of both the Kansas and Missouri Alpha Chapters for attending the joint celebration of Founders Day. The event, held at the Alemeda Plaza Hotel in Kansas City, was one of the bigger turnouts of Brothers in the past few years. Also, we were glad to see the alumni who attended our Chapter Day in April for the alumni and pledge Bar-B-Q. A group of alumni will be coming in just before the end of school to do some repairs and restorations to our Chapter room.

This semester has seen an increase in Phi Psi campus involvement. One of the most notable positions attained by a Phi Psi is that of Chief Justice of Interfraternity Council by Mark Lodato. Also, Archon Darrin Widick was selected to the prestigious position of Summer Orientation Leader. He will help welcome all new freshmen to Mizzou. Dave Lyon, our current treasurer, was tapped into the Omicron Delta Kappa honorary society which honors students with a record of outstanding scholarship, leadership, and campus activities. Bill Lampe, Jeff Harrison, and Mark Lodato are all representing Phi Psi by participating in campus Greek philanthropies.

Socially, the semester is ending with a bang. Dennis Mahoney, social chairman, organized an excellent spring formal. And the campus Greek Week will conclude with a banquet of 48 fraternities and sororities on the 4½ acre plantation which the Phi Psi house sits on.

The Phi Psi intramural squad broke into the top 10 teams on campus with an outstanding performance in basketball that ended with a third place finish. In tennis, Phi Psi teams in both A and B divisions went to the quarter finals. And in softball, the team is in top form for the season after a good showing in a practice game against the number one team from last year.

Finally, we invite all interested alumni to contact Jeff Harrison or Kevin Hill to find out more about summer rush. We are already off to a strong start with Scott Gregston leading MO Alpha through the all-campus formal rush.

Nebraska Spring Fever

Spring fever has hit Lincoln as the men of Nebraska Alpha finish up the last few weeks of school. These last few weeks are important ones and with studies, socials and house improvements they will be very busy ones. We are also starting to focus our attention on the all-important summer rush schedule. Life at the Phi Psi house is never dull!

The Brothers would like to welcome our new initiates into the mysteries of Phi Kappa Psi. These men are: David Jonson of Dallas; TX, Tony Griess of Minden, NE, Raymond McConnell of Indiana; Scott Hatfield of Lincoln, NE; Jeff Funke of Nebraska City, NE; Matt Selinger of Ralston, NE; and Philip Dean of Gothenburg, NE.

A new emphasis has been put on grades this year and everyone seems to be following up extremely well. Scholarship chairman John Cremers helps the pledges with their studies and inspires the entire Chapter to keep its grades up to par. The Brothers have increased the Chapter GPA from last semester, and hope to continue this steady climb to the top. A special congratulations goes out to our graduating seniors, and also to all graduating Brothers.

The social calendar, as always, is filled with many fun parties until the end of the year. Included on the calendar is Parents Day. The Brothers and the parents always look forward to this annual date in which we fill the afternoon with a round of golf, and then enjoy a nice prime rib dinner that evening. Other parties include the infamous "Phi Psi Open," and, possibly, a first annual "Welcome Home Winder" celebration.

Intramurals have been going extremely well as our water polo team almost won the championship game in a very heated match. Our soccer and basketball teams have also done exceptionally well and have finished with top marks.

In closing, we would like to welcome our new Chapter Advisor Bruce Erickson. We are pleased that he has decided to take up the job, and are looking forward to working with him. An invitation also goes out to anyone that would like to participate with summer rush. Good luck to all Brothers, and work

Northwestern Spring Fever

Spring fever is running rampant at Illinois Alpha! After dealing with Chicago's winter, the Brothers are ready to hit the beach. Spring quarter looks promising in the way of events and other social gatherings.

During winter quarter, the Brotherhood was involved in a variety of events. Gene Diaz and Paul Stumbo danced their feet off for Phi Psi in the annual dance marathon. This year's profits went to AIDS research. In IM sports, under the leadership of Chuck Dressel, we managed to have two basketball teams both do fairly well in their respective divisions. In the spring, Phi Psi will have a softball team, a volleyball team, a soccer team, and an ultimate frisbee team. On the varsity level, Phi Psi will be represented on the baseball team by Brothers Borgula, Freeze, Hartshorn, Robinson, and Oeting.

The University announced the Phi Psi house here at Northwestern had the highest cumulative grade point average of any fraternal organization on campus.

The annual alumni breakfast under the direction of Brother Furst went exceptionally well. The Brothers extend their gratitude to all the alumni that came and we hope those that did not make it can make it next year.

The Brothers are looking forward to a successful Spring Rush organized by co-chairmen Adam Kreysar and Bill Garrison. They have already done their pre-rush preparation and now the Chapter is enthusiastically waiting for rush to begin. "Heaven and Hell," our annual charity fundraiser will take place this year on April 22 under the direction of Dan Chow and Tim Luke.

Leading the Chapter this quarter are: Scott Leopold, GP; Jim Robinson, VGP; Michael Condes, AG; Tom Herbert, P; Jeff Farley, BG; Tim Luke, SG; Ken Crites, Hod; Austin Gibbons, Phu; Dave Drake, Hi.

In closing, we would like to remind our alumni they are always welcome. Best regards from the Brothers of Illinois Alpha.

Ohio Wesleyan Reaching the Top

Congratulations to the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team and especially to Phi Psi senior Chris Truskowski. They are the NCAA division III national champions! About 25 Phi Psis made the trip to Grand Rapids, MI to watch the team defeat Scranton with a 92-70 final score. It was a once in a lifetime experience.

A little closer to home, James Costenbader, GP, is still vice president of the IFC. He, along with the IFC, is working hard to help the Greek students make the transition to the new 21-year-old alcohol policy. John Gardner, our social service chairman, is pleased to announce that our spring food drive for people in need and our daffodil sale for the American Cancer Society were both extremely successful.

We have several varsity athletes participating in spring sports. Senior Ed Powell and freshmen Charlie Shoop, Scott Googins, Jim Burton, Kenny Kaz, and Todd "K-Rock" Knezovic are all varsity baseball players. Seniors Brian "BD" Andrews, Pete "Rock-n-Roll" Mitchell, Bruce Cogswell Flint, as well as Harry Ostrander are on the varsity sailing team. Junior Amory Slott is captain of the tennis team, and Jeff Harper is a member of the nationally ranked golf team.

We would like to thank all of the alumni that participated in our successful Monett Weekend; it was a great success. Also the "500" was a fun-filled day with the OWU community, as well as with many Phi Psi alumni. It was a day to remember. We would like to remind all alumni that if they have any questions concerning upcoming events, they can contact our alumni chairman Andy Thompson.

Ohio State Work Hard, Play Hard

With the beginning of the new year, the Brothers of Ohio Delta are adopting this philosophy. It's a new state of mind which is continuing to bring about many changes and improvements.

With the help of a supportive alumni association the Chapter house has benefitted with a renovation of the weight room, lights and letters for the exterior, new washers and dryers, and wallpaper donated by alumnus Richard Paul. Ohio Delta also continues to excel in academics, having the third highest GPA of thirty-seven fraternities on campus. Participation in Greek philanthropies also brought successes. Jeff Sharritts and Chris Howard were victorious in the ATO Fight Night.

Brian Fulton was a finalist in the Alpha Gamma Delta calendar contest, and a second place finish was achieved in the Delta Gamma Anchor Splash.

The Chapter also participated actively in sports, fielding teams in a variety of intramural events. Standouts include Pete Redetzki who swam 105 miles to win the marathon swim contest, and Steve Hostetter who is finishing his season on the varsity track team.

An outstanding turnout was observed at the most recent Founders Day. Brothers of all ages came to hear an outstanding program which included an address by our faculty advisor Dean Roy Lewicki, and a presentation to alumnus Dr. Thom Olszewski for his generous contributions toward the betterment of the Chapter. Many alumni also came back to the Chapter house to exchange names and stories, and witness the changes that have taken place over the years.

It is also hard not to be optimistic about the future with our new and prospective members. New initiates include Jeff Haskett, Stow; Christian Smith, Lima; Aaron Schrein, Rivervale, NJ; Jeff Schirm, Toledo; Todd Henderson, Worthington; John Lundquist, Columbus; and Chris Niles, Oneida, NY. We can also boast a list of outstanding pledges for the spring of '88. Matt Andres, Cumberland, RI; Neal Bell, Pickerington; David Bingham, Broadview Heights; Brian Burke, Columbus; Mike Houck, Cincinnati, who follows his father, Kenneth, as a legacy; Perry Kallas, Gahanna; Joe Koncelik, Powell; Eric Lapp, Warren; Greg Reinhard, Mason; Bill Rowland, Worthington; Rick Palmer, Hilliard; and Mark Phillips, Bryan.

The new year also brought the election of a new and ambitious executive board who owe a great debt to alumnus Palmer McNeal, Chapter advisor Jim Blazer, and most recent GP Ken Meeks, who donated their time and efforts in the form of an officer's retreat. Their teachings and advice intended to ease the transition into a new administration were well heeded and greatly appreciated.

Oklahoma

Staying at the Top

While the University of Oklahoma Sooners have kept the winning tradition by "pressing" into college basketball's Final Four, Oklahoma Alpha has continued its legacy of academic excellence.

Among those named Academic All-American were Shane Merz, Jon Robinson, Mark Brown, Chris Moon, Bryan Kay, Daran Parham, Steve Vogel, Vince Farhood, Jim Lynch, David Anderson, and Bryan Twibell. Merz was also named Outstanding Student in Aerospace and Mechanical Engineering and achieved the milestone of second highest in his class. Along with his previous honor, Anderson was awarded a Junior IFC scholarship, and Brown was inducted into the Order of Omega and Mortar Board.

Once again, Phi Psi has shown exceptional leadership in campus activities. Most worthy to note, Todd Cunningham served as vice president of the University of Oklahoma Student Association in addition to being a member of the Student Leaders Forum and the OU Centennial Commission Student Affairs Committee. Participating on the Sooner Scandals staff, Tom Ebrey entertained as continuity chairman while Greg Ward, Jon Ebrey, John Terry, and Mark deFreese served on the stage crew as Phi Psi was in the Scandals limelight yet another year. Also, for the second consecutive year, Phi Psi has been the only fraternity act with a sorority in helping the Norman area Special Olympics. Shane Merz and Aaron Brougher were special events coordinators for central Oklahoma. Certainly these endeavors speak well for the character of the men of Oklahoma Alpha, and the Chapter greatly appreciates the accomplishments of all the Brothers.

The spring semester was never lacking in energy as the men enjoyed three great parties. In particular, Buffalo Bill's was the pinnacle of the season as Phi Psi's own Jeff Morris and John Gilmore of The Cant provided several vintage rock and folk standards that brought the Old West back to life.

Spirits were high as the end of the semester approached and Mom's Day went over with much success. With the great fall and spring pledge classes of the past year, Oklahoma Alpha is most assuredly keeping with the tradition of excellence. Special thanks to Allen Wright for the job he did as Chapter Advisor.

Oklahoma City is once again hosting a Phi Psi luncheon which will meet monthly on the second Tuesday lasting from noon until 1 p.m. at the Beacon Club, First National Center, 120 N. Robinson. Oklahoma City area Phi Psis are invited to attend. To get the monthly luncheon back together Dan Caldwell, Oklahoma '68, has offered to host the luncheon at the Beacon Club. Reservations should be made through Dan at his office, 405/232-4633. If alumni would like to contact the Chapter about anything, write to Todd Cunningham, 720 Elm, Norman, Oklahoma 73069.

The new initiates were inducted into Phi Kappa Psi on Founders Day. The are: Daran Parham, David Anderson, Aaron Busby, Vince Farhood, Darin Davis, Paul Gomez, Chris Poole, David Williamson, Eddie Campbell, Tony Gilbreath, John McKinney, Dan Mitchell, Drew Ledbetter, and Braddon Altshuler.

Oklahoma State So Far So Good

It has been yet another fun and exciting year here at Oklahoma Beta and we are looking forward to the spring. With the new semester we are looking forward to the rewards of our new rush program. We are also looking forward to our social calendar including our philanthropy event with the Alpha Chi's and our beach party celebrating the third annual convening of the Phi Psi Tanning Association! In the athletic department, we wish our floor hockey team, fight night boxers, and the softball team the best of luck.

Last semester we had a temporary reunion with our Brothers now in Ohio and we thank them for all their help and support while they were here. We would also like to thank Brother Hackett for all his help and support throughout the year. In addition, we would like to announce the formal pledging of Patrick Wilson, Tim Murphy, and Brandon Birkhard; the best of luck to them.

Oregon Leading the Way

As we say goodbye to the rain and hello to the sun in Eugene, Oregon Alpha has been busy on campus and in our community.

April brought about our annual "Phi Psi Smoker" boxing tournament to benefit local charities. Fighters from each fraternity on campus gathered in the South Eugene High School gymnasium to compete. Trophies were awarded to the winners in the various weight classes. The event, sponsored by Burger King and Pepsi-Cola, was a "ringing" success.

Leadership is a tradition here at Oregon Alpha. In the past few months, that tradition has been maintained. John Cox, GP, took the initiative in the Interfraternity Council and presented a new social and public relations plan which the Council adopted. Oregon Alphans held seats on the Interfraternity Rush Council, as well as the Student Elections Board and the Student-University Relations Council. In addition, the undergraduate membership of Oregon Alpha was represented on the varsity basketball team by Greg Senior.

It should be noted that in the midst of all this activity, we have continued to maintain our commitment to scholarship. The Chapter as a whole has stayed in the top three of all fraternities at the University of Oregon. Individually, three Brothers received a 4.0 G.P.A. and seven were named Academic All-Americans.

Our year ended at Lake Shasta in California. The Chapter's spring house dance was great fun. It was, as always, an excellent opportunity to enjoy the Brotherhood before we each went to our separate summer destinations.

All of us here at 729 E. 11th would like to wish a cool and healthy summer to our Bothers around the country.

Oregon State Built for the Future

Oregon Beta has survived another dreary winter in Corvallis and is ready for a spring of warm weather, baseball and tanned legs.

To recap the frigid winter, the Chapter's 40th anniversary was celebrated at its Founders Day celebration February 13, and featured many Brothers from 1948, the Chapter's first year at OSU.

The speeches at the event, including the keynote address by Chapter Advisor Hal Dick, spoke optimistically of what the Chapter can achieve in the future.

The Ken Shwartz Award, going to the outstanding undergraduate member, was presented to Tim Wood, who serves as rush chairman.

The Edward T. Sturgeon Award, given to the Chapter's seniors, was received by Brian Mortensen, who has served as Corresponding Secretary.

Steve Finn ('77) was named Alumnus of the Year.

As a special award, the Chapter "christened" a newly remodeled room in the name of House Corporation president Doug Squires.

Brock Ferguson was named Outstanding Pledge.

The second annual Budweiser Award, presented to that . . . well . . . special alumnus was given to Scott Field ('85), for his undaunted attendance at OSU football games.

Jack Price was given the President's Award, having been elected to replace Randy Green, who had earlier resigned.

The Chapter received local recognition when it helped in holding a garage sale to raise funds for Bonney Industries, a workshop for the mentally handicapped.

The Chapter also plans upon working with the Boys Club of Corvallis for other philanthropic work in the Spring and Fall. The Phi Psi Dribble is also a long range plan for the future, possibly coming to fruition next winter term

It's also time for rush to begin. A goal of 25 Resident Rushees will be strived toward.

We wish all Phi Psis a great summer and G.A.C., and congratulations to Shannon Hodges and Randy Green on their respective weddings this summer.

Penn State Continuing A Grand Tradition

Sun-bathing and frisbee throwing are sure signs that spring is upon us here in Happy Valley, but there is more than just relaxation on our minds. The Chapter is currently intensifying with activity as the twentieth annual Phi Psi 500 rapidly approaches. Under chairman Mark Emery, this popular spring tradition at Penn State will see many new and innovative changes in a very pivotal year for the race. With the de-emphasizing of alcohol, more emphasis will be placed on the entire week leading up to the race itself. The addition of a Sport Show sponsored by Kaepa, a benefit concert, the Phi Psi Cup and a runner's appreciation night are just some of the highlights of an exciting week that will, of course, culminate with the running of the acmal race on April 16.

Despite all of our efforts toward the "500", we are keeping atop other activities as well. Rush is at the top of our list, and under the direction of Shawn McKee, our goal is to begin a new pledge class by the end of the semester. Our current pledge class consists of seven promising young men including: Dennis Kubasko, Ridley, PA; David Bzdak, Milton, PA; Colin McHale, Camp Hill, PA; Steven Schankowitz, Allentown, PA; Matthew Swartley, Doylestown, PA; and Jonathon Dermott and Paul Kutufaris, Springfield, PA.

There's never a dull moment at Phi Psi with Bill Miltenberger's creative approach to this semester's social activities. His innovative ideas have provided different, yet outstanding sorority socials and a formal never to be forgotten. We are also looking forward to Greek Week with the lovely Kappa Alpha Thetas as well as our annual Parents Weekend on April 23.

Continuing the well-known tradition of excellence, we have maintained our impressive ranking of 13th in academics. Also dominating the intramural sports scene, we rank a strong fifth in a field of fifty-two fraternities. We're a sure bet to improve on that as volleyball, soccer and track lead the remaining spring sports parade. With all of these accomplishments and more, Penn Lambda remains one of the strongest contenders for the Omega Epsilon award, which is an annual award presented to the fraternity displaying the best overall achievement and involvement in campus and community events.

As always, we encourage any visiting alumni to stop in at the Chapter anytime.

Coolness

Greetings from the Brothers of Indiana Delta. The spring semester has brought new life to Purdue Phi Psis. The Chapter, led by Steve Chadbourne, is on a quest for academic improvement. So far, so good! Our annual "Dribble" philanthropy with Phi Mu sorority was a success; we raised over $2,200 for Purdue Cancer Research. Then came Spring Break! Purdue Phi Psis established party zones in South Padre, Fort Meyers, and Fort Lauderdale. Special thanks goes to Crazy Gregg, M.J., and Tony for their hospitality. The break was fun, but also safe. Our enthusiastic hockey game excursion was unfortunately rained out. Other activities include our involvement with social liability. Brother Moeller had the assistant Dean of Students, Dr. Jane Hamblin, speak to the Chapter about this growing concern. As far as intramurals are concerned Phi Psis have moved up to sixth position on campus. With the recent success of our softball teams, we hope to contend for the championship.

On February 7, we inducted thirteen new pledges into Phi Kappa Psi. They are all looking forward to finally living in the house next fall. We are also proud of our sixteen new members of the Psi pledge class. They all managed to make grades and get initiated on February 27. This reflects our effort to improve academic achievement. In fact, we now only have one neophyte in the house. Purdue Phi Psis are sending three representatives to the festive 1988 G.A.C.: Jim Giolitto, Gregg Clark, and Tim Croxall.

Socially, the Chapter has become quite active lately despite the usual lack of funds. Our spontaneous toga fix-up was out of hand. It was a very fun time. We have two major events coming up. First, Benson Yang is organizing a spring pledge dance at Kings Island on April 9. It is sure to be one productive weekend! Next, Grand Prix week starts April 18. Of course, Alpha Phi sorority agreed to help us celebrate this event. Good luck to Chris Pfister, driver of cart number 17. We will win!

Rhode Island Summer Fun

Once again, we are coming to you from beautiful Rhode Island where most of us are not, this being summertime. We ended the semester on a fantastic note with a new grade point average that puts us in the top five on campus. Also, in the continuing tradition of Rhode Island Beta, the success of our Bounce-A-Thon for the American Cancer Society was tremendous with a new record donation. The chairmen, Tim Almonte and Mike Mullaney, really outdid themselves.

The Interfraternal Council is continuing to make news on campus with some new rules to be instilled in the upcoming semester. Among these rules include the banning of Thursday night social events on campus. This ruling came about because of questionable attendance at Friday classes. Another new rule that has been put into effect is the mandatory weekly house clean up of every house on campus. The exterior of each Greek residence must be picked up in the beginning of the week, or fines are levied.

The Chapter's spring intramural scoreboard was unbeatable with our floor hockey, soccer, and basketball teams leading the games with high scores, technique, and unmatched skill. In looking ahead to the fall semester, our Homecoming date has been set for October 22nd. The Brothers and pledges would love to see a big alumni turnout again this year and we hope you can plan your schedules around that weekend. The pledging of 15 new members has been a great achievement in the spring semester; our thanks for all their hard work goes out to rush chairmen, Ken Knox and Sean "Birdman" Cain.

We are also proud to announce the initiation of 22 new Brothers on March 26th; they are: Mike Alesso, Paramus, NJ; Joe Bianco, Cranston, RI; John Capobianco, Nanuet, NY; Brian Carroll, Oradell, NJ; Brian Cooper, Cumberland, RI; John DeNancour, Johnston, RI; Ron DiPrete, Cranston, RI; Grey Eldridge, Cataumet, MA; Pete Herman, Fort Lee, NJ; Joe Hermes, Oradell, NJ; Don Higgins; Warwick, RI; Sean Kelly, Hohokus, NJ. John McGrath, Cortland, NY; Mike Mulligan, Cumberland, RI; Brian Murphy, Bronxville, NJ; Matt Noon, Oradell, NJ; Dave O'Neill, Wakefield, RI; Marc Rodriguez, West Nyack, NY; Ron Sanfillipo, Cedar Grove, NJ; Eric Sobran, Old Greenwich, CT; Dave Thomson, Briarcliff NY.

Most importantly, in our initiation ceremony was the initiation of the late Joseph M. Barry from Norwood, NJ. Joe was taken from us in an auto accident in late winter, however, the smiling face of "J.C." will not soon be forgotten.

In closing, the Brotherhood would like to once again invite all alumni to our Homecoming on October 22nd and our two Grand Arch Council representatives Stephen Smith and Peter Bodycoat, are looking forward to meeting and participating with our other fine Chapters.

Rider

A Busy Semester

Greetings once again from the Brothers of New Jersey Alpha. Chapter morale is on the upside because our hard work during rush yielded the largest pledge class of all of the fraternities. We are also very pleased with the present appearance of our house. We have renovated many aspects of it with more improvements on the way. The Rutgers incident had a heavy impact on the Rider College campus; in fact, a television news station from Philadelphia came to our house and interviewed Chapter president Jerry Bryson and IFC president Brother Tom Bulzacchelli as part of a special report that they are preparing regarding the subject.

A new policy that will disallow first semester freshmen to pledge may be put into effect as a result of the past performances of those who do.

Last year, as a service project, we helped out in the Special Olympics. Unfortunately, this year, we were not able to reaquire this event for our project. We have just been informed, however, that next semester we will have the honor once again, along with another fraternity, of hosting the Special Olympics at Rider.

A special thanks is extended to alumnus Greg Sanders for doing such a great job in raising money for our weekend vacation, which will be spent in Georgetown this year. Alumni day went well. It was great seeing those of you who were able to make it. Broth-planted her banner for the first time at Indiana State University. The Indiana Eta Colony, founded originally by a Phi Psi attending graduate school at Indiana State, was granted Colony status February 3, 1985. Installation day brought 46 new Brothers into the bond to create Indiana Eta.

Installations for the Spring of 1987 were completed May 2, when 38 men bound themselves to the ideals of Phi Kappa Psi at Rutgers University. Recognized as a Colony on April 21, 1986, New Jersey Gamma holds great promise for Phi Psi on this famous campus.

The year 1987 saw yet one more installation, when our brotherhood gained a Chapter for the first time at Temple University, in Philadelphia. Recognized as a Colony March 17, 1986, and our first ever "Pi" Colony designation, this outstanding group made good progress and met all ten chartering goals, so that installation day for Pennsylvania Pi came September 12, 1987. The 27 charter members have enthusiastically established the Phi Psi name at this outstanding University.

After the close of this report year, Phi Psi gained two additional new Chapters. On April 23, Kentucky Beta at the University of Kentucky was installed, and one week later, on April 30, Texas Delta at Southern Methodist University received their Chapter charter. Kentucky Beta was first granted Colony status on November 8, 1982, and thus proved that persistence does indeed pay off in Lexington! The 41 charter members hold great promise for Phi Psi at Kentucky. And Texas Delta, joining the very competitive Greek system at S.M.U., was first organized as a Phi Psi Colony on September 22, 1985. These 33 charter members do indeed have their work as a challenge ahead, but the quality of member is up to the task.

The installation of Florida Alpha, Indiana Eta, New Jersey Gamma, Pennsylvania Pi, Kentucky Beta, and Texas Delta is a recent year's record. These 6 outstanding new Chapters added to the Phi Psi Chapter roster results in 94 active Chapters, the most the Fraternity has enjoyed in her 136-year history.

Colonies

The Fraternity operated a total of 10 Colonies during this report year, 4 of which were installed during the year: Florida Alpha at Florida State University, installed March 7, 1987; Indiana Eta at Indiana State University, installed March 28, 1987; the New Jersey Gamma Chapter, chartered May 2, 1987; and Pennsylvania Pi, at Temple University, who received its Chapter charter September 12, 1987. After this report year, Kentucky Beta was installed April 23, 1988, at the University of Kentucky, and Texas Delta chartered April 30, 1988, at Southern Methodist University (see above).

Other Colony activity included the ongoing development of Phi Psi's Maryland Beta Colony, at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, recognized officially as a Colony September 11, 1986. District of Columbia Alpha continues its steady progress at George Washington University, in an attempt to reclaim a Chapter charter issued first in 1868, and lost in 1899. This Colony effort was organized April 6, 1987. Another return to a Phi Psi campus listed previously as "inactive" took place November 9, 1987, when the Fraternity recognized the Wisconsin Alpha Colony, at the University of Wisconsin, in Madison. The old Wisconsin Alpha was chartered in 1875, closed in 1894, reopened in 1897, and closed again in 1939. A school brand new to Phi Psi activity this report year is Trenton State College, where on January 23, 1988, the Fraternity granted Colony status to an outstanding group of petitioning students, now designated New Jersey Delta.

And after this Annual Report year, on March 11, 1988, the Massachusetts Beta Colony was recognized, at Brandeis University, in the greater Boston area. At this school as well, a group of students organized themselves as a local fraternity, and now seek a Phi Psi charter.

Phi Psi's six Districts recorded the following undergraduates (not including Colonies), as of February 19, 1988:

No Chapters Lost

In the year under review, March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988, no Chapter charters were suspended or revoked.

Numbers in Chapters

Since each Annual Report stays strictly within the time limits of March 1 to the end of February, it is possible for some Chapters and Colonies to experience artificially high, or low, member numbers. For example, if a new initiate report is not received in Phi Psi's Headquarters until March or April (from a January or February initiation date) one year, but the following year the report comes in on time or early, the impact of two years' quantity of new members appears in one "report year," thus the total of new Brothers joining appears unrealistically high; the opposite reporting practice results in artificially low total member numbers. The overall, year to year figures Fraternity-wide do even out, but when viewing each Chapter alone, the picture given by any single report year may or may not accurately reflect exact member numbers.

Last year 19 Chapters listed 100 or more men on their roster, and this year 21 are so on record. Leading the way again this year is Indiana Beta at Indiana University, with 193 men involved in the Chapter over the report year under review. Next comes California Delta, at the University of Southern California with 151, followed closely by Florida Alpha at Florida State University, with 150 Brothers and pledges. California Epsilon at U.C.L.A. ranked next, with 138 men, followed by the University of Oklahoma Chapter, Oklahoma Alpha, with 133 members and pledges. Next came Texas Alpha, with 130 men at the University of Texas, followed closely by Tennessee Delta at Vanderbilt with 129. The 'Ole Miss Chapter, Mississippi Alpha, recorded 120 members at Founders Day, and Oregon Alpha at the University of Oregon had 119. Others with more than 100 Brothers and pledges were California Zeta, the University of California at Santa Barbara Chapter, with 117; Illinois Delta at the University of Illinois and Stanford's California Beta Chapter, both at 116; Ohio Lambda, at Miami University, 112; Ohio Delta, the Chapter at Ohio State University, with 111; the University of Kansas Brothers and pledges, Kansas Alpha Chapter, with 110; New York Alpha at Cornell, with 109; New York Beta and Indiana Delta, Phi Psi's Chapters at Syracuse and Purdue Universities, tied at 108 each; the Valparaiso University Chapter, Indiana Epsilon, with 106; Nebraska Alpha at the University of Nebraska, listing 103 Brothers and pledges; and two Chapters right at 100 men, North Carolina Alpha at Duke, and Missouri Alpha at the University of Missouri.

The Ohio Wesleyan Chapter, Ohio Alpha, reported 97 men on their rolls as of Founders Day 1988. Other Chapters with membership in the 90's were Indiana Alpha at DePauw, with 97; Nebraska Beta at Creighton with 96; the West Virginia University Chapter, West Virginia Alpha, with 95; Rhode Island Beta, at the University of Rhode Island, with 93; Delaware Alpha, Delaware, with 91; and Penn Theta at Lafayette, with 90 men even.

Chapters in the 80's were Ohio Beta at Wittenberg, 89; Pennsylvania Nu at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, 88; Illinois Alpha at Northwestern, 87; Michigan Alpha at Michigan, 84; Minnesota Gamma at Mankato State, 83; California Eta at Cal Poly, 83; Pennsylvania Gamma at Bucknell, 83; Illinois Epsilon at Illinois State, 82; New Jersey Alpha at Rider College, 80; and Indiana Gamma at Wabash, also at 80.

Six Chapters reported membership in the 70's, compared to seven last year: Iowa Alpha, Iowa (79); Alabama Alpha, Alabama (78); Washington Alpha, Washington (75); Virginia Beta, Washington and Lee (74); Iowa Beta, Iowa State (73); and Pennsylvania Epsi-

There were eight Chapters reporting membership in the 60's this year, which compares to seven last year: Maryland Alpha, Johns Hopkins (69); Pennsylvania Lambda, Penn State (67); Arizona Beta, Arizona State (67); Pennsylvania Beta, Allegheny College (64); Rhode Island Alpha, Brown (62); Ohio Theta, Ashland College (62); Ohio Iota, Akron (61); and the Indiana Zeta Chapter at Butler, with 60 Brothers and pledges.

There were seven Chapters reporting 50-59 members and pledges this year; ten Chapters with a roster of 40-49 members and pledges recorded; and twelve Chapters with membership in the 30's. Refer to pages 182 and 183 for complete statistics on the membership of each Chapter and Colony.

District VI Has Largest Chapters

Phi Psi's far west District, comprised of 13 Chapters, recorded the largest average size this report year, with an amazing 84 man average. Next ranked District III's 19 Chapters, at 82 men, followed by District V's 14 Chapters with 70 men on average. District IV came next, with 14 Chapters averaging 67 Brothers and pledges, followed by District I with 17 Chapters at 63 men on average. District II ended up with 62 men on average from their 15 Chapters.

2000 Club

Phi Psi's most exclusive membership grouping honoring Chapters who have initiated 2,000 or more men over the years, the "2000 Club," still has but one member, Indiana Beta, who became eligible in 1983. Founded in 1869, the Indiana University Chapter has a total of 2,184 initiates.

1500 Club

The "1500 Club", opened only to those Chapters claiming 1,500-1,999 initiates, gained two new members this year; Illinois Delta, founded in 1904 at the University of Illinois, and California Delta, founded in 1927 at the University of Southern California. Illinois Delta has initiated now a total of 1,504 men, and Cal Delta has added 1,501 men in its years as a Phi Psi Chapter. That Chapter nearest to gaining membership in the "2000 Club" is Kansas Alpha, founded in 1876 at the University of Kansas with 1,772 initiates. Kansas Alpha joined the "1500 Club" in 1976. Penn Gamma follows next, and has initiated 1,716 men since their founding at Bucknell in 1855, and joined the Club in 1981, as did West Virginia Alpha at West Virginia University, founded in 1890, now boasting 1,668 initiates. The Ohio State Chapter, Ohio Delta, joined the Club in 1983, and has initiated 1,656 men since their 1880 founding. Ohio Alpha at Ohio Wesleyan, founded in 1861, has initiated now 1,643 men, and first joined the Club in 1980. New York Alpha at Cornell joined the Club in 1983, as did Indiana Delta at Purdue. New York Alpha was founded in 1869, and now counts 1,617 men on their roll, while Indiana Delta, founded in 1901, has initiated 1,615 over the years. The University of Texas Chapter, Texas Alpha, first joined the Club in 1985, as did Illinois Alpha. Texas Alpha has initiated a total of 1,616 men. and was founded in 1904. Illinois Alpha, founded in 1864 at Northwestern University, has brought 1.592 men into the Phi Psi Brotherhood. The New York Beta Chapter, founded in 1884 at Syracuse University, has initiated 1.599 men, and first joined the Club in 1986. Penn Beta, Phi Psi's Chapter with the longest continuous existence, founded in 1855, joined the Club in 1981, and has initiated 1,589 men at Allegheny College. The Indiana Alpha Chapter at DePauw joined the Club in 1987, was founded in 1865, and now lists 1,528 Brothers on their roll.

There were no additions to the "1000 Club", honoring Chapters who have initiated 1,000-1,499 men, this year, although it's an amazing fact that, of Phi Psi's 94 active Chapters as of Founders Day 1988, 42 of them, nearly one-half, have initiated 1,000 or more men since founding.

Initiates

As reported above, 88 of our 94 Chapters reported 1,750 initiates and transfers during 1987-1988, up from 1,469 last year, an encouraging 19% increase! The newly rechartered Florida Alpha at Florida State University led the nation, and reported an incredible total of 89 new Brothers this report year. They were followed by Minnesota Beta at the University of Minnesota, bringing current initiates garnered over the last three years, with 59 men. Next was Texas Alpha's 55 new initiates at the University of Texas, followed by Mississippi Alpha's 48 new Brothers at 'Ole Miss. It is encouraging to note that 4 of the "Top Ten" Chapters have fresh new charters in hand, which is a good indicator of how demanding your Fraternity is when installing new Chapters. We salute therefore Penn Pi at Temple, New Jersey Gamma at Rutgers, Indiana Eta at Indiana State, and Florida Alpha at Florida State...keep up the good work!

This year's 1,750 initiates came from 88 Chapters reporting, for an average of 19.89 new members per Chapter. Last year, 1,469 initiates were reported from 80 Chapters, for an average of 18.36 men per Chapter, and the year before that averaged 17.74 men from 82 Chapters, which totaled 1,455 new Brothers in Phi Kappa Psi.

Pledges

This year, 89 of the Fraternity's 92 Chapters, and 6 Colonies, reported 1,987 pledges, a 7.6% increase, for an average of 20.92 men per Chapter/Colony. This compares to 1,847 men pledged last year, 1,766 men the year before, and 1,630 men the year before that. Fraternity law provides that pledgeship terminates: 1) upon initiation into the Fraternity; or 2) upon expiration of two academic semesters or three quarters grade reporting periods from date of pledging.

Housing

The good news in Phi Psi housing again this year is that the $28,019,850 in House Corporation owned property is once again adequately insured through year number five of the Phi Psi Insurance Program. And, for the first time in four years, we were able to provide insurance without an increase in premium. Another great benefit of the nationwide Phi Psi Insurance Program we are seeing now is that more attention is being given to Chapter housing. As part of the Phi Psi program our Chapter houses, lodges and meeting places are being inspected again this year, with specific recommendations made for required or suggested physical plant improvements. It is your Fraternity's plan that, by the year 1990, Phi Psi housing will be considered the safest in the interfraternity world, and we are already seeing dramatic improvement.

Such campus by campus work can only be carried out by well organized, dedicated House Corporations . . . we could not survive without them! And alumni are only willing to serve in such an advisory capacity if adequate liability insurance coverages exist. So the Phi Psi Insurance Program's liability coverage is designed to protect students, Chapters, House Corporations, Advisors, and general Fraternity volunteers and professionals we well. In the current report year, the liability premium, like the property premium, did not increase, and we hope to keep premiums in line again next year. As those readers of THE SHIELD who are attorneys, doctors and other professionals can attest, liability insurance has become a very real burden; but, a large loss at any one Chapter without liability coverage would be devastating, and could result in bankrupting the Chapter and House Corporation out of existence.

We are told by interfraternity colleagues that, in those fraternities without nationwide coverage, House Corporations able to buy insurance on their own are paying as much as $25,000! Phi Psi's largest House Corporation premium was 1/2 that amount, and we have the knowledge that all Chapters and Colonies are protected.

In an effort to help contain future escalating insurance premiums, Phi Psi has joined with a number of other fraternities in forming an insurance purchasing group, under the Federal Government's Risk Retention Act. The purchasing group has helped set underwriting standards and created a sophisticated program of Risk Management for Chapters and House Corporations, which should result in greater loss control, further reducing insurance premiums. This new interfraternity cooperative effort should help alleviate the insurance crunch in which Phi Psi and all other fraternities find themselves.

It is appropriate here to thank the several hundred Phi Psi alumni who volunteer their time as House Corporation officers and directors. Were it not for this dedicated crew, Phi Kappa Psi simply could not exist on campuses where housing is not provided by the school itself... thank you Brothers! Well functioning House Corporations make it possible to provide safe, clean housing for our undergraduate Brothers, and we hope to achieve even greater heights in this area in the years to come.

Within today's Phi Kappa Psi, a total of 52 Chapter homes are owned by Phi Psi House Corporations. Twenty Chapters occupy houses owned by the college or university, 13 rent privately, 3 are provided residence hall sections, and 3 occupy lodges.

Membership Shifts

Of the 92 Chapters represented in the Annual Report this year, 55 reported an increase in total undergraduate strength over last year, 32 reported a decrease in membership, while 5 listed a Chapter roster with numbers unchanged from last year. The greatest membership increase was experienced by the newly chartered Florida Alpha Chapter at Florida State University, while the largest loss of membership was reported by Penn Gamma at Bucknell University, where a complete reorganization of that Chapter is being carried out.

If Fraternity undergraduate membership followed the general population demographic trends, we would expect the sun belt District IV and West Coast District VI to be edging up in the ranking of average student member listing. However, even as some decline in student enrollment continues, the most outstanding educational institutions will recruit undergraduates successfully nationwide, and are somewhat impervious to populations trends in their immediate surroundings.

This year, Fraternity student numbers did follow the general population somewhat, in that Phi Psi's far west Chapters in District VI did rank number one in average Chapter size. Next, however, came District III's "farm belt" Chapters, where host institutions are predominantly large, state universities in and around the Great Lakes States. Next came District V, made up of the "grain belt" Chapters from Minnesota down through New Mexico, followed by District IV's "sun belt" Chapters, who moved up two rankings this year. District I's northeast Chapters followed next, with District II at the bottom this year, comprised of Chapters surrounding Phi Psi's birthplace in western Pennsylvania. Our Fraternity's average Chapter size, at 71 Brothers and pledges, is one of the largest in the interfraternity world.

Fraternity Headquarters

Heritage Hall—10 Year Anniversary

To those who worked so hard to help make Phi Psi's Headquarters the magnificent museum it is today, it may come as a shock to realize that Heritage Hall celebrated her 10th anniversary June 1, 1988. The Headquarters and Museum at 510 Lockerbie Street in Indianapolis continues to provide an outstanding home office from which to operate, and the neighborhood development of business and residential buildings surrounding has provided for healthy increased property values. The Fraternity's permanent Headquarters and Museum has helped contain operating costs, thus allowing distribution of funds for other purposes.

As Phi Psi's membership has grown, and as Chapter demands for more and varied types of information has also increased, our ability to service those needs with the computer system installed 5 years ago became more difficult. Therefore, this past year Heritage Hall upgraded the Phi Psi computer to an IBM System 36. The result has been a more efficient use of computer staff time, and better services rendered Chapters and Alumni Associations.

As a by-product of our computer work, the Fraternity has developed an attractive membership, fund raising, and financial software package suitable for any association which attempts to store information on and keep accurate addresses of its members. This software package is offered for lease, and is able to be modified easily and economically so it could serve the needs of most other membership organizations. (Those Phi Psis or other readers of THE SHIELD who may be interested in more information are encouraged to write to: Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, 510 Lockerbie Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.)

Heritage Hall draws many visitors again this year, who are always welcome! The unique combination of a modern central office in a Victorian museum setting is intriguing to all visitors, both Phi Psi and our many other friends. Heritage Hall has now hosted over 8,900 visitors since opening in 1978, and as a member of the American Museum Association, welcomes tour groups, with advanced arrangements.

Staff Appointments

Phi Psi has been very fortunate over the years to attract competent, enthusiastic Brothers to our ranks as Educational Leadership Consultants. Originally called "Field Secretaries," and not too many years ago "Chapter Consultants," this band of dedicated Brothers is valuable by any name, and their current title more accurately reflects their role as educational adjuncts to the college experience. The Consultants traveling this academic year were: Ronald A. Richard, Minnesota '84; Joseph L. Siebert, Indiana '83; Terrence G. Harper, Oklahoma State '85; and David T. Boersma, Kansas '84.

The Consultant position with Phi Psi's Headquarters team is a one year commitment, and often opportunities arise to serve a second year. The Fraternity was fortunate to have three of the above four Consultants begin their second Fall this past year, thus as a group, these four riders of the red and green represented a vast amount of Consultant experience. We are therefore grateful to these second year veterans for an excellent tour of duty: Ron Richard, Joe Siebert, and Terry Harper. Brothers Richard and Siebert concluded officially their Phi Psi Headquarters work June 10, and we wish them well! Ron and Joe both began their HQ tenure in June of 1986.

Consultant Dave Boersma will return for a second year on the road this Fall, and will be joined by three men new to the road crew at Heritage Hall: Daniel P. O'Rourke, Indiana '84; M. Erik Hume, Purdue '85; and Andrew G. Roush, Wabash '85. Dan, Erik and Andy all began their Heritage Hall tenure June 15. With these four enthusiastic road warriors, the Fraternity is fully prepared to service well the 94 Chapters and 5 Colonies this academic year upcoming, and to add additional Colonies as opportunities arise.

Another staff appointment made this calendar year, April 1, 1988, was the promotion of Terrence G. Harper, Oklahoma State '85, to the position of Director of Publications. In his new position, Terry will work with THE SHIELD, will coordinate a revision of The Manual of Phi Kappa Psi, he will assist in the publication of the 13th edition of The Grand Catalogue, and review and revise other Phi Psi publications as necessary. We welcome Brother Harper to his new Heritage Hall post.

Phi Psi's Director of Chapter Services and Risk Management, Tane R. Abbott, California-Santa Barbara '82, continued his good work in a Headquarter's position created last June 1. In response to student requests for additional in-office Chapter Services, and requests from House Corporations to assist in the complex challenge of risk management as Chapter advisory support groups, this new position has proven invaluable. We are fortunate to have Brother Abbott in his important capacity.

Another Heritage Hall team worker is Robert F. Marchesani Jr., Indiana University of Pennsylvania '79, who joined the Headquarter's staff September 1, 1986 as the Endowment Fund Administrator. The activities of Phi Psi's educational foundation have increased significantly in recent years, and as the Fund continues to grow through the generosity of Phi Psi giving, its Scholarship and other programs likewise will increase as possible. Brother Marchesani's work with the Endowment Fund is most welcome.

Chapter Visits

During the 1987-1988 year, the Fraternity's Educational Leadership Consultants conducted 192 visits to Chapters and Colonies, ranging from 3-4 days on most campuses, to a total of 5 weeks on one campus where our Chapter was completely reorganized. In the academic year upcoming, plans are to spend considerable Consultant time reorganizing the Chapter at Bucknell University, Penn Gamma, and the Ohio Beta Chapter at Wittenberg.

The past academic year found Educational Leadership Consultants, and others, making a total of 8 extension prospecting visits on campuses with varying degrees of potential for Phi Psi growth. Three such visits resulted in recognition of Colonies at the University of Wisconsin, to regain Wisconsin Alpha, Trenton Stage College, designated New Jersey Delta, and Brandeis University, now the Massachusetts Beta Colony.

Meetings

In the year under review, March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988, the Fraternity's most significant meetings occurred as all six Districts gathered in Council sessions and to participate in the Woodrow Wilson Leadership Schools. The Fall of 1987 meetings were as follows:

District	Weekend	Host Chapter	Host Campus
I	Nov. 6-8	NY Alpha	Cornell
H	Oct. 9-11	WV Alpha	West Virginia
III	Oct. 9-11	IN Beta	Indiana
IV	Oct. 23-25	LA Alpha	Louisiana State
V	Oct. 16-18	MO Alpha	Missouri
VI	Nov 13-15	CA Zeta	II C -Santa Bark

The 1987 District Council/Woodrow Wilson Leadership Schools attracted 397 students from 78 Chapters and 5 Colonies. The undergraduates were joined by 64 alumni as workshop leaders and participants, and 14 Alumni Associations joined in the process of electing the new Archonate, the 6 undergraduates who serve on the Fraternity's 10 man Executive Council. (See the Winter 1988 SHIELD, page 101, for additional information on the current Archons.)

The Executive Board of the Fraternity, composed of the four senior officers—the President, Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary, met once separate from the Executive Council this year, on May 15, 1987, in Phi Psi's Headquarters, Heritage Hall.

The Executive Council, composed of the four alumni Executive Board members and six undergraduate Archons, serves as the chief governing body of the Fraternity between meetings of the Grand Arch Council. The Executive Council had two meetings this report year, both in Heritage Hall; May 16, 1987, and December 12, 1987. (After this report year, on June 4, 1988, the Executive Council conducted a meeting at the '88 Grand Arch Council site, the Fairmont Hotel, in New Orleans, Louisiana.) Minutes of the meetings of the Executive Council are available to any Phi Psi, through the Fraternity Headquarters, at a cost of $5 to help defray photocopying and postage expense.

1988 Grand Arch Council

The most important and exciting meeting for Phi Psi in the current year will be the 64th convening of the Grand Arch Council, August 10-14, at the magnificent Fairmont Hotel in New Orleans, Louisiana. All undergraduate members, alumni, pledges, Colony members, and Phi Psi ladies and guests are cordially invited and encouraged to participate!

As detailed in the 1988 Spring issue of THE SHIELD (pages 108–111) Phi Psis and friends of the Fraternity are guaranteed a wonderful experience at the GAC. Given the proximity of the convention, it is suggested that reservations be made immediately if you've not already done so; you will want to call the Fairmont directly for room reservations (504/529-7111—or call toll free 800/527-4727). Please be encouraged to call the Fraternity Headquarters for additional registration information (317/632-1852). We hope to see you there!

1987 Alumni Support Program

Recognizing gifts received March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988

THANK YOU BROTHERS!

The loyal alumni of Phi Kappa Psi have once again proven their life-long dedication to the Fraternity, by personally assisting Phi Psi financially. The 1987 Alumni Support Program reviewed following lists gifts received between March 1, 1987, through February 29, 1988. We are pleased to announce that this year's total dollar amount is the second greatest in the 35 years Phi Psi has asked for voluntary gifts . . . thank you Brothers!

The 1987 Honor Roll of Contributors lists 5,390 gifts, from 4,529 alumni Brothers. The total contributed this year was $195,983, and compares to $194,393 donated last year. The average gift for 1987 was $43.27/donor, down a bit from the $49.76 average last year. Our requests for contributions went out this year to 51,709 alumni with good addresses, and the 8.76% participation rate this year is up from 7.82% last year, and up from 7.73% the year before that. In addition, we had an incredible number of "first time donors" . . . 1,090! We wish these Brothers a particularly hearty "welcome to the Club," and hope that we can look to them to continue their support of our beloved Phi Kappa Psi.

1988 Alumni Support Program

The current 1988 Alumni Support Program began March 1, 1988, and will run through February 28, 1989. Therefore gifts received since this March 1 and on through the end of next February will be recognized in next Summer's issue of THE SHIELD. Like the 1987 Program reviewed herewith, next year's will recognize total gifts made to the general Fraternity since 1971. We

Planned Gift Club

The Phi Psis listed below have made planned gifts to The Endowment Fund of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. A planned gift is a contribution that is not immediately received, but rather a long-term commitment of a gift.

Planned gifts, which are made using bequests, trusts, life insurance policies, etc., offer tax advantages to the donor and a chance to make a greater gift than would be possible using cash.

are particularly pleased that the Alumni Support Program is now an important project of the Endowment Fund, therefore all gifts to the Alumni Support Program are deductible when computing income for federal tax purposes. The Endowment Fund is Phi Psi's educational foundation, and as such is devoted to assisting the Fraternity and her student members to as great an extent as finances will allow.

Alumni Support Vital

Phi Kappa Psi is indeed fortunate to benefit from the financial support of our generous alumni Brothers... no fraternity exceeds ours in loyal donors. The overall grand total of contributions received through the Alumni Support Program since 1952 stands at $2,554,140.43. Alumnus generosity this year alone resulted in a dollar amount that surpasses the first 12 years of alumni gifts, 1952–1968, combined.

And we utilize this income to the maximum! Your Fraternity Headquarters team has reorganized or colonized 32 Chapters in the last 14 years alone; some of our outstanding Chapters alive and well today would have been "inactive" were it not for extraordinary efforts to revive them, and this is possible in large part to Alumni Support Program gifts. In addition, ongoing programs such as the Educational Leadership Consultants, Fraternity publications including THE SHIELD, and undergraduate seminars such as those offered during the upcoming Grand Arch Council all are enhanced by Alumni Support Program gifts.

All Brothers are urged to participate! Contributions to the 1988 Alumni Support Program, deductible when computing federal income tax, are gratefully received at: Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, 510 Lockerbie Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

Honor Roll of Contributors: March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988

Each year the names of those who participated in the preceding year's Alumni Support Program are published in THE SHIELD. This year's Honor Roll listing 4,529 Brothers is led off by the giving Club recognizing generous accumulative gifts of $25,000-$49,999, the "Trustee Associates", and we thank Maurice J. "Moose" Warnock, Oregon Alpha '23, for leading the way! The Brothers honored beneath each Club have made accumulative gifts in that amount (since 1971), and they participated in the Alumni Support Program this year. We point out that all donors are listed on the Honor Roll proper, pages 193 to 199, by Chapter affiliation. Those members whose accumulative gifts accord them special recognition are listed again in the appropriate giving Club.

The current 1988 Program is open for contributions, deductible when computing federal income tax, and also qualified for matched corporate giving plans. This year's campaign runs through February 28, 1989, and all Brothers are encouraged to give. Contributions may be forwarded to the Fraternity Headquarters . . . give now to reserve your proper place in the 1988 Honor Roll of Contributors!

The new record set by the 1987 Alumni Support Program was due to smaller average gifts, from many more Brothers. Based on accumulative giving since 1971 (and of those who participated in the 1987 Program), 1 loyal Brother has given more than $25,000; 8 have given more than $10,000; 16 have contributed $5,000 or more; 44 have given $2,500 or more; 203 have made gifts of $1,000 or more; and 617 Brothers have given $500 or more.

Honor Roll of Contributors—March 1, 1987-February 29, 1988 All donors to the 1987 Alumni Support Program are listed under school name ...* denotes members of "The Century Club," honoring contributors of accumulative gifts of $100 to $249. Brothers giving $250 to $499 are listed separately in "The Council Associates." Gifts to "The 1852 Society," with gifts of $1,000 to $2,499, donors in "The Lamplighter Trust," honoring givers of $2,500 to $4,999, contributors in "The Inner Circle," with gifts of $5,000 to $9,999, "The President's Forum," with gifts of $10,000 to $24,999, and the "Trustee Associates," with gifts of $25,000 to $49,999 are likewise separately honored.

The school name is followed by the number of this year's contributions from those Brothers listed. The Chapter designation beneath the school name is followed by year of Chapter founding.

How to Make a Large Gift to Phi Psi without "Giving Away the Store"

by John M. Clymer, Wabash '79

"Someday," you may have told yourself, "when I have enough money, I want to make a significant contribution to Phi Psi."

Now, there's no reason to wait. Under the Endowment Fund of Phi Kappa Psi's planned giving program, even recent graduates can afford to make substantial gifts to help the Fraternity. There are actually several ways to make such a donation but, for those who haven't yet amassed large estates, the easiest is through life insurance.

Planned giving offers you an opportunity to earn recognition as a major contributor to Phi Kappa Psi without "giving away the store." If you want to make a larger gift to the Fraternity than you could outright, life insurance can help you do so. If you want to donate assets in your estate—and get a tax deduction—and replace them using discounted dollars, life insurance can help you do so.

As a giving vehicle, life insurance:

- allows you to make a substantial gift by making a series of modest payments spread over time;
- provides a certain gift. The proceeds are paid promptly without going through the hassles of probate;
- can create a number of favorable tax consequences.

Life insurance has long been used by sophisticated benefactors but has become widely-used only in recent years.

It works very simply. For example, let's say Brother Smith, 35, wants to contribute $25,000—enough to create a named scholarship. He can write a check for the full $25,000, or he can donate a life insurance policy to the Endowment Fund, the Phi Psi foundation. The policy would cost him just $395 for nine years. Brother Smith's premiums are deductible from his income tax and Phi Psi receives a gift eight times greater than the sum of his payments.

As an older man, Brother Jones might have a policy he does not need anymore. He can realize significant tax benefits and make a major gift to the Fraternity by assigning the policy to the Endowment Fund. If the policy is paid-up, he can take a deduction equal to the cost of getting a new, paid-up policy at his current age. If he still owes premiums, he may deduct the cash value of the policy plus future premiums as they are paid.

Gifts of permanent policies (e.g. whole and universal life) qualify for these deductions, term policies do not.

Since being appointed administrator of the Endowment Fund, Bob Marchesani has been hard at work developing the planned giving program. Life insurance gifts are but one facet of this program. An article on benefits was featured in a previous issue of The Shield, and other vehicles will be covered in a subsequent article.

Already, some Brothers have taken advantage of planned giving opportunities.

To find out more or to discuss making a planned gift, call Bob Marchesani at (317) 632-1852 or write to him at Phi Kappa Psi Headquarters, 510 Lockerbie St., Indianapolis, IN 46202.

Endowment Fund Recognizes 1987-88 Summerfield Scholars

The Trustees of the Endowment Fund of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity have once again recognized Phi Psi's best and brightest . . . the 1987-88 Summerfield Scholars.

Each of the Fraternity's Chapters and Colonies are annually given the opportunity to select one Brother who exemplifies scholarship and leadership. The qualifications of the nominees are reviewed by the Endowment Fund's Scholarship Awards Committee.

In addition to the honor of being selected by one's peers, Summerfield Scholars receive a $100 grant and a handsome certificate. The Brother's name is also added to the Chapter's permanent Summerfield Scholar plaque.

From the pool of recipients, three Outstanding Summerfield Scholars are selected. These awards carry grants of $3,000 for first place, $2,500 for second place and $2,000 for third place.

Solon E. Summerfield Kansas '99

The 1987-88 Outstanding Summerfield Scholars and other Endowment Fund award recipients will be featured in the next issue of THE SHIELD.

The Summerfield Scholar program was created through a trust bequest to the Endowment Fund by the late Solon E. Summerfield, Kansas '99. At the time of the gift, Brother Summerfield's donation was the largest ever made to an American college fraternity.

All Phi Psis are encouraged to consider supporting the Endowment Fund, The Phi Psi Foundation, through annual gifts to the Alumni Support Campaign and long-term planned gifts. Tax-deductible gifts and bequests allow Phi Kappa Psi to recognize and encourage outstanding scholarship and leadership among its members.

Featured below are the 1987-88 Summerfield Scholars . . . Phi Psi's best and brightest.

ers Walt Yukniewicz and Scott Roberto did a great job at setting up FUBAR which, once again, proved to be a great morale booster.

The spring semester proved to be a good one for individual Brothers of our Chapter. as well as for the Chapter as a whole. Congratulations to Brother John Szwed for passing his series 7 exam. Spring rush, led by Rush Chairmen Greg Carr, Ian Hasselberger, and Rich Legreide has produced 16 fine men for our Chapter. They are: Michael Fiddler, Parlin; Robert Cobun, New Hope, PA; Erwin Cagande, Sparta; James Carroll, Wayne; Scott Rothbart, Lake Hiawatha; Joel Anson, Bergenfield; James Cranstoun, Yardley, PA; Todd Engel, Aberdeen; Jon Faris, Freehold; Paul Habib, Westfield; John Parsons III, Springfield, PA; Mark Pasquerella, Middletown; Christopher Marty, Morganville; Sean McDonough, Yardley, PA; Nicholas Seminario, Bethpage, NY; William Vogt, Wanaque.

Congratulations and farewell is extended to those Brothers graduating. To all of the Chapters and Colonies of Phi Kappa Psi; have a great summer!

Fighting Adversity

After a successful fall semester and a refreshing winter break, the Phi Psis came back to the banks of the Raritan with strong intentions of strengthening the Brotherhood and further spreading the name of Phi Kappa Psi. Thanks to the hard work and imagination of our rush chairman, Randy Perlow, we enjoyed our best prepared rush yet. Two of the more successful events were the Phi Psi Night at the Races and the 1st Annual Larry Ebet Eat-A-Thon, sure to be a lasting tradition.

As many of you have probably already heard, the Rutgers Greek system is currently under heavy fire as a result of the tragic death of a Lambda Chi Alpha pledge during a party celebrating the pinning of the pledges. Originally there was a ban on all Greek activities, social and non-social. After much protest by the Rutgers Fraternity Council, we are now allowed to carry out Fraternity business, meetings, rushings, pledging, athletic and philanthropic events. As for social events, they are out of the question, alcohol or no alcohol. Needless to say, we are all disappointed at the outcome. As we completed our spring rush under these adverse conditions, we kept our spirits high and obtained seven pledges who we know will be a great asset to the Brotherhood. This will also be evidenced as we take to the diamond to kick some tail in softball.

We here at NJ Gamma would like to thank Educational Leadership Consultant David Boersma for his friendly visit and his positive evaluation of the Chapter, as well as his helpful recommendations. In addition, congratulations go out to our newly elected officers, John Lazarczyk, GP; Steve Cenziper, VGP; Ray Williamson, AG; and Don Lee, P.

The Brothers would like to extend a warm goodbye to a few of our graduating Founding Fathers. These include Brothers James Svarczkopf, David Popler, Chris Hornic, Steve Bunce and Omar Bholat. Good luck, guys.

The Look of the Future

At South Carolina Alpha, the future is taking shape today. The Brothers have been hard at work improving scholarship, membership and the house.

At USC, Fraternity Council has passed a new rush policy to be implemented in the fall 1988 semester. Phi Psi, along with other fraternities will be curious to see how the new system will work.

On the weekend of April 22-24, South Carolina Alpha will hold its annual Brotherhood Retreat on Fripp Island, SC. The order of business will be to plan the calendar for the 1988-1989 academic year. On the agenda also are plans for summer rush, fall rush, Tigerburn, and philanthropy.

South Carolina Alpha would like to give our thanks and appreciation to John Steinberger (S.C. Alpha '82) for his donation to purchase a new flag. She flies proudly from the house.

The Brothers here would like to welcome our six new pledges to the Fraternity. Now wearing the pins are Trevor Allen Blow, Columbia, MD; Patrick Gerard Kane, Bethesda, MD; James Burr Palmer, Lavallette, NJ; Donald Neils Sorenson, Aquebogue, NY; Allen Warren Kinlaw, Jr., Olanto, SC; and Scott Gregory Sutton, Fort Mill, SC.

Finally, South Carolina Alpha would like to give our thanks to ELC Joseph L. Siebert for his hard work and timely advice in helping us to achieve our goals.

Racing with the Sun

Greetings from sunny, southern California. Here at SC the Brothers of Cal Delta prepared for yet another day of fun in the sun with our annual Phi Psi 500 race. On April 14, 500 chairman Gabe Vale did a great job converting the front yard of the Phi Psi house into a treacherous obstacle course. The teams were comprised of members from various sororities on campus. All proceeds raised from this competition were donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Greek Week was recently upon us here at USC. This year's week of competitive events was filled with many moments of excitement from day one. Brothers Hamid Korastani and Scott Nazarian did an excellent job of coordinating this event for our team.

Songfest was held on the 16th of April. Each year the fraternities team up with a sorority to put on a short musical. This year we were able and fortunate enough to team up with Kappa Kappa Gamma, who, by the way, were winners last year. After many hours of hard work and under the capable hands of Songfest chairman Chris Coscino, our entry looked good and sounded great.

Our weekender trip headed by Mike Druyanoff took place once again at Lake Havasu. The trip was filled with swimming, waterskiing and sunbathing combined with laughter, conversation and a sense of a bonding together, strengthening our Brotherhood.

The Brothers of the California Delta Chapter would like to congratulate and thank alumni Bob Warmington and Dan Boyd for a very successful Founders Day evening. We would also like to express our thanks to the alumni who were present and encourage them to stop by any time.

Southern MethodistThe Best Gets Better

The Brothers of the Texas Delta Colony are excited about the addition of David Dominguez of El Paso, and Richard Freeman of Sherman into the growing number of spring semester pledges.

But that excitement is also matched with the announcement of April 30 as our installation date.

The Phi Psi name is gaining more and more respect on the S.M.U. campus as our Brothers teamed up with the Delta Gammas to win the first S.M.U. Sing Song competition held in over 20 years. The Phi Psi/Delta Gamma team not only won first place, but also captured the Best Showmanship award.

The Texas Deltans were also gaining respect in intramural competition. We completed the most successful basketball season in our history, highlighted by victories over our chief rival, Sigma Phi Epsilon, as well as Pi Kappa Alpha. We are winding down our best soccer season, and are looking for the same success with softball.

Finally, the Brothers of Texas Delta would like to recognize John Crossfield, Andrew Chooljian, Kevin McSpadden, Steve Moiles and Roland Pelt. We wish our graduating seniors well in their future endeavors (i.e. get a job, guys!).

Southwestern Louisiana Onward Ho!

Upon reading this letter, the newly reorganized Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity will have been operating for nearly one year. Since September 14, 1987, the small group of four pledge/members has grown to twelve, six being active. Honestly, I can say that we have been through a lot. And we are glad we did what we did. Having seen what can be accomplished by a small, diverse group and knowing little of what to expect of themselves and each other, we are more confident than ever that what we have started here will last.

The events scheduled in the fall season can be labeled a success. We have hosted two parties and a social and will have another social in April. It is our intention to keep rushing quality people wherever we find them.

To add to that success, the Chapter was glad to see that many alumni decided to take us up on the invitation printed in the last letter to come back down and see how things in the new Chapter are going. Frankly, it makes us feel good when people are willing to give their time just to stop by and see what we have done. To put it another way, it certainly makes it easier to feel part of a larger whole and we hope all the alumni can feel part of what we are now and what we will be in the future.

In the next issue we plan to include in small measure our intentions regarding the eminent move to our new house. So don't miss the next letter entitled "The Invader's Plan."

Springing into Action

Ah... spring is in the air; the campus is in full bloom as the days get longer and warmer. And with the coming of spring comes a jam-packed, thrill-a-minute Phi Psi calendar. We're glad to have Ken Zimmerman and Greg Stout back with us after their time spent studying in West Berlin.

Our annual party, the "Pre-Spring Fling" was an enormous success. Held on March 4 at Casa Italiana, this year's party was co-sponsored by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, which has a new Chapter here at Stanford. All the Brothers pitched in to make an enjoyable evening for the entire Chapter and those guests in attendance.

The coming of spring also brings with it new seasons of intramural softball and ultimate frisbee. The Chapter plans to field teams in both events, promising a good time and plenty of sunshine for all those who participate.

Of course the key word for springtime at Cal Beta is "rush." This year's Rush Chairmen, Jeff Loomans and Kevin Stein, have been hard at work planning events and setting up the rush calendar. After having one weekday and one weekend event each week from April 4-24, we will deliver bids at the end of the month. As you can see, our rush involves a lot of time and commitment from everyone, but the Chapter is as enthusiastic about it as always. We're hoping to pledge a large percentage of freshmen this year since many Cal Betans will be graduating next year.

This promises to be a busy and exciting spring for the men of California Beta, and we wouldn't want it any other way.

SUNY, Buffalo House Warming?

As of late, we at NY Eta have decided the time has come where our Chapter must make a step up. In the attempt to make Phi Psi stronger than ever at UB we have decided that purchasing a house is a necessity. When we started our search, we knew little about purchasing a house. Through the help of many alumni, including Bob Morrow, Ed Stevens, Ron Dollman, Tom Cassano, and Ray Penman, we have made our housing project a reality. Although still in the early stages, the project outlook is positive. Any hints you can give will be helpful. Please contact me, Jim LaClair, at (716) 839-1922.

This semester, our Chapter has supported a playground project. Due to the excellence of Russell Dombrow, we have sponsored the building of a playground for the young education program at the University. This is one of the many events our Chapter was involved in with other fraternities on campus. We also participated in the annual Kids Day Celebration. Although we did not win any honors we know we did our part.

This year, as always, was the year for the athletic strength of Phi Psi. We have started out the season with an amazing 2-0-1 record in floor hockey. We shall make the playoffs.

Our rush was again productive, giving us five dedicated pledges: Robert Skibitski, Rome NY; John Kanehl, Amherst NY; Charles Kamienski, Rochester NY; Kevin McGlynn, Vestal NY; and Alex Ortiz, Prentwood NY.

As another year passes, so do faces. This year we are losing some of our most beloved Brothers. These are: Mike "Nonononoo" Elliott, Franco Deligouri, Tom "Porky" McDonnell, and Ron Dinino. We will miss you.

Syracuse

Business as Usual

As summer becomes tangible in Syracuse, New York Beta is looking more like a construction site than a Fraternity. The University is currently building a $50 million computer center several feet from our house. By Fall of 1989 113 College Place will no longer exist in body. The spirits and ideals possessed by the gentlemen who walked through her doors will carry over to our future home located on Comstock Ave. Internal strength and alumni support should create a smooth transition.

Phi Psi leadership is prevalent on the Syracuse campus as we excel in student organizations, intramurals, philanthropy, and scholarship.

New York Beta controls the Greek Council with Pete Flynn as President, Rob Landel as Treasurer, and John Schultz as Justice. Nevil Dhabhar is currently acting as IFC scholarship chairman and Greg Haledjian carried our realm out of the Greek system when he was elected speaker of the Student Government Association.

Brother Andrew Przybyszewski set a school record in diving to keep Phi Psi in the running for our fourth consecutive intramurals title. We currently have two remaining events as Carlos Demolina leads us to an anticipated victory.

Brothers Tom Nolan and Torsten Freymark deserve endless praise for organizing a successful casino at our Dance Marathon which raised over 66,000 dollars for Muscular Dystrophy. However, Philanthropy chairman Tom Scuderi has made it clear that our efforts are not confined to MDA by scheduling a variety of charity events for the remainder of the semester.

After a minor slump in scholastics, New York Beta has been rejuvenated by Vice Chancellor Sawyer, our new academic advisor. However, we need no advice when it comes time to having parties. Social chairmen Mike Heard and Brian Uy make the average party look like dinner with the Brady Bunch. This may be related to our slight academic setback.

Pledge Educator Scott Griggs has guided 19 young men into 19 gentlemen worthy of the Phi Kappa Psi Brotherhood. They are: Jamie Bohman, Bryan Davis, Victor DeLaCamara, Michael Faccia, Ian Factor, Philip Forgione, Neil Grant, James Hamm, Louis Jaffe, Rodney JeanBaptiste, Jonathan Lamkin, Greg Levy, Jason Porath, Kurt Rask, Lawrence Richards, Robert Stevenson, Peter Waite, Gergory Weichbrodt, and Kevin Young.

New York Beta wishes graduating Brothers luck and a safe and fun summer to all.

It's Great To Be A Temple Owl

While students tanned themselves on the grassy slopes of Buery beach or studied under the shade trees on Park Mall, the Brothers of Penn Pi were busy participating in campus activities and expanding our Brotherhood.

The start of spring this semester was marked by the second anniversary of our local Founders Day on March 17th. We celebrated with a memorable dinner and party. This occasion was followed by our participation in Drug and Alcohol Referral and Education week (D.A.R.E.). Brothers attended lectures and competed with other campus organizations in volleyball and water polo. April 4-8 was Greek Week at Temple and Penn Pi was active in events ranging from the Greek sing and chariot races to a Greek/Faculty luncheon. Our final campus-wide social event was Spring Fling where we ran a dart throwing contest.

On the community service front, we helped organize and run a food drive for the Salvation Army and held our second annual Phi Psi 500 on April 23rd. In this years Phi Psi 500 contestants raced through an obstacle course to win trophies and T-shirts. Proceeds were donated to the "For Kids' Sake" charity.

Penn Pi continues to be a force in the IFC. Brothers hold both top executive offices and a number of chairmanships. In other news, congratulations are in order for Dr. Vicki O'Neil who was recently appointed Vice-Dean of Student Affairs. Vice-Dean O'Neil is an alumnus of Delta Zeta Sorority. We would also like to extend our congratulations to the Temple basketball team which made it to the final 8 of the NCAA tournament and finished the season with a 32-2 record!

Thanks to the efforts of our Rush Chairman Dennis McMahon, Penn Pi initiated ten pledges. They are: Douglas Alff, Philadelphia; Robert Carson, Farmington, MA; Manish Bhatia, New Delhi, India; Sung Fitzmaurice, Levittown; Edwin Harron, Tuckertown, NJ; Thomas Lloyd, Cape May Court House, NJ; Michael Molloy, Haddonfield, NJ; Sang Park, Richboro; Felix Raimondo, Norristown; Jeffrey Burdick, Scranton.

We would like to wish our graduating Brothers the best of luck in their future endeavors, and hope all our Brothers have an enjoyable, safe summer.

Still Going Strong

Things at Tennessee Epsilon are going great! Several of the Brothers and pledges have completed renovations to the basement. It is amazing what a little hard work and cooperation combined with a few coats of paint can do. We hope to complete renovations to an extra room which will allow us to fit several more Brothers into the Chapter house.

The Chapter has increased its participation in the Interfraternity Council. Ken Brooks has been selected for the IFC Rush Committee. In March, we held an Easter Egg Hunt with Zeta Tau Alpha for the Tennessee School for the Deaf. Everyone enjoyed themselves, especially the children. In April, many of the Brothers participated in the March of Dimes Walk-America to help raise money to prevent birth defects. We also sold coupons to raise money for the Boys Club of Knoxville.

The Chapter is now preparing for intramural softball. Hopefully, we will finish the season with more wins than losses. We are also planning a cookout and softball game with our alumni.

Summer and fall rush are not far off, as our rush chairman keeps reminding us. The Brothers are making preparations and we are confident their hard work will pay off.

Two fine men were initiated recently. They are Gregg Duncan, Clinton and Kevin Neel, Newtown, CT. We would also like to congratulate our new top officers. They are John Mead, GP; Kyle Arnold, VGP; John Burkhart, AG; and Mark McGuire, P. Good luck to everyone over the spring and summer.

Texas Making the Grade

The spring semester here at Texas Alpha was a prosperous one, and part of the reason for this was our outstanding pledge class. They are: Hylmar Scott Alexander, Beaumont; Paul Lincoln Austin, Coppell; John Gregory de Rochemont, Houston; Thomas Stuart Ducote Jr., Plano; Robert Francois Friedman, Dallas; Joseph Hunt Hall, Baytown; Michael Ray Hopperton, Orange; Christopher Thomas Shaw, Dallas.

The sportsmen of Texas Alpha continued their slaughter of meager opponents on several fronts. In usual fashion, Magic Ball, our premier soccer team, placed highly in the annual IFC tournament. The "A" basketball squad completed a highly successful season with a trip to the playoffs and their usual high showing in the IFC. On March 27, Kappa Delta held a Tug-of-War as a charity benefit. The tall and large of Texas Alpha pulled out an overall second place finish. A good time was had by all.

Special congratulations go to Fraternity Educator David Baker. This past spring, Brother Baker was named in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. He was also inducted into Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society, and received several other awards.

Summer rush looks as promising as ever. Fresh from their success at Round Up during April, Captains Paul Grant and Scott Watkins have cast a determined look ahead to the summer's activities. In addition to the usual local efforts here in Austin, we will be holding our ever-popular State parties in Houston, Austin, and Dallas throughout the summer months.

Finally, special thanks goes out to two of our generous alumni who have contributed so much to Texas Alpha time and time again. They are Brothers Wilton Stone, Texas '52 and Gary Rodgers, Texas '67. Brother Stone is the new President of the House Board for 1988 and Brother Rodgers was voted Outstanding Board Member for 1987. Thank you for all you have done.

Texas Tech Setting the Trend

After a much needed spring break in the snowy mountains of Colorado, and the rainy beaches of South Padre Island, all of the Brothers here seem to be content with the dry West Texas heat, wind, and dust.

All of the Brothers have been working hard to turn this spring semester into a memorable one. Thanks to John Badami this year's Founders Day proved to be very satisfying. The many alumni from the Lubbock area that were able to attend made this Founders Day one of the best in years. We would like to thank all that made it. Without you it could not have been a success.

Kevin Robertson prepared our annual spring formal, "Excaliber Affair," which was a splendid and robust evening for all. The many Brothers who participated demonstrated why we are truly called the gentlemen's Fraternity.

This year's Pikefest gave us an excellent opportunity to make some much needed money for the Chapter. A new button machine was purchased and buttons were mass-produced and sold like never before. We were able to capitalize on Pikefest and reap a return on our investment.

After a strong showing in intramural volleyball and basketball our team has moved on to the softball field for the remainder of the semester. With only one loss this far into the season, the Phi Psi team is looking better than ever before.

Our Chapter is looking forward to the upcoming Greek Week events which include competition between all the fraternities and sororities. Greek Week is put together by the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils to raise money for the Ronald McDonald House. Texas Beta has plans to participate in all the activities.

Our pledge program has gone through some changes over the past year and our fraternity educator, Chris Matthews, has been hard at work developing our six outstanding pledges into dedicated Phi Psis. Everyone is proud of each and every one of them.

We are pleased to tell you about the scholastic endeavors of our members. First, Freddy Cortez, who came to us from New Mexico State last year pulled out a 4.0 grade point average for the fall semester. Chris Matthews, a junior petroleum engineering major, has been accepted into the Order of Omega Greek scholarship society with his outstanding 3.2 cumulative grade point average. Also, Ed Isola has been nominated for Who's Who Among College Students and we are very confident that he will soon receive this recognition. Good going, guys!

We would also like to congratulate charter member Bill Collins who has received an outstanding alumni award from Texas Tech for all that he has done for the University and the Lubbock community.

As we look to the future, all of the Brothers feel that we are setting strong trends for our Fraternity to follow.

Toledo

Looking to the Future

The Ohio Eta Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi is showing great promise for the future. Our membership has increased dramatically since last year; proving our success on campus. Plans are underway for an even better Fall Rush for 1988.

The University of Toledo is also growing. Plans for on-campus Greek housing is presently taking place and construction should be complete by fall of 1990. Although a few fraternities have spoken out against such a move, our Chapter is supporting it enthusiastically. The Greek system at the University is fairly small but on-campus housing, we feel, would strengthen and build it on the whole, benefitting all the fraternities.

Although we are looking toward the future, the Brothers would like to step back a little and thank the Alumni for the very successful Founder's Day dinner they had organized. We all enjoyed sharing the evening with the Alumni members. Again, thank you for all the work you put into it.

Finally, we would like to announce two new pledges for this quarter: Gary Harmon Jr. and Scott Pecze.

Another Successful Year

As the year draws to a close, we often reflect back upon the past year and look forward to the next. While many of the seniors are busily preparing for their future in the working world, the Brothers that will be here next year are preparing to carry on a fine tradition.

Next year marks the Tenth Anniversary of the recolonization of Indiana Epsilon. We will pay special tribute during Homecoming to the Brothers who reestablished our Chapter and gave us a fine tradition of excellence. I encourage as many alumni as possible to return for Homecoming to participate in this special event.

The new executive officers for the 1988-89 academic year are Brothers Seth Harms (GP), Dave Scheutte (VGP), Robert Freund (AG), Danial Kovac (SG), and James Miller (P). Good luck next year!

Kudos to Brother Todd Wetzel, Phil Eskilson, Rich Robb, and Pledge Dave Eichburger for their tremendous job in remodeling the social room. Special thanks are due to our Alumni Association for supporting this project.

This year, the Brothers at Indiana Epsilon decided to apply their effort to interests beyond the University community. One of these activities was the inaugural running of the PHI PSI 5000. This adaptation of the Phi Psi 500 theme traditionally conducted in many of our Chapters was a 5000 meter (3.1 mi.) road run held March 26. It attracted 140 runners both from the University and the surrounding community, including runners from the Indianapolis and Chicago areas. As a result, $600 was raised for the local United Way chapter. Congratulations to Brother Bill Sommers, Todd Lighty, and Tim Snyder for their efforts in planning such a fine event.

Vanderbilt

Rolling Into the Summer

The initiation of twenty-six new Brothers has taken Tennessee Delta higher than ever before. Unsurpassed preparation by Pledge Educator Court "Sergeant Fury" Horncastle. Mike Elwood, David Josephson, John Durrett, and Calvin Schmidt transformed a bunch of freshmen boys into outstanding Brothers with unprecedented enthusiasm. With eighty-seven quality men, the Vanderbilt Phi Psi's continue to push the Chapter to her limits.

Social Chairmen John Stallings and Jim Rieniets performed admirably throughout the spring semester. Organizing six sorority swaps (four with outstanding bands), the traditional Mardi Gras Party, general band parties, date parties, and Spring Formal in New Orleans, these men deserve a pat on the back for a job well done. We are sorry to say goodbye to Senior Social Chairman John Stallings, but the Chapter is confident that John Talbott will make an outstanding combination with Brother Rieniets: Already, the social combination has booked several bands for parties next fall.

Brotherhood Chairmen T.C. Herman and Doug Leeby left no gaps in the spring social schedule. When the social chairmen did not throw a party, Brothers Herman and Leeby occupied the Chapter with functions like Friday wings, Ambers, spontaneous gatherings, and a spring training baseball game.

The Chapter will miss the able leadership of the outgoing Chapter Officers: Jay "Revote!" Barineau, GP; Court Horncastle, PE; Chad Eustis, House Manager; and Ed Benford, Kitchen Manager. Ed has been appointed to take the place of superb outgoing Trent Jones as Co-Rush Chairman with Carter Perez.

Congratulations are in order for the newlyelected Chapter Officers. Chris Sanning will step in as Pledge Educator while the colorful John Durrett takes over as AG (he's already planning the Alumni Homecoming Weekend for next fall). Chris Mastley and Chuck Riegle will be House Manager and Kitchen Manager, respectively. Treasurer Jim Philip will remain in the house, maintaining excellent financial standing. By the way, this humble correspondent has been elected President.

This letter would be incomplete without noting the Chapter's sadness at the departure of our senior class. The graduated class was an invaluable asset since its induction. There are too many names to mention, for the entire class gave us leadership, confidence, support, and more than a little humor. Tennessee Delta is determined to expand on their priceless contributions.

New Officers Elected

After a long, wet winter, spring finally arrived in Charlottesville. Along with the balmy weather came several academic and athletic honors to Virginia Alpha.

Jason Engel, '86, achieved Intermediate Honors for his outstanding four semester grade point average. Marc Langlois, '87, has been granted the opportunity to study abroad in France for the 1988-89 school year. Jeff Schulstad, '86, participated on the varsity soccer team, and Tim Finkelston, '86, was a key member of the All-American Bowlwinning Cavalier football team.

We have installed new light fixtures, tables, and chairs in the dining room, and the Brothers are very pleased with the result.

Spring was also a very busy time socially for the Brothers. Easter weekend, the Foxfield Races, a spring semi-formal, and sorority mixers were enjoyed by all. Most Brothers fled to warmer climates such as Hawaii or the Bahamas, but an unfortunate few remained in Charlottesville to finish their theses.

We have elected new officers for 1988-89. They are: Kevin Harrison, '86, GP; Don Lewis, '86, VGP; Jason Engel, '86, P; Peter Sigal, '87, AG; Charles Gould, '86, Social Chairman; Bob Alpert, '86 and Mike Huberman, '86, Rush Chairmen.

Virginia Alpha enjoyed our most successful rush in recent years, with all 20 bids accepted and returned. The Brothers are very happy with the pledges and their attitude, and we look forward to initiation in May.

Virginia Tech Get Psyched!

The approaching summer marks the closing of another successful year as witnessed by the Brothers of VA Zeta. Amidst the many changes taking place in the upper echelons of the VA Tech administration, and the rush to prepare for the upcoming change to the semester system, Phi Psi has pushed steadily along into the future.

At this moment, the final preparations are going into this year's Spring Banquet to be held on May 7 and it promises to be a blast! Also this quarter, Phi Psi finds itself participating in a variety of intramural sports including softball, soccer, and tennis. Our soccer team is off to its best season ever and remains undefeated as of this writing.

In the Delta Gamma's 1988 Anchor Splash, Phi Psi placed 7th overall out of the 23 fraternities participating, including a 3rd place finish in kiss cards and a 4th place finish in money donated by a fraternity.

The Brothers of VA Zeta would like to recognize the installation of its new officers. Congratulations to Kurt Stricker, GP; Mark Bolszio, VGP; John Young, P; Justin Kerns, AG: Jav Ramos, BG: Troy Guenthner, SG; Greg Shiflett, Hod; Brian Johnson, Hi; and Bill Mattes, Phu. Congratulations also go to our newest pledges. They are Jody Williams, Danville, Va.; Dave Denton, Petersburg, Va.; and Jonny Garber, Mt. Jackson, Va.

In closing, we'd like to say a special thanks to those alumni whose generous contributions made it possible for us to pay the outstanding balance on our insurance premium.

Wabash Busy, Busy, Busy!

Here at the Indiana Gamma Chapter, we are having one of our busiest and most successful semesters yet. This semester, the Chapter has been very active not only on campus, but also with the local community. One honor the Chapter was recently given was the election of Michael Ramsey to the order of Phi Beta Kappa. Another recent highlight of the semester was our faculty dinner on March 30. The Italian feast was organized, and prepared by Chester Gut, with the help of the new cook, Peg Bonebrake. The whole Chapter worked together on this event to make it an even greater success than the one held last semester. The faculty was most complimentary about our graciousness towards them, and the quality of the food prepared.

Phi Psis have been very active here on campus with several organizations. Thomas Dow and Chester Gut were the co-managers of the Glee Club. Together they organized and officiated the Glee Club's tour of the West Coast over spring break. Three other Phi Psis also went on this tour which was judged to be quite successful. The Chapter also helped with the local community's annual Easter egg hunt. Several Brothers helped hide Easter eggs and candy, as well as supervised the children participating. The people running the event were very impressed with the character of the Brothers present, and Phi Kappa Psi in general.

Phi Psis were also very involved with organized sports. Dan McKinney went to the nationals in wrestling. Other wrestlers in the Chapter include Jim Selvio and Tom Brown. Swimming was also a sport full of Phi Psis. Jack Barkley, Bryon Sego, and Mark Wachendorf were part of the team, which finished undefeated. Brother Barkley was voted most improved swimmer of the season. We also continue to be very strong in intramurals.

The Chapter recently participated in the College's Honor Scholar weekend. This is the beginning of our formal rush, and several rushees were very impressed with the Chapter, primarily due to the efforts of rush chairman Steve Wallen. We would also like to announce the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the refounding of our Chapter sometime in the fall of this year. No plans are final at this time, but information concerning this event will be sent in the near future.

Psyched for Summer

As classes come to an end and we finish our finals, we realize that the long awaited summer is finally upon us. No school and plenty of sunshine are what we at Washington Alpha are looking forward to. We have a good start on summer rush and the female live-ins are looking good.

As we welcome the summer in, though, we say goodbye to a highly successful spring quarter. Our first annual Phi Psi Cook-Off was a great success with the proceeds going to a local food charity. Our Spring Cruise and Country Dance were incredibly wild and we had a couple of good exchanges as well.

Congratulations go out to Steve Brady, our new Treasurer, and Ted Granston and John Livingston, our new Rush Chairmen.

A fond farewell goes out to Brother Erik Knoph as he heads back to his homeland, Norway, for good.

We had a strong showing in intramurals fielding two softball teams and one soccer team.

In closing, we here at Washington Alpha would like to wish all the Phi Psi Chapters out there as good a summer rush as I know we're going to have.

Washington & Jefferson The End of an Era

The Brotherhood of Pennsylvania Alpha is proud to announce 19 outstanding young men have been selected as pledges for 1988. Congratulations and good luck to these pledges: Eric Bayer, Del Boni, Nicholas Como, Jamie Davis, James deGutierrez-Mahoney, Vincent Eannace, Dustin Howarth, Ronald Kawecki, Asa Kenna, David Martin, Sean McLaughlin, Nicholas Mulford, Robert Murray, Brian Osborn, James Pearl, Jeffrey Petersen, Brian Trybend, Adam Tweedy, and Scott Wilson. The coming of spring has also brought with it the election of our new officers: Mark Shaw, GP; Patrick Smith, VGP; Paul Lakis, P; Michael Angell, AG; Todd Ussack, BG; David Hirshberg, social chairman; Lewis Carrarini, Hod; Rick France, Hi; Richard Ruffing, parliamentarian and Phu; and Jeffrey Paris, house manager.

The 1988 Biennial Dinner proved a great success on April 30th at Ernie's Esquire Supper Club. The undergraduates, parents, and alumni all enjoyed a wonderful time at this tradition-filled event. Our next major event of the year was Carnival Weekend 1988. The Mother Chapter is proud to be the three-time defending champion in this campus-wide event. We will put forth every effort to capture the championship trophy for the 4th consecutive year. Prom-Bluegrass weekend was the final important event this year with Brothers Smith, Hirshberg, and Carrarini on stage playing bluegrass favorites.

This May means the 136th class of Phi Kappa Psi graduates of Washington & Jefferson College. Matthew D'Onofrio, who was recently named to Phi Beta Kappa, will pursue his career in medicine at Temple University School of Medicine. Other Seniors pursuing careers in medicine are: Jack Husak, Philadelphia School of Osteopathy: John "The Nose" Clemenza, University of Pittsburgh School of Dentistry; and Paul Livingston, who, while pursuing his Ph.D. in Bio-chemistry, will be an assistant coach at California-San Jose in football. Louis Otto, who became a proud father in 1987 (Louis Charles), will enroll in the Pennsylvania State Police Academy as a narcotics specialist. Chris Petruccelli is currently working towards his degree in engineering at Pitt. Randy Gelder is already practicing his skills in undertaking at the Gelder Funeral Home. Rich Baker will be working in Latrobe between tours of the USAC truck and tractor pull national championships. Chuck Grindle, after being commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Army, will command the 131st Panzer unit in West Germany. Kirk Lago has accepted a position with the Chase-Manhattan Bank in NYC. Todd "Elwood" Maine, golden gloves champion of Wompom, PA, will fight George Foreman in an exhibition bout on June 3rd in Madison Square Garden. Brothers Clayton, Ciferno, and Mazza have accepted positions as accountants for the Boesky Trust Holding Corp. Dan Donovan will be attending the Suffolk University Law School, while Matt Sweeney and Thomas Kendo will study law at the Perez-Pancho Villa School of Law in sunny New Mexico. These illustrious seniors wish the underclassmen the best of luck in the coming years.

The 1987-88 school year marked a major step forward for the Mother Chapter. As one year draws to a close, the Alpha Chapter looks forward to many more years at W&J.

Washington and Lee Finishing with a Bang

Virginia Beta finished the year with a bang. After a fun-filled Alumni Weekend, we concluded our spring term with many sunny afternoons along the Maury River. Unfortunately, June 2 brought about the graduation of 14 seniors who Virginia Beta will dearly miss.

As always, we continue to produce numerous campus leaders. Among them are senior Ed Yu, Princeton, NJ, who will serve as Executive Council Secretary; junior Brandon Canaday, Richmond, VA, who will be his class Vice-President; and seniors Rowan Taylor, Portland, OR, and Jay DeMarco, Charleston, SC, who were inducted into Phi Beta Kappa. Nearly every VA Betan participated in the Mock Democratic Convention as state delegates including five Brothers who served as state chairmen. Finally, Steve Castle, New Canaan, CT, class of '88, our Summerfield Scholar nominee, was awarded NCAA Academic All-American for wrestling.

Senior Michael A. Forrester, Baton Rouge, LA, did a great job as President, leaving the Chapter in excellent condition and the Brotherhood stronger than ever. We are counting on senior Richard Redfoot, Chehalis, WA, to continue this tradition.

On a final note, we would like to thank the anonymous donor of the house pool table and to congratulate junior Chris Wood, Fairfax, VA, who won a Congressional Internship during the spring term. We would also like to wish senior John "Birdman" Catron, Manassas, VA, good luck in spreading VA Beta virtue throughout France and the rest of Europe.

Four

Greetings from Morgantown. The Brothers of West Virginia Alpha enjoyed another great year on the hill. The spring weather seems to always bring the Brothers together and we have accomplished a great deal.

Our Run for Leukemia through the streets of Morgantown was a big success, as things always are when they're for a good cause.

We recently enjoyed our first annual Alumni-Undergraduate Golf Tournament. The event was held at the Sheraton Lakeview in Morgantown. It was a great opportunity for us to meet and get to know the alumni. It was also a great chance to pick up some pointers on our game. It was a smashing success and I'm sure that we will see this become a regular event every spring. A big "thanks" to all the alumni who participated. We hope they enjoyed themselves as much as we did.

After getting off to a slow start at the beginning of the year, our intramurals finished with flying colors. All of our spring teams did outstanding and we are anxiously awaiting our standing for the Blue Cup.

It was also a successful semester for rush. We received 21 pledges this spring. They include: David Abramson, David Gaskin, Mike Hershberger, Dennis Hower, Andy Imro, Mike Jamgochian, David Marsland, Vu Nguyen, David McCormick, Cris O'Donnell, Frank Osborne, James Reed, Tyler Robertson, Greg Shepard, Pat Steele, Jeff Thorsen, Scott Wagner, Jeff Traub, and legacies Bill Cadogan, Trevor Crocker, and Anthony Tropea.

Wittenberg Spring Success

As Ohio Beta gears up for the summer, the Brothers are looking forward to a highly successful spring rush. With the help of Rush Chairmen Drew Grumhaus and Jim O'Brien, the Chapter expects a find group of pledges. This is Drew's second time around as rush chairman.

Athletically, the Chapter is involved in a number of activities. Led by Senior captain Fred Crockett, and three-year players, juniors Jamie Moore and Jamie Rodgers, Witt Lacrosse looks forward to another fine season. Also playing from the Chapter are sophomores Drew Grumhaus, Jim O'Brien, and Dave Gray. Brian Grogan returns to another year of tennis, having won in last year's Ohio Athletic Conference championships. Matt Nusken will play once again on the Witt Rugby team, as will Phil Downey.

Scholastically, the Chapter is gaining headway. House grades have improved once again this term, and several members made the Dean's list, most notably Jim O'Brien, who, despite his campus involvement was able to get a 4.0.

Chapter visitors this last term included Political Science professor Dr. Richard Flickinger, and Dean of Students, Mr. Richard Scott. We also had our annual Founders Day Dinner at a local country club, and it was highly successful, not to mention a good time.

Chapter Historian Rob White recently discovered a closet full of old Chapter records, including a scrapbook from the forties, which contained a great number of items of interest. Included were old composite pictures, party favors, and old Wittenberg newspapers.

Brother Jay Burns has recently achieved a new position as manager at a Columbus area restaurant. Jay is a 1987 graduate. Also achieving a new position is Bob Billstone, who has finally achieved status of alumnus. Congratulations, Bob.

The newly reorganized House Corporation has come to the help of the house this last term by aiding in the renovation of the house. Close to $10,000 worth of renovation has been completed so far, and additional work is on its way.

Ohio Beta wishes all Phi Psis and friends a great summer, and hope to see you all at this year's GAC in New Orleans.

Broadening the Domain

On March 26, 1988, the Massachusetts Beta Colony was created at Brandeis University under the authority of the Executive Council. The Colonization ceremony, conducted on the campus grounds, was presided over by Educational Leadership Consultants Ronald A. Richard, Minnesota '84, and David Boersma, Kansas '84. The addition of the Colony brings the number of Chapters and Colonies in Phi Psi's broad domain to ninety-nine.

Phi Psi's newest Colony includes: Marc Appel, Scarsdale, NY; Mitch Fixler, Tarrytown, NY; John Gershen, Princeton, NJ; Evan Schwartz, Cresskill, NJ; Neil Spindel, Marlboro, NJ; Dave Smirnoff, Bayside, NY; Ed Messina, Briarcliff Manor, NY; John Wagner, Roslyn Heights, NY; Jeff Kreick, Nashua, NH; Sean Minnihan, Oak Ridge, NJ; James McCarthy, Honolulu, HI; Eric Haber, Englewood, NJ; and Edgar Pineda, Philippines.

Anyone wishing to contact Massachusetts Beta can do so by writing to Neil Spindel, Box 382, Brandeis University, Waltham, MA 02254-9110, or by calling 617/736-5789.

Greetings from D.C. Alpha Colony. The Colony is proud to announce our one year anniversary which took place at a dinner party in April. New Brothers this semester are already adding a wide and diverse membership to the Colony. Congratulations are in order for new Brothers Eric Brown and Jeff Rosenberg who will represent Phi Psi at the IFC Deans List dinner.

With the retirement of Dr. Lloyd Elliot as University President, the Colony would like to welcome former University Of Hartford President and Zeta Beta Tau alumnus Stephen Joel Trachtenberg as our new University President. Phi Kappa Psi had two Brothers elected to the Student Senate, School of Business Senator Jeff Rosenberg and Columbian College Arts and Sciences Senator Jonathan Klee. Upcoming events for the Colony include participation in our first Greek Week which will take place in April.

The Phi Psi Spikers three-on-three volley-ball team is currently in first place in its division. Their 3-1 record was highlighted by an emotional comeback victory against Fraternity Cup leader Zeta Beta Tau. Phi Psi also sponsored a team in Alpha Epsilon Pi's basketball all-nighter which took place in March. The Colony was pleased to donate time and money to this annual fundraiser which donates money to the Washington-area homeless. Spring sports include two-on-two whiffleball and softball.

Our housing corporation is taking shape with the help of Richard Troyer, Washington '56. Any local alumnus interested in helping the Colony can contact him by calling 202-956-5323. Thank you for reading and we hope to hear from you soon.

Maryland, Baltimore County Final Stages

Spring semester here at UMBC was very important for Maryland Beta, as the quest for our charter moved into its final stages. We've been working very hard in finalizing the requirements for our charter and hope to petition near the close of the semester. The Housing Corporation remains our last major obstacle, however, many area alumni have already expressed an interest and a desire to become involved in our rapidly growing Colony.

Members of Maryland Beta have been working closely with the American Trauma Society in two philanthropy projects scheduled for April. One project being a bowl-athon and the other our own unique version of the Phi Psi "500," which is intended to involve not only the entire UMBC campus but also other colleges and universities in the Baltimore area.

Spring rush also proved to be a great success. Our spring pledge class, which was the second largest among the campus fraternities, includes 13 bright men who are determined to help us attain our goals.

In closing, we would like to thank our alumni advisor, Scott Bialousz, for his valuable suggestions and advice. We'd also like to say that we are proud to be a part of Phi Kappa Psi! Best of luck to everyone in the coming school year.

Trenton State Moving Forward

This spring semester has been a busy, yet rewarding one in many aspects. Through hard work and determination we have been approved by both the Inner Greek Council and the Student Government Association. This means that the New Jersey Delta Colony of Phi Kappa Psi is at equal standing with all other fraternities at Trenton State College.

We are proud to announce the achievements of Norbert Star who was elected freshman class treasurer and Matt Shaw, who is one of only two freshmen to make the varsity tennis team.

We look forward to a strong showing in our first Greek Week competition and to show our enthusiasm among the other Greeks at school.

We have been working hard to strengthen our ties with our Brothers from neighboring institutions in the form of various road trips to NJ Alpha and PA Pi Chapters.

We are extremely proud to announce the initiation of nine new Brothers. This brings our membership to sixteen. We are currently one of the fastest growing fraternities in a flourishing Greek community. The new Brothers are Barry Brown, East Brunswick; Steven Bucaro, Pompton Plains; Mark Danna, Somerdale; Robert Diertl, Towaco;

Getting New Blood

In Madison, Wisconsin, the new Brothers of the Wisconsin Alpha Colony came together Sunday, March 27th in the afternoon. Three new members were initiated into the colony, and also elected for executive positions. Michael Zickert, P; Patrick Trudgeon, Rush Chairman; and Joseph Daguanno, AG. We are now reaching our goals, and realizing that our charter is not so far in the future as we once thought.

The Alpha Colony received an incredible turnout at our Founders Day dinner held at the Sheraton Inn on March 5th. The Wisconsin Gamma Chapter attended the dinner also. The dinner showed us what Phi Kappa Psi stands for: Brotherhood and unity. The alumni association is behind us one hundred percent. They presented us with a check for $150.00 to put towards our participation fee in Greek Week, April 24–30. This week is pivotal to our success in the future. The alumni association is also aiding us as advisors, as our Colony is searching for a new house for our Brothers and new pledges to live.

We had a successful Spring Rush including a dorm storm which the Brothers initiated to attract the residents of campus housing to join us. The dorm storm was one of our major projects this past spring, along with several other social events.

We are growing, but we would appreciate any advice from any Brothers from other Chapters of Phi Kappa Psi to aid us in our growth. If you would like to offer some suggestions or just see how we are doing, please contact us at: Phi Kappa Psi, Memorial Union, Box 601, Madison, Wisconsin, 53706.

Arizona

The Arizona Alumni Association hosted the celebration of Phi Kappa Psi's 137th Founders Day in Tempe, Arizona. On Saturday, February 20, over 90 Brothers and pledges from throughout the state joined in the celebration.

The celebration included the birthday acknowledgement of Arizona Alpha's 40th anniversary of being chartered at the University of Arizona in 1947. The Chapter was rechartered in 1977.

Arizona Beta celebrated its 25th anniversary of being chartered at the Arizona State University in 1962.

The festivities began with the initiation of Arizona Beta's fall 1987 pledge class at the Beta Chapter house in Tempe, home of the Arizona State Sundevils. A luncheon followed at the Fiesta Inn. The festivities concluded with an afternoon reception at the newly remodeled Beta Chapter house.

During the presentations, two Brothers were honored. Philip H. Davidson III, Arizona '59, was honored for his 20th consecutive year attending the Association's Founders Day celebration. A.J. "Bud" Perreault, Minnesota '48, was honored for his outstanding service to the Association.

Robert "Sandy" Chamberlain, Arizona State '62, one of the founders of Arizona Beta, was the guest speaker during the luncheon.

The beautiful Arizona climate and many festivities left pleasant memories to those who attended.

Central New York

Preliminary discussions have begun with Syracuse University concerning the transfer of the Chapter house property at 113 College Place in exchange for the building at 500 University Place (currently the Anthropology Department offices). As you may recall, the University is erecting a Science and Technology Center on College Place. The building is well underway, with the first occupants expected to move in by October of this year. Eventually, the University wishes to develop the entire College Place block with academic buildings. Assuming negotiations proceed smoothly, Phi Psi would move to the new house by the Fall semester of 1989. We will be staying at 113 College Place for the full school year of 1988-89.

Our current goal is to draft a proposal to the University spelling out the renovations to the Anthropology building that are required prior to the exchange. The structure was a sorority house at one time, but after being converted to offices it now lacks many features of a residence, such as a kitchen, showers, living room, dining room, etc. The University has agreed in general terms to provide for all reasonable improvements needed, either by doing the work itself or giving Phi Psi the funds to hire our own contractor. The Board of Trustees of the Home Association is considering both options at this time. We have the assistance of several alumni who are working in the areas of architecture, construction, and real estate. It is the hope of the Board that New York Beta will have a newly renovated home in a very good location without taking on any long term debt. All alumni will be notified as progress is made in the negotiations, and any comments, suggestions or questions are welcome.

Columbus

Founders Day 1988, now history, was another memorable event for Phi Psis in central Ohio. Much credit goes to Ohio Delta Company President Rocky Frost, Columbus Alumni Association President Dick Bull, speaker Roy Lewicki, and undergraduate leaders Ken Meeks and Jeff Boothman for combining the right ingredients to honor

Founders Moore and Letterman and for generating traditional Phi Psi spirit and enthusiasm.

Former GP Ken Meeks presented awards to a number of undergraduate Brothers who actively served the Chapter in recent months. and Jeff Boothman, newly elected GP, outlined plans for the future. Dick Bull, after laughingly noting that it's mere coincidence that someone who's name is "Bull" works in public relations, as he does, described some of the activities of the Columbus Alumni Association. Rocky Frost presented a 50-year pin to Fred Exline, '38, and a Machetanz print to Dr. Tom Olszewski, who completed payment of his pledge to the Sustaining Fund. Interestingly, Phi Psi artist Fred Machetanz, creator of the original painting from which the prints were made, was that very day celebrating his 80th birthday at his home in Palmer, Alaska. Brother Frost also used the occasion to introduce the undergraduate with the highest consecutive number. Christopher Niles, to the alumnus with the lowest number. S. N. "Newt" McCloud, '22, emphasizing by the 66 year period between their initiation dates the lifelong association that Phi Psi brings.

Concluding the program was speaker Roy Lewicki, Dartmouth '63, Associate Dean of the OSU College of Business and faculty advisor to Ohio Delta. He gave an illuminating and inspiring talk on some of the ingredients needed for leadership in today's society—remarks that were useful and meaningful for students and alumni alike. A spirited rendition of "Amici" followed Dr. Lewicki's talk, with the traditional "Hi! Hi! Hi! . . ." rattling the rafters as the observance ended.

As always, the final remarks in this communication will encompass our best wishes to Phi Psis young and old, far and wide, together with a most cordial invitation to come to lunch any Friday noon at Scioto Country Club's Grill Room. We're always glad to see new faces, get new opinions, hear new jokes (although Dave Timmons' supply seems virtually inexhaustible!). So join us!

Indianapolis

On February 20, the Phi Kappa Psi Indianapolis Alumni Association held an annual Founders Day gathering at the Columbia Club. Fraternity President David Hull was on hand to join in the festivities. Officers elected for the upcoming year include John Clymer, President; Mac McLaughlin, Vice President; David Huffman, Secretary; Bob Fanning, Treasurer. We would like to thank Brother Harry Huffman for his service the past two years as Association President. He did a fine job.

The new officers welcome suggestions and input as we make plans for the year.

Good News!! We are currently at the negotiating table with the owners of the Arkansas Alpha Chapter House to see about the possibility of purchasing the property. Presently, there is no house corporation in place, but if we come to an agreement on the house, a corporation will be set up to oversee the management and upkeep of the property.

This past Founders Day banquet was held in Fayetteville and hosted by the Arkansas Alpha Chapter. Once again, they succeeded in putting together a fun and eventful weekend and from all indications, it was the largest turnout ever. The Alumni Association plans to host next year's Founders Day banquet in Little Rock. Because of Little Rock's central location, we expect a large turnout of alumni from other Chapters. We will keep you posted on more details later.

Lastly, the Little Rock Alumni Association meets regularly the first Tuesday of the month. The meeting location and time varies, so please contact Luigi Chiechi at (501) 228-0211 or 1-800-333-0211 if you would like to attend. We would love to have you. Remember, alumni dues are being collected, please remember to pay.

The Brothers, Colonists, and pledges of Phi Kappa Psi in the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex, met on Tuesday, February 23, 1988 to celebrate Founders Day at the Village Country Club in Big D. Richard Bower, Oklahoma '56, presided over dinner and presentations. The festivities included a mixed-media audiovisual presentation from the Colonists of Texas Delta. Brother Bower quoted C.P.T. Moore on the sapling he planted with the help of W.H. Letterman and remarked that it is alive and well today in Dallas, Texas. Richard introduced Byron Cain, Vanderbilt '70, Director of Fraternity Education and Mike Rylee, Ole Miss '78, Vice President NTAA.

Serving with Brother Bower on the Colony house corporation as directors are Austin Rinne, Indiana '39, President; Harry Light, Florida '77; Peter Baldwin, Arizona '49; Tom James, Texas '48; and Mike Rylee. Also assisting the Colony are Ken Sandoval, Texas '79, Colony Advisor and Brad Crumpecker, Westminster '69, Colony Financial Advisor.

Newly elected officers for 1988 are Mike Rylee, President and Treasurer, and Larry Elliott, Texas '66, Secretary. NTAA is planning a golf tournament and a trip to a baseball game at the Texas Rangers for the summer. Volunteers to help plan these events are being sought.

Kevin McSpadden, President of the SMU Senior Class and Colony GP at TX Delta, brought us up to date on Colony activities. The Colony is now past its second anniversary and numbers 29 members. Having placed second in scholarship among fraternities for the second straight semester at Southern Methodist, they went on to win the University Sing the Saturday night before Founders Day and were still celebrating. The Colony is diligently working on membership in the hopes of being granted a charter and being installed this Spring, and already is in need of a larger Chapter residence. All other requirements for a charter are being exceeded. We look forward to Founders Day 1989 when we will be joined by the men of the Texas Delta Chapter. Best wishes!

Founders Day a Success

Founders Day was successfully celebrated by a fine spirited crowd of alumni, undergraduates and pledges from a variety of Chapters at the Venice Inn in Omaha on THE day. President Neil Cahill, S.J., presided and kept the meeting moving at a delightful clip. It was surprisingly noted that the G.P.'s of the Nebraska Alpha and Nebraska Beta were both friends from the same Omaha High School (Prep). Both gave interesting reports as to their Chapter's activities. Both groups in Nebraska appeared to be healthy and very competitive on campus. They certainly deserve alumni support to maintain their high standards. John Crane, Penn State, nominated the following as Alumni Association officers (they were unanimously elected, as usual): Stephen Bruckner, President: Dr. Thomas Bolt, Vice-President; Jeff Modica, Treasurer; and Dr. Ted Urban as secretary. The National's rush video was the featured entertainment and was introduced by National Treasurer Paul LaPuzza. It was excellent. For the second year in a row we were honored to have a Brother receive a 50 Year Pin. Don Evans, Iowa State, was presented the Golden Pin while the assembled Brothers gave him a fine ovation. Don's Brother, Jack and last year's recipient Carroll Johnson, Nebraska, were present again this year to lift our 50 year club membership to three very active members! Sam Amato, Creighton, the #2 Chapter initiate, was introduced to the crowd and spoke briefly. Mark Weber, Creighton, was honored with Nebraska Beta's "Ted Urban Award" as the most valued alumnus.

A summer party is being planned by the Association. Jerry Ortman, Creighton, has offered his palace for the affair. More information will be sent later. Bill Ashley, Nebraska, has been elected as Rotary President, Gene Connelly, Nebraska, was appointed civilian aide to the General of the Nebraska National Guard, so we're all protected on the home front! Todd Malouf, Creighton, is now a vice president for the Insurance Consultants.

Come join us at our Phi Psi Lunches at Trovato's—3rd Tuesday.

Continuing with the tradition of the last few years, the 1988 Founders Day Celebration was a complete success. Brothers from many different Chapters, as well as the undergraduates from the University of Colorado were present to join in the festivities.

Continuing another tradition, this year's Summit Award was presented to Ted Bryant. Ted has spent a great deal of time exemplifying Phi Psi ideals in his success in owning and managing a large real estate office. Ted has also generously supported many business-oriented organizations such as the state and national Board of Realtors and the Lakewood Chamber of Commerce, as well as donating a large portion of his time to many charitable organizations.

Along with the festivities, some official business was conducted, most importantly the election of Fred Little to assume the responsibilities of President from Dave Castro. After jump-starting the Alumni Association, Dave has decided to redirect his energy to the House Corporation to help Colorado Alpha in their effort to reoccupy the house. I am sure Fred will do a first rate job continuing with the fine start that Dave has given the Alumni Association.

Plans are in the making for this summer's social gathering. We will let you know when the plans are complete. If you would like to participate in the planning or execution or just get information about upcoming events please call Fred Little at 977-3000 or Robert Lefond 692-4750.

Our Founders Day Celebration was held on Saturday, March 12th (Yes, we know that we were late!). The location was the Carriage House at the Robert Mills House.

On a historical note, Woodrow Wilson attended church services in the Carriage House. During his boyhood days in Columbia, the building was used by the Presbyterian Church as a chapel for the Columbia Theological Seminary.

In this setting, it was a pleasure to see returning Alumni. It also served as an opportunity to meet the new members of South Carolina Alpha! A festive evening was enjoyed by all.

During the Spring, the Association has held two luncheons. On the traditional February 19th, a luncheon was held at the Last Catch. On April 22nd, the Brothers gathered at the Tavern on the Green.

During the Summer, a variety of activities will be held. For further information, please call Curt Cottle (737-0400) or Smitty Harrison (748-2369). All Phi Psi Alumni are welcome!

See you in New Orleans for the GAC!

On Feb. 18, 1988 the Phi Psis in Tucson had a nice little Founders Day celebration. Our guest of honor was SWGP Dr. David F. Hull Jr. We especially want to thank Dr. Hull for traveling all the way to Tucson to be with his Brothers to enjoy another year of Phi Kappa Psi. I want to personally thank all of you who came, including the members of Arizona Alpha and Beta along with Dave Evans from the Arizona Alumni Assoc. in Phoenix.

The total number of Alumni in the Southern area is small but growing. We in the S.A.A.A. are always looking for Phi Psis who want to get involved. This does not mean in a financial manner. Any Brother wanting to mail newsletters, call alumni, arrange Founders Day, or help in any way please call me. We are always looking for a few good men. Another reminder, our monthly alum meeting is the first Thursday of every month at 5:30 p.m. at J.J. Nickles on Speedway east of Campbell. Hope to see you there.

Western New York

Founders Day, February 19, 1988. The Western New York Alumni met with the Brothers of New York Eta at the Three Coins Restaurant on Niagara Falls Boulevard, Tonawanda, New York, the scene of several memorable previous Founders Day Dinners. There was food and drink (there always is), business (inevitable), elections (unpredictable), but the memories you come away with are of Brotherhood.

It was an opportunity to meet and talk with classmates, big Brothers, actives and the old guard (that handful older than your correspondent). It is particularly poignant to hear the younger alumni, recent graduates and actives expressing their sentiments of Fraternity and finding them completely in tune.

The gathering at Bob Meer's on October 3rd was reported to have been a great success.

Officers of the WNYAA for the coming year are Carl Millerschoen, President; Gary Helfenstein, VP; Tom Cassano, Founders Day and Entertainment; Bob Greene, Secretary. As acquisition of a Chapter house for NY Eta is a 1988 goal, Brother Stevens and his House Committee will be getting the call. Bob Morrow continues as Chapter Advisor.

Brothers Dinino and LaClair and several other actives spoke of NY Eta's past, present and future plans. The alumni present heard of a Chapter solvent, some accounts receivable but no bad debts; obviously competent officers with a sense of humor; athletes, not all of olympic caliber but eager; and successful scholars. A very reassuring report. Remarks followed. The Brothers from Edinboro were

Wisconsin

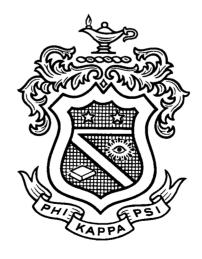

In the wake of the recolonization of Wisconsin Alpha at the University of Wisconsin, and on behalf of my thirty-three fellow founding Brothers, I am pleased to report the birth of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, which officially came into being on March 5 at the Sheraton hotel in Madison. The organizational event marked our first annual Founders Day observance, and was well attended by alumni and undergraduates from the Wisconsin Alpha Colony and Wisconsin Gamma. The highlight of the evening was a rousing address by the distinguished Mystagogue of the Fraternity, Kent Christopher Owen.

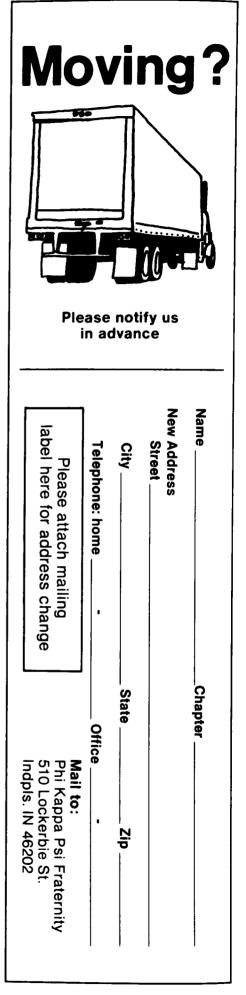

Business at the meeting included the election of officers. They are Michael McCoy, President; Kevin Stevens, Vice President; John Wiesler, Treasurer; and Karl Curtis, Secretary. In addition, Steve Schild, Lon Foree, Bernard Widera, Lynn Howell and John Kannenberg were elected Governors.

Though based in Madison, the Wisconsin Alumni Association would like to expand its focus to other areas of the state, and mention was made at the Founders Day meeting to hold an upcoming meeting in the Milwaukee area. At this point, tentatively scheduled events include monthly luncheons, a golf outing in mid May, and a Brewer game in June. These and other events will be detailed in upcoming mailings as soon as plans are solidified.

Anyone desiring further information about the Wisconsin Alumni Association can call Mike McCoy at (608) 274-1638 or write him at 1 Hiawatha Circle, Madison, Wisconsin 53711.

BRIG. GEN. CHESTER A. FILES, Brown '10, Barrington, RI, Nov. 29, 1987. He began and ended his 35-year military career with the Rhode Island National Guard, and served in the Mexican Border Conflict of 1916, World War I, World War II, and the Korean War, assigned almost exclusively to field artillery. In 1943, he was awarded the Legion of Merit for the shelling of scores of enemy batteries and he received the Bronze Star for his role in the fighting on Luzon in the Philippines. He headed the 43rd Artillery in Korea until retiring from active service in 1951.

HOYT E. HELLER, Gettysburg '11, Wapwallopen, PA, February 21, 1988. Born in 1891, he founded and planted Heller Orchards from 1919 to 1921, and actively continued its operations until his death. An Army veteran of World War I, he was an aerial gunner instructor in Texas during the war.

PERRY BISSELL JENKINS, Amherst '16, Hartford CT, July 5, 1987. His entire career was with the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company. He retired in 1961 as the manager of the security department in Pittsburgh. His generosity to the College was recognized by naming a dormitory after him—Jenkins Hall.

WARREN SWIFT WEIANT JR., Cornell '17, Newark, OH, December 12, 1987. He served in the Navy during World War I. From 1921 to 1976, he owned and operated the largest vegetable production greenhouse of its type in the U.S. At its inception in 1953, he was appointed by the Governor of Ohio to the Ohio Industrial Development Commission. He helped found the Licking County Symphony Orchestra, the Licking County Airport and was past director of the National Antique Automobile Clubs of America. His aviation films, made from 1927 to 1934, were used extensively in the PBS documentary "Wings of Silver" to be aired in September.

FREDERICK G. SMITH, Wisconsin '18, Freeport, IL, January 12, 1988. He was a retired vice president of the State Bank of Freeport. While a student at Wisconsin he was a member of the football team and scored the winning touchdowns that led the Badgers to victory over the Buckeyes of Ohio State in 1918. In Freeport, he was a member of the board of directors of the Northwestern Telephone Company, Freeport Savings and Loan Association, Highland Community College, the YMCA, Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Downtown Freeport Board.

REV. DR. KENNETH S. EHRHART, Gettysburg '23, Hanover, PA, February 11, 1988. He was ordained in Trinity Lutheran Church, Lemoyne, PA, in 1928. He served as pastor of Grace Bethel Pastoral Charge for 6½ years before he became pastor of the Jefferson Lutheran charge in Codorus Township in 1934, a charge he served for 35 years until his retirement in 1969. He was awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree in 1948 by his alma mater and was honored by them in 1961 as Father of the Year.

HARRY TOWNSEND KAUFMANN, Colgate '26, Cherry Hill, NJ, January 6, 1988. He was former director of public relations for the Dairy Council of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. He was past president of the local Plays and Players and the Choral Society in Haddonfield, NJ. He was named Citizen of the Year in 1982 by the Civic Association.

JOHN A. WELLS, Illinois '26, Stuart, FL, March 8, 1988. He was retired as advertising director of the Merck-Sharpe and Dohm pharmaceutical manufacturer. During World War II he served in the Navy in the Pacific theater and attained the rank of Lt. Commander.

MAURICE W. WILEY, Purdue '26, Green Valley, AZ, November 21, 1987. He retired from United Airlines in 1967 as flight manager in Denver after a 34-year career as pilot and captain. He was vice commander of the Military Order of World Wars, Santa Cruz Valley Chapter, the Retired United Airlines Pilot Association, the Order of Daedalions and the Aero Club of Green Valley, Arizona.

HALDIMAND S. PUTNAM JR. Syracuse '26, Springfield, MA, March, 1988. He was the owner and manager of Ware Coupling & Nipple Co. and a founder of the Springfield Ski Club Inc. An avid skier for years, he was a founder, life member, director, president and treasure of the ski club and was director of its competitions committee. In 1969, the club honored him by naming a trail "Put's Peril" at its Blandford Ski Area.

DR. HARRY L. STEWART JR., Dartmouth '27, Santa Barbara, CA, March 3, 1988. He had a private practice in obstetrics-gynecology from 1952 to 1974 in Santa Barbara. He was president of the Santa Barbara County Medical Society, a member of the California Medical Society, and a fellow in the American Medical Association, American College of Surgeons, and International College of Obstetrics-Gynecology.

GREG BAUTZER, USC '28, Beverly Hills, CA. He was an entertainment lawyer who represented some of the most glamorous stars of Hollywood in the 1940's and 50's and romanced many others. He was engaged to Lana Turner and Dorothy Lamour and once married to actress Dana Wynter. With his movie star looks he became one of the most prominent entertainment lawyers in Hollywood. At the time of his death, he was still actively representing a list of clients ranging from billionaire Kirk Kerkorian to television preacher Gene Scott. He was a senior partner in the firm of Wyman, Bautzer, Christensen, Kuchel & Silbert.

WILLIAM BRADFORD GOVE II, Amherst '29, Weymouth, MA, August 1987. He was a retired member of the administrative staff of Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he was in charge of awarding grants for sponsored research. During World War II he was in the army in Central America and later travelled widely in western Europe.

JOHN MAYDOLE LIDDY, Colgate '30, Utica, NY, December 12, 1987. He was the former Oneida County district attorney. He joined the FBI in 1939 and investigated individuals engaged in subversive activities until 1942 when he returned to Utica at the law firm of Hughes, Groben, Liddy, Cardamone & Gilroy. Following his tenure as district attorney from 1952-1960, he returned to private practice until his retirement in 1979.

TAYLOR HOLCOMB MCELROY, Mississippi '30, Oxford, MS, January 26, 1988. He was a Mississippi Supreme Court Justice from 1960 to 1965, after a lengthy career as a circuit judge in Northern Mississippi. He was also a representative in the state Legislature from 1920-21 and mayor of Oxford from 1927 until 1935. He was a veteran of World War I, a Mason for 50 years, a member of the American Legion and past president of the University of Mississippi Alumni Association.

LOUIS B. SPAETH, UCLA '31, Fairfax, VA, February 20, 1985. He was a retired Far East analyst with the Central Intelligence Agency who had been a commander in the Navy during World War II. He received the CIA's Certificate of Merit and retired in 1968.

JOHN R. "JACK" KAISER, Case Western Reserve '31, Tucson, AZ, January 20, 1988. Prior to World War II he founded Tempo Products Company. He served as an officer in the Navy during the war. Tempo was the first company to market the powder actuated fastening tool known as the Tempo-Tool. He arranged the merger of Tempo and Alco Standard Corporation in 1967 where he worked until his retirement in the early 1980's.

EDWARD WOODBERRY HARRISON, Amherst '32, Louisville, KY, August 15, 1987. He graduated from Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, NY, where he received its medal of honor in industrial design, then joined General Electric until 1947, excepting four years spent in the U.S. Army and Air Force where he rose from private to captain. Following, he was a designer for the Harley Earl Corporation and he practiced independently for several years before rejoining G.E. where he stayed until his retirement in 1976.

DOUGLAS HARDING PURDY, Colgate '33, Easton, PA, December 24, 1987. He was a sales manager for General Mills, Inc. in Buffalo and Wilkes-Barre for 38 years before retiring in 1974. He was a Sunday school superintendent and volunteer in the Meals on Wheels program.

AUBREY E. AUSTIN JR., Stanford '37, Palm Springs, CA. He was chairman of the board of Santa Monica Bank, where he had worked since 1946. He served as vice chairman of the California Transportation Board and was also one of 29 people appointed by President Nixon to a commission that evaluated U.S. coins. He was honored four times as "Citizen of the Year" by separate Realtor and fraternal organizations in the Santa Monica Bay Area. His impressive war record saw him attain the rank of colonel and be assigned to the assistant secretary of the Army's office serving as deputy chief of Distribution and Services.

CLINT PACE, Texas '39, Cincinnati, OH, March, 1988. He went to Cincinnati in 1958 as assistant to the Procter & Gamble chairman. He served as his assistant until his retirement in 1973. He was also director of shareholder relations and president of the P&G foundation. After retirement, he helped form the Ohio Institute of Public Opinion and was co-creator of Cincinnati Magazine when he was a member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Other career highlights include serving as director of the White House Conference on Education by appointment of President Eisenhower in 1953.

ANTHONY WAYNE COLVER, UCLA '42, Fresno, CA, March 9, 1987. He graduated from UCLA in 1948 with highest honors, receiving a BA in philosophy, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Gamma Mu. He did his graduate work in philosophy at Harvard University, earning an MA in 1952 and a Ph.D. in 1957.

DR. THOMAS R. JOHNS II, West Virginia '42, Charlottesville, VA, February 11, 1988. He received his MD at Harvard in 1948 and went on to a distinguished career in neurology. He was chief resident neurologist and associate at the Neurological Institute of New York before going to the University of Virginia Medical School as assistant professor of neurology. He later became a full professor and was named chairman of the department in 1967, a position he held until his death. He was appointed alumni professor in 1972. Among his honors were the Robeley Dunglison Award for Excellence in Teaching at UVA and a Markle Scholarship in medical science.

RICHARD D. O'KEEFE, Chicago '46, Webster Valley, MO, February 20, 1988. Before retiring in 1979, he owned the Banner News Service in Seattle that published magazines and conducted industrial expositions in the U.S. and abroad. He was also a veteran of World War II.

THOMAS DAVID RABIN, Cornell '82, Los Angeles, CA, December 7, 1987. He was on board Pacific Southwest Airlines Flight 1771 when the aircraft went down near Los Angeles claiming 44 lives. A memorial scholarship fund has been established in his name. For information contact: W. NILE KINNICK Portrait of a Hero

by Jay Casini, Iowa '87

"Before his senior year of high school, Kinnick had established himself as a straight-A student, as well as an all-state athlete."

Nile Kinnick, lowa '38, signs an autograph at the 1940 GAC, held at the Monmouth Hotel in Spring Lake, New Jersey. Brother Kinnick won the Heisman Trophy and was named to every major All-America team in 1939.

The University of Iowa's Kinnick Stadium is the home of one of the nation's finest collegiate football programs and is the namesake of Iowa Alpha's most revered alumnus. Nile Kinnick, Iowa '38, the 1939 Heisman Trophy winner, died June 2, 1943 when his plane's engine failed over the Gulf of Paria between Venezuela and Trinidad. During his lifetime Kinnick brought Iowa football to national prominence and embodied all of the ideals of Phi Kappa Psi.

Nile Clarke Kinnick, Jr. was born July 9th, 1918, just months before the Iowa football team recorded the first victory in its history against the Minnesota Golden Gophers. By 1939, ten years after the construction of Iowa's football stadium, Kinnick and Iowa's other "Ironmen" had erased an embarrassing legacy of gridiron losses and captured the attention of a nation.

As a youngster, Kinnick excelled scholastically and in sports. By the time his family moved to Omaha, Nebraska, before his senior year of high school, Kinnick had established himself as a straight-A student, as well as an all-state athlete. Kinnick enrolled at The University of Iowa in 1936, playing football, basketball, and baseball in addition to maintaining an excellent grade point average. By his second year at Iowa he had quit the baseball and basketball teams to devote more time to football and his studies.

Although he was smaller and slower than most of his teammates, Kinnick quickly proved his value on the football field. While the football team floundered during Kinnick's first three seasons at Iowa, Kinnick's talents did not go unnoticed. The press paid homage to Kinnick's gridiron prowess, and he quickly became recognized as one of the premier players in the country.

Other than Kinnick, the 1939 Iowa football team had little cause for optimism. Dr. Eddie Anderson, the Hawkeye head coach, had been brought to Iowa City to turn the team around, but Iowa was still picked to finish last in the Big Ten. With a severe shortage of talent, Anderson was often forced to play his starters for almost all of each game. Kinnick led the Hawkeye's "Ironmen," playing every minute of six straight games, leaving the season finale against Northwestern in the third quarter with a separated shoulder.

The 1939 Hawkeyes narrowly missed winning the Big Ten championship, but gave the university and the state of Iowa cause to celebrate. Kinnick won the Heisman Trophy, Maxwell Award, the Walter Camp Trophy, and the Big Ten's MVP award in addition to being named to every major All-America team.

Kinnick ended his undergraduate study at Iowa with an impressive 3.4 GPA. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and turned down several offers to play professional football so that he could enter Iowa's law school. After one year of law school, he enlisted in the Naval Air Corps Reserve and was called to active duty just days before the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

"Although he was smaller and slower than most of his teammates, Kinnick quickly proved his value on the football field."

On the morning of June 2, 1943, during a routine training flight, the man who had accepted the Heisman Trophy with the words, "I thank God that I was born to gridirons of the Middle West and not to the battlefields of Europe," experienced a severe oil leak in his Grumman F4F Wildcat Navy fighter plane. Realizing he could not land his plane aboard the U.S.S. Lexington, just four miles away, without putting the other aircraft and personnel on deck at risk, Kinnick ditched his crippled plane into the Gulf. A rescue team found no trace of the plane or its pilot. Iowa Alpha's most famous Brother was lost

On June 16, 1972, Iowa Stadium was officially renamed Kinnick Stadium in honor of the young man who resurrected football and embodied all the qualities his Brothers in Phi Kappa strive to attain. Apart from his gridiron heroics, Nile Kinnick was a leader, a scholar and a gentleman.

SPACE AGE SPEAK

UNIVERSAL® Company develops exciting new technology that allows speaker placement anywhere in your home without speaker wires.

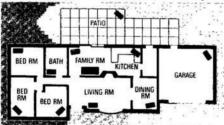

TECHNOLOGICAL BREAK-THROUGH

Highly acclaimed in The Wall Street Journal as one of the most exciting new products in the '87 Consumer Electronics Show. The UNIVERSAL Speaker System enables you to listen to your favorite music (records, cassettes, reel tapes, CDs, or AM/FM radio) throughout your home without having to run miles of speaker wire everywhere. Simply plug in the UNIVERSAL transmitter into the tape jacks of your receiver, and then plug in the UNIVERSAL speakers into any household electrical outlet. The music is transmitted through your home's wiring. No Speaker Wires are Needed! And the sound is great; with deep, rich bass and crystal clear highs.

GREAT SOUND ANYWHERE

Enjoy music on your patio, by the pool, in the bedroom, bathroom, while working in the garage or even at the office. You can have as many speakers as you have outlets, without the worry of speaker wiring running endlessly through your home. Place one, two, or four speakers in a room, or one speaker in every room in the house. The possibilities are endless, and each speaker has its own on/off volume control, for even more versatility.

SUPERIOR FEATURES

The UNIVERSAL Speaker System is of the highest quality design. The $9\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{3}{4} \times 6^{\prime\prime}$ accoustically constructed cabinet delivers deep bass through a 41/2" woofer and a 21/2" tweeter captures those delicate highs for a full rich sound.

Installation is quick and simple, the transmitter plugs directly into the tape jacks of your receiver and includes a y-jack, so you don't lose the use of your tape jacks. The speakers with their built-in receivers simply plug into any household outlet anywhere you want to listen to your main system, regardless of the distances from your stereo. In addition, this new technology simply taps into the signal your stereo already generates, so it will not affect your stereo in any way. Since the transmitter combines both the right and left channels of your stereo, you get a full and rich high fidelity sound.

These technological wonders are available direct from the manufacturer, and your satisfaction is guaranteed with a 30 day return privilege and a full 90 day manufacturer's warranty.

ACT NOW AND SAVE

These wireless speakers will carry a price tag of $125 each when they become available to retailers late this year. But NOW, through a special promotional campaign, the UNIVERSAL 2way speaker system, transmitter, and jack is only $69. And if you order more than one speaker, each additional speaker is only $59. That's less than half the price you can expect to pay when they hit retail stores in the future. Act NOW and pay less than dealer cost through our MANUFACTURERS

DIRECT PRICING!

When ordering make sure you specify your promotional order code FR1X. Most orders are sent within 72 hours of receipt.

So enjoy your favorite music from records, cassettes, reel tapes, CD's, or AM/FM radio anywhere in your home or by your patio/pool area with the UNIVERSAL Wireless Speaker System.

URILLA MOORE BLAND

Fraternity Mourns Loss of Founder's Granddaughter

Miss Urilla Moore Bland May 13, 1898-March 22, 1988

A pewter coffee service, crafted by James Dixon and sons in 1839, was probably passed on to Judge Moore by his parents. Moore's daughter, Mai, scratched her name onto the bottom of each piece.

n March 22, 1988, Phi Kappa Psi lost one of her last remaining treasured links to Founder Charles Page
Thomas Moore. On that day, Urilla
Moore Bland, granddaughter and last surviving relative who actually knew the revered Co-Founder of the Fraternity, passed away near her home in Weston,
West Virginia. She was 89.

At the 1988 Grand Arch Council, Miss Bland was awarded the Ladies Silver Bowl posthumously in recognition of her signal service and lifetime devotion to the Fraternity her grandfather helped found.

Miss Bland was born on May 13, 1898 at Weston to the late Judge Robert Linn Bland Sr. and Frances Moore Bland, daughter of Founder Moore. The oldest of four children, she was preceded in death by two brothers, Theodoric Edwards and Charles Newton, both West Virginia '21

She graduated from Goucher College in Baltimore in 1920 and began a teaching career at Weston High School that would span more than four decades. Primarily, a teacher of French and English, she organized the National Thespian Society and served as the school's director of dramatics. Her thespian pupils garnered top honors in the state at numerous competitions. She also served two years, the first as vice president and the second as president, of the American Association of Teachers of French in West Virginia.

From time to time, her teaching duties also included the teaching of Latin and Spanish.

She was a charter member and organizing vice president of the Weston Branch of the American Association of University Women. She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the National Society of Magna Charta Dames and a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

It was only recently learned that Miss Bland remembered Phi Kappa Psi in her last will and testament by bequeathing the Fraternity the sum of $25,000 in memory of her grandfather, Founder Moore.

Her final gesture to Phi Psi was by no means her only one. Over the years, she and her brother, Robert Linn Bland Jr., West Virginia '24, have made numerous donations to the Fraternity's archives, some of which are pictured herein. The precious items and photographs all came from Founder Moore's personal collection kept at his estate, Riverview, overlooking the Ohio River. These items, and more, are on permanent display at Phi Psi's museum and Headquarters in Heritage Hall in Indianapolis.

Founder Moore's pocket watch, given to him by his adopted mother and aunt, Mrs. George Moore, along with his original badge and wedding band.

BLAND-MOORE History Recounted

Editor's note: The following is excerpted from a June 8, 1988 letter received from George Linn Bland Jr., West Virginia '35, detailing the history of the Bland and Moore families since 1870.

ome three years ago I purchased the Phi Kappa Psi grandfather clock, on which I attached a brass plate with the following inscription:

CHARLES PAGE THOMAS MOORE CO-FOUNDER OF PHI KAPPA PSI, FEB. 19, 1852

W.	Va. ALPHA
Theodoric Edwards Bland	1921
Charles Newton Bland	1921
Robert Linn Bland Jr.	1924
Ruskin McArdle Bland	1934
George Linn Bland Jr.	1935
James Edward Bland, M.D.	1966

The first three names after that of the Founder are the grandsons: Theodoric, the eldest, born April 20, 1901, died April 2, 1984; Charles, an attorney, born August 24, 1902, died December 11, 1966; and Robert, born October 6, 1905, now aged 82; my brother, Lt. Col. Ruskin McArdle Bland, USAF Ret., first cousin of the principal legatees, born

This hand-blown glass fruit bowl and set of candlesticks also came from Riverview. Bearing no inscriptions, its origin is unknown.

This intricately decorated silver tea service was crafted by Reed and Barton and bears the monogram "RKM."

My uncle, Robert Linn Bland, father of the primary legatees, was an attorney at law, having been admitted to the Lewis County Bar in 1894. Previous to that date he engaged in newspaper work. In 1891 he became co-owner of the Weston Democrat and was elected president of the first newspaper council in West Virginia. In 1897 he was elected vice president of the West Virginia Editorial Association. He served as prosecuting attorney of Lewis County, was a member of the West Virginia House of Delegates, and elected as special judge in the Circuit Courts in Lewis, Harrison, Upsher and Gilmar counties. He was first president of the West Virginia Court of Claims, and was appointed to that panel by three successive governors. For many years he was a vestryman and Warden of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Weston, as well as a licensed lay reader and Trustee of the Church. A York

Rite Mason, he served as Worshipful Master of Weston Lodge No. 10, A.F. & A.M.

His wife, Rebecca Frances Moore, was the second of four daughters of the Co-Founder, Judge Charles Page Thomas Moore and his wife, Urilla Catherine (Kline) Moore. "Frankie" was born April 12, 1870. She and Robert L. Bland were married in her father's home, Riverview, which overlooked the Ohio River near Point Pleasant, West Virginia. She died at age 97 on November 12. 1967 in the Bland home on High Avenue, Weston, West Virginia. Rebecca Frances ("Frankie") Bland was a talented writer, the author of Twilight Reveries, a book of poems, and of Stray Leaves from the Hillside, a collection of short stories and verse. She was quite active in community affairs; was twice Regent of her D.A.R. chapter, 1st President of the Federated Club, President of the Women's Club of Weston, and member of the West Virginia Historical Society, W.C.T.U. and Episcopal Church Women's organizations.

Theodoric, the eldest son, who died just four years ago, was a graduate of West Virginia University, majoring in Agriculture. For a time he managed the extensive holdings of his maternal family estate, Riverview. For several years he taught in Weston Elementary School, but his major career was that of manager of the Lewis County office of the Farmer Production Credit Union, from which he retired in the sixties after many years of service.

Charles, the second son, graduated from WVU with a Law Degree, and practiced for thirty-six years in Weston until his death. He had the singular honor of arguing a case before the U.S. Supreme Court, and served as Prosecuting Attorney of Lewis County. He was Commander of Weston Post No. 4 American Legion, a member of Voiture Local 1058 Grand Voiture of West Virginia of the Forty and Eight, and a past President of the Weston Rotary Club.

The youngest son, Robert, also attended WVU, graduating in the Class of 1927. He had a long and distinguished teaching career in Weston High and Junior High Schools, retiring with 40½ years of dedicated service. He is the honored guest at more class reunions than any other former teacher in the school district. At such events it is a rare occurrence for him not to greet any of his close to ten thousand former students by their first name (or nickname)! Robert served in World War II, and is a Past Commander of Weston Post No. 4 American Legion. He was Chairman of Lewis Co. Smith-Robinson League of First Voters, the first young peoples' political organization in the County. He is a Past President of the Weston Lion's Club, Lewis Co. Education Association and Weston High School Alumni Association. He was vestryman and Warden of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 57 year choir member, and former lay-reader in the same church. Over the years, Robert has been active in community boy's work, such as Hi-Y, Boy Scouts and American Legion Boys State. Today he is not quite so active, due primarily to failing eyesight. Nevertheless, he walks downtown twice a day and engages in conversation with his host of friends and former students.

Urilla Moore Bland, the only daughter, oldest of the four children, and by whose most generous Bequest in memory of her grandfather, Phi Kappa Psi has been aided and honored, was born May 13, 1898 and died March 22, 1988 at age 89.

After 25 years of adding gentility to a houseful of newly liberated men, Marge Stringfellow says,

"Farewell to housemothering"

by Kathy Whyde, Indianapolis Star Staff Writer

Editor's Note: This article was originally published in the Indianapolis Star and is reprinted here with the paper's permission.

It will be hard for Marge Stringfellow to leave the fraternity house this spring, but every time she walks into the newly remodeled dining room, she thinks maybe it won't be that hard.

"This is ugly," she says, shaking her snowy white head at the curtainless windows and wall openings that offer an indiscreet view of kitchen appliances. "It looks like a dormitory. It doesn't lend itself to gracious living at all."

For the past 25 years, Mrs. String-fellow has fought the good fight for gentility in a house full of newly liberated young men. And despite the beer, the loud music and the young women who sometimes show up at inappropriate hours, she thinks she's won the battle.

The boys of Phi Kappa Psi are good boys, she says. They come from good families. DePauw University is a school of distinction. And this is a fraternity with high standards.

It all has very little to do with her, she insists. "It's amazing how responsible young men can be when you give them the opportunity."

And if things occasionally get out of line, all it takes is a raised eyebrow from the woman the boys call "Mom Strings."

Still, she's not here to make rules or enforce them. She is merely a civilizing presence, she says. Her French doors are always open to young men who may need a respite from the house's masculine statements of stone and wood and leather.

Mrs. Marge Stringfellow, better known as "Mom Strings," steps up to the podium at a banquet in her honor held at Union Station in Indianapolis. She served as Indiana Alpha's housemother for 25 years. She is assisted by her son, Bud Stringfellow, DePauw '55.

"I'm here to provide the niceties of the world," she says. "That's the way I was brought up. That's the way I brought up my children." The carpet in Mrs. Stringfellow's small apartment is a soothing Mediterranean blue that matches her eyes. A weary student can sink into comfortable floral-print upholstered chairs and empty his soul to Mom Strings, confident that his secrets will go no further. "Sometimes he doesn't know what is behind his feelings. You just need to listen. You don't need to give advice."

Joining in celebration of 25 years of housemothering at Indiana Alpha, Phi Psis gather with Mrs. Stringfellow for a group shot.

"I'm here to provide the niceties of the world," she says. "That's the way I was brought up. That's the way I brought up my children."

Next month, she'll pack up her goldrimmed china, her silver tea set and her candlesticks and move to an apartment off campus. She's watched her boys grow into men and then watched their boys grow up, too. It's time to retire.

In a garden of daylilies, Mrs. String-fellow knows she is an old-fashioned rose. "Heavens, housemothers come and go," she says. "You either like it or you don't. I like it very much. You have to like young people and you have to like stimulation. You can't be a perfectionist or you'll be lost."

She was a home economics major when she went to college, but she doesn't put much stock in the latest academic research on the subject. Her fraternity menus are based on common sense. "It's ridiculous to pay attention to all these food experts and health nuts—just don't eat too much!"

Besides, she says, motherhood was her most useful training ground. Her two sons were Phi Psi members, as were four grandsons.

College men haven't changed much in 25 years, she says. An interest in political activism seems to come and go, but she is relieved that there has not been a resurgence of the campus protests of the 1960s. "Those horrid people; they were mostly under the influence of drugs. They weren't from this fraternity."

Her only concern with today's generation is that they "expect instant gratification signified by pushing that little TV button. They're impatient, they're not ingenious. They don't have to provide their own entertainment, so they don't."

The men of Phi Psi will be hard pressed to replace her. "You knew where you stood with Mom Stringfellow," says Mike Terry, a Phi Psi alumnus and a 1974 DePauw graduate. "She helped mold character.

"She was our tie to the faculty and to the alumni. In 25 years, she knew a lot of them. She was at the house for two generations of students. DePauw is a family-oriented university, and she had a great deal of impact on a family sending a son to college. She gave the fraternity stability.

"We looked upon her as a person to whom we gave our respect." In 25 years, Mrs. Stringfellow never entered the dining room alone. A fraternity member always escorted her to lunch and dinner.

That's the sort of training a young man doesn't learn in a dormitory setting, she says. "It's learning responsibility. In the dorms, you have to establish your own patterns. Nobody cares what you do.

"A housemother is a symbol of authority, even though I have none."

If Mrs. Stringfellow has any advice for her successor, she's not going to share it. "You have to establish your own style," she says.

But she does offer a few general insights. "You can't get too upset when they get noisy, when they drink too much, when they use obscenities."

And sometimes, it's best to have faith in the notion that what a housemother doesn't know won't hurt her. "I never go upstairs unless I'm invited. That's their territory. I don't know if they're untidy upstairs. I assume they are.

"You have to know when to be part of a situation and when not to."

FROM THE ROAD...

A potpourri of thoughts from the Educational Leadership Consultants

Phi Psi's "road warriors" for the 1988-1989 academic year are (I to r): veteran Dave Boersma and rookies Andy Roush, Dan O'Rourke, and Erik Hume.

David Boersma Kansas '84 Back To School

"Be it resolved that all Chapters of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity be required to maintain an average in excess of the all men's average at their institution of learning, or in excess of a 2.50 (on a 4.00 base), whichever is higher."

An unreachable goal or a challenge to push our undergraduate members to excel in the academic arena? The fraternity world has always boasted that fraternity grade point averages were higher than the all men's average, and that Greek men remain in college compared to other men on campus. Well, the latter may still be true, but the former has reversed itself on many college campuses across the nation.

What is causing this trend? Are our rush efforts not finding and attracting the creme de la creme? Are our Fraternity Education programs detracting from scholastics or teaching new students good study habits? I guess I'm not sure I know myself, that's why we should all be asking the same questions and then start moving in the appropriate direction.

Why do parents and students pay thousands of dollars every year to attend colleges and universities? I don't think it's to wear funny beanies with propellors or to join fraternities for that matter. The mission behind every institution is to further a student's education and to help prepare them for the real world. Everything else that happens at a college campus is to further enhance the student's education.

Our Fraternity Manual tells us one of the obligations of every pledge is "application to scholarship is a college man's first duty to his college, his fraternity, and to himself." Furthermore, it is "honorable and proper and directly in harmony with Phi Kappa Psi ideals and standards to study hard, and be proud of a good scholastic record."

Next, let me recite from the ideal pertaining to scholarship. "Since scholarship is the primary responsibility of the college, the Chapters generally strive to achieve creditable averages by enforcing study rules and by encouraging a serious attitude toward study The will to study comes from within but it can be stimulated and inspired from without." Where am I trying to go with all of this? That's another good question.

The resolution was installed not to penalize Chapters, but to encourage them to reach higher and also to light a fire under the tails of some. Undergraduates may also want to add one more point of their own and require Chapter officers to maintain a certain cumulative average in order to hold a position . . . leadership by example perhaps.

Let's look at everything from a slightly different angle. If fraternities ceased to exist the higher education system would continue to thrive (we have evidence of this already), but if there were no longer any host institutions (universities), fraternities as we know them would cease to exist.

I think it's all written before us in black and white, especially now that Greek systems are under a microscope. There is an easy solution to all of this: Let's all strive to work a little harder and see an improvement. In the long run, is that really so bad? M. Erik Hume Guess Who's Coming Purdue '85 To Dinner?

Phi Psi Chapters have always been a haven for undergraduates, those roaming gypsies in search of adventure. And because Phi Psis everywhere are especially hospitable to other Fraternity Brothers, there are a number of standard etiquette practices that will ensure this continued good harmony.

When visiting friends or family you always call ahead. Use the same courtesy when visiting a Phi Psi Chapter. Always call and ask permission to visit a Chapter. Inform the Chapter president of the number of Brothers that will be coming. Of course, never show up at another Chapter's social function unannounced as this creates unnecessary friction. And bring bedding if you expect an overnight visit. A small gift of appreciation would add a nice touch to your visit.

Do not embarrass the host Chapter with irresponsible behavior. The damage done in reputation to the host Chapter will certainly put a strain on interchapter relations. In addition to cleaning up after yourself, do something extra. Vacuuming the Chapter house or fixing breakfast on Sunday morning will make you welcome again.

Corresponding is a great habit to get into while you are in college, so drop a thank you card in the mail when you get home. And if you had an enjoyable visit at a Chapter, invite that Chapter president and his guest to attend your next dance as a gesture of good will.

Interchapter events are an excellent way to forge new relationships. Events such as softball tournaments, volleyball tournaments, and cookouts do not take much time or money to host. Donate man-hours to your community and invite local Chapters to participate. This will do a service to the community and give you a chance to meet Brothers from another Chapter. Plan well in advance for these activities and they will pay dividends

If your Chapter is called upon, let the visiting Brothers know if it is a bad weekend for a "road trip." But if you are able to host visitors, be sure to post a note on the bulletin board mentioning that guests from another Chapter will be staying and seek out Brothers that will be good hosts for the group. Be as hospitable as you can to the group and they will return the favor. Remember: Most misunderstandings can be avoided by just discussing protocol and common courtesy at Chapter meetings. Happy Trails!

Daniel P. O'Rourke Dust Off Those Indiana '84 Manuals!

Hello Brothers! It has been two months since I started my position with the Fraternity and I must say it has already proved quite interesting. The vast majority of my first month of training has been spent reading the many assorted manuals that Phi Psi publishes for Chapter use. This experience briefly brought me back to my early years as an undergraduate.

It was a warm March evening in 1984. I had just been elected president of my Chapter not two hours earlier. Needless to say, I was both elated and petrified. After all of the handshakes and pats on my back, I returned to my room to reflect on the evening's previous events. I was wondering just how I would be able to pull off the job of running a fraternity chapter with little to no experience. I did not worry for long because I assumed the outgoing president would prepare me for my upcoming position of responsibility.

To my surprise, the new officer training lasted all of three minutes. It started with a knock on my door, and ended with the outgoing president dropping a box of officer manuals (in a variety of colors and styles), along with assorted Chapter regalia on my couch. His only words of wisdom were, "Good luck." Consequently, I served my Chapter as GP without thoroughly reading any of the handbooks or training manuals.

Now I am sure some of you are wondering how a Chapter could possibly elect an individual who does not have enough sense to read these vital materials. However, it is my feeling that many of our undergraduate leaders who have held offices in a Chapter have never taken time to read any of the information Phi Psi offers.

This great wealth of information is designed to fulfill a dual role. First, these manuals and handbooks are designed to lay a framework for officers and committee chairmen to successfully execute their respective positions. Secondly, they should be used to aid an outgoing officer or committee chairman in the training of his replacement. Unfortunately, many great ideas, formulated by officers and committee chairmen during their tenure in office, are lost during a transitional period. The obligation of an officer does not end with the conclusion of a semester or academic year. In order to maintain consistency within a Chapter, incoming officers should clearly understand their role within the Chapter before they assume their respective office or chairmanship.

As an Educational Leadership Consultant, I would like to spend some time with outgoing and incoming officers during my visits. These meetings will benefit the Chapters in that a consistent foundation could be established to eliminate many of the uncertainties and questions newly elected officers may have. Outgoing officers should also consider a retreat for the newly elected and appointed officers of their respective Chapters. This would help bridge the communication gap during transitionary periods; while newly elected officers were adjusting to their positions in office.

I am looking forward to my travels this fall and I am sure many of you have a great deal to offer your Chapter. Please utilize the many manuals Phi Kappa Psi offers to her undergraduates. Believe me, they will make your job much easier in the long run. Best of luck this fall!

Andrew G. Roush Survival: The Letterman Wabash '85 and Moore Way

You will all be pleased to know that once again Phi Kappa Psi has done an exceptional job of keeping her Consultants informed of the latest trends in the world of higher education. In fact, if there was such a thing as a Man-Mile award for conference, lecture, discussion, and workshop attendance, the Phi Psi staff would be admiring their trophy even as I write. Instead, this high-minded fraternity man will just have to be satisfied with a healthy dose what the erudite among us like to call "edification."

Now, first of all, I'm told that "edification" should not be confused with "education." The latter is what parents pay huge amounts of money for their children to get; the former is that sliver of enlightenment students assimilate when they accidentally find themselves awake during a lecture. I only know because something akin to this happened to me last week.

Although the truth communicated was hardly divine, you would not have known so from speaking with the Greek deans and university administrators making the conference circuit. According to those who know (and count), the Greek system's contract with colleges and universities is tenuous at best, and much improvement is needed if fraternities are to maintain their place on American campuses. To many, this probably comes as little surprise, but to one whose undergraduate institution was ostensibly fortified and invigorated by a flourishing fraternity system, such a mordant pronouncement seemed unfounded.

But it was not. That Franklin and Marshall, Colby, Amherst, Williams, and Gettysburg Colleges have recently chosen to either remove their fraternities or, at least, "derecognize" them seems ample evidence that serious problems exist.

To an outsider unexposed to the frequently inequitable bent of the media, the friction between fraternity and university would probably seem unlikely and paradoxical. After all, what thoughtful faculty would hesitate to embrace an organization founded upon and imbued with such lofty ideals as those put forth by Letterman and Moore? Truth, honor, virtue, integrity of principle, devotion to the right, nobleness of soul, and generosity—the language alone is enough to titillate any liberal mind. And yet entire Greek systems are being removed from campuses. Clearly, at some point fraternity behavior has departed from fraternity ideal.

Now, of course, I'm not one to avoid fun, and granted, many longstanding fraternity traditions fall into that very desirable category. But there comes a point when practicality demands immediate attention, and this is definitely such a case. Gentlemen, if our strong band is to remain strong and prevalent within the American university, our behavior must bear some semblance to the high ideals set down by our Founders. In fact, I'm not asking that you be edified by the reality of our relationship with the university; I demand it. She is mine, and only yours as you uphold her tradition. Edification implies an improvement in morals, and legislated modification of behavior is the most readily verifiable means of accomplishing such change.

If you have any feeling whatsoever for the Fraternity to which you have associated, I urge you to actively participate in any necessary change in local philosophy and policy. Cooperation with your university is the sustenance for survival that we all must seek. Ours is not to be of a parasitic relationship—rather, our relationship with the university should be symbiotic—each party thoroughly and unquestionably benefitting by the existence of the other

Please, take this to heart as your university requests change. Your cooperation will sustain us all.

He was a former editorial page editor of The Dallas Morning News whose Labor Day 1941 editorial is credited with sparking the right-to-work movement. The National Right to Work Committee still awards an annual college scholarship in his name. Texas Governor Bill Clements called him "a great Texan" and "an outstanding editor." Ruggles started his 41-year career with The News in 1919 as a reporter. He became the sports editor the next year and was promoted in 1926 to editorial writer and associate editor of the editorial page. He was named editorial page editor in 1943 and retired in 1960. His career in journalism began in 1910 when, after three years at the University of Texas, he joined the staff of The Houston Post as the sports editor. Six years later he became a sports writer for The Galveston News. World War I interrupted his journalism career when he enlisted in the Army. He left The News three times during his tenure there: In 1920 to become executive secretary of the Dallas Automobile Club; in 1925 to serve as executive secretary of the Ex-Students Association of the University of Texas; and finally in 1942 to serve in World War II in a number of positions including assistant chief of staff and as adjunct general for several divisions of the armed forces. Shortly after his retirement, Governor Allan Shivers named him a major general in the Texas National Guard. He was a member of Highland Park Presbyterian Church, Texas Poetry Society, Dallas County Historical Society, Dallas Press Club, and Sons of Republic of Texas. Born on March 7, 1891, Ruggles was 97 when he joined the Chapter Eternal.

"A STORY OF THE SWANSON FAMILY . . . MONTANA PIO-NEERS", By The Family.

Unlike most privately published family histories, "A Story of the Swanson Family" could and probably would have been written if the family had not done so.

It is a recounting of the homesteading experience of one family and the successful lives the children enjoyed based largely on the values learned at Mountain View, the Swanson Family's homestead near Troy, Montana.

The book was written by William Swanson, Washington '29, and his three older sisters (all charter members of the Delta Zeta Chapter at the University of Washington) and is a compilation of the memories they hold of their parents, their childhoods, schooling and careers.

In 1882, the Swanson's mother, Johanna Mathilda Carlson, came to America at age 17 to start a new life. Soon after, she met Frank Swanson a railroad employee turned pioneer. The Swansons were married in 1898 and, after traveling 150 miles by wagon from Kalispel, began the work of creating a home from the 160 acres of Montana wilderness that Frank had claimed in

The book is full of accounts of life on one of America's last great frontiers. Those comfortable with today's modern conveniences and lifestyles will be more appreciative after discovering the hardships involved with everyday life on a Montana homestead.

Most importantly, the history is a story of triumphs and successes. The pursuit of an education in the early 1900s in Montana required sacrifices and dedication. All four Swansons attended college and one, Florence, continued on to medical school and a prominent career in psychiatry.

Also notable is the seemingly ingrained wanderlust which all four Swanson children experienced throughout their lives. A particularly descriptive passage is Bill's trip to Fairbanks, Alaska to work during a break in his studies and his exciting and sometimes dangerous return voyage down the Yukon River.

Also highlighted in detail is the planning, building and operating of Mountain View Lodge, named in honor of the homestead created by Frank and Mathilda Swanson. From its opening in 1948 until 1978, when the decision was made to stop taking paying guests, the Lodge gained recognition from coast-tocoast for its hospitality, food and view.

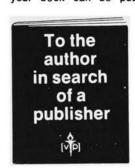

"A Story of the Swanson Family" is an intimate personal glance into the time before radio, television, jet airplanes and computers and before the new lifestyle these things have created. But more importantly, it is a story of a typical American family which worked hard to create a home and a place in our country.

For more information on the book, contact William Swanson, P.O. Box 6570, Phoenix, AZ 85005.

GEORGE HOLDREGE, Colorado '32, WALTER M. CARLSON, Colorado '35, JAMES G. PEIRCE, Colorado '36, and G. ALLAN SMITH, Colorado '36, were in attendance at Colorado University's Class of 1938 fifty-year reunion held in Boulder on May 12-14. Also in attendance was Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, a member of that class.

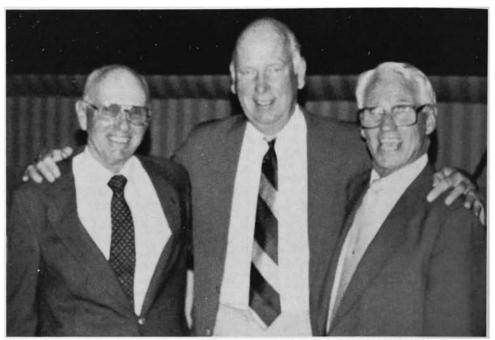

HARRY B. MATZEN JR., Case Western Reserve '33, was elected president of the Service Corps of Retired Executives by the organization's Board of Directors at its quarterly meeting in Chicago in June. SCORE's nationwide, 13,000-member, volunteer organization is the largest business development agency in the U.S. It provides free business counseling through over 750 chapters and satellite offices. It is also one of the most efficient organizations, providing counseling services and nominal-fee workshops to over 330,000 clients last year at a cost of just over $2 million. It is funded by the U.S. Small Business Administration. Matzen retired from Republic Steel Corporation in Cleveland in 1977.

Sonneborn

JOHN G. SONNEBORN JR., Swarthmore '38, was re-elected to his third term as chairman of the California Commission on Aging. He was appointed to the commission for an unprecedented third term by Governor George Deukmejian. The 25-member commission is charged by state law to serve as the "principal advocate body in the state for older people."

ART SANSOM, Case Western Reserve '40, was honored by the National Cartoonists Society on May 28 when he won a Reuben award for the best humor comic strip at the annual awards ceremony in San Francisco.

Ohio Alphans (I to r) WILLIAM E. TRUTNER, '40, EUGENE J. QUACKENBUSH, '41, and WILLIAM W. WATKINS, '40, were in attendance at the Ohio Wesleyan Class of 1943's 45th reunion. In 1943, Trutner, Quackenbush and Watkins were captains of the varsity baseball, basketball and football teams, respectively. Seven other Phi Psis also attended the reunion; more than any other fraternity! The event took place on May 13, 1988 in Delaware, Ohio.

Sansom won with his strip The Born Loser which appears in more than 1,000 newspapers nationwide. Sansom is in good company with other 1988 winners such as Chuck Jones, the creator of Bugs Bunny, Daffy Duck and Porky Pig and Mort Drucker of Mad Magazine.

EDD R. TURNER, Texas '40, chose politics instead of complete retirement and was recently elected Mayor in the town of Kerrville, Texas this past May. His political career began in 1986 when he was elected to the City Council and was made Mayor Pro Tem in 1987. Kerrville is located in the Hill Country of Texas about 65 miles northwest of San Antonio with a population of about 19,000.

H. F. McCARTY JR., Ole Miss '41, is chairman of the board and chief executive officer of McCarty Farms Inc., a firm which produces more than 60 million broilers sold nationally and internationally from complexes in Magee, Forest and Jackson, MS. An entrepreneur and self-made businessman, he is former director of the Southeastern Poultry & Egg Association, National Broiler Council and Poultry & Egg Institute of America. He was named "Man of the Year in Service to Mississippi Agriculture" in 1977 by Progressive Farmer.

JAMES E. BROOKS, Ole Miss '42, recently retired as president of the Earle State Bank in Earle, Arkansas after 31 years of service. He has served as president of the bank since 1966. During his tenure as president and CEO, the bank's assets increased from $5.5 million to almost $30 million and it has been rated as one of the top banks in Arkansas. He feels the reason for his great success was his great conservatism in fiscal matters. He often said the only change in banking he had ever whole-heartedly accepted was the adoption of air-conditioning. Despite this reluctance for change, Brooks was responsible for the construction of two new ultra modern banking facilities located at Earle and Crawfordsville, Arkansas.

J. LLOYD HUCK, Penn State '42, and his wife DOROTHY, Gamma Phi Beta, have given $2 million to boost Penn State's biotechnology program, fund a faculty chair in medicine and establish a library acquisitions endowment. Huck is chairman of Nova Pharmaceutical Corp. and president of Penn State's Board of Trustees. He said that $1 million of the gift is designated for the Biotechnology Institute's building fund. The Hucks' gift also will establish a $1 million endowed faculty chair in medicine at Penn State's Milton S. Hershey Medical Center. The J. Lloyd Huck Chair in Medicine will provide a distinguished faculty member in the field of internal medicine with the opportunity to further scholarly excellence in patient care and public service. To fund the endowed chair, $750,000 will be added to a $250,000 endowment established by the Hucks in 1985. The remaining $250,000 of the Hucks' gift will endow the Dorothy Foehr Huck Library Acquisition fund. Huck is chairman of the biotechnology Leadership Chair while his wife is a member of the Libraries Advisory Board.

THEODORE A. OFSTEDAHL, Minnesota '46, is the national treasurer for the YMCA. He manages Valley Bank's middle-market business-development unit and is responsible for the Phoenix bank's efforts in the commercial middle market and the professional-executive services area. He also concentrates on business development. Prior to joining Valley Bank, he was with United Bank of Arizona for more than 20 years, retiring in 1987 as executive vice president.

DONALD B. KAISERMAN, Bucknell '52, right, senior director of international marketing and operations for Periphonics, a world leader in advanced voice response and voice messaging systems, accepts the prestigious 1988 New York State Governor's Award for Achievement in Export on behalf of the company. R. Barry Spaulding, a deputy commissioner of the New York State Department of Economic Development, made the award.

WILLIAM TORRES, Syracuse '54, was chosen as President of the San Juan-Puerto Rico Convention Bureau after serving on the Board of Directors of the organization. His climb to the top began when he became a marketing consultant for two government agencies in Puerto Rico: the Department of Commerce and the Economic Development Administration. He then directed the Management Development Center at the College of Business Administration of the University of Puerto Rico. He continued mounting new challenges by becoming the Director of Public Relations and also an account executive in Young & Rubicam Advertising. He completed his studies in law at Inter American University and specialized in bankruptcy law. As a vice president at Kidder Peabody he became a registered Wall Street broker. He began his work at the Convention Bureau in 1986 and is working to make Puerto Rico the "shining star of the Caribbean."

McHargue

WAYNE O. McHARGUE, Indiana '56, was initiated as an honorary member of the Indiana State University Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma. Beta Gamma Sigma is a national scholastic honor society in the field of business administration, and is considered the equivalent of membership in Phi Beta Kappa or Phi Kappa Phi, both of which are nationally known scholastic honoraries. McHargue has completed qualifications for five professional designations and two masters degrees, and has qualified for Life Member status in the Million Dollar Round Table. He currently serves as president of the 3,400-member Indiana State Association of Life Underwriters, Inc. He has also served as president of the Indianapolis Association of Life Underwriters, Inc., the Indiana Association of Health Underwriters, Inc., and the Indianapolis Chapter of Chartered Life Underwriters, Inc.

JIM BURR, Minnesota '58, designed the new Phoenix Greyhound Park where enthusiasts can enjoy gourmet meals and a tableside television view of the dog races.

MICHAEL A. MILES, Northwestern '58, was featured in a recent issue of Fortune magazine. Miles, the current President and chief operating officer of Kraft, is on track to follow John Richman as CEO of the U.S.'s largest independent food company according to Fortune's article. Miles began his career with Kraft in 1982 following an eleven-year tenure with Kentucky Fried Chicken. Joining KFC in 1971, Miles rose to the top within six years and was running the restaurant franchise chain. He was credited with revitalizing the slumping organization by luring back Colonel Harland Sanders as the company's pitchman. Miles jumped to Kraft when KFC was bought by R. J. Reynolds. In addition to his duties at Kraft, he serves on the board of the Chicago Lyric Opera.

BRUCE D. HAMMOCK, Louisiana State '66, received the Burroughs Wellcome Toxicology Award to develop toxicology as a discipline. He recently was selected as principle investigator of a NIEHS Superfund $5.5 million program to work on clean up of hazardous waste in the environment. GARY M. OLSON, Ed.D., Ashland '69, earned his doctor of education degree from the Department of Health Behavior Science at SUNY Buffalo. His dissertation was entitled, "An Evaluation of a Low Back Health Education Program Which Uses the Activated Health Model for Intervention and Design." Research for the study was conducted at Buffalo General Hospital and Sheehan Memorial Hospital in Buffalo. He also received his Master's from SUNY Buffalo. Olson also received a patent on a back extension machine he hopes can be refined for use as a diagnostic tool in forecasting the potential for lower back problems. He is the president of GANEBAC Inc. and has signed a contract with the Center for Corporate Health Promotion of Reston, Virginia in connection with product development and marketing. GANEBAC produces educational materials and hardware intended to help reduce the occurrence of lower back pain in workers. Olson has been employed by Panama Central School (N.Y.) for 16 years and is director of physical education. He is a resident of Ashville, New York.

PAUL W. SPRINGMAN, Vanderbilt '70, a senior vice president at Shand, Morahan & Company, Inc., has been appointed the head of SMCO's Underwriting Department. He began his tenure at Shand Morahan in 1984 as the manager of the Special Risks Underwriting Department with more than 10 years of commercial insurance underwriting and management experience already to his credit. He has served as an underwriting division manager for several SMCO underwriting departments since 1985 and has been a member of the Shand Morahan Operations Committee for several years.

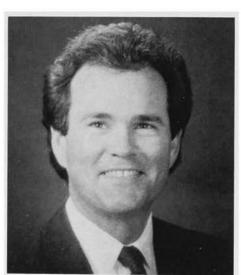

Flowers

MICHAEL E. FLOWERS, Bucknell '73, was selected as one of the 1988 Ten Outstanding Young Citizens by the Columbus (Oh.) Jaycees. He is a partner in the business department of the law firm of Porter, Wright, Morris & Arthur in Columbus. His outline of various professional and civic volunteer activities showed consistent and significant involvement on his part in activities directed toward improving the quality of life in the Columbus area through meaningful contributions to both the minority and majority populations. He is a trustee and secretary of the board at the Willow Brook Christian Nursing Home, a trustee and secretary of the board at The Church of Christ and chairman for all benevolent activities there. He has also served as trustee for United Cerebral Palsy and was on its development committee. He has been active with the United Way, as well as Children's Hospital.

DOUGLAS POND, Indiana '75, and DAVID GRANT, DePauw '76, were among a group of thirty Hoosier agriculturists who traveled to Washington, D.C. to meet with key people to discuss international trade, environmental and health issues, the World Bank and the 1988 Presidential election as part of an agricultural leadership development program. The activities scheduled were designed to encourage class members to learn more about how the federal government operates, and how issues of local or state interest fit into the national interest. Pond is currently an Ag Energy Specialist with the Indiana Department of Commerce in Indianapolis while Grant is the Vice President of Finance for Strauss Veal Feeds, Inc. in North Manchester.

BRUNO TALERICO, Monmouth '75, a critical care nurse at Boswell Memorial Hospital in Sun City, Arizona was one of over three hundred riders who trekked across the United States from Seattle to Atlantic City raising money for the American Lung Association. The crew left Seattle on June 6 and arrived in Atlantic City—3397 miles later—in late July. Talerico's goal was to raise $5000 while the entire group hoped to raise over $2 million. He is an avid backpacker and has been cycling for about 2 years. He is a two-time veteran of the Arizona Lung Association's Tri-Canyon Trek.

Wat

JOHN D. WATT III, Duke '75, former executive director of the Staunton (Va.) Chamber of Commerce has been named Community Development Manager for the Virginia Division of Tourism. In his new position, Watt will be responsible for coordinating efforts of state, regional and local tourism organizations in tourism development and promotion. He will work with communities in the state interested in developing new programs aimed at attracting travellers to Virginia and act as the Division's liaison with over 40 communities currently active in tourism promotion.

JAY DONOHUE, Kansas '78, the executive director for the Kansas City Organizing Committee, was responsible for preparing the city for the NCAA Final Four basketball tournament this past April. The only paid staff member, Donohue was responsible for a volunteer staff of 200 and a $600,000 budget. The wide range of the committee's responsibilities included everything from printing the tickets and decorating Kemper Arena to the selection of gifts for VIPs, the presentation of hospitality events, and the transportation of media and special visitors. Prior to taking the position with the KCOC, Donohue was a commercial real estate agent working for his father. Donohue is also a past Archon for District V and serves as a member of the Kansas Alpha House Corporation and as an officer of the Kansas City Alumni Association.

JOSEPH M. O'CONNELL, Southwest Texas State '79, serves as city government reporter for the Temple (Texas) Daily Telegram. A feature article he wrote on a low-budget alcohol abuse center operating out of an abandoned missile base recently received a second-place award from the Texas Press Association.

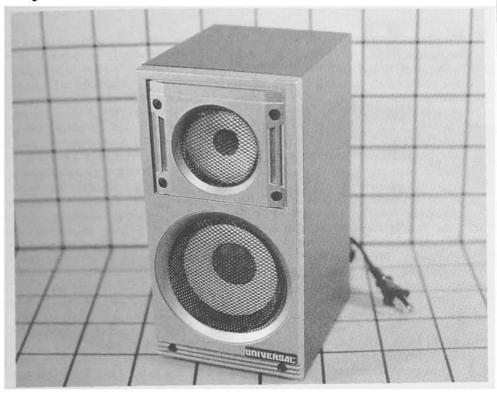

DOUGLAS J. SWANSON, Eastern New Mexico '80, was recently honored with several first-place awards in New Mexico state-wide competition among Associated Press broadcasters. He is news director for Associated Press member stations KPSA and KPSA-FM in Alamogordo, New Mexico.

SPACE AGE SPEAKER

UNIVERSAL® Company develops exciting new technology that allows speaker placement anywhere in your home without speaker wires.

TECHNOLOGICAL BREAK-THROUGH

Highly acclaimed in The Wall Street Journal as one of the most exciting new products in the '87 Consumer Electronics Show. The UNIVERSAL Speaker System enables you to listen to your favorite music (records, cassettes, reel tapes, CDs, or AM/FM radio) throughout your home without having to run miles of speaker wire everywhere. Simply plug in the UNIVERSAL transmitter into the tape jacks of your receiver, and then plug in the UNIVERSAL speakers into any household electrical outlet. The music is transmitted through your home's wiring. No Speaker Wires are Needed! And the sound is great; with deep, rich bass and crystal clear highs.

GREAT SOUND ANYWHERE

Enjoy music on your patio, by the pool, in the bedroom, bathroom, while working in the garage or even at the office. You can have as many speakers as you have outlets, without the worry of speaker wiring running endlessly through your home. Place one, two, or four speakers in a room, or one speaker in every room in the house. The possibilities are endless, and each speaker has its own on/off volume control, for even more versatility.

SUPERIOR FEATURES

The UNIVERSAL Speaker System is of the highest quality design. The $9\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{3}{4} \times 6$ " accoustically constructed cabinet delivers deep bass through a $4\frac{1}{2}$ " woofer and a $2\frac{1}{2}$ " tweeter captures those delicate highs for a full rich sound.

Installation is quick and simple, the transmitter plugs directly into the tape jacks of your receiver and includes a y-jack, so you don't lose the use of your tape jacks. The speakers with their built-in receivers simply plug into any household outlet anywhere you want to listen to your main system, regardless of the distances from your stereo. In addition, this new technology simply taps into the signal your stereo already generates, so it will not affect your stereo in any way. Since the transmitter combines both the right and left channels of your stereo, you get a full and rich high fidelity sound.

These technological wonders are available direct from the manufacturer, and your satisfaction is guaranteed with a 30 day return privilege and a full 90 day manufacturer's warranty.

ACT NOW AND SAVE

These wireless speakers will carry a price tag of $125 each when they become available to retailers late this year. But NOW, through a special promotional campaign, the UNIVERSAL 2-way speaker system, transmitter, and jack is only $69. And if you order more than one speaker, each additional speaker is only $59. That's less than half the price you can expect to pay when they hit retail stores in the future. Act NOW and pay less than dealer cost through our MANUFACTURERS

DIRECT PRICING!

When ordering make sure you specify your promotional order code FR1X. Most orders are sent within 72 hours of receipt.

So enjoy your favorite music from records, cassettes, reel tapes, CD's, or AM/FM radio anywhere in your home or by your patio/pool area with the UNIVERSAL Wireless Speaker System.

Get Ready For

by M. Erik Hume, Purdue '85

There's no doubt about it, dry rush has arrived on college campuses. In the past few years, undergraduates and alumni alike have put forth more effort to bring about change in current rush programs than ever before. At this point, most institutions are requiring fraternities to rush without alcohol, and inevitably, all will have such provisions. In the following paragraphs I hope to offer Chapters who have yet to participate in dry rush, the tools to do so. I will also offer suggestions for improvement for those Chapters that have undertaken this great and necessary challenge.

First, we must understand, that instituting dry rush on your campus will take hard work; and lots of it. If the Chapter hopes to be successful in its efforts, the members will have to give dry rush their total support, especially if the host institution does not mandate dry rush. You must be prepared to be the leader in your Greek system at first, but when the university eventually mandates a dry rush policy, Phi Psi will be way ahead of the process.

Education is one major component of introducing a successful non-alcoholic program. The members should fully understand how and why dry rush operates. It's the same basic rush principle: If you don't understand your own product, how can you possibly sell it to others?

The reasons for dry rush are quite simple: First and foremost, alcohol has absolutely no place in the recruitment of members. In addition, every state in the country has now set the legal drinking age at 21-years-old. Further, skyrocketing liability insurance premiums coupled with the increasing number of alcohol-related tragedies demand we make immediate and significant changes in our recruitment processes.

The primary objective of rush is to evaluate potential members and select for your Chapter those you find of exceptional character and quality. If both members and rushees are even slightly intoxicated rational decision cannot be made by either party. It's true; rush with alcohol does attract people, but are they of the quality Phi Kappa Psi membership demands? If you sell a party atmosphere to rushees, you recruit partiers. By the same token, if you sell the true meaning of "fraternity" and high ideals, you get a rushee concerned with those concepts which in turn makes our Fraternity stronger and better.

After your Chapter understands the need for dry rush, proper implementation must follow. Whereas the "traditional" rush relies mainly on the large quantities of beer to entice hordes of people, dry rush relies on more personal, one-to-one contact away from big functions. In this manner, the Chapter can evaluate the rushee, and vice versa, more responsibly. Both the Chapter and the rushee get a clearer picture of each other and mistakes are less likely to occur. Of course, the entire Chapter must meet each rushee, so events such as dinners, intramural games, college sports events and so forth should be accommodating to this purpose.

More personal contacts can also shorten the selection process because impressions are more genuine when not embellished by a glass or more of alcohol. You will impress the integrity of Phi Kappa Psi upon rushees by explaining that the membership selection process is too important to both parties for alcohol to play a role. And parents of rushees will be more supportive knowing their son is considering joining an organization that does not put social functions and alcohol ahead of education.

To be a complete success, dry rush must be all-encompassing in Chapter activities where rushees are involved. The Chapter should not be resistant to change in any way if it hopes to be successful. And leading the pack in dry rush has another benefit as well: Both the university and the community will look favorably upon a fraternity Chapter that has made a positive change in caring for the welfare of its students. In many cases, fraternities are given more latitude by the universities in setting the guidelines for dry rush if they are already working in that direction.

As stated in the beginning, most campuses across the nation have already adopted dry rush into their Greek systems, but Phi Psis should always be asking, "How can we do it better?" For starters, always remember to follow IFC and university regulations closely. Probation, fines, and other penalties can be avoided by simply following the rules.

Creativity is the key to attracting and keeping the attention of prospective members; this makes brainstorming for ideas essential. Solicit ideas from the entire Chapter, but do not discuss any of them until all creative reserves have been exhausted. Presenting awards as an incentive for coming up with the most creative idea can really start the old creative juices flowing! The more unique and interesting your functions are, the more likely you will be to arouse the curiosity of rushees, which translates to higher attendance at events. A good rule is to avoid having functions on Friday or Saturday nights for obvious reasons. Home football games also prove to be awkward for rush functions.

Publicity is always important to any recruitment campaign and the campus newspapers and radio stations are perfect for that. Articles and editorials in newspapers are free and advertising in campus papers and on local radio stations is typically inexpensive. Most of these ads can be funded with money previously used to purchase alcohol. Corporate sponsorship from soft drink companies is also regularly used by the IFC's rush. It's also possible other companies would welcome the association with a fraternity concerned with responsible behavior.

Seek the advice of personnel in the university administration. The Greek advisor or dean of students could offer different insights that can help your Chapter. Alumni involvement and support is important, too. Seek out their advice and send them a letter informing them of your dry rush program. Other Phi Psi Chapters may also be able to provide you with fresh ideas.

Rush is a never-bending, alwayschanging process and Phi Kappa Psi should seek to be the leader in whatever it does. J. Robert Meserve, Phi Psi's new president, summed it up best when he said, "Dry rush is imperative and is the cornerstone to our survival as a national Fraternity."

Editor's note: Erik is one of Phi Psi's Educational Leadership Consultants. While at Purdue, he served as the IFC's Vice President of Marketing.

A WILL IS NOT Always THE WAY

by Louis Austin, Missouri '66

Contrary to what most people have heard (and have been led to believe over the years), a will is not the best way to plan your estate—primarily because a will does not avoid probate. In fact, a will must be admitted to the probate court to be verified and enforceable.

Also, because a will can only go into effect after you die, it provides no protection if you become physically or mentally disabled—so you could easily end up under the control of the probate court before you die.

Fortunately, there is a very traditional alternative to wills and probate. It's called a living trust. It lets you keep control—even if you become disabled—and it avoids all probate.

What is probate?

Probate is the legal process through which the court makes sure your debts are paid and your property is distributed when you die according to your will (if you have one) or the laws in your state (if you don't have a will, the state in which you live has written one for you; so whether or not you have a will when you die, your family will have to go through probate). The probate court can also take control of your financial and personal affairs while you are still alive if you can't sign your name because of disability or incompetence.

What's so bad about probate?

- It's expensive. Attorney and executor fees and other costs must be paid from your estate before anything can go to your heirs. These costs are usually estimated at 5-15% of the gross value of your estate (before any debts are paid).
- It takes time—usually 1-2 years—and during this time your assets are frozen. Nothing can be sold without the court's approval. If your family needs money to live on, they will have to ask the court for a living allowance, which it may or may not approve.

- Your family has no privacy. Probate files are open to the public, so anyone can see what you owned and who you owed.
- Your family has no control. The probate process has control, and it can be very frustrating for your family to have to pay for the court to tell them who gets what and when. You can imagine how this can lead to all kinds of family disputes.

But I don't have that much. Why should I be concerned about probate?

Everyone should be concerned about probate because it can affect any size estate, large or small, and especially those with real estate. Generally speaking, probate costs take a greater percentage of small estates than large ones.

Doesn't joint ownership avoid probate?

Maybe, but watch out—joint ownership has some very serious risks. If both joint owners die at the same time or if the surviving joint owner dies without adding another owner, the property must be probated before it can go to the heirs. There are other risks, too, but the biggest is disability. If one of the joint owners (including your spouse) becomes disabled, the other won't be able to sell the property, refinance it, etc. without approval from the probate court.

Avoid Probate with
The Living Trust
Alternative

Why would the probate court get involved if someone is disabled?

If you can't sign your name, only the probate court can do it for you. A disabled or incompetent person who owns property will often end up in a probate guardianship and the court will control all of his/her possessions—even if the person has a will (remember, a will can only go into effect at death). And a probate guardianship is a very real possibility these days as modern medical advancements prolong a sometimes debatable quality of life.

What does a living trust do?

A living trust does what most people think a will does-and much more. If you become disabled, the person you have selected as your "back-up" can automatically step in to look after your care and keep your financial affairs in order as long as needed, without probate court interference. This person can use your assets to pay your household bills, medical expenses, insurance, taxes, etc. When you recover, you automatically resume control. Upon your death, your back-up can pay your remaining debts and immediately distribute your property according to your instructions, eliminating all expensive court proceedings and lengthy delays. And, because there is no probate, your privacy is preserved and the emotional stress on your family is minimized.

How does a living trust avoid probate?

When you set up a living trust, you simply transfer all of your property from your individual name to the name of your trust, which you control—such as from "John and Mary Smith, husband and wife" to "John and Mary Smith, Trustees Under Trust Dated 1/1/88". Since you technically no longer own anything (everything now belongs to your trust), there is nothing to probate when you die or if you become disabled. The

	With No Will	With A Will	With A Living Trust
At Disability	Probate court appoints guardian who reports to court. Court controls your finances & assets.	Same as no will	No probate. Your back-up trustee manages your financial affairs according to your instructions for as long as necessary.
Court Costs	You pay all court costs & attorney fees.	Same as no will	None
At Death	Probate court orders your debts paid & your possessions distributed according to state law.	After verifying your will, probate court orders your debts paid & your possessions distributed according to your will.	No probate. Your debts are paid & your possessions are immediately distributed to your beneficiaries by your back-up trustee according to your written instructions.
Court Costs	Your survivors pay all court costs & attorney fees (estimated at 5-15% of the gross value of your estate).	Same as no will	None
Time	1 to 3 years before your heirs receive anything	Same as no will	Usually only 4 to 6 weeks
Flexibility and Control	None: Your property is controlled & distributed by probate court according to state law. Anyone can contest.	Limited: You can change your will any time, but it can be contested. Your survivors have no control over probate costs or delays.	Total: You can change your trust at any time, even discontinue it. Your property remains under total control of your trust, even if you are disabled. Hard to contest.
Privacy	None: Probate proceedings are public record.	None: Same as no will	Total: Privacy preserved. No probate. Living trusts are not public record.

Do I lose control of the property I put into my living trust?

Absolutely not. You keep full control over your property. As "trustee" of your living trust, you can do everything you could do before—buy and sell property, make changes, even cancel your trust at any time. Nothing changes but the names on the titles.

How is a living trust set up?

First, you make some basic planning decisions: inventory your property, decide who you want to receive it after you die (your beneficiaries), select someone you trust to be responsible for its distribution and to step in for you if you become disabled (your back-up trustee), name guardians for your minor children, etc. You will also name a trustee(s) for your trust-normally this will be you (and your spouse if you are married) so that you will have complete control while you are able. Your attorney then takes your plan and prepares the actual legal document. The trust is signed by you and notarized. Then you change all titles and beneficiary designations to the name of your trust. As you acquire new property, you just title it in the name of your trust.

If something happens to me, does my spouse have control?

Yes. Usually married couples are joint trustees, so either of you can act and have instant control if one becomes disabled or dies. Your back-up trustee would then step in only if both of you were disabled or have died.

Is it hard to transfer property into my living trust?

Transferring property to your trust is easy and your attorney can show you exactly how to do it. Almost any kind of property can be held in your trust. Typical trust property includes real estate and other property with formal titles (such as checking/savings accounts, stocks, CDs, insurance, mutual funds, etc.) Of course, many types of property (such as jewelry, art and home furnishings) do not have formal title documents. You don't have to itemize these—they'll be identified in the trust document as "general trust property".

Is a living trust expensive?

Not compared to the costs of probate. Most people should be able to get a living trust done for $500 to $1,000. It could cost more if your estate requires tax planning, if you have a complicated plan, and depending on where you live and how much your attorney charges.

Should I have an attorney do this?

Yes. But you need the right attorney to advise you, make recommendations for your situation and properly prepare the legal documents—someone who believes in living trusts and does them often and at a reasonable price. Don't try to do it yourself—you could be creating some real problems later on. Remember, this is your family—it's not worth the risk.

How long does it take to get a living trust?

After you make the basic decisions, it should only take a couple of weeks to prepare the legal documents.

If I have a living trust, do I still need a will?

Not if you change all titles and beneficiary designations to the name of your trust. But, just in case, we strongly recommend that you have a simple will as a safety net to "catch" any property you may have forgotten. Anything left out of your trust will have to be probated, but at least then it will be directed into your trust and be part of your total plan.

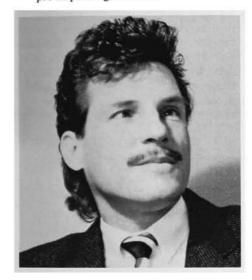

Are living trusts new?

No, they have been used successfully in one form or another for hundreds of years. Just ask your banker, stock broker, financial planner, CPA or life insur-

Are there other advantages to a living trust?

Yes, there are many. Here are a few:

- A living trust reduces or eliminates estate taxes. You can leave up to $1.2 million tax-free to your beneficiaries—saving them about $235,000 in taxes, not to mention thousands of dollars in probate costs.
- Unlike a will, a living trust is extremely hard to contest.
- Your minor children will be fully protected from the probate court, even if you become disabled (not so with a children's trust in a will because your will can't go into effect until your death).
- If you have developmentally disabled children, your living trust can make sure they will be fully protected and provided for according to your instructions.
- A living trust makes a very effective pre-nuptial agreement.

Louis Austin, Missouri '66, is President of Austin Law Center. Over the last seven years, Austin Law Center, headquartered in Kansas City, has been a pioneer in developing a living trust program for the general public and was, in fact, one of the first law firms to actively promote and market living trusts. They have done extensive work with group living trust programs for religious organizations, charities and foundations. Louis Austin is dedicated to educating the public about living trusts and is in demand as an advisor, consultant and speaker.

In addition, Louis Austin is co-author of the book "A Will Is Not The Way—The Living Trust Alternative". Written for the public in conversational English, this book gives an in-depth explanation of the probate process, its affects on families and the living trust alternative. An information and planning book, it has been called "one of the most honest and complete books ever written for the public" on this subject.

Revitalizing Phi Kappa Psi: A Personal Response

by Flynn E. Brantley South Carolina '72

The spring 1988 issue of The Shield, containing a personal view toward modernizing the role of the archons, has created nothing short of extreme, if mixed, reactions. Kent Christopher Owen's suggestion that archons be relieved of their voting privileges has caused rejoicing in some camps and outrage in others. Most of the Brothers probably passed by the article without a second glance, much less a first reading. In fact, I would have left such a lengthy discourse on the archons for some future afternoon of reading if phone calls had not prompted me to reconsider the matter.

I approached Brother Owen's "modest proposal at immodest length" with a high degree of skepticism, recalling the more famous A Modest Proposal by Jonathan Swift, written in 1729. Swift had offered a satiric solution to Ireland's economic and social problems by the conversion of infants into edibles, using the products of the poor but fertile Irish as a food source for the decadent British. The shift in the role of the archon from a voting to an advisory member of the Executive Council might have been perceived as an equally satiric proposition except for the threat of constitutional amendment. While Brother Owen has quite properly described the history of the archonate, his solution seems an extreme that will undermine the strength of Phi Kappa Psi.

"As Brothers, we elect an archon to serve us; as Brothers, we must encourage our archons to serve us well."

The success of Phi Psi government has indeed been a mystery to other fraternal organizations; the proposed change to make our Fraternity like others will not modernize, but standardize our government. However, the role of the archon must be better defined: all of the Brothers need to be aware of the duties of the office, especially those who would seek to hold it. In nearly twenty years of listening to candidates for the office of archon, I have heard repeatedly the promise of improved communication. If such promises had been kept, perhaps we would not be entertaining thoughts of the archons having "less to do."

The suggestion that the removal of voting privileges will permit the archon "to establish more effective and regular communication" sounds wonderful, but it removes the incentive for such action. As Brothers, we elect an archon to serve us; as Brothers, we must encourage our archons to serve us well. If our archons have decreased in their role in governing the Fraternity, perhaps it is because we have expected less of them. Our insistence that the archons take greater responsibility demands that we raise our own expectations and participation. We must clarify what the archons are to be, but not by reducing their privileges or responsibilities. The archons share with the four principle officers a responsibility to undergraduates and alumni who have elected them to serve. Too often we have elected our officers on the basis of popularity rather than on the basis of competency. Our love for a Brother must not cloud our vision of the best course for the Fraternity nor our identification of those best qualified to steer such a course. We trust their leadership not because they are our friends, but because they are our Brothers.

Communication is an important function of the archonate. In order to serve the districts better, archons must be in direct contact with the Chapters and the Alumni Associations they represent. As matters come before the Executive Council, the archons must respond based on the input from both undergraduates and alumni. The archon must not vote from a position of ignorance or with a sense of self-importance; he must be an informed voter on the Council and a servant to the best interests of the Fraternity.

In addition, the archon should serve as a clearinghouse for problems and solutions. Although The Shield provides some information in specific areas, the archon could facilitate the dissemination of details on successful programs at one Chapter or Alumni Association that may provide suggestions for problem-solving at another. This data should be readily available, rather than having to wait for the possible inclusion of such assistance in our quarterly publication. Copies of newsletters, requests for help (both financial and other), plans for rush, community projects, Founders Day celebrations, recommendations for membership, and increased participation in the alumni support program can all be channeled through the archons. Much work remains to be done, but we cannot expect enthusiastic participation from powerless officers.

While many of the former duties of the archons have been relegated to the consultants, the archons should assume those tasks that have been ignored for lack of available manpower. In the area of extending alumni participation, we profess that we have become Brothers for life, yet the burden for continuing activity as an alumnus rests with the elder Brother. Archons should identify those areas within their districts with concentrations of alumni sufficient to support an alumni organization. The archon should encourage individuals to establish regular programs that will involve the Brothers in the communities where they live. As men who should be emulated, we can offer a view of Fraternity that is often overshadowed by the film image of an irresponsible, "partyhardy" gang.

The changes in our Fraternity have revised the assignment of responsibilities, with the archons benefiting in the reduction of duties. However, we still depend on the archons to keep the local Brotherhood informed. Improved channels of communication are more than desirable; they are imperative. The vote of the archon necessitates both effective and regular communication; otherwise the archon fails to represent his district.

And who should hold the archon responsible? This amendment to the constitution would shift the responsibility to the Executive Council, a body which neither elects nor monitors the activities of the archon. That responsibility remains within the district, with the Chapters and Alumni Associations.

The role of the archon is indeed a matter for our serious consideration and assessment, but as Swift's "A Modest Proposal" angered the Irish and amused the British without improving the conditions of those who suffered, so might this change in our constitution prove detrimental to our efforts to develop men who can lead our Fraternity, our community, and our world. Our objective is "to live and to flourish," but the gardener who sets out to prune the branches must use great care lest his fervor for greater productivity cause too extreme a cutting away, and the plant dies. We need not a new plant, not a "modernized" version of the existing structure, but rather a revitalized system that can more fully use the talents of its officers and more fully serve the needs of a challenging future and an involved Brotherhood.

PHI PSI PLANTS ANOTHER BANNER IN TEXAS

by Ray Lousteau SMU '88 and Charles M. Green SMU '88

The Chartering of Texas Delta

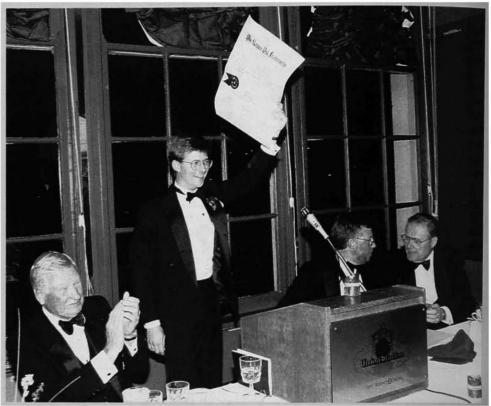

fter almost three years of hard work and perseverance, the Brothers of the Texas Delta Colony at Southern Methodist University finally realized the goal they had strived so hard to achieve—a Phi Kappa Psi charter.

The installation activities began on Thursday, April 28, when the thirty-three candidates for initiation were given the national pledge exam. The test was administered by Gary B. Angstadt, Executive Director and Tane R. Abbott, Director of Chapter Services. Due to the diligence of Fraternity Educator Brad Kaisersatt and his committee, all the Brothers passed with flying colors!

On Friday night, a reception honoring the national officers was held in the new Hughes-Trigg Student Center on the SMU campus. In attendance at the reception were many national officers, including Dr. David F. Hull Jr., SWGP, and Col. Robert E. Lazell, SWAG. In addition to the Texas Deltans, other members of the SMU community came to welcome our guests, including the presidents of the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils, and presidents, social chairpersons, and pledge educators of many sororities and fraternities on campus. Parents and friends of the Colony also attended.

On the morning of April 30, the Brothers of Texas Delta were formally welcomed into the Fraternity in Mackey Chapel at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd. The ceremony was made even more special for two of our members, John George Cummings Jr., and Robert Woodward Baker Jr., for they were presented their badges by their fathers, both Phi Kappa Psi alumni. After the ceremonies, the Brothers were allowed a short break for lunch before the group photograph and toast at the Library Bar in the Melrose Hotel.

The evening banquet was held in the Pullman Room at Union Station in Downtown Dallas. The symposiarch of the festivities was Executive Director Emeritus Ralph D. "Dud" Daniel and the featured speaker of the evening was Dr. David F. Hull Jr., SWGP. The presentation of gifts was presided over by Executive Director Gary B. Angstadt.

The banquet was also attended by Col. Robert E. Lazell, SWAG; Robert F. Marchesani Jr., Administrator of the Endowment Fund; Byron W. Cain Jr., Director of Development; and Educational Leadership Consultants Ronald A. Richard, Joseph L. Siebert, and David T. Boersma. David J. Shafer, Archon of District IV, was also in attendance. After the banquet, the festivities continued with a dance, and there was much merry-making.

HISTORY OF SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

n January 19, 1911, the Methodist church chose the growing city of Dallas as the site for a new university. Southern Methodist University opened its doors to students in August of 1915. As Dallas grew into a dynamic metropolitan area, SMU grew with it.

Today, SMU has grown to an enrollment of 8,800 students in both graduate and undergraduate studies. The Dedman College of Liberal Arts, Cox School of Business, Perkins School of Theology, Meadows School of the Arts, and the School of Law are all regarded throughout the nation as having outstanding, competitive, educational programs.

Although SMU's academic excellence is well-known, it is the athletic program that makes them famous. The recent penalty by the NCAA in football has made headlines, but very few people know that the other amateur athletic teams at SMU are very competitive. SMU's soccer, basketball, swimming, and track teams have all made it to championship playoffs this year, and other teams are ranked in the top twenty in the nation.

HISTORY OF TEXAS DELTA

fter the demise of three chapters at SMU in the early 1980's, Phi Kappa Psi was invited by Southern Methodist University to establish a colony on campus. The Texas Delta Colony was introduced to the SMU Greek system in the fall of 1985. The next four semesters saw the young Colony grow and flourish as an alternative to the older, more established chapters. In its brief history, Texas Delta has shown to play an active role in philanthropic events, campus clubs, intramural events and social activities at SMU.

Many events have caused Phi Psi to become recognized at SMU, including our domination in the Delta Gamma philanthropy, Anchor Splash, and the University Sing Song. In each of these events, our first year of involvement brought us first-place trophies! How's that for competitive? In intramurals, we have gone from no wins in our first year to the playoffs in several sports. We have vaulted from last place to sixth place (out of twelve) in one year.

This past spring semester was, without a doubt, the most successful one in the Colony's history. Not only did Texas Delta have its best rush ever, but it also improved its campus image as an involved, active fraternity.

Texas Delta has continuously believed in the idea of "quality over quantity," and that is the reason behind the Colony's successes. By listening to those members, both actives and alumni, who have been enlightened to the mysteries of Phi Kappa Psi and by remembering the Creed of the Fraternity, the new Chapter knows the reason for our existence goes much deeper than being a "social club," and the foundation is now set for a successful and prosperous future.

PHI PSI CHARTERS KENTUCKY BETA... FINALLY!

by Eric W. Gregory, Kentucky '88

hi Kappa Psi has taken a roller coaster ride in Kentucky history. In 1865, Kentucky Alpha, which has the distinction of being Phi Psi's "shortest-lived" Chapter, was established and almost immediately folded due to anti-fraternity laws on the Transylvania University campus.

After a 120 year absence, Phi Psi established Kentucky Beta, which earned a different title—"oldest colony."

But the Colony relinquished that status on April 23, 1988 when 41 men were initiated as the Founding Fathers of Phi Kappa Psi's 93rd Chapter.

The charter activities began on Thursday, April 21 when Educational Leadership Consultants Joe Siebert and David Boersma issued the final exam. A reception for alumni, campus administrators and members of the University of Kentucky's Greek community was held the following day at the Chapter house. The guests, including the Colony members and their parents, met the representatives from Phi Psi Headquarters and surrounding Chapters.

On Saturday, the initiates met at the Central Christian Church in downtown Lexington where the initiation ceremony took place. The Brothers of Kentucky Beta learned the secrets of Phi Kappa Psi, and returned to the Chapter house for their first "official" meeting. The hard work and patience had paid off—and it showed on the faces of the new Brothers.

The Installation Banquet was held that evening as the Founding Fathers assembled with their parents and guests at the Harley Hotel of Lexington. Symposiarch Ralph D. Daniel hosted the program, which included memorable speeches by Advisor to Fraternities Michael M. Palm and SWGP Dr. David F. Hull Jr.

After the presentations, the new Brothers held their Installation Ball and celebrated the once-in-a-lifetime experience. Tim McMunn, a double legacy, viously been used as a bivouac area during the Civil War, and President James K. Patterson used his personal savings to help construct buildings on the newlyformed campus.

Fraternity Secretary Robert E. Lazzell presents the Chapter seal to Corresponding Secretary Eric Gregory at the installation banquet in Lexington's Harley Hotel.

The institution was named State University in 1908, and changed to the University of Kentucky eight years later.

Today, UK has expanded its system to include 13 community colleges. More than 21,000 students and 8,000 faculty compose the University, which has a complex liberal arts and professional schools program. UK's research in agriculture, equine and business development, as well as its engineering and athletic programs, have gained respect as one of the best in the nation.

Last year Otis Singletary stepped down as president of UK, and Dr. David Roselle took over. Roselle's interest in higher education and research is expected to advance the University of Kentucky as it heads toward the future.

History of Kentucky Beta Colony

entucky Beta has actually existed twice on the University of Kentucky campus. The first Colony, formed in 1983, folded two years later. However, the Phi Psi legacy did not vanish altogether from UK, and the second "generation" was established in 1985.

Lacking campus recognition, a Chapter house and strong membership, the reorganized Colony began to build a new foundation for the future. Rush was held at sorority houses and the "gentleman" aspect of the Fraternity was stressed. Each semester, Kentucky Beta strengthened this foundation through diligence and dedication.

During the 1987-88 academic year, the bricks fell into place. In August, Phi Psi acquired its first Chapter house on Columbia Avenue. The Colony achieved campus recognition by winning several first and second place awards in various greek activities. Membership doubled in size and the quality—not quantity—of the pledges helped Kentucky Beta accomplish its final goal of becoming the 93rd Chapter of Phi Kappa Psi.
