Emil A. Franzi '58

Emil A. Frazi died Wednesday, June 7, 2017, at Northwest Hospital. He had dealt with a bout of esophageal cancer in 2013; it returned last year. The New England-born Franzi grew up in Glendale, Calif., and then went to the University of California Santa Barbara. But after catching pneumonia during his first year at college, "he wanted to move someplace warm and dry, away from the damp air," Ash said. Franzi is survived by his wife Kathy, daughters Monica Franzi Humbles, Rebecca Franzi, and Carroll Schneider, and granddaughter Julia Graziani. The U.S. Air Force veteran will be interred at the Arizona Veterans' Memorial Cemetery at Marana. Richard L. Robinett '50

After 92 years of living on Earth, Richard Lee "Dick" Robinett slipped quietly into Heaven in the early hours of Monday morning, March 1, 2021. Born on January 3, 1929, in Amarillo, Texas to Gladys and Clifton Robinett, Dick graduated from Amarillo High School and began his college career at Oklahoma University. However, as he would claim repeatedly throughout his adulthood, "one of the smartest moves I ever made was to transfer to The University of Texas in Austin," where he graduated in 1952 with a BA in business administration. That move was wise, Mr. Robinett would testify because on that UT campus he fell in love with "the prettiest girl I've ever met," his future spouse, Jo Ann, who married him on June 26, 1954, and who survives him, now. In addition to his marriage of over 66 years, he was passionate about many activities, including his participation in the United States Army Reserves and the Sons of the American Revolution (S.A.R.), in which he served as state president. Dick was preceded in death by his parents, Gladys and Clifton Robinett, and his sister, Leona Griffith. His life full of hard work, serving God, and helping others was an example for surviving family members following in those footsteps, including his sons, Bruce and Scott Robinett (Melinda), his granddaughters Michelle and Stephanie Robinett, Hannah (Robinett) Beatie, Michaela Robinett, his niece, Linda Wilkinson, his nephew, Sean Park, and his sister-in-law, Kay Andrews.
