Richard S. Jonas '47

The Jonas family and friends are deeply sad to announce the passing of our beloved husband, father, grandfather and friend, Dr. Richard Squire Jonas, MD. We are also proud to share the story of his remarkable life. He was born in Glendale, CA September 25, 1928. He was the son of a Los Angeles ceramics factory owner and a doctor's daughter who had come to California as a young couple on an adventure, arriving from the East Coast just in time for the Great Depression. At age 17 at a backwards dance at Glendale High School, he met 16-year-old Johann Wertz and the two immediately fell in love. Their first dates included a night at the Los Angeles Palladium Theater, where they heard Doris Day sing "Sentimental Journey" with the Les Brown Orchestra, a song that would remind them of their early months for the ensuing seven decades of life together. The two went to UCLA where they joined the social world of the fraternities and sororities Phi Kappa Psi and Pi Beta Phi, meeting many of the people who would remain their life-long friends. Then he joined the ROTC. When he received his BA in Public Health from UCLA in 1951, he was commissioned in the Medical Service Corps. As a member of the US Navy, Dick was shipped off to serve in the Korean War as Lieutenant. He received the Bronze Star in 1954. Dr. Richard Squire Jonas passed away February 16, 2022 of a heart attack, just over 76 years after his first date with Johann. He died, held in love by his family, grandchildren and his many friends, and fellow community members. He lived 93 years of a richly loving, successful and honorable life of service, generosity, humor, medicine, friendship, family, and still deeply in love with Johann. He will be missed.

Stephen G. Miller '61

Stephen Miller, a professor emeritus of classics who for nearly 50 years led UC Berkeley's archaeological excavation in Greece of a site of the ancient Panhellenic Games, died Aug. 11 in a Greek hospital. The Greek Reporter, an international news outlet, reported that 79-year-old Miller died that morning following a hemodialysis treatment. Miller retired from Berkeley in 2004, and he and his wife, Effie, had been living in a home they'd built that overlooks Berkeley's archaeological complex in the tiny agricultural village of Ancient Nemea, in the northeastern part of Greece's Peloponnese. One of Miller's most widely-known contributions to Greek history was his promotion of and work to establish the modern international Nemean Games, a recreation at the archaeological site of the ancient foot races that gave birth to today's Olympics. The first races were held there in 1996 and drew more than 650 runners, most of them untrained, who were from 29 countries and ranged in age from 10 to 93. Designed to be held every four years, like the modern Olympic Games, the Nemean Games feature judges, heralds and trumpeters dressed in ancient-looking garb. In 1996, the inaugural runners, who competed in togas and barefoot, included then-U.S. Ambassador to Greece Thomas Niles, then-Berkeley Chancellor Chang-Lin Tien and 1968 U.S. Olympic track coach Payton Jordan.

Scott W. Schlievert '66

Scott W. Schlievert, age 73, of Tucson passed away on November 12, 2020 surrounded by the unending love of his three children. Scott was born in Fort Dodge, Iowa on August 5, 1947 and raised in Des Moines, Iowa, the son of Walter and Garnet E. Schlievert. He attended Des Moines schools through childhood and attended the University of Iowa (Go Hawks!) for his undergraduate degree. He graduated from the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law (Bear Down!) in 1972 and practiced law in Tucson for forty-eight years, until his final days. He built a life his children were proud of and they were honored to call him "Dad". Scott is survived by his children, Matthew (Jessica), Ali (Adrian) Alejandro and Cullen (Anjuli); his beloved grandchildren, Rilo, Barrett, Aidden and Emma and his four siblings, Suzanne (Steve) Stockwell-Jackson, Sara (Lars) Peterson, Stuart (Betty) and Stephanie (Jeff) Pavlik. He discovered a love for reading and writing poetry later in life. After he passed, his children discovered this handwritten poem next to his favorite chair: "I know there is a time to go, I also know there will be an end as we know. I've had a full life, little travel but persons I bested. I'm not important enough to leave a bust or a painting of myself. I however know that I have lived a life that will be recalled by those who knew me best. I expect upon demise that any thanks go to my grandkids I love so much. I hope no extra money goes to my passing. My passing thought if one recalls that whatever happens, I'll be there, if at best, a vapor in the clouds." Written by Scott Schlievert Donations made in lieu of flowers will be used to honor Scott's favorite causes, Casa de los Ninos (520-624-5600 www.casadelosninos.org) and the Primavera Foundation (520-308-3116 www.primavera.org).

Stuart J. Heyman '73

Stuart Jay Heyman from Virginia Beach, Virginia, known to everyone as "Skip," passed away September 12, 2020 in the comfort of his home surrounded by his family. He was 65. Family was everything to Skip. He was the loving father to Jill, Steven, and Kerry (Craig) and the ex-husband to Marie Seavey. He would lovingly joke, "Best Divorce Ever!" as they continued to be great friends. He was a brother to Beth and Grace and a proud Uncle to Alex (Ashley), Neil, Ronda, Laurel (Chris), Michelle (JP), David, and their children. Skip was preceded in death by his parents, Norma & Jerome Heyman, his brother, Richard Heyman, his nephew, David Heyman, and his brother-in-law, David Martin. We are certain he is up in heaven reunited with them, telling all of his favorite dad jokes. Skip spent twenty-five years as an engineer at the Ford Motor Company, eight years as a math teacher at Salem High School in Virginia Beach, and finished his career at Huntington-Ingalls. While he changed jobs several times later in his career, his passion was always for teaching and mentoring. He spent countless hours preparing original lesson plans for his math classes and coaching the school's sports teams. Skip was most fulfilled when he was in a classroom or on the field. He left an imprint on students' lives whether or not he was their teacher. Skip was Duke University's #1 fan having attended as an undergraduate and serving as President of the Marching Band. He continued to cheer for the Blue Devils long after graduation. He looked forward to every Sunday, when he would stake his claim in goal, playing soccer with and against all of his friends. Skip will be forever missed and never replaced. He could command the room with his dance moves and laugh, and he gave the best hugs. He will live on in our hearts forever.

Scott P. Bacon '73

Scott P. Bacon, 67, of Wakefield, RI, formerly of Hampden, MA, passed away on Thursday, November 26, 2020 at South County Hospital, Wakefield, RI. Born in Akron, OH on November 5, 1953, he was the son of the late Richard and Joyce (Palmer) Bacon and lived in Ohio until he moved and spent most of his childhood in Longmeadow, MA. Scott graduated from the University of Massachusetts Amherst with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication Studies. In 1993 he obtained his Masters of Education Degree from Westfield State University. He enjoyed a long teaching career for Enfield Public Schools. Eleven years post retirement, former students still remember "Mr. Bacon." His classroom was full of humor and music, as he would insist upon playing his acoustic guitar while teaching the multiplication tables. He would show off his singing voice by creating a song about coordinating conjunctions, and you didn't dare besmirch Tom Petty as a 6th grader in his presence. His daughters still remember the spectacular amount of pig paraphernalia, a homage to his last name that had been gifted to him by countless students throughout the years (and condemned by their mother to never bring home). For years he battled COPD, an illness most would find crippling, but was able to live at home with no medical assistance. When his wife was diagnosed with an incurable illness, Scott put his own health aside to take care of her. He was unapologetically obstinate, even when it came to the beard he refused to shave for over 30 years.

Jon E. Klemons '74

We lost our father, Jon Klemens, on the morning of June 9th, 2020, after a long and hard-fought battle with metastatic neuroendocrine cancer. There was truly no one else on earth like our dad: equal parts loving, sensitive, bombastic, exasperating, funny, and weird as hell. He is so missed and deeply loved, and it has helped our family immensely to hear everyone's wonderful memories of him. So many have echoed the same sentiment: that he loved and was so proud of his family. Jon leaves behind our mother, Linda, as well as his four children, Courtney, Drew, Lindsey, and Kristen, his son-in-law Chip, and his beloved four-legged baby, Piper. Jon kept so much of his illness private, wanting his friends and family to know and remember him as we do: the larger-than-life, happy-go-lucky guy who loved making others feel special. Few but our close family saw the toll that painful tumors took on him, to say nothing of the constant frustrations of having to navigate an increasingly complex mosaic of appointments, prescriptions, and insurance coverage.
